PHILLY PROGRESS

Philadelphia is establishing six new municipal automobile parking lots, two of them park-and-ride, to minimize traffic congestion, the city's municipal news letter reports.

FRINGE EMPLOYEE BENEFITS IN AKRON

Akron, Ohio, city officials now propose to provide retiring city employees $1,000 in paid life insurance. Cost to the city will be about $25,000 a year.

The city already pays premiums for $2,000 life insurance for each employee. This fringe benefit costs the municipality about $50,000 annually, plus paid-up surgical and in-hospital medical insurance at a cost of $75,000. Finance Director Frank Vogel said the proposal for continuing premium payments for retirees is in keeping with what local industry does for its employees.

ST. LOUIS ALDERMEN DEMAND PUBLICITY

In St. Louis, Missouri, the city Board of Aldermen directed its department of legislative research to improve the public opinion of its labors by preparing a biennial report for distribution to the public, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch reports. The cost is estimated at $7,000.

HOMES CHECKED IN PHILA.

Philadelphia will start a door-to-door campaign to correct residential fire and safety hazards. Household holders have been warned they should demand positive identification before anyone claiming to be a city inspector is admitted.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR RAZING THE GIRLS' HIGH SCHOOL AT WEST NEWTON STREET, BOSTON, MASS.

The Commissioner of Parks and Recreation of the City of Boston, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for razing the Girls' High School at West Newton street, Boston, Mass.

General bids will be received until 2 o'clock P.M., Tuesday, March 29, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained at the Engineer's office of the Parks and Recreation Department, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass. Each copy of the general bid shall be properly filled out, signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy shall be filed at the office of the Awarding Authority, designated above, and the other copy shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

A bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $4,000, shall be submitted with the copy of the general bid filed with the Awarding Authority. The bid deposit shall be in a separate envelope, properly marked.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five days (Saturdays, Sundays and legal holidays excluded) from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible general bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, section 26D, as amended, a schedule of which is annexed to the contract.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest so to do, in accordance with the provisions of section 44D, of chapter 149 of the General Laws, as amended.

NEW ZONING CODE HEARINGS START MARCH 30

Public hearings on Boston's proposed new zoning code are to be held by the Zoning Commission at the City Council Chamber, City Hall, starting March 30, at 2 P.M. Chairman Albert V. Colman has announced that continued hearing dates will later be called by the commission as expediency demands. Following completion of changes that result from hearings, the code after official adoption by the Mayor and the Zoning Commission will be reported to the General Court and it shall not take effect until one year after filing with the Clerk of the Senate.

The commission is comprised of eleven members, three of whom were selected at large by the Mayor and the remaining eight were appointed from nominations by designated business and professional organizations. The Mayor's representatives are Albert V. Colman, attorney, chairman of the commission; General Timothy J. Regan, utility executive, and Edward I. Masterman, an attorney. Alfred Gross represents the Master Builders Association; Theodore W. Paul, the Massachusetts Motor Truck Association; William L. Hyland, Boston Society of Civil Engineers; Arthur J. Gartland, Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce; Stanley Underhill, Boston Society of Landscape Architects; Robert T. Fowler, Greater Boston Real Estate Board; Charles F. Spillane, Boston Central Labor Union, and David F. Supple, Associated Industries of Massachusetts.

Studied Three Years

The first step in the drafting of the code was a three-year study by the City Planning Board under the direction and guidance of the nationally known consulting firm of Adams, Howard & Greeley. The results of the study "Proposed Zoning," a report by the City Planning Board were published in May, 1958. During the course of the study thirty-three informal public meetings were held in various districts of the city and many conferences with representatives of business and professional groups were held. Since that time the Zoning Commission has reviewed the report and though it has some changes in mind it decided to make the printed report the basis for public hearings.

Zoning A Vital Need

Boston's need for a new zoning code has been recognized for some years by all concerned with the future of the city. Changes in the functions of the city have made obsolete the 1924 law. Metropolitan growth trends have altered ideas of how certain intown areas will and should develop. Many parts of the city have completely changed character. Changes in the average size of family and other social changes have outdated large residential areas, and the zoning that now regulates them. The motor vehicle has changed the way in which people live and do business.

The proposed zoning code can be a vital tool in achieving the goals of urban renewal. The regulation provides a number of controls and requirements which are most significant not only for future planning but for the renewal of our built-up physical plant. It improves the control over population density of a neighborhood. Its flexibility allows for greater aesthetic and functional freedom in design of our neighborhoods. It requires, but not retroactively, off-street parking and loading facilities to help reduce traffic congestion. It assures greater compatibility between land uses throughout the community and it provides more stringent controls regarding the continuance of non-conforming uses.

Features of the New Code

- ¶ Use of floor area ratio as bulk and height control, giving maximum flexibility in design of new buildings.
- ¶ Higher standards for light, air, and open space.
- ¶ Concentrated commercial development rather than narrow ribbon development along street frontages.
- ¶ Simplification of administrative procedures.
- ¶ Regulations for and mapping of eight residence districts, eight business districts, and six industrial districts.
- ¶ Protection of existing areas from intrusion of incompatible land uses by control over conditional uses.
- ¶ Correlation of zoning with general plan through reviews and reports from the Planning Board.

MAYOR COLLINS SPURS REHABILITATION OF WATER FRONT

Mayor John F. Collins, on March 23, appointed Charles H. Hurley, president of Waterfront Service Company, Inc., 30 Atlantic avenue, as chairman of a Water Front Rehabilitation Committee.

In making the announcement, Mayor Collins said: "Tremendous attention is being focused on our Boston water front because of its almost unlimited possibilities for all kinds of development—commercial, residential, and recreational. The harbor area has too long been neglected and its natural attractiveness too long hidden from public view.

"We are particularly pleased that a man of Mr. Hurley's broad experience will undertake the task of spearheading a committee which will be made up of a volunteer group of outstanding citizens representing all interests in and around the Port of Boston. The committee will make regular inspections, by boat and otherwise, of the water front with particular attention to blight and decay caused by abandoned or dilapidated piers, wharfs, sheds, and buildings which, in addition to constituting a public menace, also are eyesores as we look to making the harbor area more attractive to prospective developers.

Cleanup Immediate Goal
"The committee also will concern itself with conditions which constitute hazards to navigation such as abandoned watercraft and floating debris.

"This is part of an over-all cleanup and rehabilitation program in Boston which will be sharply stepped up in the months ahead, from Charlestown to Readville and from South Boston to Brighton.

"In this campaign we will need the assistance and cooperation of all citizens, of newspapers, radio, television, business and neighborhood groups so that we keep the individuality of Boston which is worth preserving and, at the same time, give our citizens a place to live and work as modern as any metropolitan community in the country."

Mayor Collins said that he expected the complete Water Front Rehabilitation Committee to be selected within a week and said that members would be chosen from the Massachusetts Port Authority; World Trade Center, Maritime Association of Greater Boston; International Longshoremen's Association; Warehousemen's Association; Harbor Police; Coast Guard; railroads, oil, and wool interests; from industry in and near the water front, and from experts in commercial and residential real estate.

Liaison With Mayor
He pointed out that regular liaison will be established with the Mayor's Office and the machinery for action blueprinted so that, when needed, the cooperation and facilities of all city departments and other agencies of government will speedily be available.

Mr. Hurley, a resident of Newton Center, has been active in business at Boston's water front for the past thirty-five years. He is a graduate of the old Massachusetts Nautical School, now the Massachusetts Maritime Academy. He has been an officer on commercial vessels, under both sail and steam, and served with the United States

Naval Reserve during World War I, attaining the rank of lieutenant commander. He is chairman of the Board of Commissioners of the Massachusetts Maritime Academy.

He established his own firm, Waterfront Service Company, Inc., largest supplier of ships' stores and services in New England, in 1934.

Mr. Hurley is a founding member and a director of the World Trade Center.

REDUCED FUNDS FORCES CURTAILMENT OF LIBRARY SERVICES

The Trustees of the Boston Public Library, on March 21, issued the following:

The Trustees of the Boston Public Library are naturally eager to do their part in meeting Boston's severe fiscal problems. They recognize the need for economy. They wish to cooperate wholeheartedly as part of the city administration in earnest efforts to hold down the tax rate.

According to the most careful calculations, the amount of $2,716,000 available for the Library payroll in 1960 is $312,660 less than the sum needed to maintain present services and personnel. Nearly 85 per cent of the Library's total expenditures are for payroll. In the remaining 15 per cent, cuts have already been made so that there is little margin for further reductions. The trustees have therefore no alternative than to face realistically the fact that under the budget allowances for 1960 there are required reductions in services and dismissals of personnel.

13% Cut in Personnel

To operate the Library and its branches within the budget allowances submitted to the City Council, which, under the law, cannot be raised by the Council but can be cut further, it will be necessary to dismiss at least 75 persons from the library staff no later than May 1, a cut of 13 per cent from the present total of 557. The Library has already cut its staff by 13 per cent over the last six years, from 647 in 1954 to 557 in 1959. Currently it has been operating within a quota of 562, recommended to the Library Trustees as the minimum staffing requirement after a management survey last year by Cresap, McCormick & Paget, management consultants. Now it becomes necessary to cut the staff by another 13 per cent. This will obviously require reductions in service.

Behind Scenes Cuts

As many as possible of the services to be reduced are behind the scenes. They will include such things as special cleaning services, custodial overtime, filing clerk operations, and the like, plus cloakroom, elevator operator, etc. These cuts in general operations can produce savings of about $48,900. The remaining savings must come in the category of readers' services. They include: eliminating services at the City Hospital, closing the Treasure Room at the Central Library, closing the Mt. Pleasant and Orient Heights Branch Libraries, closing the Central Library, daily at 6 P.M., except for Bates Hall, the Open Shelf Department, and the Central Charging Records, and entirely on Saturday from June 1 to October 1, discontinuing all telephone reference service at the Kirstein Business Branch, limiting operations in the Rare Book Department and the Print Department, reducing operations at the Memorial, North End, South End, and West End Branch Libraries. These reductions in readers' services will produce savings of approximately $263,760.

Dismissals Unavoidable

In meeting these limitations forced upon them by the financial situation of the city, the trustees will make the utmost effort to meet the reduction in personnel through normal turnover rather than by dismissals. But only partial relief can be expected thereby. There will have to be dismissals also. The trustees will endeavor to arrange dismissal conditions which compare with those in general business practice. They will release, insofar as possible, the most newly employed persons. But even so releases will have to be coordinated with the services to be eliminated or reduced.

These reductions are inevitable with the funds available for 1960. If the trustees do not make these cuts, they will find themselves running out of money well before the end of the year.

REDUCTIONS PLANNED

MAYOR'S STATEMENT ON LIBRARY CURTAILMENT

Mayor Collins, on March 18, stated as follows:

The same standard of budget reduction has been applied to the Library Department as in all other departments. The manner of living within the budget is being determined by the Library Trustees. Any elimination of facilities or reduced levels of operations are being initiated only after careful studies by the Library Staff on the basis of use.

I am confident that even with the budgetary reductions, the Library will continue to render efficient service. Those being affected by service reductions are newly appointed employees. The Trustees have assured me that wherever possible they will meet the reduction in personnel through normal turnover rather than by dismissals.

Those relatively few library employees who must seek other employment will be given every assistance. I have asked the business community to give them first employment priority and the Mayor's Office will use its full facilities to effect a bridge between public and private employment for those dismissed.

TWO HOSPITAL TRUSTEES NAMED BY MAYOR COLLINS

Mayor Collins, on March 22, appointed two new trustees to the Hospital Department:

Attorney Louis J. Guaragna, 1106 Morton street, Dorchester, to fill an unexpired term ending May 1, 1960, succeeding Richard J. Condon, president, who resigned.

William H. Ellis, Jr., treasurer of W. H. Ellis & Son Company, bridge builders, East Boston, to fill an unexpired term ending May 1, 1961, succeeding John Hill, resigned.

The other three members of the Board of Trustees are:

Henry E. Foley, term ending May 1, 1962; Henry C. Berlin, term ending May 1, 1963, and Thomas J. Giblin, D.M.D., term ending May 1, 1964.

POLIO INOCULATIONS AT CITY CLINICS APRIL 4-9

The Boston Polio Inoculation Committee announces that during the week of April 4-9, seventeen clinics will be open daily, except Sunday, to furnish polio inoculations.

A contribution of $1 per inoculation will be accepted from those who can afford it. Inoculations will be free for those unable to contribute or who are on welfare or unemployment compensation. The maximum contribution accepted from a family attending together will be $3 regardless of the number of persons. Inoculations, the committee points out, are also available from private physicians. This is the only polio clinic session planned for the year.

Dr. John H. Cauley, Health Commissioner, points out:

"This could be a 'polio year' since outbreaks have occurred in Boston approximately at five-year intervals and the last high incidence year was 1955."

The program will be carried on in the eight health units throughout the city and at several other convenient locations in public buildings.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

March 11.

General Order No. 673.

Patrolman John J. DeLodge, Division 2, honorably discharged veteran, having arrived at the age of sixty-two years, having been in service of the City of Boston for thirty-one years, and having requested retirement under provisions of section 58, chapter 32, General Laws (Ter. Edit.), as amended, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, Patrolman John J. DeLodge will be retired from active duty in the Police Department, effective Tuesday, March 15, 1960, at 5.45 o'clock P.M.

March 21.

General Order No. 674.

All phases of the annual listing of residents of the city for which the Police Department is responsible have been completed for 1960. This year's listing was performed according to a new policy and procedure and the Police Commissioner is gratified by the proficiency with which each assignment was performed by every member of the Force engaged in the operation.

The listing for this year indicates a substantial increase in the total number of residents despite the extensive razing of buildings that has occurred in various sections of the city and marks the first year since 1949 in which there was not a continuous decrease.

Favorable reports have been received from other municipal agencies concerning the quality of the work performed by this department and from citizens commenting on the courteous and proficient manner in which the canvassing of buildings was performed by police officers.

The accuracy and efficiency with which this important task was accomplished has resulted in a substantial saving to the city and the Police Commissioner takes this opportunity to commend all officers concerned, lieutenants, sergeants, and patrolmen, for their splendid performance and for their spirit of cooperation and devotion to duty that reflects credit on themselves and the department.

March 22.

General Order No. 675.

The following reassignments are hereby ordered to take effect Wednesday, March 23, 1960, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Patrolman Daniel F. Totten, from Division 6 to Division 17.

Patrolman William X. Lennon, from Division 6 to Division 15.

Patrolman Wayne M. Davidson, from Division 8 to Division 18.

Patrolman Henry J. Zurka, from Traffic Division to Division 4.

March 22.

General Order No. 676.

The following named police officers, honorably discharged veterans, having arrived at ages stated, having been in service of the City of Boston for the number of years set forth, and having

COST OF AVERAGE WELFARE CASE IN BOSTON IS $112.62 A MONTH

Following is a summary of the Welfare Department's report for February:

Departmental expenditures for Public Assistance during February, 1960, amounted to $3,012,438, an increase of $43,102 over the previous month. Payments made directly to recipients represented two thirds of the total while the balance was spent on behalf of the recipients, primarily for medical care. The average monthly cost per case was $112.62, exclusive of the client's other resources. There were 904 applications approved and 981 cases closed which resulted in a decrease of 77 cases. The caseload as of the end of the month was 25,834. However, there were 26,435 cases which received assistance during the month. Aside from the applications approved, 254 requests for assistance were denied because the applicants were ineligible.

Old Age Assistance: This category continued its downward trend in caseload. Applications for Old Age Assistance were approved in 157 instances with loss of employment and depletion of resources as the two major reasons for the client being in need. Of the 278 cases closed, death accounted for 202 or 72 per cent.

Aid to Dependent Children: A slight increase in caseload occurred during the month, with a month's end caseload of 4,745. Although this category represents only one fourth as many cases as Old Age Assistance, there are more than 16,000 persons being assisted which nearly equals the number receiving grants under Old Age Assistance. The cost for this type of assistance rose $5,931 to a total of $745,428 for February, 1960.

Disability Assistance: By the very nature of this category, nearly one half of the total expenditures were for medical costs: $213,610 to the client and $193,154 for medical expenses. Almost 70 per cent of the latter payments were for chronic hospital and nursing home care. There were 124 applications approved and 91 cases closed; an increase of 33 cases during the month.

General Relief: Total caseload for this type of aid decreased by only 3 cases although there were 494 approvals and 497 closings during the month, of which 115 were transfers to other categories of assistance. Loss of employment on the one hand, and return to employment on the other, were the major reasons for the turnover of cases. Expenditures for this category amounted to $154,347, an increase of $5,351 over those for January.

TRAFFIC RULINGS

Temporary

The Traffic Commission has voted as follows:

That as urgently required by considerations of public safety and convenience, the following temporary traffic regulation, occasioned by construction of the William F. Callahan, Jr., Tunnel, which was adopted and effective February 24, 1960, for one (1) month, is hereby extended for a period estimated to be six (6) months from February 26, 1960:

Vehicles are excluded from the following street:

Richmond Street, Boston Proper.

From Fulton street to North street.

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following temporary ruling:

Whereas, If during the period of sewer construction in Green street, West Roxbury, vehicles were to be allowed in said Green street conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and

Whereas, Such construction is to be done on Sunday, March 20, 1960, between the hours of 6 A.M. and 12 mid-night; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore

Pursuant to the power vested in me as Traffic Commissioner, I hereby promulgate the following rule:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following street:

Green Street, West Roxbury.

From Washington street to Brookside avenue.

MAYOR RESPONDS TO CHARITABLE IRISH SOCIETY TOAST TO BOSTON

Following are the remarks of his Honor the Mayor, John F. Collins, Boston, in responding to the toast to the City of Boston at the dinner of the Charitable Irish Society, March 17, 1960, Sheraton-Plaza Hotel:

Mr. Toastmaster, Reverend Clergy, Distinguished Guests and Fellow Members of the Charitable Irish Society:

¶ It is a singular honor and pleasure to respond to the gracious toast this evening to our beloved city.

¶ We are gathered here not only to commemorate a notable day in American history, and the anniversary of our godly patron saint, but also the wisdom and the dedication of the founding fathers of the Charitable Irish Society itself.

¶ We relive that happy day, more than 180 years ago, when the British fleet pulled up anchor, marking the end of the long and bitter siege of Boston, and pay grateful tribute to those early Bostonians out of whose courage, faith and love of freedom were fashioned a great city and a great nation.

The 26 Founders

¶ With happiness we celebrate the anniversary of good Saint Patrick, who 1,500 years ago brought faith and knowledge to a wild, pagan race (still somewhat wild, but a good deal less pagan) and implanted in the heart of every Irishman, wherever he may be, a love of God and a hatred of evil and oppression, wherever they may be found.

¶ But equally inspiring and significant is the achievement of the 26 men who, more than 220 years ago, founded, in our city, the Charitable Irish Society—26 men in Boston's rough and adventurous early days—26 men held together by the unyielding bond of a common Gaelic heritage—26 Irishmen determined not to lose their ancestral identity in pursuing their lives as patriotic Americans.

¶ Twenty-six men with a faith and an ideal which have been part of the pageant of history.

¶A faith that has been rewarded; an ideal that has been triumphantly realized.

¶For the story of the Charitable Irish Society is the story of the Irish citizens of Boston, of their rise from obscurity, poverty, and hardship, to dignity, prosperity, and responsibility.

¶As you well know, our upward climb was not easy. We faced many pitfalls and many obstacles.

¶But one by one, we surmounted those obstacles, and in direct proportion to the increased understanding shown by our good neighbors in Boston, and in direct proportion to the increased opportunities for participation in civic, economic, and cultural fields, we have grown not only in numbers and in accomplishment and in influence, but in responsibility as citizens of our beloved city.

¶In 1902, my namesake, Patrick A. Collins, who emigrated to this country from Fermoy, Ireland, was inaugurated as the first Irish-American Mayor of Boston, surely the turning point not only in our struggle for equality, but in our striving for maturity as responsible members of the Boston community.

The Challenge Remains

¶Today, Boston's Irish community is able to present to city, state, and nation notable leaders in business, in science, in religion, in law, in politics, in philanthropy, and in every one of the arts.

¶No doors are closed to us, not excluding even the door to the highest place of eminence in our national government.

¶Our hopes and ideals have been attained; our aspiration for recognition has been won.

¶But a challenge remains—a challenge, a responsibility, and an opportunity for greatness as a community of American citizens. By using our strength and resources to guarantee to others and to protect them in their own rights as freedom-loving Americans; by helping them in their own struggles against oppression and discrimination; by encouraging them to realize their own versions of the American dream.

Duty to Others

¶As an influential, and possibly the dominant ethnic group in our local community, we can gain new satisfaction as good citizens and new pleasure as good neighbors. We can make a very great contribution to our city and to our nation by assisting every struggling minority, regardless of race, color, or creed, to attain the respect, the status, the stature, the dignity, and the responsibility as integrated American citizens that we value and cherish so dearly ourselves.

"When we were small in number and weak in influence, we had to shout as loud as we could in order to be heard. Now that we have won our rightful place in the sun, let us use our voices on behalf of those others who need us.

"In so doing, we will act in the spirit of those who fought for freedom during the siege of Boston.

"In so doing, we will follow the precepts of him whose anniversary we celebrate today.

"And in so doing, we will uphold the tradition of our ancestral homeland, and her 26 sons who, here in Boston, waved high her banner emblazoned with the symbols of liberty and democracy and charity for all.

Zoning Code . . .

"Strengthening and clarifying Board of Appeal functions.

"Requirements for off-street parking and loading facilities.

"The new zoning is so drawn that it can be changed to meet changing conditions, and so administered that it can produce the best results for the entire community. This flexibility is provided through provisions for appeals, for variances, for conditional uses, and for amendments to both map and text.

District Regulations

The new zoning regulation, similar to the old, has three broad classifications of zoning districts: Residential Districts, Business Districts, and Industrial Districts.

There are eight residential districts: two for single-family dwellings, S-3 and S-5; two for two-family and low-density garden apartments, R-5 and R-8; and four general residence districts, H-1, H-2, H-3, and H-4.

The R and H districts allow a variety of dwelling types to be built, subject to the density and bulk regulations for each district.

This is expected to encourage more building investment, enlightened architectural design, and improved site planning, as well as to create more openness and relief from urban monotony.

Eight new business districts: three local business, L-5, L-1, and L-2; and five general business, B-1, B-2, B-4, B-8, and B-10, are contained in the new regulation. These are more specific than the present classifications which are too general in character and inadequate for proper control. Separation of business and manufacturing uses has been a primary consideration in the new code, particularly in the general business districts, which presently allow food, clothing, and other manufacturing uses. In the new regulation manufacturing uses have been placed in their proper industrial category.

Similarly in local business districts, certain uses, such as gasoline service stations and funeral establishments, are subject to conditional permits since they can be incompatible or discordant uses in a local retail shopping district.

Three types of industrial districts: four light manufacturing, M-1, M-2, M-4, M-8; one general industrial, I-2; and one water-front industrial, W-2, are set up in the proposed code as compared with the simple industrial and unrestricted types of existing law. An endeavor has been made to establish classifications by degree of industrial annoyance, particularly where noise and vibrations are concerned. The use of performance standards to measure and control industrial uses was investigated. It was felt, however, that experience in the measurement and enforcement of these controls is inadequate to warrant their adoption at this time. Certain conditions of performance, however, have been written into the regulations which will tend to control the nuisance factor of certain industrial uses.

The four M districts, M-1, M-2, M-4, and M-8, are intended for light manufacturing uses and would exclude those having nuisance characteristics, such as open-lot storage of used building material and auto graveyards. The M-1 district is designed to encourage the industrial park type of development with building height limited to 35 feet and a front setback requirement of 20 feet.

An I-2 district is established to accommodate general or "heavy" industrial uses that may be more detrimental than those allowed in the M districts.

A W-2 district is established to both accommodate and protect water-front industry. The intent is to reserve the limited water-front area for uses that require water-borne facilities as an aid to highest potential development of the water front. The use of a conditional permit amply provides for other uses that may be compatible with maritime development.

Building Density Control By Floor Area Ratio

The new zoning regulation regulates building density by the floor area ratio method of control.

"The floor area ratio is the ratio of the gross floor area of a structure to the total area of the lot."

The traditional regulation by absolute height limits has several disadvantages. It does not permit flexibility in freedom of design to the developer and it is an unsatisfactory method of density control. Floor area ratio, on the other hand, describes building density directly, and population density indirectly: residents in apartments, shoppers in stores, workers in factories. It is therefore a convenient method for comparing for different buildings the "load on the land," the burden that will be placed on the streets, parking facilities, public utilities and services.

Thus the floor area ratio of 1.0 could represent a one-story building covering the entire lot, or the same floor area in a two-story building covering half the lot, or a four-story building on a quarter of the lot. A one-story building covering half the lot would have a floor area ratio of 0.5, as would a two-story building covering a quarter of the lot. A twelve-story building would have a floor area ratio of 6.0 if it covered half the lot, or 3.0 if it covered only one quarter of the lot.

The numbers that follow the key initials representing different districts, e.g., S-3, L-1, B-4, refer to the maximum floor area ratio allowed for that district.

Conditional Uses and Variances

A feature introduced in the new code concerns conditional uses. In the Table of Use Regulations certain uses are allowed as conditional uses. This means that such uses are allowed in the designated districts provided the Board of Appeal in a specific case, after public notice and hearing, finds that the use as and where proposed, among other things will not adversely affect the neighborhood. This action is subject to certain procedures and specific requirements as set forth in the code.

Parking Provisions

One of the most critical omissions in the present zoning law is the complete absence of any requirement for the off-street parking of automobiles. The proposed zoning code requires off-street parking in all districts except the B-8 and B-10 districts in the downtown area. It was considered that the city's program of municipal garages would adequately provide for needed parking facilities, although where parking is provided by a builder in these districts an increase in floor area ratio is allowed on a graduated scale.

Parking requirements vary with building density and type of use. This is based on accessibility by rapid transit, with maximum parking requirements in outlying low density areas, somewhat less in outer areas of high accessibility, and least in the business districts of the central area, where economics require dependence on municipal or commercial off-street parking.

Closely allied to off-street parking is the problem of off-street loading. It is the intent of the new code that all structures and uses requiring the delivery of goods as part of their function eventually be provided with necessary space for off-street loading. Though not retroactive, the code requires an existing structure, when increased in floor area by 15,000 square feet or more, to provide off-street loading facilities for the additional area.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEER STATUS

The Mayor has approved the following:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

As requested during my conversation with you on February 25, 1960, I am submitting the following facts regarding an adjustment of wages for certain employees in this department.

Under date of June 20, 1955, certain employees in the Department of School Buildings were allocated electrical engineering titles by the Full Board of Civil Service without consulting the department head. This action of the Full Board created engineering positions in excess of the normal complement of the department and there was insufficient engineering work for assignment to all employees holding principal and senior electrical engineering ratings.

These employees were not granted salary increases in accordance with the pay grades established for the allocated positions in the Compensation and Classification Plan for City of Boston Employees because at the time they were not performing the duties of such positions. Work of this type was being performed by outside architects under contracts from the Department of School Buildings.

However, on the last school projects erected under the Long Range Building Program three employees of the Electrical Division in the department, whose Civil Service titles and salary grades were in dispute, were assigned to work which, in my opinion, is commensurate with the duties of the positions allocated by the Full Board of Civil Service, and they performed them to my satisfaction.

Two additional employees whose salaries are in dispute have entered suit in the court or retained counsel for the purpose of recovering back wages. The three employees, who are the subject of this letter to you, have not entered suit and have indicated to me that they are willing to release the City of Boston of and from any and all claims, demands, and liabilities whatsoever for salary or wages accruing prior to January 6, 1959. It is my opinion that an acceptance of their offer would result in a substantial saving to the City of Boston in wages, interest, and court costs if these employees instituted legal proceedings to recover back pay and received a favorable decision from the court.

Each of these employees has had over twenty-five years of service with the City of Boston, and therefore I respectfully recommend that they be brought into the provisions of the Compensation and Classification Plan and be granted increases in salaries retroactive to January 6, 1959, on the following basis:

Daniel T. Horgan, principal electrical engineer, Grade 30, from $138 to $147.50 a week.

Thomas F. Donnelly, principal electrical engineer, Grade 30, from $138 to $147.50 a week.

William N. Moran, senior electrical engineer, Grade 28, from $119 to $138 a week.

There is sufficient money in Item A-1, Salaries, of our revised budget for 1960, to cover these increases in salary as the department has had to carry an estimated amount in this item each year to provide for decisions that might be rendered by the court on disputed salaries. Any adjustment of salaries at this time would result in a more realistic budget for salaries in future years, and, as stated above, in a substantial saving to the City of Boston.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES A. CALLANAN,
Superintendent of Construction.

OVERTIME ALLOWED

The Mayor has approved the following request:

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

William J. Lonergon, working foreman-steamfitter, 4½ hours at $3 an hour; Joseph G. Wirth, plumber, 4½ hours at $3 an hour; Felix Faiella, plumber, 4½ hours at $2.95 an hour.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Main Division.

Margaret Poto, head clerk, 8 hours at $3 an hour; Victoria Christie, principal medical stenographer, 7 hours at $3 an hour; Frances Sarly, principal medical stenographer, 5 hours at $3 an hour; Mary A. Lane, principal clerk, 4 hours at $3 an hour; Elenore Falvey, senior clerk, 4 hours at $3 an hour; John Talieri, head clerk, 4 hours at $3 an hour; Edward Groden, second-class stationary engineer, 8 hours at $3 an hour; G. McManus, G. Roche, W. McCluskey, J. Spinney, ambulance drivers, 8 hours each at $3 an hour; Rita Lavin, chief electrocardiograph technician, 1 hour at $3 an hour.

Sanatorium Division.

James Douglas, fireman, 8 hours at $3 an hour.

Approval has been granted for overtime to the following-named employees who earn over $77 a week, an additional day's pay for working February 22:

A request for the federal government to make long-term low-interest loans as well as outright grants for the purchase of new equipment and the improvement of commuter rail passenger service will be made to Congress and the White House. Mayors of twelve cities plagued by commuter problems and officials of ten major railroads are offering a four-point program for a national transportation policy.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor approved the award of contracts, without advertising, based on the following communications:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.Treasury Division.*Transportation of Money

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Your permission is respectfully requested for the awarding of a contract, without publicly advertising for bids, between the City of Boston and Brink's, Inc., 711 West Monroe street, Chicago, Illinois, for the daily transportation of city funds between City Hall and The First National Bank of Boston and between The National Shawmut Bank of Boston and City Hall.

Brink's, Inc., agrees to assume full liability for any loss of any shipment up to the amount of $500,000, except for approximately fifteen uncertain dates and between the period of September 4 and November 4 when it will be $5,000,000. The cost to the city will be $325 per month for the period of one year beginning April 1, 1960.

The price proposed in the new contract is the same as that provided in the contract expiring March 31, 1960, with the same company.

This company has provided this service for the department for a long period of years. It has been our experience that the other financial transportation companies either do not care to bid for this service, do not have sufficient insurance coverage, or have consistently bid a higher rate.

It is my opinion that no purpose will be served by publicly advertising for bids.

Very truly yours,

JAMES E. GILDEA,

Collector-Treasurer.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT.Automotive Repairs

DEAR SIR:

We have in this department a very important piece of equipment which I desire to have repaired so that we may be in a position to properly take care of many of our facilities during the year. I refer to Park Department vehicle No. 82, an Oliver 5-ton 1955 tractor.

An inspection of the work to be done on this tractor has been made by the Dorchester Auto Service Company, 259 Quincy street, Dorchester. A report received from this concern indicates that the engine must be replaced by either a new or rebuilt exchanged unit. Because of the age of the tractor the recommendation of this company is that it would be more economical for us to place a rebuilt engine in the truck. Also, the block and cylinder head are cracked in several places; the starter, generator, fuel and ignition system and governor must be completely overhauled; the main clutch should be removed and replaced with a new clutch; repairs to the radiator must be made; and the entire unit must be thoroughly lubricated and adjusted.

The Dorchester Auto Service Company estimates that the entire work, including parts, materials, and labor will amount to approximately $1,200. This concern has an excellent reputation for repairing motor vehicles of all kinds and it is well equipped to do the particular work required on the tractor. I am quite satisfied that the price quoted is a fair one and from information received by the Superintendent of Motor Vehicles, I am certain that we will be unable to obtain a lower price from any other concern.

Accordingly, I respectfully ask that you allow me to issue a service order to the Dorchester Auto Service Company for doing this work, without advertising for bids, and with the understanding that the work will be done for a sum not to exceed $1,200, said sum to be charged to the regular Parks and Recreation Department budget, Item 27-4.

Respectfully yours,

MARTIN F. WALSH, Commissioner.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR FURNISHING AND ERECTING CHAIN LINK FENCES AT MCCONNELL PARK, DORCHESTER, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, hereinafter referred to as the Commissioner, invites sealed proposals for furnishing and erecting chain link fences at McConnell Park, Dorchester, Mass.

Proposals will be received until 2 o'clock P.M., Tuesday, April 5, 1960, at the office of the Commissioner, first floor, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Proposals shall be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained at the Engineer's office, Parks and Recreation Department, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass. Each copy of the proposal shall be properly filled out, signed and enclosed in a sealed envelope, plainly marked with the name of the bidder and the description of the work bid upon. One copy shall be filed at the office of the Commissioner, designated above, and the other copy shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of the proposals.

A bid deposit in the form of a certified check on a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $250, shall be submitted with the copy of the proposal filed with the Commissioner. The bid deposit shall be in a separate envelope, plainly marked. Bid bonds will not be accepted.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty days after the actual date of the opening thereof. The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed under the contract shall not be less than the rate of wages in the schedule determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth, a copy of which schedule is annexed to the form of contract referred to herein. Copies of said schedule may be obtained, without cost, upon application therefor at the Engineer's office of the Parks and Recreation Department.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Commissioner and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general contractor.

The Commissioner reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any and all bids if it be in the public interest so to do.

The City of Boston, acting by the Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for plumbing and gas fitting, consisting of removing fixtures, etc., at the Hugh O'Brien School, Dudley and Langdon streets, Roxbury, and installing same in the Florence Nightingale School, West Park street, Dorchester, Mass.

General bids will be received up until 12 o'clock noon, Monday, April 4, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, fourth floor, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, inclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $100. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time thereafter.

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs, and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, sections 26-27D, inclusive, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any or all general bids, if it be in the public interest so to do, in accordance with section 44D of chapter 149 of the General Laws, as amended.

SCOPE WIDENED IN GOVERNMENT CENTER PLANS

Mayor John F. Collins this week readied plans to expand the Government Center layout by some ten acres to include a whole "campus" of state buildings and an additional area assigned to further private development. The new "link" area would extend the present Government Center site from Sudbury to Staniford street and would be bounded by Cambridge and Merimac streets. About half the new area would be assigned to private development.

An application is being prepared for presentation to the City Council, and then forwarding to Washington, for two-thirds federal assistance in the project. The application seeks planning funds, at this stage, to prepare for federal subsidies when actual clearance starts next year.

The expanded Government Center plans came about as the result of a Supreme Court decision rejecting, as unconstitutional, the act setting up the State Office Building Association, which would have played an integral role in the construction of the entire project. To get over this hurdle, Governor Furcolo, on March 29, recommended to the Legislature a $26 million, 35-year state bond issue to finance construction of a state office building as part of the Government Center, placing it under the control of a state commission. At the same time, the Governor recommended bond issues totaling $10.5 million for a reception and classification center for the Department of Correction, a small Mental Health Department center, a state laboratories building, and planning funds are provided for another state office building to house many of the health, welfare, education, and rehabilitation agencies of the state. Leaders of both branches expressed optimism this week that the Legislature would give the necessary two-thirds vote, in each branch, for the bond issue.

The Mayor said he is "pleased and hopeful" about the latest turn of events after the discouragements created by the adverse Supreme Court decision which threatened to delay the project. The court held that the original act should have carried two-thirds approval of the Legislature because it involved, though indirectly, a bond issue.

According to Mayor Collins, Boston would benefit directly from state construction in the area. He said the state would give Boston payments representing the present tax receipts on whatever properties in the area are used for state purposes. The city now collects taxes on about $3 million assessed valuations in the area. Private construction and development, which is bound to take place, will represent a substantial source of new revenue to the city. The Mayor stated that the enlargement of the original plan will eliminate a "buffer zone" of run-down properties which had been the principal reason Franklin G. Floete, head of the General Services Administration, was reluctant to agree on placing the new federal building near Sudbury street. The Mayor contacted Mr. Floete this week on the latest developments and informed him that civic interests have promised to work for legislative passage of the plan. Mr. Floete, according to the Mayor said: "Good! How long will it take?"

Not only will the enlargement of the area wipe out the problem of urban blight standing in the way of redevelopment of this whole section of the city, but it will satisfy the federal authorities that the new federal office building will not be flanked by slum property.

City Planner Donald Graham commented:

"This gives us an opportunity to go back to the original project area, where we should have been all along."

MAYOR PERSONALLY HEADS REORGANIZED CIVIC COMMITTEE

Mayor John F. Collins, on March 25, announced that the reorganization of the city's Civic Improvement Committee has been completed and that he will serve as its chairman.

The previous committee consisted of 85 members and according to several of its more active members, all of whom served nine years on the committee, the size made it too cumbersome.

Under Mayor Collins' reorganization there will be eighteen members divided into two subcommittees of nine each. One subcommittee will deal with intergroup relations and the other with delinquency prevention.

Two Subcommittees

The committee will meet jointly at the call of the Mayor or at such times that the two subcommittees have mutual programs under way.

The Mayor has appointed Attorney Henry Leen as vice-chairman of the intergroup relations subcommittee and Dr. Ray Johns, director of the YMCA, as vice-chairman of the delinquency prevention subcommittee.

James A. Travers, recently appointed by the Mayor, will serve as executive secretary and director of the over-all committee which will now be called the Committee for Civic Improvement and Delinquency Prevention.

The other members of the committee appointed by the Mayor are:

Intergroup Relations

Serving on the intergroup relations subcommittee will be: Dr. Kenneth D. Benne, Attorney Edward Brooke, Dr. Thomas Heffernan, Robert Mansmann, Dr. Robert Munce, Robert Segal, Mrs. Muriel Snowden, and Attorney Lewis Weinstein.

Delinquency Prevention

On the delinquency prevention subcommittee will be: Frederic Church, James Jones, Dr. Agnes C. Lavery, Rt. Rev. Thomas F. McNamara, Professor William E. O'Connor, George I. Samansky, At-

Bankers Upset Moody's Rating Of Boston

Boston and New York bankers evidenced a higher regard for the city's financial credit on March 25, 1960, than did Moody's Investor's Service last fall.

In November, Moody lowered the credit rating of the City of Boston from A to BAA.

On Friday last, four groups of banks from New York and Boston bid for a $5 million loan to the city for operating funds used in anticipation of taxes. The interest rate set by the low bidders, the National Shawmut Bank and the City National Bank of New York was 2.38 per cent.

City Treasurer James Gildea described this low interest as the equivalent of an A rating.

"As far as this loan was concerned," said Mayor Collins, "it is apparent the bankers did not follow the Moody rating announced last fall."

The bankers' action, said other city officials, is a sign of the growing confidence people are having in Boston.

City Auditor Joseph P. Lally noted that Boston last year not only reduced its net debt by $8.17 million but wound up with an operating surplus of $4.16 million.

torney William Wolf, and Dr. Kenneth Wollan.

The Mayor pointed out that scores of organizations in the city, established by racial groups, religious organizations, and labor unions are doing outstanding work in the field of human relations and it will be the primary objective of his citizens committee to review, and take steps, if necessary, to better coordinate the work of all these dedicated people.

The delinquency prevention subcommittee will be responsible for those groups doing like work, forming a master plan on prevention, and also they will lay the foundation for the establishment of a full-time prevention bureau for the city when matching state funds become available.

Six members of the committee, including Mr. Travers, are official Massachusetts delegates to the White House Conference on Children and Youth.

MAYOR EXTENDS, WITH RESTRICTIONS, ARCADE LICENSES FOR SIXTY-DAY PERIOD

Mayor John F. Collins, on March 29, extended licenses of five arcades in the City of Boston for a period of only sixty days.

The two-month license extensions are contingent on arcade operators complying with a number of directives of the Mayor. These include:

Strict observance of a previous Boston Licensing Board ruling that persons under the age of eighteen shall not be permitted to play amusement devices. Mayor Collins coupled this directive with a request that No MINORS be allowed on arcade premises.

No multiple coin machines will be allowed on any arcade premises. Use of a multiple coin machine by any operator will lead to an immediate revocation of his license.

Film machines, of any type, will not be allowed on the premises and no films of any kind or description will be displayed.

Mayor Collins said a number of complaints have been received about the operation of film machines and further showing of suggestive or allegedly offensive films will lead to immediate revocation of a violator's license.

The Mayor extended the arcade licenses for the sixty-day period after a meeting held by him with Dwight Strong, executive secretary of the New England Citizens Crime Commission, and Richard J. Sinnott, chief of the Licensing Division.

Arcade operators originally had sought a one-year renewal of licenses. Three-month extensions were issued by Walter J. Milliken, former chief of the Licensing Division, last December, after Mayor-elect Collins asked former Mayor John B. Hynes not to grant one-year extensions to the arcade operators.

VII. COMMENDATION.

Fire Lieutenant William E. Hackett of Engine Company 41 (home address, 47 Manor street, Dorchester), is hereby commended for rescuing a woman who was trapped on the second floor at 36 Linden street, Brighton, during a fire at that location at about 10.03 P.M., March 17, 1960.

Fire Lieutenant Hackett entered the second-floor apartment and upon hearing a voice from within, he groped his way through heavy smoke, heat and fire and found a woman lying on the floor in a semiconscious condition. He brought her to the hallway where he passed her to other fire fighters.

Fire Lieutenant Hackett performed this rescue work under extremely hazardous conditions and without regard to his own safety.

TRAFFIC RULING

Temporary.

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following:

Whereas, If during construction of the off-street parking facility under the Boston Common, parking of vehicles were to be allowed in Charles street, Boston Proper, conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence March 22, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore

Pursuant to the power vested in me as Traffic Commissioner of the City of Boston . . . I hereby promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, parking of vehicles is prohibited in the following street:

Charles Street, Boston Proper.

POLIO

A statistical analysis indicates 1960 as a potential polio epidemic year in Boston. Every five years a consistent peak number of polio cases have been reported. In past years, the lack of accurate methods of identifying the polio virus have obscured the true picture, since other viruses of the Echo group can also produce the same symptoms as polio but without the residual complication of paralysis. Consequently, many nonparalytic polio cases probably escaped official recognition and tabulation especially in epidemic years. This year should provide an excellent opportunity for evaluating our polio programs. Now that facilities for confirming all our cases of polio by laboratory methods are available, we can more accurately compile our statistics. Also, we can assess the efficacy of four years of Salk immunization programs by comparison with the figures of 1955 when close to 1,000 cases of polio occurred in Boston.

In the first two months of 1960, two cases of paralytic polio have already been reported in Boston and six cases for the State of Massachusetts. Three deaths have occurred in this small group. From all indications, we can expect a polio peak this year and shall continue the Salk program in Boston by giving booster doses to all who have been immunized in the past years' programs and recommending three doses of Salk vaccine at monthly intervals for all persons not previously immunized. "Salk" programs must be started now in order to give the recommended three doses to the unimmunized population, if a polio epidemic is to be prevented in Boston in 1960.

PROPOSALS FOR FURNISHING LABORATORY SUPPLIES AND EQUIPMENT FOR THE BOSTON PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The School Committee of the City of Boston invites bids for furnishing laboratory supplies and equipment for the Boston public schools. Proposal forms are obtainable at the office of the Business Manager of the School Committee, tenth floor, 15 Beacon street. Envelopes containing proposals must be sealed and plainly marked "Proposal for Furnishing Laboratory Supplies and Equipment." The bid must be in duplicate. One copy, signed by the bidder, and accompanied by a certified check, payable to the City of Boston, in the amount of one hundred dollars ($100), must be left at the office of the Business Manager on or before twelve o'clock noon on Monday, April 18, 1960. Copies filed with the Business Manager will be publicly opened at twelve o'clock noon of the day stated. The other copy, also signed by the bidder, must be filed with the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass., previous to the time named for opening bids. The School Committee reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to accept such bid or part of bid as may be deemed best for the interests of the city. The successful bidders will be required to furnish a suitable bond or deposit of money or other security in the amount of not less than 50 per cent of the amount of the contract.

PROPOSALS FOR FURNISHING, DELIVERING, AND INSTALLING WOODWORKING MACHINERY, TESTING EQUIPMENT, SHOP EQUIPMENT, AND DRAFTING FURNITURE IN THE NEW TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL, ROXBURY, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed proposals for furnishing, delivering, and installing woodworking machinery, testing equipment, shop equipment, and drafting furniture in the new Technical High School, Roxbury, Mass.

Proposals will be received until 12 o'clock noon, Friday, April 22, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, fourth floor, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

The proposal to be submitted to the Superintendent of Construction shall be filled in, signed, inclosed in an envelope, sealed and plainly marked "Proposal for Furnishing, etc., Furniture and Equipment," and shall not be separated from the book of specifications. The additional copy of the proposal shall be removed from the book of specifications and after filling out and signing shall be sealed in an envelope properly marked, and delivered to the Auditor of the City of Boston, at City Hall, School street, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time for the opening of the proposals.

A bid deposit in the form of a certified check, issued by a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of five per cent (5%) of the full amount of the bid, except that the minimum amount of check shall be $50, shall be submitted with the copy of proposal filed with the Awarding Authority. The bid deposit shall be in a separate envelope, properly marked. Bid bonds will not be accepted.

A bond of an approved surety company must be furnished by a successful bidder in the full amount of the contract price.

The successful bidder will as stipulated be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Specifications and forms of proposals may be obtained at the office of the Superintendent of Construction, Department of School Buildings, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty days after the actual opening thereof (exclusive of Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays).

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any and all bids or any item or items of a bid.

NOTICE TO RIGGERS.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR MILLWRIGHT AND RIGGING AT THE NEW TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL, ROXBURY, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for millwright and rigging at the new Technical High School, Roxbury, Mass.

General bids will be received up until twelve o'clock noon, Friday, April 22, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, fourth floor, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, inclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $250. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded) from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, section 26, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

All subbids for a subtrade designated in Item 2 of the general bid form shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the above office address before twelve o'clock noon, Thursday, April 14, 1960, at which hour and place they will be publicly opened and read. Every such subbid must be submitted in a sealed envelope with the following plainly marked on the outside: Title of work, subtrade for which subbid submitted, subbidder's name, subbidder's business address.

All such subbids must be submitted on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority, and any such subbid not filed on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority shall be rejected.

A bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the amount as specified in the following for the subtrade as listed below, shall be submitted by each subbidder with his subbid as filed with the Awarding Authority:

Electric$250

No subbid may be withdrawn after the time limit for the filing of subbids and for five days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded) from the day fixed for the opening of the general bids. In addition, no subbid filed by (a) the three lowest responsible and eligible subbidders for each subtrade, and (b), the subbidders named in the general bids of the three lowest responsible and eligible general bidders, may be withdrawn after the opening of the general bids and for five days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), following execution of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

Plans and specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest so to do. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any subbid on any subtrade if it determines that such subbid does not represent the subbid of a person competent to perform the work as specified or that only one such subbid was received and that the price is not reasonable for acceptance without competition, in accordance with section 44D, chapter 149, of the General Laws, as amended.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR ERECTION AND COMPLETION OF AN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL IN THE DWIGHT DISTRICT, SOUTH END, BOSTON, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for erection and completion of an elementary school in the Dwight District, South End, Boston, Mass.

General bids will be received up until twelve o'clock noon, Thursday, April 21, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, fourth floor, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, inclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $45,000. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded) from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, section 26, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

All subbids for a subtrade designated in Item 2 of the general bid form shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the above office address before twelve o'clock noon, Wednesday, April 13, 1960, at which hour and place they will be publicly opened and read. Every such subbid must be submitted in a sealed envelope with the following plainly marked on the outside: Title of work, subtrade for which subbid submitted, subbidder's name, subbidder's business address.

All such subbids must be submitted on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority, and any such subbid not filed on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority shall be rejected.

A bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the amount as specified in the following for the various subtrades as listed below, shall be submitted by each subbidder with his subbid as filed with the Awarding Authority:

SCHOOL ESTIMATES PENDING AS COUNCIL PASSES BUDGET

On April 3, the City Council passed the $124 million, 1960 city-county operating budget, exclusive of School Department estimates after making a single cut of $200,000.

The reduction was made in a sanitary services item for the Public Works Department covering cost estimates on garbage and refuse collection. This sole cut in the Administration's austerity budget shall result in a supplementary request for its restoration at a later date, according to Mayor Collins, if the new garbage and refuse contracts, now about to be negotiated, cannot be tailored to fit the reductions.

As submitted by Mayor Collins, on February 1, the city-county budget of $123,937,143 totaled approximately $2.4 million less than last year's departmental appropriations. From the 1960 budget requests submitted by the department heads at the close of 1959, Mayor Collins had cut $13.7 million.

* * * * *

Over a period of six weeks the seven-member City Council Committee on Appropriations and Finance scrutinized each item of the budget in a series of almost daily hearings to which each department head and each fiscal control officer of the city was summoned to explain his budget requests. Among city agencies with small budgets the hearing assignments were split up by the City Council among three subcommittees. During the hearings on the large department budgets, the full Committee on Appropriations and Finance was in attendance.

Director of Administrative Services John P. McMorro, who made the initial cuts for the administration in the departmental requests, was represented, personally, at each hearing by one of his budget analysts who, by permanent assignment, has special knowledge of a particular department's budget problems.

In the files of the "City Record", going back fifty years, no previous instance has been found where a City Council has been so satisfied with a budget request as submitted by the Mayor that it saw fit to make only a single cut in a single item. Also, this appears to be the first year in which the Boston Finance Commission and the Boston Municipal Research Bureau have seen no areas in the budget in which to make recommendations for cuts to the City Council.

* * * * *

The city-county budget for 1960 out of the way, Mayor Collins turned his attention to the School Department budget estimates submitted to him on April 5. As submitted, the total school budget was $34.5 million. The Mayor has fifteen days to act on this budget before submitting it to the City Council.

School Department estimates are $1.5 million more than was spent last year, but $3 million less than the School Committee had initially requested for 1960. The budget is still, however, about $700,000 above the limit set by Mayor Collins.

The total school budget of $34,520,779 approved by the School Committee was broken down as follows:

General school purposes, $32,925,617.

Land and buildings, $90,108.

Alterations and repairs, $1,505,000.

The general school purposes appropriation is $10,282,999 above the statutory limit, and must be approved by the Mayor and City Council.

The School Committee, on April 4, approved its budget by a vote of four to one.

ZONING CODE HEARINGS TO CONTINUE APRIL 13

The Zoning Commission will continue the hearings on the new zoning code on Wednesday, April 13, at 2 P.M., in the City Council Chamber, at City Hall.

At the opening of the hearings two weeks ago all twenty-five of the articles of the regulations were reviewed and comments and suggestions were recorded verbatim. Additional recommendations have been since received through the mail and are welcome.

It is intended that Wednesday's hearing shall be devoted to a review of the maps showing the zoning districts particularly for the central and downtown area, both residential and commercial.

The maps show in detail the effect of the new regulations which eliminate what is generally considered to be the outmoded restriction on building heights and govern construction by the floor area ratio method. The latter allows taller buildings on the condition that they occupy less lot space for their relative population density and for their effect on parking and other facilities.

Provision for off-street parking is a general requirement throughout the city except in the high value downtown where it is considered that the city's program of municipal garages will adequately provide needed parking facilities. However, where parking is provided by a builder in these districts an increase in floor area ratio is allowed on a graduated scale.

Closely allied to off-street parking is the problem of off-street loading. It is the intent of the new code that all structures and uses requiring the shipping or delivery of goods as part of their function eventually be provided with necessary space for off-street loading. Obviously this regulation is not retroactive.

Chairman Albert V. Colman states that the proposed zoning code can be a vital tool in achieving the goals of urban renewal. As an example, he cites the fact that the Boston Redevelopment Authority had already incorporated the provisions of the new zoning code in its specifications for the New York Streets and West End developments. It is presumed that this policy will continue.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

March 29.

General Order No. 681.

The Boston Retirement Board having approved of same, the following-named police officers are retired from active duty under the provisions of the State-Boston Retirement System, effective at the close of business, Thursday, March 31, 1960:

Capt. Francis W. Russell, City Prison.
Patrolman John V. Gregory, Division 14.
Patrolman Louis J. Daddieco, Division 18.

March 29.

General Order No. 682.

The following-named officer having requested retirement under the provisions of Statutes of 1892, chapter 353, as amended, for the reason that he is incapacitated, it is hereby

Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that he be retired from active service in the Police Department, effective Wednesday, March 30, 1960, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Sergt. Stanley A. Gaw, Division 18, 39 years of service.

March 31.

General Order No. 683.

The Boston Retirement Board having approved of same, the following-named police officers are retired from active duty under the provisions of the State-Boston Retirement System, effective at the close of business, Thursday, March 31, 1960:

Capt. Arthur H. Vickerson, Central Complaint and Records Bureau.

Detective First Grade Henry J. Williams, Jr., Detective Bureau (detail to Division 18).

Patrolman Peter J. Abdou, Division 4.

March 31.

General Order No. 685.

The commissioner is pleased to publish for the information of the department the following letter from Chairman John P. McMorrow, Public Safety Commission:

"CITY OF BOSTON,
ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT,
ROOM 50, CITY HALL,
March 28, 1960.

LEO J. SULLIVAN,
Police Commissioner.

DEAR COMMISSIONER:

At a recent meeting of the Public Safety Commission, it was unanimously voted to extend to you and the members of your department the sincere thanks and appreciation of the other members of the commission for the cooperation and assistance rendered during the course of the snowstorm of March 3. This I am happy to do, on behalf of the commission, as it is well merited.

I hasten, however, to extend my personal and belated thanks and appreciation to you for a job well done. Were it not for the splendid demonstration of team work exemplified by your department, the hazards of the storm would have been more pronounced and many families that required assistance of an emergency nature would have been in dire straits.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN P. MCMORROW, Chairman, Public Safety Commission."

April 4.

General Order No. 686.

Leave of absence, without loss of pay, is hereby granted to employees of the department who are of Jewish faith for the observance of the Passover starting at sundown, Monday, April 11, 1960, and ending at sundown, Wednesday, April 13, 1960.

April 4.

General Order No. 687.

Patrolman Nicholas M. Clinton, Jr., Division 11, is hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 2.20 A.M., March 16, 1960, Patrolman Clinton, while patrolling his routes and when at Neponset avenue and North Munroe terrace, heard a noise coming from one of the stores in that area. He immediately investigated and upon inspecting the premises at 157

Neponset avenue, occupied by the Bearing Service Company, found that the front door had been forced.

Patrolman Clinton entered the store with drawn revolver and in the office found a man, whom he ordered to walk with his hands up from the office to the front of the store. The subject complied with this command and as he walked toward Patrolman Clinton, the officer observed a knife in his hand. Patrolman Clinton disarmed him and took him to Station 11, where he was identified as one Robert J. Wilkinson, 26 years, single, of 9 Lincoln street, Dorchester. He admitted forcing the door at 157 Neponset avenue and stealing about $5 in U. S. currency and a roll of 4-cent stamps and was booked on suspicion of breaking and entering a building in the nighttime and larceny therein.

In Dorchester Court, before Judge David Rose, the prisoner was charged with breaking and entering a building in the nighttime and larceny therein; and having a dangerous weapon in his possession (dirk knife), while in the commission of a felony. After a hearing in Dorchester Court on March 25, 1960, the defendant was held for the grand jury in $10,000 bail.

The subject, Robert J. Wilkinson, has a long criminal record for serious crimes, is at present on parole from the Massachusetts Correctional Institution at Walpole for the crime of armed robbery, and during questioning stated that he would have used the knife to escape, if given the opportunity.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and devotion to duty of Patrolman Clinton who had been a member of the Force less than nine months when he made the above arrest. By his courage in disarming this dangerous felon and accomplishing this arrest, he has rid our community, for the time being, of a hardened criminal.

April 4.

General Order No. 688.

Patrolmen George F. Greene, Jr., and Edward P. Connolly, Division 4, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 4:02 A.M., on Sunday, March 20, 1960, while assigned to the 4-L patrol car and cruising in the vicinity of Essex street, Patrolmen Greene and Connolly observed an International panel truck bearing a Pennsylvania registration number parked in the alley adjacent to 25 Essex street. The officers entered this alley and while checking the vehicle their attention was attracted by a noise of some metal falling against an object behind the closed wooden door leading into the storage cellar of the Palace Restaurant, Inc., 642 Washington street. Upon forcing this door open, the officers entered the building and observed two men at the basement stairs. With drawn revolvers, the officers placed the men under arrest on suspicion of breaking and entering a building in the nighttime. The officers observed at the foot of the cellar stairs a cardboard box containing about sixty pounds of U.S. minted pennies; one box of drills; one "dyno-bite" half-inch electric drill; one eight-pound sledge hammer; one large crowbar; one prying bar; and one pinch bar. Further investigation disclosed that the office on the second floor of this establishment had been entered by breaking the hasp on a metal door leading to this office and breaking the lock. A Mosler safe, 4 feet by 2 feet in size, containing the week-end receipts, was damaged by means of a broken combination, but entrance had not been gained.

* Residents and nonresidents included.

The two subjects were brought to Station 4 where they were booked as Allen L. Fidler, 37 years, 34 Sullivan street, Charlestown; and Benedict J. Oddo, 28 years, 48 Fellsway, Somerville. On March 21, 1960, they were arraigned in Boston Municipal Court before Judge Riley, on charges of larceny in a building; intent to steal from a safe; breaking and entering a building in the nighttime; and possession of burglarious tools. Their case was continued to March 31, 1960, and bail was set at $5,000 on each defendant.

At the same time, Benedict Oddo was also arraigned, and case continued to March 31, 1960, on a warrant issued in Central Municipal Court on June 27, 1959, in connection with a break which occurred on Division 4 on June 24, 1959, when John Dagres, owner of the Acropolis Club at 390 Tremont street, reported that sometime between 5 A.M. and 2:30 P.M. that date, the club was entered by some unknown person by breaking a glass in the door of the second floor leading to the club on the third floor and then jimmying the club door. An undetermined amount of money was taken from a juke box, cigarette machine, and two pinball machines. Also taken was a box containing between $30 and $40 from a hiding place in the kitchen. Numerous partial prints were found on the machines, some of which were traced to the above Benedict Oddo, as a result of which the June 1959 warrant was issued.

On March 31, 1960, in Central Municipal Court, Oddo and Fidler were ordered held for the grand jury, in the sum of $2,500 each.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the keen observation and devotion to duty displayed by Patrolmen Greene and Connolly, as the result of which these felons were apprehended and two breaking and entering cases solved.

April 4.

General Order No. 689.

Patrolman Joseph O. Murphy, Traffic Division, honorably discharged veteran, having arrived at the age of sixty-five years, having been in service of City of Boston for forty years, and having requested retirement under provisions of section 58, chapter 32, General Laws (Ter. CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor approved the award of contracts, without advertising, based on the following communications:

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

Book Storage

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of an agreement with the New England Deposit Library for the storage of books and other library materials for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961.

The New England Deposit Library building is located at 135 Western avenue, Allston. The institution was created by action of the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under terms of chapter 240 of the Statutes of 1941. The act names the Boston Public Library as a "Participating Institution" together with the Massachusetts State Library, the Boston Athenaeum, Boston College, Boston University, Simmons College, the Massachusetts Historical Society, and other libraries, for the purpose of providing storage space for books and other library materials for which there is only occasional use and for which storage space is not available in intensively used library buildings. The "Participating Institutions" share cooperatively in the low-cost housing arrangements provided by the New England Deposit Library in accordance with a schedule of rates standard for all "Participating Institutions."

The trustees have set a limit of $9,145 on the amount to be expended for storage space for the period of the agreement. The trustees have therefore

"Voted, That there be entered into with the New England Deposit Library, 135 Western avenue, Allston, an agreement for the rental during the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961, of storage space therein for books and other library materials belonging to the Boston Public Library, in accordance with the rates for storage space formally adopted by the governing board of said New England Deposit Library."

Inasmuch as the total cost of the storage space will exceed two thousand dollars

($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this agreement without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE
CITY OF BOSTON,
By MILTON E. LORD,
Director.

CLAIMS APPROVED

The Mayor, on recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following votes of the City Council Committee on Claims:

Charles Goldberg, 320 East Eagle street, East Boston, to be reimbursed as the result of an accident while in the performance of his duty as an employee of the Public Works Department, Highway Division, and the operator of a city-owned vehicle on December 18, 1958, struck the parked car of Louise Erickson on Trenton street, causing damages, by payment of $50.

Francis C. Coloring of Highways Studied

Coloring highways as a guide to motorists is being tested in this country and abroad. In the not too distant future you may find upon approaching a city, a yellow road goes to the shopping district while a blue road leads you to the arterial through route.

Blue and green dyes are being mixed with concrete for destination guides. Also some aluminum manufacturers have recommended a study of using a by-product, Jamaica red mud, in asphaltic paving mixes.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 6.

General Order No. 692.

The following notice has been received from Massachusetts Blue Cross-Blue Shield, advising that effective June 1, 1960, their rates are being increased. Applications will also be accepted at this time for new members or for changes in coverage.

BLUE CROSS-BLUE SHIELD REOPENING, APRIL 11 TO APRIL 15, FOR CITY OF BOSTON EMPLOYEES.

The annual reopening period for city employees to enroll in Blue Cross-Blue Shield will be from April 11 to April 15. This will be your only opportunity for a full year to enroll as a new member or to increase your coverage. The effective date of new memberships and changes will be June 1, 1960.

Due to rising hospital-medical costs and the fact that employees of the city have used their Blue Cross-Blue Shield to a far greater extent than was anticipated, it will be necessary to increase premium rates on June 1, 1960. More and more of your fellow employees have had occasion to call upon Blue Cross-Blue Shield in recent years, and it follows that the rates must be adjusted this year to meet future benefit payments. Your Blue Cross and Blue Shield rates are not permanent, as your groups' experience will be reviewed each year.

The City of Boston is pleased to inform you that your Blue Cross-Blue Shield premium will be deducted weekly beginning the first week in May for the payment due June 1. Weekly deductions will make it much easier for employees to pay their premium. The last monthly deduction at the old rates will be made in April for the premium due May 1.

Employees who are interested in joining Blue Cross-Blue Shield and those who wish to make adjustments in their coverage should obtain the proper card from their payroll office.

New members must complete a white application card.

Those wishing to make a change in coverage must complete a yellow adjustment card.

Any city employee who has required hospital and physician's care in recent years realizes how important it is to be adequately protected.

NEW RATE ANALYSIS, CITY OF BOSTON EMPLOYEES, EFFECTIVE JUNE 1, 1960.

The following rate analysis has been prepared to give you a comparison of your present rates and the new rates to be effective June 1, 1960:

Column One (1) designates the type plan.

Column Two (2) shows the rates which you are presently paying.

Column Three (3) lists the new monthly rates for employees who are on the monthly payroll.

Column Four (4) gives the weekly deduction for employees on the weekly payroll.

CLAIMS APPROVED

The Mayor, on recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following vote of the City Council Committee on Claims:

Joseph L. Pistorino, 60 Edson street, Dorchester, an employee of the Fire Department, for reimbursement for damages paid to Albert Marchionda as the result of an accident on May 24, 1959, while the operator of a city-owned vehicle, struck the parked car of Mr. Marchionda, causing damages, by payment of $315.

William G. Finney, 61 Woodworth street, East Boston, an employee of the Police Department, who, while in the performance of his duty on March 26, 1959, as the operator of a city-owned vehicle on Pinckney street, collided with a car owned by John W. Smit and operated by Justine W. Smit, causing damages to said car, by payment of $160.

Payroll deductions for Blue Cross-Blue Shield will be made weekly beginning the first week in May on a four-week per month basis. These deductions will reflect the increase due June 1.

All employees who wish to become members or who wish to adjust their coverage at this time will fill out prescribed card. These cards will be delivered to the Chief Clerk's Office as soon as possible but not later than Wednesday, April 13, 1960. A supply of authorization cards is forwarded with this order. It will not be necessary to fill out a card to accept this increase in rates.

Commanding officers are directed to bring this notice to the attention of all personnel attached to their respective divisions and units.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor approved the award of contracts, without advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT.

Purchasing Division.

Repair Parts

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

From time to time, it is necessary to purchase repair parts for the various types of automotive equipment used by the Public Works Department. Authority is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for prices and award contracts, without public advertisement, to the companies listed below for furnishing repair parts for the equipment specified to the Public Works Department from April 1, 1960, to March 31, 1961, inclusive. Inasmuch as each company named is either the manufacturer or the local distributor for the equipment listed, it is my opinion that no advantage would be gained by publicly advertising for prices.

Approximate total amounts of contracts will be as follows:

E. J. Bleiler Equipment Company, Inc., Elgin sweeper parts, $16,000, Trojan front bucket loader parts, $2,000—$18,000, net, thirty days, f.o.b. Needham Heights; Casey & DuPuis Equipment Corporation, Wayne sweeper parts, $12,000, less 2 per cent, fifteen days; Charles H. Wood, doing business as Charles N. Wood Company, Walter snow-fighter parts, $8,000, net; Hedge & Matheis Company, Hough front end loader parts, $2,500, net.

Prices on all items will be list prices in effect at time of delivery.

Respectfully yours,

MICHAEL A. DESIMONE,
Purchasing Agent.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

Rental of Premises

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The trustees respectfully request that you approve the signing of a lease, without public advertising, with Toffe G. Kando for the rental of the premises located at 275 Washington street, Dorchester. These premises have served as quarters for the Mt. Bowdoin Branch Library since 1929. The lease will be for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961. There will be no change in the rate of rent, which will be in the sum of three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600). It is not possible to obtain competitive bidding by public advertising for this purpose.

Inasmuch as the total rental will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this lease without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,
MILTON E. LORD, Director.

Protection Service

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request the approval of your Honor for the award of a contract, without public advertising, to A. F. Publicover & Co., Inc., 25 Pemberton square, Boston, Mass., for the furnishing of guard and patrol protection service at the Central Library building for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961.

The cost of this service for the period of the contract will not be in excess of $12,900.

On February 19, 1960, your Honor approved a recommendation of the trustees that there be entered into with A. F. Publicover & Co., Inc., an arrangement whereby guard and patrol protection service would be provided in the Central Library building until March 31, 1960. In our earlier communication of January 12, 1960, to you it was indicated that it was the opinion of the trustees that the nature of this work was such as not to lend itself to public bidding. At that time, after thorough examination of five companies in the guard and patrol protection business, the trustees selected A. F. Publicover & Co., Inc., since it has had wide experience in providing security guard service to many institutions with needs for protection similar to those of the library. At the present time this company is providing the required guard and patrol protection service in the Central Library building. The trustees have therefore

"Voted, That Milton E. Lord, Director, and Librarian of the Public Library of the City of Boston, be and hereby is, directed to request the permission of the Mayor to award to A. F. Publicover & Co., Inc., 25 Pemberton square, Boston, Mass., the contract without inviting proposals therefor by advertisement in the "City Record," for furnishing guard and patrol protection at the Central Library building in Copley square, Boston, for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961, at a per diem rate of thirty-five dollars ($35), for the reason that the services being of a professional nature do not lend themselves to such advertisement; and further Voted, That Milton E. Lord, Director of the Public Library of the City of Boston, be, and hereby is, authorized and directed in the name and behalf of the Trustees of the Public Library of the City of Boston to execute said contract in quadruplicate."

Inasmuch as the total cost for this service will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is requested permission of your Honor to enter into this contract without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,
By MILTON E. LORD, Director.

Window Cleaning

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

In response to a public advertisement sealed proposals for the cleaning of windows at the Central Library building and at twenty-eight other buildings were received and opened at the office of the trustees at twelve o'clock noon on Thursday, February 18, 1960. They were as follows:

Boston Window and Floor Cleaning Company, Inc., $3,856.80; Bay State Cleaning Company, $4,565; Careful Cleaning Company, $4,938.

The firm of Boston Window and Floor Cleaning Company, Inc., the low bidder, submitted a bid deposit in the sum of $200 instead of $300 which was the amount required by the terms of the advertisement.

In order to take advantage of the lower price it would be to the best interest of the City of Boston to reject all the bids received for Group I and to award the contract, without public advertising, to Boston Window and Floor Cleaning Co., Inc.

The trustees have therefore "Voted, That there be entered into without public advertising with Boston Window and Floor Cleaning Company, Inc., 34 Harrison avenue, Boston, Mass., a contract for the cleaning of certain windows during the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961, in the Central Library building and in seventeen branch libraries in an amount not to exceed three thousand eight hundred and fifty-six dollars and eighty cents ($3,856.80)."

Inasmuch as the total cost of this work will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000) there is requested permission of your Honor to enter into this contract without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,
By MILTON E. LORD, Director.

SUFFOLK COUNTY.

PROBATE COURT AND COURT OF INSOLVENCY.

Photostat Paper

DEAR MAYOR COLLINS:

Permission is requested to award to the Photostat Corporation, Rochester, New York, a contract for the purchase of photostat photographic paper, developer, and acid fixer in an amount not to exceed five thousand and ninety-three dollars without advertising for bids. Said paper, developer, and acid fixer are for use in the photostat machine in this department.

No other company can furnish said material so that there is nothing but expense to be gained by advertising. This precedent has been followed from the time the machine was purchased in the early 1940's.

I urge your favorable consideration.

Respectfully yours,

LOUIS F. MUSCO, Register.

VETERANS' RETIREMENTS

The Mayor has approved the following veterans' applications for retirement:

George L. Brown, 1160 Commonwealth avenue, Allston, highway construction inspector, Highway Division, Public Works Department.

John R. Martin, 36 Chadwick street, Roxbury, motor equipment operator and laborer, Sanitary Division, Public Works Department.

AMENDMENTS TO ORIGINAL AWARDS OF DAMAGES.

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the following:

That the amount of $100 is awarded to David Swartz and Rose S. Swartz for all damages sustained under the order of the Public Improvement Commission and Mayor of September 3, 1959, for the laying out and construction of Sherrin street, Hyde Park.

MASSACHUSETTS AVE. REPAIRS

Roxbury

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the following:

Voted, That this commission, having passed the order of notice relating to the public improvement hereinafter described, and having caused a copy of said order to be published January 30 and February 2, 1960, in the Boston American and the Boston Herald, two daily newspapers published in the City of Boston, and having given the public hearing, notice of which was given in said order, and being of the opinion that public necessity and convenience require, does hereby order that specific repairs be made in Massachusetts avenue, Roxbury district, consisting of the extension of the existing traffic islands at the intersection of Southampton street, as shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Massachusetts Avenue, Southampton Street, Roxbury, May 20, 1959, James W. Haley, Division Engineer, Survey Division, Public Works Department," as revised March 28, 1960, and on file in the office of said department.

Praise, Attack Zoning Code

In New York City, the Metropolitan Chapter of the Society of Professional Engineers attacked the proposed new city zoning code.

The grounds are that it is nonrealistic, would result in the confiscation of property without compensation, and would create a Tower of Babel because it listed too many items to be considered in the examination of building plans.

The Council of Architects approved the proposed code, praising the attempt to provide more open space and the proposed granting of floor space bonuses in return for building plazas, arcades, and colonnaded areas.

GAS MAIN PERMITS

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the following:

That permission be granted to Boston Gas Company to lay and maintain an underground structure (185 feet of 6-inch steel low pressure main) in Baldwin street, Charlestown district, at Main street, for a new main connection, substantially as shown on a plan marked "Proposed Location of 6-Inch Gas Main in Baldwin Street and Main Street, Charlestown, Boston Gas Company, March 22, 1960," and on file in the office of the Commissioner of Public Works.

That permission be granted to Boston Gas Company to lay and maintain an underground structure (35 feet of 6-inch steel low pressure main) in Main street, Charlestown district, for a main connection in Baldwin street, 35 feet east of the east line of Baldwin street, substantially as shown on a plan marked "Proposed Location of 6-Inch Gas Main in Baldwin Street and Main Street, Charlestown, Boston Gas Company, March 22, 1960," and on file in the office of the Commissioner of Public Works.

That permission be granted to Boston Gas Company to lay and maintain an underground structure (140-feet of 30-inch steel main) in Richmond street, Boston Proper district, from North street approximately 140 feet southeasterly, substantially as shown on a plan marked "Proposed New Mains and Relays, Boston Entrance Area, Second East Boston Tunnel, Boston Gas Company, August 6, 1959," and on file in the office of the Commissioner of Public Works.

Jet Airfield Protest

Residents near the Great Swamp in New Jersey, 30 miles from New York City, are protesting the plans of the New York Port Authority to build a new $220,000,000 jet airfield base destroying several villages, estates, homes, and churches, some built before the Revolution.

Television Monitors

A security guard system designed to prevent muggings was installed in a New York luxury apartment house. One closed circuit television camera atop an automatic elevator relays a continuous image of the car and its passengers and a camera monitors a well-lighted service entrance. The doorman can talk over a two-way radio with persons at both sites.

For Skid Conditions

Snow removal from a bridge by means of electrical radiant heat in the floor was given a successful test by the South Dakota Department of Highways recently. The bridge contains a complete electric installation in the floor slab which is turned on when dangerous driving conditions exist. Within a half hour after the system was turned on in a test the temperature on the floor of the bridge was 45 degrees.

RADIO CONTROLS TRAFFIC FLOW

Traffic signals in Washington, D. C., will be interconnected by the world's largest radio traffic control system, it is reported. A $167,000 contract for an initial system has been let by the department of highways and traffic of the District of Columbia.

The system provides not only for the coordination and synchronization of traffic lights but also for the automatic change of cycles to meet demands of fluctuating traffic flow at various times of the day and week.

Use of radio rather than interconnecting cable will save in excess of $2 million.

PHILLY PROGRESS

Philadelphia is establishing six new municipal automobile parking lots, two of them park-and-ride, to minimize traffic congestion, the city's municipal news letter reports.

MAYOR CALLS FOR MORE PRIVATE INVESTMENT IN BOSTON

Speaking at a meeting of the Greater Boston Economic Study Committee and the American Committee to Improve Our Neighborhoods, held at John Hancock Hall, on April 14, Mayor John F. Collins stated as follows:

It is a pleasure to be here and my sincere thanks to Action, Incorporated, and the Greater Boston Economic Study Committee for asking me to join you.

Action, as we know, is doing a wonderful, indeed magnificent job, for our nation's cities. And the Greater Boston Economic Study Committee, has, in three years, provided the leadership and stimulation, that the central city has sought for, cried for, throughout three centuries.

Again my thanks to both your inspiring, or should I say "perspiring," groups.

This morning you heard described some of the most significant economic base research on Boston that has been undertaken. It is often asked: What consequence can this kind of research have on a city such as Boston? I know from 15 years' experience that it can have important, invaluable effects, particularly if the recommendations of such work are implemented vigorously by practical men, and Boston's reputation for practical men is well known. Their capacity as Yankee traders and financiers hardly needs exposition here. Thus, I believe that with their help, the recommendations for new centers such as apparel, graphic arts and decorative arts can be translated from research into reality.

Naturally, these things cannot be done overnight, but the preparations can be made today.

As Mayor of Boston, I have taken steps to bring our expenditures down to the level of our financial capacities. Of itself, this does not make new investments inevitable, but it is the important first step that the city can take to improve its investment climate.

The next step will be for the businessmen—you men—to build on the knowledge that they have gained from research and develop a program of action which shows their equal confidence in the city's capacity to revive.

I can think of no more significant action, no more necessary action, you could take—not next month, or next year, but today—than to form a private development corporation to bring these exciting recommendations of the Greater Boston Economic Study Committee report from the printed page to bricks and mortar.

This corporation could be similar to the Pittsburgh Corporation which built the famed "Golden Triangle," a beautiful development on the tip of the Allegheny River. A corporation similar to this in Boston could provide the seed money to build Boston's apparel, graphic arts and decorative arts centers, and scores of others. In addition to the great corporations which have done this type of developing heretofore, a new corporation could provide the opportunity for the smaller corporations to become partners in the fiscal renaissance of Boston.

The other day at Boston College, some of you may have heard Edward J. Logue, head of our urban renewal program, echo my thoughts that Boston capital is at work all over the world—let's put that capital to work in our own front and back yards. All of us know that it is Boston capital, to a large degree, that finances Hollywood movies and television productions. Our money is going South, going West. Let's create an effective way of putting it to work at home.

For more years than I care to remember we've been hearing the cry: "Let Boston put its house in order, then perhaps we (meaning you businessmen) will invest in the city." Gentlemen, I've been in office for only 101 days and let me

April 7, 1960.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

This report has developed from an impasse of several months ago when the Parks and Recreation Commission rejected all the recommendations of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau which sought to close various public baths and related installations.

Subsequently, former Mayor Hynes sent the following letter, dated July 28, 1959, to the Chairman of the Finance Commission:

"MR. ANTHONY J. YOUNG, Chairman,
Boston Finance Commission,
24 School Street, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR:

In October of 1958 the Boston Municipal Research Bureau issued a report on the public bath system of the Parks and Recreation Department. Subsequently, in May of this year, the Board of Park Commissioners issued a report in which it disagreed with the contentions contained in the Research Bureau report.

This matter has been given considerable publicity and the Civic Progress Committee has indicated its approval of the Research Bureau's recommendations. It is my belief that the service rendered by the public baths is a necessity for a certain number of our citizens and while it may be true that conditions have changed considerably, nevertheless, I do not think the time has come when these services should be eliminated or curtailed to any great extent.

In order that this whole subject matter may be given further study I suggest that the Finance Commission go over both reports, make any further investigations deemed desirable, and submit to me and the Park Commissioners the result of such a study. I will appreciate it if your Commission will agree to do this.

Respectfully,

J. B. HYNES, Mayor."

The Finance Commission agreed to make such a study when time and staff facilities permitted. The following report is a result of that study:

CHANGING NEED OF PUBLIC BATHS

The Finance Commission is of the opinion that the historical attitude toward Boston's system of public baths must be changed. Changed conditions have greatly reduced the necessity for the system which has been in operation for many decades.

The time has come for Boston to contract its public bath system. The City need no longer continue operations at their present level.

Evaluation of the need for public baths by the double criteria of incidence of bath facilities in the home and actual patronage of present public facilities demonstrates that some public bath facilities may be

Mayor Orders Closing of 4 Bath Facilities As of April 18

Mayor John F. Collins has sent a directive to the Parks and Recreation Commission ordering the shutdown of two municipal baths, one city laundry, and a sewing and cutting room.

Total savings to be realized in the closings, the Mayor said, will ultimately reach over $200,000 a year. Affected by the order, which took effect April 18, are the Brighton baths, the Dover Street baths, the Dover Street laundry, and the Paris Street sewing and cutting room.

The Mayor said the 47 employees now employed at these facilities will be transferred to other city departments. None of them will be discharged.

Because these employees are to be absorbed elsewhere in city service and because the fiscal year is already more than one quarter over, the savings in the current budget will come to an estimated $48,125. However, as these transferred workers leave the city service during the coming years and are not replaced, the savings eventually will mount to over $200,000.

discontinued and the operation of others curtailed.

As the need for bath facilities dwindles in those areas where present continuation of the facilities is indicated, further reduction, based on a periodic check of patronage, may well be made.

As a starting point, several changes in operation of the present system of public baths are recommended in this report. In fact, the Parks and Recreation Commission has recently indicated that some changes in the organization and administration of the public bath system may be in order.

SUMMARY

A review of the public baths situation points to certain conclusions. The recommendations of the Finance Commission for changes, spelled out in the following pages, will make possible an eventual saving of approximately $190,000. In addition, there would be an immediate saving of approximately $40,000 in temporary personnel; or a grand total of approximately $230,000 in savings.

Proposed changes may be summarized as follows:

1. Close the Brighton Municipal Building and the public showers contained therein permanently.

2. Close public showers on the first floor at Tyler street permanently. In fact, consider closing the entire building permanently, if not demonstrably essential for recreation.

3. Close the "front" public showers at the Tobin Building permanently; close the building during the summer months.

4. Close public showers at Cabot street permanently; pool showers to remain open year round, and available for public shower use.

5. Eliminate public baths personnel at Roslindale and Hyde Park. Consider showers at Hyde Park and Roslindale only as servicing gymnasium.

6. Close sewing room at Paris street; eliminate temporary personnel and reduce permanent personnel at Dover Street laundry.

7. Designate Thursday as Ladies' Day at public showers.

8. Operate public showers on the basis of a 5-day week; to be closed on Monday (viz.: Dover street, Columbia road, Charlestown, Broadway, East Boston, North Bennet street, Williams Building, Vine street, and Curtis Hall).

9. Eliminate towel service at several installations.

The savings in terms of personnel which will result from the closings, contractions and other changes recommended in this report, are spelled out specifically in a later section of this report entitled: "Resultant Savings and Summary of Recommendations."

It is assumed that no permanent employee will be discharged.

BRIGHTON MUNICIPAL BUILDING Public Shower Facility.

When the incidence of bath facility in the home is used as a criterion of need, this area, Brighton, shows relatively little need of public showers. The United States census report for 1950 shows that only 1.69 per cent of the dwellings lack bath facilities.

When the criterion of actual patronage of the existing public bath facility is applied, there is additional evidence that there is no great need for the facility. An actual count made by a representative of the Finance Commission at this Brighton Municipal Building public bath installation between the hours of 2 p.m. and 10 p.m., the daily operating period on each of six days (December 2-8, 1959), pro-

AVERAGE MARCH WELFARE CASE COST UP $2.60

Following is a summary of the Welfare Department's report for March, 1960:

Categorical assistance for March amounted to $3,046,304. This is an increase of $33,866 over the previous month. The average monthly cost per case rose from $112.62 to $115.22. With regard to the caseload, 976 applications were approved and 1,041 cases were closed, a net decrease of 65 cases. During the month, 293 applications for assistance were rejected.

Old Age Assistance: Slight decreases in expenditures and caseload were noted during the month and were in line with the national trend. The caseload as of the end of the month was 16,077.

Aid to Dependent Children: The net result of activity in this category showed an increase of 32 cases, bringing the total caseload as of the end of the month to 4,777. The major cause for eligibility was the desertion of the wage earner.

Disability Assistance: Increased costs for medical care resulted in an expenditure of $20,329 more than that of the previous month. There were 3,305 cases aided receiving an average grant of $129.23 during March.

General Relief: Although expenditures for the month went up by $31,669, or 20.5 per cent, this is accounted for by a fifth pay period which occurs quarterly. Grants for this category are paid weekly.

The "Annual Statistical Report on Concurrent Receipt of Public Assistance and Old Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance" was compiled for the month of February, 1960. The chart below shows the number of persons who are involved and the amounts of public assistance payments and O.A.S.D.I. benefits received during the month of February.

FIN. COM. SUPPORTS BILL TO INCREASE STATE AID FOR SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

April 11, 1960.

To the Members of the House Ways and Means Committee.

There is currently before your committee a bill which is important to most of the principal cities of the Commonwealth. The bill is House 2952. The Finance Commission wishes to be recorded in favor of this petition. The bill provides, in section 2A, for an increase in the minimum amount of financial assistance to cities and towns in the construction of school buildings from the present level of 20 per cent to a new level of 30 per cent. The bill would provide a fairer treatment of the older and larger cities of the Commonwealth than they are now receiving in this matter.

Inequity in Present Formula

Raising the minimum of state assistance to communities in the construction of school buildings to 30 per cent, as provided in House 2952, will help to reduce the inequity inherent in the present operation of the formula of grant. This reimbursement formula was set up by chapter 645 of the Acts of 1948.

Under the terms of the formula, if the valuation per pupil in a community is less than the valuation per pupil throughout the state, the community receives proportionately more than 25 per cent reimbursement for school construction. In fact, the amount of reimbursement can and does go as high as 50 per cent. If the valuation per pupil in the community is greater than the valuation per pupil throughout the state, the community receives proportionately less than 25 per cent reimbursement. In any case, the minimum grant is 20 per cent.

The underlying theory of the formula is, apparently, that the size of the pupil population represents the school cost to the community, and the valuation attributable to the community represents its financial capacity. Unfortunately, the figure of valuation applied to a given community is that which is spelled out in chapter 559 of the Acts of 1945; this was an act establishing the basis of apportionment of state and county taxes, and purported to ascribe an equalized valuation to every municipality in the state at that time.

No new "equalized valuation" has been enacted into law since 1945. The antiquated and unrealistic valuations found in chapter 559 of 1945 are still used.

Unreasonableness of Valuations

Using the valuations set up in 1945 works a hardship on the older and principal cities.

The valuation pattern of the several metropolitan areas in the state has been changing. For example, in the Boston Metropolitan area, valuations have changed substantially in the past fifteen years, or since the 1945 "equalized valuations" were determined. Values lost by the inner or core cities have been absorbed by suburban communities. New values have been added to the entire base with new construction in the suburbs. But the formula has not caught up with these new valuations and broader base. These new area-wide values which raise the total valuations of the state would make the ratio of Boston's valuation to the whole even smaller and thus have the effect of increasing the per cent of assistance to be received under the formula.

Pending the correction of the present formula, House 2952 would be a step in the right direction.

The Older Cities Hard Hit

The extent to which the present minimum in the per cent of reimbursement for schoolhouse construction works a hardship on the older and principal cities is clear from the following list of cities and the per cent of reimbursement for schoolhouse construction which each receives.

The following cities receive the minimum:

Boston	receives 20%
Cambridge	receives 20%
Holyoke	receives 20%
Lawrence	receives 20%
Lowell	receives 20%
Newton	receives 20%
Salem	receives 20%
Somerville	receives 20%
Springfield	receives 20%
Worcester	receives 20%

The following cities receive close to the minimum:

Chelsea	receives 23%
Fall River	receives 22%
Haverhill	receives 23%
Malden	receives 24%
Quincy	receives 21%
Taunton	receives 26%
Pittsfield	receives 27%
Waltham	receives 28%
Northampton	receives 27%

The smaller suburban communities fare well enough under the present operation of the formula. The relation of their increasing pupil population to the unchanged valuation ascribed to that community under the 1945 Act results in a low figure of valuation per pupil. This, in turn, means a larger percentage of grant under the formula. Many of these smaller communities receive from 40 per cent to 50 per cent in reimbursement for school construction.

The older cities are not so fortunate. Yet it is in the older cities that new school construction is needed to replace their many ancient and outmoded school buildings. Boston has undertaken a school building replacement program of heroic proportions, but is struggling under the handicap of a mere 20 per cent reimbursement.

Even the 20 per cent minimum grant is not pure net gain. The cost of meeting the requirements set by the state as a condition for the grant, in terms of facilities within the building and open space around the building, cuts substantially into the value of the assistance.

In simple justice, a minimum assistance grant should be adopted which will render reasonable assistance to an older city which is endeavoring to provide adequate school housing for its children. House 2952 will provide the basic step forward that is needed at this time.

Moreover, placing House 2952 into operation would involve no new tax source.

Private Investment . . .

tell you this, they have been the busiest days that this city ever has seen, and let me also tell you this: Boston's house is in order.

Efficiency is up, expenditures are down. And the mounting municipal tax rate will be halted. We are doing our job. Now you can begin yours. As I've said before, the time has arrived to translate research into reality. Let me place this thought with you:

Our major insurance companies and banks for years have been financing some of the most outstanding developments, shopping centers, apartment blocks, commercial buildings, in Boston. They have provided an outstanding service to the community in these endeavors. But there are many smaller insurance companies and banks in Greater Boston, who, because perhaps they are not the giants of their industries, have not participated in such financing. Why can't these smaller banks, these smaller insurance companies, pool their resources, their talents, their capital and form a bank committee and an insurance committee to which we could channel our requests for major financing.

Perhaps each one is waiting for the other to act. Perhaps one sits on his hands and waits for someone else to organize such a group.

Here are my proposals:

I'd like to take this opportunity to ask the president of the Boston Five Cents Savings Bank or the Suffolk-Franklin Savings Bank, or some such bank to take on the job of organizing a pool of investment capital of $10,000,000 with 50 or so banks agreeing to participate, perhaps to the extent of $200,000 apiece.

These banks would join in a pool for action in real estate in Boston with a committee of five bank presidents of the 50 banks chosen by a council of the participating banks to decide which action project is a valid investment for the pool. The committee would work with a liaison man from the City of Boston.

Now, I am no expert in banking laws, but I am sure the implementation of this proposal could be tailored to the Bank Commissioner's regulations.

I'd also at this time like to ask Mr. John O'Connor, Executive Secretary of the Insurance Companies of Massachusetts, to lend his efforts to help raise needed investment capital for Boston.

Mr. O'Connor recently wrote a very informative article in the Chamber of Commerce magazine. It told of the tremendous growth of the insurance industry here.

With Mr. O'Connor's help, I wonder if the insurance companies would form a similar investment pool of smaller insurance companies, with a central liaison committee having the authority to commit the pool to a $50,000,000 investment program to provide capital for construction and reconstruction in Boston.

The time for waiting is over, the time for action is now!

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 12.

General Order No. 694.

Patrolmen Robert L. Chenette and Robert L. Cunningham, Division 4, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty, and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 11.45 P.M., March 22, 1960, while cruising in radio patrol car in the vicinity of Shawmut avenue and West Newton street, Patrolmen Chenette and Cunningham observed two men running across Shawmut avenue into Haven street. The officers gave chase and ordered the men to halt, but they continued running. After a chase on foot, the officers apprehended one Nelson S. Boyer, 19 years, single, of 17 Claremont park, Boston, the other man escaping. Boyer stated that they were running from a gang fight in the Cathedral project and were afraid of being assaulted by unknown youths. Boyer was brought to Station 4 for further questioning.

On March 23, 1960, at approximately 12.01 A.M., two officers of Division 4 responded to a call from 55 Rutland street, Boston, where one Dominic Maranelli of that address stated that about twenty minutes earlier, while walking in Rutland street and in front of No. 57, he was grabbed from the rear by two men, one of whom rifled his pockets and removed a brown leather wallet containing one $2 bill; two $1 bills; $1.05 in silver, and a lady's chrome-plated cigarette lighter, and then left, running in the direction of Shawmut avenue. Mr. Maranelli was taken to Station 4, where he positively identified the above Nelson Boyer as one of the two who had robbed him. Boyer was arrested on suspicion of this robbery and when searched had in his possession the money and lighter described above.

Teletype item, with description, was issued for the second holdup man and at about 12.40 A.M., March 23, 1960, Patrolmen Chenette and Cunningham, in company with a sergeant and special officer of Division 4, arrested at Charlie's Sandwich Shop, 429 Columbus avenue, on suspicion of this unarmed robbery, one George R. Wimley, 21 years, single, of 20 Highland street, Roxbury. After questioning, George Wimley admitted that he was the one who had grabbed Mr. Maranelli about the neck and had taken his brown leather wallet, and he accompanied the officers to an alley off West Concord street and showed them where he had hidden it.

On March 24, 1960, in Boston Municipal Court, Judge Adlow, after hearing the evidence in this case, reduced the complaint to larceny from the person and assault and battery. Nelson Boyer was sentenced to six months in the House of Correction on both counts. George Wimley was given a six-month suspended sentence to the House of Correction on both counts.

As a result of investigation in the above case and acting on information received, Patrolmen Chenette and Cunningham arrested at Northampton and Washington streets one Joey VonRader, 17 years, single, of 96 West Springfield street, Boston, on March 27, 1960, on suspicion of unarmed robbery of one Elmer Bergquist of 128 Huntington avenue, who had been robbed in the doorway of his home on March 18, 1960, of $110, and assaulted by two men. Further investigation resulted in the arrest of one James Grey, 19 years, single, of 29 Wellington street, Boston, who admitted his participation in this assault and robbery.

On April 1, 1960, Joey VonRader and James Grey were arraigned in Boston Municipal Court on a charge of unarmed robbery before Judge Adlow who, after hearing the evidence, found probable cause and ordered both men held in $9,000 bail for the grand jury, at the same time commenting on the long criminal record of the subject VonRader.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty of Patrolmen Chenette and Cunningham who, by their alertness, succeeded in apprehending the subject Boyer and by continuing investigation brought about the arrest of three additional felons and the solution of two crimes of robbery.

VETERANS' SERVICES DEPARTMENT.

Expenditures for veterans' benefits for January, 1960, show a decrease of $32,512.24 in comparison with expenditures for the corresponding period of 1959.

The 1,462 cases aided during the month of January, 1960, represented a total of 3,186 individuals benefited through the facilities of the Veterans' Services Department.

There were 82 cases closed during the month of January, 1960, because of obtaining employment, having been awarded unemployment compensation, receiving social security, and becoming eligible to receive financial assistance for miscellaneous other reasons.

During the month of January, 1960, the department collected $5,194.74, which represents refunds by former beneficiaries of veterans' benefits who were found to have drawn aid under circumstances which warranted its return to the City of Boston.

April 12.

General Order No. 695.

The following-named officer having requested retirement under the provisions of the Statutes of 1892, chapter 353, as amended, for the reason that he is incapacitated, it is hereby

Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that he be retired from active service in the Police Department, effective Wednesday, April 13, 1960, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Patrolman Harold B. O'Brien, Division 13, 37 years of service.

General Order No. 696.

EDITOR'S NOTE.—This order deals with the routine assignment and conduct of the police officers at the various polling places on Presidential Primary Day, Tuesday, April 26, 1960. The text remains about the same from year to year. Due to excessive space requirements, the "City Record" refrains from printing the text of the order. Anyone who wishes to examine the complete details, General Order No. 696, may do so at the office of the City Record, Room 35, City Hall, Boston.

April 18.

General Order No. 697.

The Rules and Regulations of the Police Department are hereby amended, as follows, effective Sunday, May 1, 1960, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Rule 37. Public and Paying Police Details.

On Page 57, section 9, as most recently amended by General Order No. 434, strike out both paragraphs in subsection (f) and insert in place thereof new subsection (f) to read as follows:

(f) Commanding Officers will report semi-monthly on new Form 3A to the Superintendent, for the attention of the Central Complaint and Records Bureau—a summary of paying details. The name and rank of all officers performing such duty—the name of person, firm or corporation served—the details performed—the refusal of details, if any—shall be listed consecutively as assigned, with the compensation applicable to each detail.

Entries made on Form 3A shall be complete and legible. Each assigned detail, whether accepted or refused, shall be recorded in the order of assignment.

Summaries will be compiled by the Central Complaint and Records Bureau and periodically issued for posting on the bulletin board of each division and unit for the attention of all officers and a copy forwarded to the department drillmaster for his information and guidance.

In January of each year the Central Complaint and Records Bureau will notify each officer of the total amount of compensation earned in paying details for the previous year for income tax purposes.

General Order No. 698.

The following notice is published for the information of the department:

"CITY OF BOSTON,
BOSTON RETIREMENT BOARD, ROOM 65, CITY HALL, BOSTON.

State-Boston Retirement System.

Notice of Election.

Under the provisions of subdivision 4 of section 20 of chapter 32 of the General Laws, the following regulations are hereby determined for the election of a member of the Boston Retirement Board:

Employees who are members of the State-Boston Retirement System on June 21, 1960, may select, by their votes, one of their members to be a member of the Boston Retirement Board for the term of three years beginning October 1, 1960, and ending September 30, 1963.

Ballots will be furnished the members containing the names of candidates who are duly nominated.

Nomination papers may be obtained at the office of the Boston Retirement Board, Room 30, City Hall, on or after May 2, 1960.

Any member of the State-Boston Retirement System may become a candidate by filing with the Boston Retirement Board official nomination papers signed by 100 or more members of the State-Boston Retirement System and containing the name and department of each signer. No member is entitled to sign more than one nomination paper, and if he signs more than one his signature will be invalid on all of them.

Nominations will be closed on May 20, 1960, at four o'clock P.M., and no nomination papers will be received after that day and hour.

The names of candidates who are duly nominated, will be printed on the ballot, and the members voting will mark an X against the name of their choice, or may write in an additional name and mark an X against it. If more than one name is marked the ballot will be invalidated.

The ballot must be signed by the voter and filled out with his residence and department, and with further information so far as available from members of the following departments:

Fire Department—name and number of company.

Police Department—division.

Park Department—division or location.

Public Works Department—division and district.

Schools—name of school.

The ballots must be received by the Boston Retirement Board, Room 30, City Hall, on or before June 21, 1960, at five

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 12.

General Order No. 16.

I. FIRE ALARM BOX INSTALLED.

The following fire alarm box, which was established in General Order, No. 11, dated March 15, 1960, has been installed and connected in circuit No. 27: 12-2236, Cabot Nursing Home, 85 Vernon street.

Company commanders will add the above box to Circuit Card 27.

II. A. D. T. ASSIGNMENT.

Company commanders shall add the following signal number to running cards of the American District Telegraph Company in this department:

Signal 933, Food Center Wholesale Grocers, Inc., Rear 410 Rutherford avenue. (Sprinkler system.) Apparatus to respond: Engine 27, Ladder 9, District Chief 2. Nearest box is 417.

Signal 934, Albert Duplain, Inc., 305 Freeport street. (Sprinkler system.) Apparatus to respond: Engine 17, Ladder 7, District Chief 7. Nearest box is 3174.

III. 1960 COMBINED JEWISH APPEAL.

His Honor, Mayor John F. Collins, has asked all city employees to contribute to the Combined Jewish Appeal now in progress as this cause is a worthy one and gives assistance to many persons and organizations each year.

Fire Fighter Simon Escott, Engine Squad 18, has been designated as department captain and will accept donations from any members who desire to contribute on Wednesday of each week at Fire Headquarters between the hours of 11.30 A.M. and 12.30 P.M., and he will canvass the various firehouses for collection purposes until Friday, May 20.

IV. HIGH COMMENDATION.

At 6.32 P.M., January 23, 1960, the department responded to Box 1544 (two alarms) for a fire in the dwelling house at 75 Appleton street, Boston.

Upon arrival at the scene, Fire Captain Dante C. Ciampa, 58 Cedrus avenue, West Roxbury, and Fire Fighter Thomas L. Cushing, 373 E street, South Boston, both of Ladder Company 13, groped their way through heavy smoke and heat up the front stairway to the second floor, after being notified that a crippled person was in all probability trapped on this floor. Fire was extending at ceiling level in the second floor stairway to the extent that they had to crouch to stay under the flame. Upon entering a room directly opposite the stairway, on hands and knees, they found a crippled man under a bed semi-conscious. Because of conditions, they had to ease him along the floor to the stairway, pick him up bodily, and then remove him to the street.

After performing this rescue work, Captain Ciampa and Fire Fighter Cushing were informed that there was another man trapped on the second floor in a room at the head of the stairway. At this time both Captain Ciampa and Fire Fighter Cushing were exhausted, due to bodily punishment they had received, but they again ascended to the second floor under much more severe conditions than existed during their first rescue operation. They located the second man and removed him to the street. Both victims required hospital treatment—one for smoke inhalation, and the second man for smoke inhalation and burns. Neither Captain Ciampa nor Fire Fighter Cushing were equipped with gas masks, or protected by charged water lines.

Because of the fact that both members performed the rescue work under extremely hazardous conditions without any thought for their own personal safety, the fire commissioner is pleased to commend them highly and their cases are referred to the Board of Merit for further consideration.

Public Baths . . .

duced the following figures of actual patronage:

Wednesday, men and boys, 7.
Thursday, ladies, 2.
Friday, men and boys, 27.
Saturday, men and boys, 71.
Monday, ladies, 3.
Tuesday, men and boys, 16.

In brief, only 121 males and 5 females made use of these showers in a 6-day period. These 126 people paid a total of $6.48 for the use of the facility during that period. The cost to the City to operate these showers during those six days was substantial.

Records of the Parks and Recreation Department indicate a relatively light use the year round.

In view of the light demand made on this facility, it seems clear that the continuation of this public shower facility is not warranted. The annual cost of personnel alone is over $10,000. To this must be added heat, water, and maintenance.

The building itself is under the control of the Real Property Department.

Use of Halls

This building contains two basic elements: public shower facilities and two halls.

Apart from the question of the closing of the public shower facility in the Brighton Municipal Building, there is a question whether the building itself, in the light of the character of use of the two halls in this building, should be continued in operation.

This building represented an operation and maintenance cost of $28,466 in 1958. Income derived from the use of two halls in this building in that year was $795. In other words, there was a net operating and maintenance cost of $27,671.

The record of use of this building is illuminating. The halls were used a total of 50 times in 1958, and 73 times in 1959, for what were essentially private purposes, usually for weddings, showers, meetings, etc., for which a fee was paid to the City. The typical fee paid was $25 for the use of the larger hall, and $10 for the use of the smaller hall. Such a fee schedule contrasts strikingly with the much larger fees charged for the use of halls elsewhere in this City and in the metropolitan area.

During the same period these halls were used for what may be termed "community purposes" 18 times in 1958 and 30 times in 1959. No fee was received by the City in such cases, since these uses would be deemed to be nonprivate.

In a word, the use of this building has been largely for nonpublic use enjoyed at a nominal fee.

If the building were closed down, which would include the public shower installations, an estimated saving of approximately $38,000 would result. The Finance Commission believes this building should be closed, so far as its present purposes go.

The Finance Commission, in this case, agrees with the recommendations of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau that the Brighton Municipal Building should be closed. Of course this building may hold the possibility of some other community use.

DOVER STREET AND TYLER STREET BATHS

The Dover Street Bathhouse contains 39 shower stalls and the heating plant which provides heat for the building and hot water for the showers, as well as for the laundry, which is housed in a separate adjacent building. This building is operated by the Bath Division.

These public shower facilities are located in a depressed area of the City and serve a definite community need. The 1950 census shows that 35.3 per cent of the dwelling units in the area are without bath facilities. The actual patronage of this installation during a 6-day period (December 7-12, 1959) indicated a substantial use by men even for the winter season, as follows:

Monday, men, 37, women, 2.
Tuesday, men, 36, women, 4.
Wednesday, men, 53, women, 4.
Thursday, men, 53, women, 1.
Friday, men, 87, women, 6.
Saturday, men, 117, women, 2.

Parks and Recreation Department records reveal that the attendance during the summer months more than doubles the winter attendance figures. At the present time, this facility is among the most heavily patronized facilities throughout the City.

Tyler Street Building. A related factor which must enter the determination of public bath facilities needed in this area is the presence of another building at Tyler street located a half mile away. This building, operated by the Real Property Department, houses a set of showers on the first floor for public bathing and another set of showers on the second floor for use by patrons of the gymnasium located on the floor above. The public shower patronage at this facility is much lighter than the Dover Street facility, as indicated in the following table:

Monday, ladies, 3.
Tuesday, men, 33.
Wednesday, men, 49.
Thursday, ladies, 0.
Friday, men, 74.
Saturday, men, 71.

It can be seen that there is virtually no patronage on the two days of the week set aside for women patrons.

The Finance Commission cannot agree with the recommendation of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau that the Dover Street Bath be closed permanently and that the Tyler Street Bath be closed during the summer. Such a plan would leave this wide South End area without bath facilities during the hot weather months, when it is a community essential. The Williams Building is too far distant to be considered as servicing this area.

However, it is not necessary that both the Dover Street installation and the Tyler Street installation be operated simultaneously. Since the Finance Commission does not advocate the closing of the laundry, the ease for shutting down the Dover Street Bath Building, which contains the heating system which operates the laundry in an adjacent building, disappears. The bath building would still have to be maintained and operated even if the bath facility were shut down. It is advisable to divert public shower patronage from the Tyler Street Building to the Dover Street Building, close down the shower facilities on the first floor of Tyler street permanently, and close the shower facilities (gymnasium showers) located on the second floor, except for the less than 6-month period when a community gymnasium program is in operation.

In fact, the building itself should be considered for permanent closing unless it can be demonstrated that a real community recreation program is in operation. Observation of the operating recreation schedule indicates that the gymnasium accommodates employees of several business organizations and a local school but has a minimum of actual community participation. Efforts are being made to develop a community program. The active gymnasium program runs less than 6 months. At best, then, there could be no more than a 6-month need for gymnasium showers and no need for opening the public showers.

Consistent with the recommendation of eliminating towel service at gymnasia (see section: "Modified Policy of Towel Service"), there would be no need for any Bath Division personnel at this building at any time.

TOBIN BUILDING

This building, operated by the Real Property Department, houses two sets of shower baths. One is attached to the gymnasium; the other, located in the front of the building and containing separate facilities for men and women, is for use by the general public. A count of the actual patronage of the latter "front" showers for separate days shows the following:

Monday, men, 7, women, 3.
Tuesday, men, 7, women, 1.
Wednesday, men, 13, women, 2.
Thursday, men, 6, women, 4.
Friday, men, 22, women, 5.
Saturday, men, 22, women, 6.

In view of such limited patronage, and based also on the records and observations of the Bath Division, which indicate a year-round light use, the Finance Commission feels that this public shower facility should be closed permanently.

Moreover, the shower installations attached to the gymnasium could be closed when the gymnasium season is not in operation. This would mean between June 1 and September 15.

The Finance Commission is in agreement with the Boston Municipal Research Bureau that the "front" shower installation should be closed.

CABOT STREET

At this location, there is a swimming pool with showers attached and a gymnasium, with another set of showers. The building is operated by the Bath Division.

The swimming pool is used throughout the year and requires attached shower facilities.

There are shower facilities attached to the gymnasium which also services public showers. These should be closed except during the time of gymnasium use because of the light patronage by the public. In fact, the observed gymnasium patronage is light, indicating little need for bath attendants for the gymnasium showers.

A count of the actual patronage at Cabot street shows the following use made of the showers attached to the gymnasium:

Monday, ladies, 0.
Tuesday, men and boys, 12.
Wednesday, men and boys, 10.
Thursday, ladies, 1.
Friday, men and boys, 33.
Saturday, men and boys, 98.

The Saturday figure is atypical. Several park league games were held on this particular Saturday. Bath Division records indicate that Saturday and Friday use are generally similar. Moreover, department records indicate a light year-round use.

HYDE PARK AND ROSLINDALE MUNICIPAL BUILDINGS

These two buildings are bracketed for discussion here, because they are similarly situated with respect to type of facility and character of neighborhood.

According to the 1950 census figure, the per cent of dwellings without baths in the Hyde Park area was 5.8; the per cent in the Roslindale area was 1.98.

An actual count made at these two facilities in December, 1959, showed that the patronage was only moderate.

HYDE PARK

Monday, ladies, 0.
Tuesday, men and boys, 15.
Wednesday, men and boys, 22.
Thursday, ladies, 1.
Friday, men and boys, 28.
Saturday, men and boys, 43.

ROSLINDALE

Monday, ladies, 8.
Tuesday, men and boys, 26.
Wednesday, men and boys, 26.
Thursday, ladies, 7.
Friday, men and boys, 35.
Saturday, men and boys, 39.

During the actual count made at these facilities it was noted that the majority of Roslindale shower users were patrons of the gymnasium, and were not there primarily for showers.

The Parks and Recreation Department records indicate that the light patronage at Hyde Park does increase slightly during the summer months. But in the case of Roslindale the summer patronage is reduced. Moreover, the slight increase at Hyde Park during the summer does not warrant its being kept open for this period with the gymnasium closed.

In view of all the above considerations, the Finance Commission agrees that the shower facilities at both Hyde Park and Roslindale should be available only during the gymnasium season. Inasmuch as towel service may be eliminated at both Hyde Park and Roslindale, and the building is operated and cleaned by the Real Property Department, there will be no need of bath attendants.

CURTIS HALL

This building, operated by the Real Property Department, contains a swimming pool and attached showers and a gymnasium and attached showers. The observed patronage in December at the gymnasium showers both by gymnasium users and general public is substantial, except on Ladies' Days. This is shown in the following figures:

Monday, ladies, 1.
Tuesday, men and boys, 47.
Wednesday, men and boys, 44.
Thursday, ladies, 3.
Friday, men and boys, 94.
Saturday, men and boys, 127.

Department records show that the public shower patronage is approximately three times this patronage during the summer. Heavy public shower use during the summer warrants keeping these showers open the year round.

Both observed patronage and department data indicate such a light use of showers on Monday at all facilities that the recommendation is here made that all shower facilities, still to be operated the year round, should be closed on all Mondays. Curtis Hall would fall in this category. This would result in a 5-day week, a reduction in the number of Ladies' Days to one day a week, and a reduction in personnel.

COLUMBIA ROAD

This building contains one set of showers attached to the gymnasium. The patronage count at this facility, except on Ladies' Day, shows a heavy use.

During a 6-day period in December, 1959, the actual observed patronage was as follows:

Monday, ladies, 4.
Tuesday, men and boys, 82.
Wednesday, men and boys, 82.
Thursday, ladies, 13.
Friday, men and boys, 71.
Saturday, men and boys, 114.

Moreover, department records during the summer months indicate an even heavier patronage. It was observed during the December count that the largest per cent of shower users were not the gymnasium patrons, but the strictly shower patrons.

In view of the patronage of the showers at this building, the Finance Commission feels that the showers should be maintained the year round, on a 5-day-week basis.

SIX HEAVILY USED SHOWER FACILITIES

There are six other public shower installations which are conceded by all observers, including the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, to be heavily used and warrant operating all year round. These locations are: East Boston, South Boston, Charlestown, Vine street (Roxbury), North End, and Williams Building (South End). However, the only substantial change recommended by the Finance Commission is the application of the 5-day week, by closing on Monday.

SEWING ROOM AND LAUNDRY

The Parks and Recreation Department operates a laundry, located next to the Dover Street Bath Building. The boilers which supply the steam for both the laundry and the Dover Street baths are located in the latter building. This laundry handles the towels used in the several shower installations, swimming pools, and L Street beach, playgrounds, and golf links.

The towels are produced in the sewing room which is located in the Paris Street Municipal Building in East Boston.

The toweling used is manufactured specifically for the City of Boston at a cost of 10.75 cents per yard in 1959. The operation of the sewing room calls for the cutting and hemming of the towels, as well as stenciling.

The personnel of the sewing room includes seven matrons employed 3 days a week (2 days at various shower facilities on Ladies' Days); one storekeeper; two maintenance men; one senior laundryman. The personnel cost is approximately $31,000 per year; the cost of materials, supplies, and machine repairs is approximately $16,400.

The recommendation of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau is that both the Sewing Room and the Laundry be closed.

Sewing Room. The Finance Commission agrees that the sewing room could be closed, inasmuch as the volume of towels deemed necessary could probably be purchased elsewhere at a lower rate than the present cost of production in the sewing room. The present cost of operation of the sewing room plus the cost of the toweling from which the towels are produced approaches $50,000. This works out to a unit cost of over 26 cents per towel. Manufacturers have offered to supply a towel at least as good as the present type of towel used at a price below the present unit cost resulting from the operation of the sewing room.

Moreover, it appears that a similar type towel could be purchased from the Department of Correction Industries at a substantially lower price than produced by the operation of the sewing room.

Laundry. The Finance Commission does not agree with the recommendation of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau that the laundry be closed immediately and sold. The position of the Commission in this respect is based on the following considerations:

1. A basic policy decision must first be made in this matter, namely, whether all patrons of public showers and bathing beaches should be required to supply their own towels. The recommendation of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau for closing is based on a premise of enforcement of such a policy (excepting one installation). Theoretically, this policy sounds plausible, but as a practical matter, the Finance Commission feels that the general application of such a policy would defeat the very purpose of the public shower installation in some cases if the policy were universally applied.

However, in some areas, such a policy might very well be inaugurated. Indeed it is recommended for a tryout in some locations, as described in a subsequent section of this report.

2. The principal cost of operating the laundry (93 per cent) is the personnel item. Hence, this is the element which should be reduced as far as possible. With the adoption of various recommendations made by the Finance Commission in this report, it will be possible to reduce such personnel and thereby operate the laundry at minimal cost. The closing of certain facilities, the curtailment of operations in other shower facilities, and the discontinuance of towel service in certain areas (with consequent reduction in volume of towels to be laundered), all these recommendations contained in this report will have the twofold effect of eliminating temporary personnel at the laundry and reducing the number of permanent positions there.

Analysis of the work load at the laundry in relation to the laundering cycle of washing and drying indicates an overstaffing.

A full wash cycle, requiring 55 minutes and handling 3,000 towels, could handle the probable daily maximum of 6,000 towels in 2 hours. The drying cycle requiring 12 minutes for 3,000 towels could handle 6,000 towels in an additional half-hour. Additional time would be required for bathing suits and turkish towels. Total time works out to be for less than a normal daily work period.

Two other factors to be considered are the extreme heat which makes for intolerable working conditions on some summer days, and the age of some of the workers.

All things considered, however, it appears that the laundry could be operated efficiently with a substantially smaller permanent staff.

A suggested staffing is listed in a later section: "Resultant Savings and Summary of Recommendations."

3. If any volume of towels is to be bought by the City, the question of whether the department's laundry should be operated or whether the City should depend on a private contractor arises. There is reason to approach this step with caution, in the light of recent experience, if the City is to receive the benefit of a genuinely competitive price.

In the case of recent bidding for towel service for one City of Boston department and one County department, two developments arose which throw doubt on whether real competition is always present in bidding for laundering contracts:

1. Only 2 bids were received in each case.

2. In the case of one contract, the two bidders had the same address and the same president.

In brief, certain matters of policy must be resolved, and a certain amount of experimentation done before a decision to dispose of the laundry is made. As the public baths system and towel service contracts further, the need for the laundry may ultimately disappear.

EXPANDING LAUNDRY SERVICE

At first glance, an obvious recommendation would call for consolidating all possible laundry work in this departmental laundry (Parks and Recreation Department).

At present a towel service is provided by contract for Suffolk County Court House, Health, Fire, Police, and various departments at City Hall. However, the cost of a pickup and delivery service which would be involved if all laundering were done by the laundry of the Parks and Recreation Department plus the cost of providing a better grade towel than currently in use, in that department, would reduce the savings derived from consolidation of laundering. However, the possibility of consolidation of this laundry service should be further explored before the question is dropped.

SOME RECOMMENDED CHANGES IN POLICY

Ladies' Days

Present operating schedules at all shower facilities where there are no separate showers for men and women presently call for the designation of Monday and Thursday as Ladies' Days. The locations so affected are: Brighton, Cabot street, Columbia road, Curtis Hall, Hyde Park, Charlestown, East Boston, Roslindale, and Tyler street. At those installations two or three matrons are assigned (from the laundry and sewing room) on Mondays and Thursdays.

Observation of actual patronage during December, 1959, shows the following extremely light patronage of the public showers on these Ladies' Days:

Brighton	Mon. 3	Thurs. 2
Cabot St.	Mon. 0	Thurs. 1
Columbia Rd.	Mon. 4	Thurs. 13
Curtis Hall	Mon. 1	Thurs. 3
Hyde Park	Mon. 0	Thurs. 1
Roslindale	Mon. 8	Thurs. 7
Tyler St.	Mon. 3	Thurs. 0

In the cases of Charlestown and East Boston, the Parks and Recreation Department's records indicate little use of facilities on Monday and Thursday (Ladies' Days).

It is obvious that designating two days a week for this service is not warranted at these installations, with the personnel assignments involved.

A feasible plan would appear to be to designate one day, namely, Thursday, as Ladies' Day at the above-named facilities. This would be in complete harmony with the following proposal to close all facilities on Monday, and provide a 5-day work week as discussed below. Department officials acknowledge a negligible patronage on Ladies' Days.

CHANGING THE PRESENT OPERATING SCHEDULE

Observation of patronage at the several public shower facilities indicates that a change in the typical weekly schedule of operation at all facilities could be made, with consequent savings, in addition to those savings already discussed.

Monday is a poor patronage day at all facilities. This patronage of light use holds even for the six facilities previously mentioned which are conceded to enjoy heavy patronage (i.e., South Boston, North End, Charlestown, East Boston, Vine Street, and Williams Building). By closing all public shower facilities on Monday (1) a 5-day work week program could be set up which would obviate the necessity for the present staggering of personnel assignment, (2) there would be substantial savings in manpower.

MODIFIED POLICY OF TOWEL SERVICE

Complete and comprehensive towel service is not to be regarded as a permanent and immutable policy. The Finance Commission does not, however, agree with the Boston Municipal Research Bureau that all towel service should be scrapped immediately (excepting at one installation), but that a gradual and experimental approach be followed.

The Finance Commission bases its viewpoint on the following observed phenomena:

1. Patrons of gymnasia are more disposed to provide their own towels than those who come "off the street" to use the public shower. Accordingly towel service could be eliminated with little hardship at gymnasia.

2. In certain areas, failure to provide a towel service might well defeat the very purpose of showers where they are most needed and most heavily used.

3. A basic tenet of the department is never to deprive a person of the opportunity to take a shower, for want of the price of towel and soap.

This is not to say that towel service should be continued at its present level. In fact, a policy of curtailment of towel service could be instituted immediately.

In fact, the Parks and Recreation Department is already considering discontinuing towel service at several installations.

At some installations, by noting the heavy patronage of the facility or its neighborhood necessity, a towel service is necessary. Such locations are: Dover street, South End; Columbia road, Dorchester; Williams Building, South End; Vine street, Roxbury; Broadway, South Boston; Cabot street, Roxbury; Curtis Hall, Jamaica Plain; Lexington street, Charlestown; North Bennet street, North End; and Paris street, East Boston.

However, even some of the above-named shower facilities should be considered for discontinuance in the near future, as experience with the new policy becomes available.

RESULTANT SAVINGS

The adoption of the recommendations contained in this report should result, eventually, in savings of approximately $230,000.

The following table presents the recommendations affecting each location, the positions eliminated and the dollar value of such reductions.

Real Property Department payroll.....	28,000
Eventual savings.....	$189,000
Grand total.....	$229,000

CONCLUSION

The Finance Commission concludes that the City should embark on a program of contracting its public showers system and related facilities, moving further toward the elimination of installations as conditions warrant.

Recent conferences with officials of the Parks and Recreation Commission indicate that they are in sympathy with the basic philosophy of contraction of the system.

It would be misleading to leave the impression that all the savings indicated in this report, or in the report of the Boston Municipal Research Bureau, could be realized immediately. Savings represented by the elimination of temporary employees will be immediate and real. But this does not hold true for displaced permanent personnel.

The elimination of the many permanent positions indicated in this report means that many employees (bath attendant-laborers, bath custodians, matrons, store-keeper, part maintainancemen and laundrymen, et al.) become available for re-assignment. Savings resulting from these eliminations will be real only to the extent that reassignments are made to actual vacancies in essential posts in the municipality or by retirement or other separation from service. Many of those involved are close to retirement.

Respectfully submitted,

ANTHONY J. YOUNG, Chairman,
ROGER J. ABIZAD, M.D.,
MAXWELL B. GROSSMAN,
JOSEPH GRAGLIA,

The Finance Commission.

THOMAS J. MURPHY,
Executive Secretary.

PLAN CIVIL DEFENSE TEST MAY 3, 4, AND 5

Boston will participate in a three-day Civil Defense Test on May 3, 4, and 5 with all radio and television stations scheduled to go off the air for a thirty-minute period on the first day of the exercise, John G. Pickett, City Civil Defense Director, has announced.

The curtain of silence will fall at 2 P.M. on May 3, with the only broadcasting to be over Conelrad (640 and 1240 on the dial). Air raid sirens will sound at 2.15 P.M.

This year's mock attack, said Mr. Pickett, will be concerned with nuclear weapons dropped from planes. It is assumed, however, that some missiles will be fired from submarines.

A staff meeting in conjunction with the national exercise will be held on April 25, at 2 P.M., at Boston Fire Headquarters, 115 Southampton street. All city department heads plus representatives of various business concerns and the armed services will be present.

Harold Rossi, Planning Officer of the Massachusetts Civil Defense Agency, and Victor McDavitt, Defense Activities Co-ordinator for the New England Telephone & Telegraph Company, will address the gathering.

Representatives of the following firms and organizations will be among those attending the briefing session:

Boston Real Estate Board; Chandler & Co.; Checker Taxi; First National Bank; Gilchrist Company; John Hancock Insurance Company; Gillette Safety Razor Company; New England Telephone & Telegraph Company; R. H. Stearns Company; Raymond's, Inc.; New England Mutual Insurance Company; Retail Trade Board; Western Union; Boston Gas Company and Boston Edison Company.

NOMINATIONS OPEN FOR MEMBERSHIP ON THE RETIREMENT BOARD

Paul L. Carty, executive officer of the Boston Retirement Board, on April 15, issued the following:

NOTICE OF ELECTION.

Under the provisions of subdivision 4 of section 20 of chapter 32 of the General Laws, the following regulations are hereby determined for the election of a member of the Boston Retirement Board:

Employees who are members of the State-Boston Retirement System on June 21, 1960, may select, by their votes, one of their members to be a member of the Boston Retirement Board for the term of three years beginning October 1, 1960, and ending September 30, 1963.

Ballots will be furnished the members containing the names of candidates who are duly nominated.

Nomination papers may be obtained at the office of the Boston Retirement Board, Room 30, City Hall, on or after May 2, 1960.

Any member of the State-Boston Retirement System may become a candidate by filing with the Boston Retirement Board official nomination papers signed by 100 or more members of the State-Boston Retirement System and containing the name and department of each signer. No member is entitled to sign more than one nomination paper, and if he signs more than one his signature will be invalid on all of them.

Nominations will be closed on May 20, 1960, at four o'clock P.M., and no nomination papers will be received after that day and hour.

The names of candidates who are duly nominated, will be printed on the ballot, and the members voting will mark an X against the name of their choice, or may write in an additional name and mark an X against it. If more than one name is marked the ballot will be invalidated.

The ballot must be signed by the voter and filled out with his residence and department, and with further information so far as available from members of the following departments:

Fire Department—name and number of company.

Police Department—division.

Park Department—division or location.

Public Works Department—division and district.

Schools—name of school.

The ballots must be received by the Boston Retirement Board, Room 30, City Hall, on or before June 21, 1960, at five o'clock P.M. No ballot mailed or post-marked later than June 20, 1960, will be counted.

The candidate receiving the highest number of votes will be elected.

SCHOOL LAND TAKING

Roxbury

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the following:

Whereas, The Public Improvement Commission has passed the aforesaid Order of Notice and has caused a copy of said order to be published March 19 and March 22, 1960, in the Boston American and the Boston Herald, and March 26, 1960, in the City Record, and has given the public hearing, notice of which was given in said order; and

Whereas, The Department of School Buildings of the City of Boston, with the approval of the Mayor, has selected, designated, and requested the Public Improvement Commission of said city to take for said city for Department of School Buildings the land hereinafter described, in that part of Boston called the Roxbury district; it is

Voted, That the Public Improvement Commission of said City of Boston, acting under the provisions of chapter 486 of the Acts of the Legislature of 1909 and chapter 79 of the General Laws and all other authority thereto enabling, hereby takes in fee for said city, for school purposes, the following-described Trees, shrubs, or structures standing upon or affixed to the foregoing parcels shall be removed within thirty (30) days from the date of recording of this order.

Said parcels are shown on a plan marked "City of Boston, Wyman Street-Bolster Street-Mozart Street, Roxbury, April 11, 1960, John J. McCall, Division Engineer, Survey Division, Public Works Department," and on file in the office of said department.

RAMBLER RD. EXTENSION

West Roxbury

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the laying out and construction of an extension of Rambler road, West Roxbury district, from a point approximately 480 feet west of Centre street approximately 110 feet westerly.

The project is described as follows:

The highway named Rambler road is hereby laid out, and extended from a point approximately 480 feet west of Centre street approximately 110 feet westerly, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for highway purposes is hereby taken in the following-described lands, exclusive of trees, shrubs, or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to F. Pauline Bohn, bounded:

Northerly by the southerly line of Rambler road as it existed prior to this order, thirty-four and 78-100 feet; southerly by the southerly line of Rambler road as laid out under this order, thirty-five and 09-100 feet, and westerly by land hereinafter described as taken from Alfred G. and Elsie J. Burkhardt, four and 65-100 feet, containing eighty-one square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Alfred G. and Elsie J. Burkhardt, bounded:

Easterly by land hereinbefore described as taken from F. Pauline Bohn, four and 65-100 feet; northerly by the southerly line of Rambler road as it existed prior to this order, by two measurements, fourteen and 97-100 feet and twenty-nine and 22-100 feet, and southerly by the southerly line of Rambler road as laid out under this order, forty-two and 68-100 feet, containing one hundred seventy-six square feet, more or less.

Trees, shrubs, or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforesaid land shall be removed therefrom within thirty (30) days following the city's recording of this order.

Said Rambler road as hereby laid out and extended is bounded:

Easterly by another portion of Rambler road, forty and 00-100 feet; southerly by the southerly line of Rambler road as hereby laid out, by two measurements, twenty-five and 22-100 feet, and eighty-one and 95-100 feet; westerly by the westerly line of Rambler road as hereby laid out, forty and 00-100 feet, and northerly by the northerly line of Rambler road as hereby laid out, by two measurements, eighty-four and 61-100 feet and twenty-seven and 88-100 feet.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this commission estimates that the abutting parcels of land situated on both sides of said Rambler road will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city from the improvement herein ordered; each of said parcels in the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said parcels and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan hereinbefore referred to and on file in the office of said department.

Parcel.	Amount.
1. Joseph P. and Lillian P. Kennedy; Emily Thies.....	$288 50
2. Katherine M. Gormley.....	123 64
3. John F. and Louise A. Gately....	440 24
4. Alfred G. and Elsie J. Burkhardt,	427 12
5. F. Pauline Bohn.....	486 49
Total	$1,715 99

DRAINAGE PROJECT APPROVED

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the installation of one catch basin and connection in Readville street, at Cross street, Hyde Park, at a cost of $500.

State Aid to Recreation

A $75 million bond issue for the acquisition of park and recreational sites has been proposed by New York Governor Rockefeller. The plan would provide for state grants of 75 per cent to local governments for acquisition of park lands.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR SEALING EXTERIOR MASONRY WALLS, TO MINIMIZE THEIR ABSORPTION AND INCREASE THEIR REPELLENCY OF WATER, AT THE BOSTON CLERICAL SCHOOL, WARREN AND MONTROSE STREETS, ROXBURY, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for sealing exterior masonry walls, to minimize their absorption and increase their repelleNCY of water, at the Boston Clerical School, Warren and Montrose streets, Roxbury, Mass.

General bids will be received up until 12 o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Wednesday, May 4, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, fourth floor, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, inclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $200. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs, and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, sections 26-27D, inclusive, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any or all general bids, if it be in the public interest so to do, in accordance with section 44D of chapter 149 of the General Laws, as amended.

BOSTON AT CROSSROADS OF STATE AID OR STATE CONTROL MAYOR ASKS SUBURBS TO COOPERATE ON HOME RULE BASIS

Worcester, April 26.—Unless new sources of revenue are found, a State Commission will have to take over Boston's financial affairs, Mayor John F. Collins stated here.

"To prevent this loss of sovereignty, maximum performance for every dollar is needed," Mayor Collins told the Young Democratic Club of Holy Cross College in Haberman Hall Auditorium on the campus.

"Every other major city on the East Coast has 20 to 30 sources of revenue, whereas Boston has only one—the property tax—" the Mayor said.

Relief Needed

"In order to hold the tax rate at $101.20, relief must come from the Legislature such as passage of a limited sales tax," Mayor Collins warned.

"We have held the line so far," he said, "and I do not foresee any appreciable increase in the tax rate this year, despite 9.7 million dollars of built-in increases which the city had no control over. But the Legislature must find new sources of revenue within the next year if Boston is to retain its sovereignty."

"To keep expenditures down," the Mayor said, "every city department has to be treated on an equal basis and appropriate budget cuts made in every department." Every request for expenditures "has to be examined carefully and deferred, whenever possible, to provide the people of Boston with a breathing spell."

Fiscal Stability

"This I have tried to do and dare say that the first 106 days of our administration this year has done as much to restore fiscal stability to Boston as any comparable period in our history," Mayor Collins declared.

He made reference to his three-million dollar cut in the School Committee budget, which he said would be implemented without effect on educational efficiency.

Other economies will come about, he said, through consolidation of adult education programs. "It is not necessary that there be an adult education center for each and every area of the city, although only one block distant," he said. "The centers can be consolidated for greater economy."

Consolidation and budgetary control of police departments, urban renewal programs, and construction of modern apartment facilities to entice those who have moved to the suburbs back to the city, were also cited by Mayor Collins as potential contributors to the "rebirth" of Boston.

Pledged to Home Rule

Metropolitan Boston planning and action on a regional basis, but with each of 46 cities and towns preserving its home rule, can be worked out to provide unlimited opportunities for the whole area, Mayor Collins stated, on April 25, at a session of Chamber of Commerce heads.

"I mean cooperate; I do not mean 'take over'," he asserted with respect to long suspicions that metropolitan planning meant Boston's encroachment on the suburbs.

"I understand and respect the deep-rooted traditions of local independence in our commonwealth and our area," he told the Area Advisory Council of Chambers of Commerce, comprising representatives from the metropolitan communities, at a Brookline hotel.

Cooperation Necessary

"I believe that each of us can make a constructive contribution towards the solution of common issues and problems; and that this can be done without the instrument of imposing metropolitan government or federated government."

"We need a constructive, cooperative approach drawn on both the talents and imaginative capacities of those who are suburb-oriented, as well as those who are core-city-oriented. The persistent failure of efforts to impose or force core-city thinking or attitudes on the suburbs is all too well known."

"These efforts have done little but arouse distrust as to the intentions of those in the core city, awaken fears that the core city was interested in taking over the suburbs for political control."

"I respect the place of the suburb and city and town in the complex of metropolitan life and I respect the role of truly local government in terms of giving the citizen of our democracy the important sense of participation in his own affairs."

PROGRESS REPORT ON CASTLE SQUARE DEVELOPMENT PLANS

The Boston Redevelopment Authority, on April 21, issued the following press statement:

¶ The Boston Redevelopment Authority today made public a proposed plan for a business and industrial development in the Castle Square section of Boston.

¶ The contemplated development would adjoin the New York Streets area which has now been almost completely developed.

¶ Mayor Collins, during a conference with Washington officials earlier this year, obtained a commitment that federal funds would be allocated for the development.

¶ The Cerel-Druker Redevelopment Corporation, which developed the New York Streets area, has been designated as the developer for the proposed Castle Square project.

¶ The Castle Square project would cover an area of approximately 25 acres. It is bounded by Washington, Dover, Tremont, and Castle streets.

¶ Total demolition of the properties within those boundaries is planned except for the Holy Trinity Church and Gilman Brothers, a wholesale drug firm on Shawmut avenue.

¶ A proposed plan for the development of the area, submitted to the Redevelopment Authority by the Cerel-Druker Corporation, envisages the creation of a so-called Apparel City which would include four buildings.

¶ Also tentatively planned for the area by the Cerel-Druker Corporation are a merchandise mart, an exhibition hall, an office building, two industrial buildings for light manufacture, two buildings for printing trades, a restaurant, and a garage.

¶ Members of the Redevelopment Authority and their professional staff have been working on details in connection with the Castle Square development since late in 1959.

¶ The Authority members expect to have plans completed and ready for submission to the federal government by June 30.

¶ The project would cost about $5 million of which three fourths would be paid by the federal government.

¶ Members of the Redevelopment Authority declared that the proposed Castle Square development would give a new face and a new look to a 25-acre section of the South End, would bring about the construction of many millions of dollars of new taxable property and would result in the creation of new jobs, increasing the prosperity of Boston and its citizens.

¶ Members of the Redevelopment Authority, who announced the plan for the Castle Square development, are Joseph W. Lund, Chairman; the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Francis J. Lally, editor of The Pilot, Vice-Chairman; James G. Colbert, Treasurer; Melvin J. Massucco and Stephen E. McCloskey.

¶ They said they expect federal approval of the project by late summer. As soon as that approval is received the development plan will be submitted to Mayor Collins, the City Council, and the State Housing Board.

¶ When this project was originally started under former Mayor Hynes, it was planned to finance it with city funds.

¶ Since then, Mayor Collins has received assurance from the authorities in Washington that federal funds will be provided for the development.

¶ The necessary documents, which must be signed by Mayor Collins formally requesting the reservation of federal funds for the Castle Square development, have been transmitted to him by the Redevelopment Authority for processing and submission to the Housing and Home Finance Agency of the Federal Government.

Surgical Instrument Firm to Erect Large Warehouse in Brighton

A. S. Aloe Company, the world's second largest manufacturers and distributors of surgical instruments and hospital supplies, on April 27, purchased a parcel of land as a site for a northeastern distribution center in the 21-acre Charles River-Brighton Park. Mayor John F. Collins, witnessing the transaction, joined in the announcement, calling it "dramatic evidence of Boston's economic resurgence."

Purchase of 47,000 square feet to accommodate future growth of the company in the northeast was announced by John T. Fallon and Fred F. Stockwell, vice-presidents, Industrial Division of R. M. Bradley & Co., Inc., developers of the park, and by Thomas J. Noonan, Aloe's divisional manager.

The purchase price according to Registry of Deeds figures was $82,225.

Mr. Fallon announced that the sale marks the third in less than two weeks involving Charles River-Brighton Park sites. Earlier, Sammy White bought land for a 48-lane bowladrome and General Electric X-Ray Department signed an option for a site for a distribution and office building. These will be located on each side of the Aloe building.

The Aloe building, which will comprise 30,000 square feet for warehouse, display, and office space, will face Soldiers Field road at a new subdivisional road, Soldiers Field place. Ample land was purchased to anticipate building expansion, said Mr. Noonan.

The A. S. Aloe Company, headquarters in St. Louis, is a division of Brunswick-Balke-Collender by which it was acquired in June, 1959. Four months later the Aloe Company acquired the T. J. Noonan Company of Boston (founded in 1939 and headed by Mr. Noonan). As northeastern divisional manager of Aloe, Mr. Noonan covers all of New England and all of New York State, except New York City. The new site in Brighton, it is understood, will make it possible to include New York City. The 101-year-old Aloe Company is represented in 22 United States cities.

Mayor Collins' Statement

"May I congratulate and welcome the Aloe Company through its representative, Thomas J. Noonan, on selecting the Charles River-Brighton Center as its new home. Strong economic renewal is apparent when companies such as yours and your prospective neighbor, General Electric's X-Ray Department, and a major enterprise such as Sammy White's new bowladrome, make careful, thorough surveys of all areas and decide upon a 'within-the-city' location. Here you have the advantages of the suburban area, along with the convenience of being close to the center of the Commonwealth's capital city.

"You may look back only five years at the site of this new construction to see it then was an area on the edge of blight. Few realized the potential of its linking up with main highways, its adjacency to the Charles River, its nearness to the heart of manufacturing, education, research, finance, business, hotels. Congratulations to R. M. Bradley & Co., Inc., for the farsightedness, planning, and hard work which is bringing about this almost magic transformation. Only New York City, with its UN buildings standing on the site of the onetime slaughterhouses, gives us a measure of what is being accomplished here in Brighton's onetime abattoir. This is dramatic evidence of Boston's economic resurgence.

"This news means Boston can compete with and complement Route 128. I believe it shows flight to the suburbs has been checked within our city's gates."

Mr. Noonan's Statement

"This purchase represents a step for expansion. We chose Boston because this location means better service for our customers (if Massachusetts General Hospital, for instance, wants to see a special instrument, we can have it there in a few minutes). This area is like an extension of the Southeast Expressway. No traffic delays all the way to Soldiers Field road. I believe there's a movement back to the city and that the core city, long in need of new construction, is just about ready to get it.

"By coincidence, Sammy White's bowladrome, next door, will be using Brunswick alleys, a product of the company of which we are a subsidiary. This certainly is a reaffirmation of Brunswick's faith in Boston."

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 25.

General Order No. 701.

Detectives Charles W. Miller, Jr., John T. Carter, Alan J. Crisp, and Thomas J. McGuire of the Robbery Squad are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

Since January 6, 1960, the taxicab operators of this city and surrounding cities and towns have been the victims of assault and robbery by a male person who seemed to defy the police in Brookline, Cambridge, Somerville, and Boston. These crimes were committed in the dead of the night and the above-mentioned detectives spent many extra hours of duty on their own time in an attempt to locate and arrest this dangerous felon.

At about 1.30 A.M., April 1, 1960, Maurice Levy, 46, married, of 49 Nichols street, Chelsea, employed by the Checker Taxi Company as an operator, was engaged by a man at Washington and Avery streets who directed Levy to drive to Brighton by way of Storrow Drive. Levy did as directed and upon arriving at Myrick street, Brighton, he was assaulted and robbed by the fare and the Checker taxicab stolen from him.

At about 1.50 A.M., same date, a radio alarm was received as the result of Levy calling the Central Complaint Bureau stating that the holdup man was operating the cab stolen from him, Mass. Reg. A-2745.

Detectives Miller, Crisp, Carter, and McGuire having worked out a plan of attack based on the pattern used by the holdup man on previous occasions, went immediately to the vicinity of Cottage Farm Bridge and Commonwealth avenue. The suspect was netted in the trap. The Checker taxicab was spotted on the Boston University Bridge, formerly known as Cottage Farm Bridge, by Detectives Miller and Carter who followed the cab into Mountfort and St. Mary's streets at which point Detectives Crisp and McGuire blocked it from entering Mountfort street in Boston. The operator, Alfred Rowland, 30 years, married, of 9 Gardner road, Cambridge, a licensed taxicab driver in the city of Cambridge, jumped out of the stolen cab and refused to stop when so ordered by the detectives. He was chased on foot for about 150 yards when Detectives Miller and Carter discharged their service revolvers at the fleeing Rowland, and he was shot in the right thigh. It cannot be determined which gun dropped Rowland.

Rowland was conveyed to the City Hospital in the ambulance of Division 14 where, upon examination by Dr. Seymour Zimble, he was found to be suffering from a perforated wound of the right thigh, was treated and held.

Rowland was searched by Detective Miller at the time of arrest and a wallet taken from Maurice Levy in the holdup which occurred earlier that morning was found in his possession, together with a driver's license the property of one James Ray, 182 West Brookline street, Boston, taken in a robbery of this taxicab driver in Cambridge, on March 21, 1960. Also found in his possession was a bank passbook and the driver's license of one William H. Little which was taken from him in a taxicab robbery in Brookline on March 29, 1960.

In addition to the three robberies already mentioned, the following cab drivers have identified a photograph of the said Rowland as the man who robbed them:

- 2. 7.60, ITOA cab, Joseph Desfonds, robbed in Cambridge.
- 2.21.60, ITOA cab, Leon M. Leskaris, robbed in Cambridge.
- 2.28.60, Checker, Harold McCarthy, robbed in Cambridge.
- 3. 1.60, McCann cab, Frank Bragna, robbed in Somerville.
- 3. 3.60, Century cab, Edwin Bragnern, robbed in Cambridge.
- 3.14.60, ITOA cab, Frederick McKenzie, robbed in Cambridge.
- 3.23.60, McCann cab, George Leong, robbed in Somerville.
- 3.27.60, Town cab, Malcolm Gillis, robbed in Cambridge.

Three additional cab drivers, not contacted, will be available when Rowland is discharged from the Boston City Hospital during the week of April 18, 1960.

On April 20, 1960, Rowland was arraigned before Judge Charles Artesani in Brighton District Court and waived reading of complaint through his attorney, Arthur Bobrick. Upon a statement of facts, Judge Artesani ordered Rowland held in $10,000 bail for the grand jury. Cambridge, Brookline, and Somerville Police Departments hold warrants for the said Alfred Rowland for robberies committed in their respective communities.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the painstaking and intelligent manner, without regard to extra hours of duty, in which these four detectives brought about the arrest of this felon who was wanted by police of nearby communities, thereby reflecting not only upon themselves but upon the Boston Police Department as a whole.

In recognition of the exceptional and outstanding police duty performed in this case, it is hereby ordered that Detectives Alan J. Crisp, Charles W. Miller, Jr., and John T. Carter be promoted to the grade of first-grade detective, effective Wednesday, April 27, 1960, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.

April 25.

General Order No. 702.

The following-named officers having requested retirement under the provisions of the Statutes of 1892, chapter 353, as amended, for the reason that they are incapacitated, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that they be retired from active service in the Police Department, effective Wednesday, April 27, 1960, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Patrolman Patrick J. Garrity, Division 13, 40 years of service.

Patrolman James P. Lydon, Division 3, 40 years of service.

April 26.

General Order No. 703.

Sergeant-Detective William A. Bradley and Patrolmen Robert R. Costello and Robert E. Hayden, detailed to Division 4, and Sergeant Jerome P. McCallum, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

At about 7.20 P.M. on February 20, 1960, Joseph J. Morrow, 62 years, single, of 75 Evans street, Dorchester, was found in an injured condition lying on the pavement in the rear of No. 35 Dover street, Public Alley No. 705, by Sergeant Burke of Division 4. Morrow was removed to Boston City Hospital by ambulance and there found to be suffering from abrasions and contusions of the cheeks, face and scalp, and his name was placed on the Danger List at 9.50 P.M., that date.

Sergeant Burke arrested without a warrant, for drunkenness, one Maurice Berry, 60 years, single, 123 West Concord street, city, who had been in the company of Joseph J. Morrow. Berry reported to the sergeant that he and his friend Morrow had been walking through Public Alley No. 705 from Shawmut avenue toward Tremont street and when in the rear of No. 35 Dover street they were suddenly assaulted, for no apparent reason, by six unknown youths who knocked them to the pavement and then fled through the alley toward Tremont street.

At about 7.40 P.M., February 20, 1960, the night duty supervisor at Division 4 notified Central Complaint Bureau of the above facts and teletype item was issued that six unknown youths, sixteen to seventeen years of age, were wanted on that division in connection with this assault and, in view of the victim having been placed on the Danger List, the Homicide Unit of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation was alerted. Several attempts were made to question Morrow, but due to his unconscious condition this was not possible, and he was pronounced dead at 1 A.M., February 21, 1960. As the result of this, a second teletype item was issued stating that the above six boys were now wanted for homicide in the case of Joseph J. Morrow, whose brother positively identified the body at Southern Mortuary. Following an autopsy, it was declared that the victim died from fractures of the skull, lacerations of the brain, subdural hematoma, and blows to the head.

An immediate search was made of the location where Morrow was alleged to have received his injuries and the area was photographed by members of the Bureau of Records. A section of a red brick building was delivered to the office of the department chemist for analysis.

Sergeant-Detective Bradley, Juvenile Officers Costello and Hayden and Sergeant McCallum continued their investigation into the manner in which the deceased had received the injuries stated by the Medical Examiner as being the cause of Morrow's death. They conducted a house-to-house canvass of the streets in the immediate area of Dwight and Dover streets, Shawmut avenue, and Tremont street in an effort to locate any possible witnesses to the alleged assault, or to learn if any group or gathering of young men had taken place in the area during the evening of February 20. On interviewing the occupants of the apartments at 19 Dwight street, the officers received information that on the said evening seven young men or youths had visited that address prior to 7 P.M. Further investigation disclosed that the seven youths in question were all residents of Hayden Goodwill Inn of the Morgan Memorial Foundation, 27 Wheeler street, Boston. The seven youths were brought to Station 4 for questioning. Each stated that he had visited 19 Dwight street on February 20 and each emphatically denied being in the vicinity where Joseph J. Morrow allegedly received his fatal injuries. Each accounted for his time after leaving 19 Dwight street and produced witnesses to show that they each had attended a motion picture theater. They were questioned separately and in a group and in such manner as to allow Maurice Berry, the companion of the deceased, to observe them during questioning without being seen by them. Berry stated that they were not the youths who had assaulted him and the deceased while in the alleyway. A line-up was then formed, with the seven youths brought face to face with Berry, individually, and he again failed to make an identification.

In continuing investigation the officers again interviewed Berry late in the afternoon of February 22, 1960. At that time Berry stated that his first story about being assaulted by six boys was not true and that he, Berry, had struck Morrow with his fist during an argument, that Morrow had fallen to the street, struck his head on a rock, and was knocked unconscious. He further stated that he attempted to pick up his friend several times, was unable to do so, and had then run to the police station for help, making up the story of the six boys in order not to be blamed for his friend's injury. On Tuesday, February 23, 1960, complaint was applied for in Central Municipal Court charging Maurice Berry with the murder of Joseph J. Morrow. Judge Francis X. Morrissey denied the issuance of a complaint for murder, but issued a complaint charging Berry with the manslaughter of Joseph J. Morrow. The case was continued until March 2, 1960, and bail was set at $10,000. On that date Berry appeared before Judge Sham-on who found probable cause and ordered Berry held for the grand jury.

While Berry was being held in Charles Street Jail awaiting grand jury action, Sergeant-Detective Bradley, Patrolmen Costello and Hayden and Sergeant McCallum continued to interview the seven boys from the Goodwill Inn, the members of the inn's staff, and other residents in the area where the assault took place. The officers, not completely satisfied with the confession made by Maurice Berry, believed that such investigation should continue and that they should explore the possibilities that his first story might merit belief.

From information received during the interviews at Goodwill Inn, in the presence of the staff, it was learned that six of the boys previously taken to Station 4 for questioning were in fear of the seventh boy, namely, one David Hall, 15 years, 6 feet 3 inches, 170 pounds, a parolee from Lyman School, via the Woburn Court. Hall was scheduled for an emergency operation at Children's Hospital on March 9, 1960, and on that date the officers returned to Goodwill Inn and extensively questioned the remaining six youths. Each stated that he had been afraid of Hall while he was a member of the inn but that now that he was in the hospital for an operation, they would tell the officers of the incidents which took place on the night of February 20, 1960. They stated that after leaving Dwight street that evening they walked along Shawmut avenue to Public Alley No. 705. David Hall saw two men walking through the alley and referred to them as "winos," making the suggestion that they all have some fun with these men as he had done on other occasions prior to this incident. The boys said they ran down into the alley in back of the men and one of the boys knocked the hat from the head of one who was observed to bend down to pick up the hat. Some of the boys stated they then observed Hall pick up a red brick and while running at full speed at the man who was standing upright, hurl the brick at the man with all his might from a distance of about 10 feet. The brick was seen by some of the boys to strike the man on the back of his head with such force as to knock him face down on the concrete pavement. The boys stated they then fled from the scene, some of them going to the National Theater on Tremont street and others going to theaters in the downtown area. They further stated that upon their arrival back at Goodwill Inn they were confronted by Hall who threatened them with bodily injury if they divulged any information to the police.

The six youths in question were taken immediately before the Boston Juvenile Court, sworn in as witnesses and their statements heard by Judge Connolly. An application charging Hall with the murder of Joseph J. Morrow was denied by the judge, and an application charging him with being a delinquent child by reason of the manslaughter of Joseph J. Morrow was granted and warrant of arrest issued upon his discharge from Children's Hospital on March 10, 1960. David Hall was arrested on that warrant by Juvenile Officers Costello and Hayden and he was immediately taken before the Juvenile Court. Judge Connolly ordered Hall held without bail for mental examinations at Boston State Hospital and continued the case until April 13. Tests at that institution showed that Hall was not insane and his case was advanced to March 30, 1960, for trial. On March 31, he was tried in Boston Juvenile Court before Judge Connolly as a delinquent child by reason of manslaughter and the case was continued to April 5 for final disposition. On that date, David Hall was found delinquent and ordered committed to the Youth Service Board until he is twenty-one years of age, with the recommendation that he be confined at the Youth Detention Center at Bridgewater.

On March 10, 1960, Sergeant-Detective Bradley, Juvenile Officers Costello and Hayden and Sergeant McCallum appeared before the grand jury in the case against Maurice Berry and request was made by the officers to continue the hearing until April 5, 1960. Request was granted and on April 5 another appearance was made before the grand jury by the officers, as a result of which a "No Bill" was returned in favor of Maurice Berry and he was ordered released from custody.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty and tireless efforts of Sergeant-Detective Bradley, Sergeant McCallum and Patrolmen Costello and Hayden in their investigation of the above case. As the result of their zeal and sense of fairness, the true felon was brought to justice.

General Order No. 704.

The following order of the Licensing Board for the City of Boston, which has been served on all licensees, is published for the information and guidance of the department:

"LICENSING BOARD FOR THE CITY OF BOSTON, EIGHTH FLOOR, 24 PROVINCE STREET,
BOSTON, MASS.

To All Holders of Club Alcoholic Beverages Licenses.

1. The practice of serving or giving away alcoholic beverages belonging to individual club members or belonging to the club after the closing hours for legal sales, will be considered a violation of section 12, chapter 138, which states, 'No licensee under this section, or any employee of such licensee, shall serve any alcoholic beverage to any customer or other person in the licensed premises without charge.' In other words, all alcoholic beverages must be sold on the licensed premises and no sale or service is to be made after the legal closing hours.

2. In the absence of direct evidence of sale and/or service of alcoholic beverages beyond the legal hours of such sale and/or service, the Board will consider the presence of alcoholic beverages in bottles (seal broken) or glasses, so located near or in front of members or guests of members, as prima facie evidence of sale and/or service after the expiration of a reasonable period of time required for the average person to consume such beverage. The Board, in its discretion, shall determine what is a reasonable period of time after presentation of information concerning the incident and circumstances surrounding each individual complaint.

3. A current roster of members (name and address) of the club should be left at all times with the person in charge of the club and be available upon demand to any duly authorized law enforcement agent.

4. Annual reports of names and addresses of its officers, together with the amount of compensation received by each employee (name and address) engaged in the handling or selling of alcoholic beverages as required by section 1, chapter 138 of the General Laws, are overdue. Those licensees who have not so reported must do so immediately.

5. Any violations of the above may be cause for suspension or revocation of license.

CLARENCE R. ELAM,
TIMOTHY F. TOBIN,
JOSEPH W. FITZGERALD."

TRAFFIC RULING

General Order No. 19.

I. BOARD OF MERIT.

The Board of Merit of the Boston Fire Department, consisting of the chief of department, the chief of staff, the assistant fire chiefs, and the deputy fire chiefs, has considered all meritorious acts referred to it for the year 1959. After careful consideration and study, the Board submitted the following recommendations which are hereby approved by the Fire Commissioner:

1. CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER WILBUR W. LUACAW, ENGINE COMPANY 42.

At 10.15 P.M., January 22, 1959, the department responded to a fire in the dwelling at 15 Bragdon street, Roxbury. Upon arrival of the department, heavy smoke and fire were coming from the second floor front windows of a two-family wooden frame house located on the corner of Bragdon and Notre Dame streets.

Fire Lieutenant Biaggi Germano of Engine Company 42 ordered a line to be operated from the street on the overlapping fire, and a second line was started via the front stairs to the second floor. At the top of the stairs, a door was found jammed half open leading to a narrow hall. On the right leading from the hall there was a room with a door opening onto a rear piazza. A man in night clothing was standing in the piazza door shouting that a child was still in the apartment.

Fire Fighter Wilbur W. Luacaw of Engine Company 42 groped by the jammed door into a narrow hall. To the right was a large sitting room involved in fire. Straight ahead was a small bedroom and inside the bedroom door Fire Fighter Luacaw found a seven-year-old child unconscious on the floor. He picked her up and carried her downstairs to the street. She was removed to the hospital suffering from burns over 90 per cent of her body, and died the following day.

Ventilation was not yet effective at this early stage of operations, and Fire Fighter Luacaw did not have time to don a mask. He was partially overcome from the effects of smoke and heat and was given first aid at the scene.

Because of the danger to which he exposed himself (the apartment was charged with fire, heat, and smoke), without regard for his own safety, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 6 of 1959.

The Board recommends that his name be placed on the Roll of Merit.

2. CASES OF FIRE FIGHTER FRANK GAMBARDELLO, ENGINE COMPANY 33; FIRE FIGHTER JOHN NICHOLAS, ENGINE COMPANY 33, AND FIRE FIGHTER JAMES L. FITZGIBBONS, LADDER COMPANY 15.

At 11.02 A.M., February 14, 1959, the department responded to the scene of a drowning in Muddy River, at Charlesgate East and Charlesgate West.

Upon arrival of the apparatus, members of Ladder Company 15 crawled over the ice with ladder and life line and rescued an MDC police officer who was in the water hanging on to the edge of the ice after attempting to rescue two boys who were in the river.

Members of Engine Company 33 launched their boat, after breaking through the ice, and rowed toward the spot where the two boys were reported to be submerged. Fire Fighters Frank Gambardello and John Nicholas of Engine Company 33 and Fire Fighter James L. FitzGibbons of Ladder Company 15 broke through the ice, dove into the water and searched the bottom of the river in an attempt to locate the missing boys. After diving and swimming in the frigid water, Fire Fighter Gambardello located the body of one of the boys and with the assistance of Fire Fighters Nicholas and FitzGibbons the body was removed to shore. This rescue work was accomplished in frigid water, and the air temperature was approximately 35 degrees to 40 degrees F. at the time.

Because of the great risk to which the foregoing members exposed themselves, without regard for their own safety in performing this rescue work, the Fire Commissioner commended them highly in General Order No. 15 of 1959.

The Board recommends that their names be placed on the Roll of Merit.

3. CASE OF FIRE LIEUTENANT WARREN A. HARDY, JR., OF LADDER COMPANY 12.

At 10.58 P.M., March 28, 1959, the department responded to an alarm for Box 1258 (3 alarms) at 142 and 144 Blackstone street.

Members of Ladder Company 12 were operating on the second floor of the building when an explosion occurred involving the entire area with fire and intense heat. Members of the company had to make a hasty retreat through windows at the front of the building, some jumping to the street and others sliding down the ladders.

Fire Lieutenant Hardy of Ladder Company 12, on reaching a ladder outside one of the windows, took a position there and directed members of his company to safety. A fire fighter appeared at the window inside the building in a dazed condition and Lieutenant Hardy reached over and grabbed him, dragging him over the window ledge while flame beat at both of the men. Lieutenant Hardy's ears were burned during this rescue work.

Because of the fact that Lieutenant Hardy remained at the top of the ladder under very hazardous conditions, without regard for his own safety, and succeeded in pulling Fire Fighter William J. Carey of Ladder Company 12 out of the building, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 15 of 1959.

The Board recommends that he be awarded the Walter Scott Medal for Valor.

4. CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER JOHN L. CAMPBELL OF LADDER COMPANY 12.

At 10.58 P.M., March 28, 1959, the department responded to an alarm from Box 1258 (three alarms) for a fire at 142 and 144 Blackstone street.

During the progress of the fire, an explosion occurred on the second floor resulting in the entire floor becoming involved by fire and intense heat. Members of Engine Company 8 and Ladder Company 12, who were operating within this floor, had to make a hasty retreat through three windows in the front, some jumping to the street and others sliding down ladders. Four of these men were removed to the Massachusetts General Hospital. It was reported that Fire Fighter William J. Carey of Ladder Company 12 was missing at that time.

Fire Fighter John L. Campbell of Ladder Company 12 ran up a ladder to a window on the second floor where Fire Fighter Carey was last seen. Upon reaching the window, from which considerable fire was issuing, Fire Fighter Campbell leaned in so far that only his feet were showing on the sill. While his feet were being held by Fire Fighter Louis S. Toscano of Ladder Company 12, Fire Fighter Campbell groped around the floor near the window area in a search for Fire Fighter Carey. It was necessary to direct a deck gun stream into the window to afford some measure of protection for Fire Fighter Campbell. However, due to the terrific volume of fire, he had to climb down the ladder to the street.

A few minutes later, Fire Fighter Campbell again ascended the ladder and made another search for Fire Fighter Carey under very hazardous conditions. It was then learned that Fire Fighter Carey had already been removed from the building. Fire Fighter Campbell, although equipped with an All-Service mask, received burns to both ears and the back of his neck.

Because of the great hazard to which he was exposed during his unsuccessful search, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 15 of 1959.

The Board recommends he be awarded the John E. Fitzgerald Medal for Most Meritorious Act.

5. CASE OF FIRE LIEUTENANT FRANCIS J. CUMMINGS OF LADDER COMPANY 13.

At 8.19 A.M., April 9, 1959, Box 1554, the department responded for a fire at 4 Claremont street.

Upon arrival of the department, Fire Lieutenant Francis J. Cummings of Ladder Company 13 was informed by a woman occupant of the second floor that her three-year-old son was trapped by fire and smoke on the second floor.

Fire Lieutenant Cummings proceeded to the second floor by way of a front fire escape, forced his entrance to a bedroom, located the boy who was suffering from burns and smoke inhalation, and removed him to the street. The rescue was performed under very hazardous conditions before ventilation had been effected or hose lines were in operation. There was a heavy concentration of heat and black smoke due to burning fuel oil in the apartment at that time.

Because Lieutenant Cummings performed the rescue work at great personal risk and without regard for his own safety, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 15 of 1959.

The Board recommends that his name be placed on the Roll of Merit.

6. CASE OF FIRE LIEUTENANT PAUL J. O'BRIEN, LADDER COMPANY 4.

On February 21, 1959, at 4:04 A.M., Ladder Company 4 responded to a still alarm, followed by Box 2251, for a fire in the building at 2476 Washington street, Roxbury. Upon arrival of the company, fire was seen issuing from the second-floor windows of the three-family dwelling house.

Fire Lieutenant Paul J. O'Brien of Ladder Company 4 was notified by a woman on the street that children were trapped on the second floor. He went up the stairway to the apartment and upon entering he found heavy smoke, heat, and fire conditions present. Hearing a voice at the end of the hallway to the rear of the building, he made his way toward this point and found a man who told him that some of his children were in a room next to the parlor which was in the extreme front of the building. Lieutenant O'Brien groped his way back to this room and because of the smoke, heat, and fire he had to crawl into the room. He found one child on the floor at the foot of a bed and brought him to the hallway where he passed him to a fire fighter. Lieutenant O'Brien again entered the room in a search for other children but an explosion occurred which increased the intensity of the fire, and he had to retreat.

By this time members of Engine Squad 14 brought in a hose line, and he directed them to operate a stream on the ceiling of the bedroom to cool the area. Lieutenant O'Brien re-entered the room and found a second child on the floor and passed this child out to members of Engine Squad 14. About this time, clothing in a closet on the extreme left of the room became ignited and the light of the flames showed two children on the floor of the closet, one on top of the other. One of the children appeared to be breathing, and the lieutenant passed him to members of Engine Squad 14. He carried the other child from the room.

Because of the extremely hazardous conditions present when Fire Lieutenant O'Brien performed the rescue work, without regard for his own safety (the entire parlor was burned out and fire had extended considerably into the bedroom), the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 20 of 1959.

The Board recommends that he be awarded the Patrick J. Kennedy Medal of Honor.

7. CASE OF FIRE FIGHTER LEO M. MYOTT OF LADDER COMPANY 21.

At 1:27 A.M., December 21, 1959, Ladder Company 21 responded to Box 6214 for a fire at 119 McClellan Highway, East Boston.

Upon arrival, members of the company found a well-developed fire involving the entire one and one-half story building. Bloodstains running down the front of the building from a second-story window indicated that someone had smashed the glass and had tried unsuccessfully to smash through the window. Ladder Company 21 immediately raised an aerial ladder, and Fire Fighter Leo M. Myott ascended the ladder, broke through a storm window and inside window and frame, entered the building, groped around and succeeded in locating a woman lying bleeding and unconscious on the floor where she had collapsed after breaking a window in a futile attempt to escape. He succeeded, after considerable effort, in bringing the victim to the window where he lifted her into the hands of other fire fighters on the ladder.

During the rescue work, the room was heavily charged with heat and smoke. Fire was racing across the ceiling of the room below and extending up and inside the walls to the low-studded, pitched ceiling overhead. It had broken through the plaster at this location in several places.

Because Fire Fighter Myott performed this rescue work without regard for his own safety and under very dangerous conditions, the Fire Commissioner commended him highly in General Order No. 5 of 1960.

The Board recommends that his name be placed on the Roll of Merit.

April 27.

General Order No. 20.

I. GENERAL ORDER RESCINDED.

General Order No. 11, February 15, 1952 (Civil Defense Operations—Dispersal Order), is hereby rescinded.

II. ESTABLISHMENT OF SPECIAL SIGNALS FOR CONELRAD RADIO ALERT.

In Section 10.166 of the Rules and Regulations, the Federal Communications Commission has established Conelrad rules, which apply to all radio stations in the Public Safety Radio Services (Fire, Police, etc.), and is for the purpose of providing for the alerting and operation of radio stations in these services during periods of air attack or imminent threat thereof. The objective is to minimize the navigational aid that may be obtained by an enemy from the electromagnetic radiations emanating from radio stations in the Public Safety Radio Services while simultaneously providing for continued radio service under controlled conditions when such operation is essential to the public welfare.

In accordance with the Federal Communications Commission Rules and Regulations, the Fire Alarm office has provisions for receiving Conelrad Radio Alert. The control point receiving the alert is responsible for the dissemination of the Conelrad Radio Alert to all stations in the system to insure the execution of Conelrad requirements immediately.

In order to carry out the requirements of the Federal Communications Commission in disseminating the Conelrad Radio Alert to all stations and units of the Fire Department, the following special signals are hereby established:

(10)-51, Conelrad Radio Alert.

(10)-52, Conelrad Radio All-Clear.

These special signals will be transmitted two (2) rounds on tappers.

The Fire Alarm office will transmit Special Signal (10)-51 upon receipt of the Conelrad Radio Alert or a Civil Defense Warning Yellow, if no Conelrad Radio Alert is issued, or Civil Defense Warning Red, if neither a Conelrad Radio Alert or Warning Yellow is issued.

The Conelrad Radio Alert is automatically in effect when Special Signal (10)-45 or Special Signal (10)-46 is transmitted.

Upon receipt of the Conelrad Radio Alert the radio stations in the Public Safety Radio Services will operate in accordance with the following limitations unless specifically directed otherwise by the Federal Communications Commission:

1. No transmissions shall be made unless they are of extreme emergency affecting the national safety or the safety of people and property.

2. Transmissions shall be as short as possible.

3. No station identification shall be given either by announcement of FCC Assigned Call Signals or announcement of station location. If identification is necessary to carry on the service, special station or unit identifiers may be used.

Mobile units of the Fire Department must use caution after an out-of-service period to insure that a Conelrad Radio Alert is not in progress before making any radio transmissions.

Upon receiving the Conelrad Radio All-Clear, the Fire Alarm office will transmit Special Signal (10)-52.

Radio stations in the Public Safety Radio Services may resume normal operation when the Conelrad Radio All-Clear message is transmitted by standard, FM, or TV broadcast stations, unless otherwise restricted by the Federal Communications Commission.

The Fire Alarm office shall keep proper records of all Conelrad tests and operations as a part of the log of the radio station.

For any further information relative to the preceding subject matter, reference may be made to Federal Communications Commission Rules and Regulations 10.166 or the Fire Alarm office.

Mayor Hopes for Pedestrian Malls on Hub "Cow Paths"

Mayor Collins announced, on April 27, that the city is considering the conversion of some of Boston's "outmoded cow paths" into downtown pedestrian malls.

Addressing the Franklin Associates, the Mayor said that the city's narrow streets can be an asset if they are approached in the right manner.

Because of their narrowness, they lend themselves much more easily to pedestrian malls than do the streets of certain western communities.

Many of these western cities have found that no matter how broad their downtown thoroughfares, they cannot keep pace with the tidal flood of automobiles.

Those communities, the Mayor said, are "abandoning attempts to lick the traffic problem by accommodation and instead are trying to save it through containment."

"That is what we hope to do in Boston, and thanks to our old 'cow paths,' we are in a more favorable position to institute this most modern idea."

JOHN McCORMACK ASSURES MAYOR OF FAVORABLE CONGRESSIONAL ACTION ON MEDICAL AID TO AGED

National House Majority Leader John W. McCormack, on April 28, informed Mayor John F. Collins that the "Democratic Congress would do everything possible to provide for the aged the one thing they need most and lack most—medical care."

The congressional leader's message to the Mayor, said in part: "Everyone who has seriously studied this situation has concluded that the provision of better health care for the aged is a most serious and growing problem."

"Official statistics show that three out of every four of the 16,000,000 persons over 65 years of age could not pay for medical care they needed if taken seriously ill.

"The issue, then, is not whether there is a problem, but rather the best method to meet the problem.

"The United States leads the world in the scientific advance in the field of medical care, therefore, when the vast majority of our aged are compelled to defer medical treatment because of fear of debt, it is the responsibility of our democratic government to find ways and means, without getting into the field of socialized medicine, to solve this problem of such demonstrated urgency and importance.

"As serious as this situation concerning medical care for the aged is, it would be much worse without the Social Security System established 25 years ago by a Democratic President and a Democratic Congress."

Cornerstone Laid At Graybar Building In "New York Streets"

The New York Streets Redevelopment Area received another occupant, on April 28, as cornerstone laying ceremonies were held for the new headquarters of Graybar Electrical Company at 345 Harrison avenue.

Edward E. Martin, New England Manager of the Electrical Supplies Distributing Firm, said the company's decision to expand in Boston came after an exhaustive study of sites in fringe communities. "We felt that Boston has now rounded the corner and is on its way back to prosperity," he said.

John P. McMorrow, Director of Administrative Services, was present to lay the structure's cornerstone which contains a copy of Mayor Collins' inaugural address. "I am happy that the speech outlining 'Operation Revival' should become a physical part of one of its first concrete achievements," he said.

The two-story, completely air-conditioned building occupies an area of 60,000 square feet. Another 40,000 square feet of land will be used for a customer parking lot.

Graybar is the largest employee-owned company in the world with 150 persons at work in its Boston offices and warehouse. It hopes to have its new headquarters open for business by June 1.

Graybar officials participating in this morning's ceremonies included William Glennon, New England Operations Manager, and Raymond D. Custer, New England Financial Manager.

CLUB LICENSEES WARNED ON AFTER-HOURS SERVING OF ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES

The Boston Licensing Board, on April 26, notified all holders of club licenses that "the practice of serving or giving away alcoholic beverages belonging to individual club members, or belonging to the club, after closing hours" will be considered a violation of the law.

CONTRACTS AWARDED
WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor approved the award of contracts, without advertising, based on the following communications:

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Office Machine Rental

DEAR SIR:

Permission is hereby requested to dispense with public advertising and to enter into a contract with the Remington Rand, Division of the Sperry Rand Corporation, 631 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston, for rental of four tabulating machines at an annual cost of $4,056.

At the present time we are using in our Fire Prevention Division one alphabetical punch, one interlining reproducing punch, one punched card interpreter, and one sorter. These machines are used in connection with the annual preparation, issuance, and filing of approximately 125,000 inflammable fluid and other permits by the Fire Department. Fees received for these permits during 1959 amounted to approximately $240,000, and it is expected that permits to be issued under the new fire code will result in an increase in the annual receipts of the Fire Prevention Division.

The use of the foregoing machines has resulted in a much more efficient and faster operation in the issuance of permits than under the previous system in use in the department.

In my opinion no advantage would accrue to the city in publicly advertising for the rental of tabulating machines inasmuch as I believe that the present rental rates are reasonable; also, the machines on rental are an essential and integral part of the punch card permit system now installed.

Respectfully yours,

HENRY A. SCAGNOLI, Fire Commissioner.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT. Laundry Service

DEAR SIR:

It has been the practice of the Health Division of the Health Department for a period of years to request bids by advertising for laundry service to be supplied to the Health Division of the Health Department. For approximately ten years we have only received two bids, one from the Federal National Linen Service, and one from the Bell Linen Service, Inc.

For 1960, in accordance with the established practice, official bids were received by the Auditing Department and copies of the bids were received by the Health Department. In the opening of the bid by the Health Department of the Federal National Linen Service, under the item, X-ray capes, a price of 15 cents was listed, which is the same price we have paid this concern for this item for the past several years. The other bid from the Bell Linen Service, Inc., quoted a price of 25 cents for the X-ray capes.

On the official bid received in the Auditor's office from the Federal National Linen Service, all prices specified were the same as received by the Health Division of the Health Department with the exception of the price for the X-ray capes, which was 2½ cents, whereas in the copy received by the Health Department it was 15 cents, the same as we have always paid. It is, therefore, requested that since the price of 2½ cents was a typographical error on the part of the Federal National Linen Service, the Health Department be authorized to award the contract without advertising again to the Federal National Linen Service with a price of 15 cents for the X-ray capes.*

Your approval is respectfully requested.

Yours truly,

JOHN H. CAULEY, M.D., M.P.H.,
Health Commissioner.

* As appears in the printed proposal: "The Health Commissioner reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids and to award the contract as he deems for the best interests of the city."

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT. Lease of Premises

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of a lease, without public advertising, with the Woodside Realty Corporation for the rental of the premises located at 18 Barnes avenue, East Boston. These premises have served as quarters for the Orient Heights Branch Library since 1929. The lease will be for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961. There will be no change in the basic rate of rent. The rental will be four thousand dollars ($4,000) plus "additional rent" of eight hundred eighty-eight dollars ($888). It is not possible to obtain competitive bidding by public advertising for this purpose.

For the purpose of this lease the "additional rent" referred to is defined as that sum of money by which the real estate taxes on the premises assessed for the year 1960 exceeds the 1949 real estate tax. It is further agreed that until such time as the real estate tax rate for the year 1960 is finally determined, the sum of eight hundred eighty-eight dollars ($888) shall represent the "additional rent." Further, if the 1960 real estate tax as finally determined should be less than the 1949 real estate tax, no "additional rent" shall be payable and the lessor covenants and agrees to pay the lessee the difference.

Inasmuch as the total rental will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this lease without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE
CITY OF BOSTON,
By MILTON E. LORD,
Director.

Library Books

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request the approval of your Honor for the award of contracts, without public advertising, to the following publishers and dealers for the purchase of books and certain other library material for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961:

The American News Company, The New England News Company Division, 20 Webster place, Brookline; Campbell & Hall, Inc., 131 Clarendon street, Boston; DeWolfe & Fiske Company, 236 Summer street, Boston; Doubleday & Co., Inc., Garden City, New York; The H. R. Hunting Company, Inc., Burnett road and First avenue, Chicopee Falls; R. L. Polk & Co., 179 Lincoln street, Boston; Stechert-Hafner, Inc., 31 East 10th street, New York.

The library will purchase the books and other library material on the basis of offers submitted periodically by the above list of companies. The nature of the items to be purchased and the fluctuations in the price thereof as well as in the desired quantities thereof do not lend themselves to public bidding. The cost of these items for the period of the contract will be approximately $130,000. The Trustees have therefore "Voted, That there be entered into without public advertising with the following contractors: Campbell & Hall, Inc., DeWolfe & Fiske Company, R. L. Polk & Co., all of Boston; the American News Company, the New England News Company Division, Brookline; Doubleday & Co., Inc., Garden City, New York; the H. R. Hunting Company, Inc., Burnett road and First avenue, Chicopee Falls, and Stechert-Hafner, Inc., of New York, contracts for the purchase of books and certain other library materials for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961, subject to the terms, agreements and conditions set forth in said contracts."

Inasmuch as the anticipated purchases from each of the above companies is expected to be in excess of two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is requested permission of your Honor to enter into these contracts without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE
CITY OF BOSTON,
By MILTON E. LORD,
Director.

TRAFFIC RULING

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following:

Whereas, If during the period of bus service by the Metropolitan Transit Authority to our Lady of Lourdes Church, West Roxbury, parking of vehicles were to be allowed in Montebello road, West Roxbury, conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, public safety would be endangered and public travel would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Public safety and convenience require that remedial measures be invoked as of April 22, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held prior to April 22, 1960; now therefore . . .

I hereby promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the expiration of one month from the date hereof:

For the period aforesaid, parking of vehicles is prohibited in the following street:

Montebello Road, West Roxbury.

Both sides, from Washington street to a point forty (40) feet west of Washington street, 24 hours.

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT (BUILDINGS DIVISION).

INVITATION FOR PROPOSALS FOR CLEANING, POLISHING, AND MAINTENANCE SERVICE.

The City of Boston, acting by the Assistant Commissioner of Real Property Department, 808 City Hall Annex, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed proposals for cleaning, polishing, and maintenance service for the period June 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961, at the Veterans' Services Department, 18 Cornhill, Boston, Mass., and at Quincy Market Building, Boston, Mass., as specified in the specifications.

Proposals will be received until 12 o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Monday, May 16, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Proposals shall be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the office of the Awarding Authority, 808 City Hall Annex, Boston, Mass. Each copy of the proposal shall be properly filled out, signed, and enclosed in an envelope, sealed, plainly marked with the name of the bidder and the description of the work bid upon. One copy shall be filed at the office of the Awarding Authority, designated above, and the other copy shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of proposals.

A bid deposit in the form of a certified check, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of five hundred dollars ($500), shall be submitted with the copy of the proposal filed with the Awarding Authority. The bid deposit shall be in a separate envelope, properly marked. Bid bonds will not be accepted.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty days after the actual date of the opening thereof.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under this contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Specifications for the work may be obtained on and after Monday, May 2, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, 808 City Hall Annex, Boston, Mass.

A performance bond, issued by a surety company satisfactory to the Awarding Authority, in the full amount of the contract, will be required of the successful bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to accept or reject any and all bids, or any item or items of a bid, and to award the contract or contracts as he deems for the best interests of the city.

LONG-RANGE DEVELOPMENT PLANS TAKING SHAPE

The seven-point program by which he expects to get an effective, long-range development plan underway in Boston was outlined, on May 5, by Edward J. Logue, the city's provisional director of development.

On the same day, Joseph W. Lund, chairman of the Boston Redevelopment Authority, made a formal declaration that the preservation of Boston's historic sites has been carefully written into the city's urban development policy and that many of these valuable magnets for tourists will not only be preserved but will be given more attractive settings as new structures spring up around them.

Program "Within a Year"

Mr. Logue gave a clue to the proposed program he is now preparing for Mayor Collins in a talk before the League of Women Voters. He outlined seven points which, he said, could get a program underway "within a year" after completion of the necessary preliminary planning. It is on the basis of this proposed program that Mr. Logue expects to evolve long-range redevelopment in the city after his ideas have been studied, and either modified or expanded, by the Mayor and his advisory boards and committees, representing the civic and business interests of Boston.

Logue's Seven Points

Following are the seven points as sketched out by Mr. Logue in his talk on May 5:

1. Draw up a workable plan by strengthening the planning staff and enlarging it. Eliminate committees and leave the planning to the planners.

2. Seek federal funds for urban redevelopment. "Boston can't afford an ideological road block against using federal funds." In the past Boston has not taken advantage of this aid, but its taxpayers have financed redevelopment in other big cities.

3. Plan big. It's just as easy to do big projects as small ones and in the long run blight can be more effectively stopped if larger projects are undertaken than piecemeal programs.

4. There must be organized citizen support of the program to rebuild Boston and citizenry must have faith in those carrying out the program.

5. A competent staff must be hired. This means that men with the "highest integrity and skill" must be attracted here. Boston must be willing "to import to get best" and pay competitive wages.

6. There must be coordinated administrative activity with strong powers given those responsible for carrying out redevelopment. "This doesn't mean committees" which dilute and spread responsibility and authority.

7. There must be political leadership. The Mayor and the City Council must be given responsibility. The Mayor must be permitted to exercise leadership.

On the latter point, Mr. Logue said of Mayor Collins, "If I didn't think the present Mayor had the capacity of leadership I wouldn't be here."

To Preserve Monuments

¶ Following is the statement released by Chairman Lund with respect to the preservation of historic sites:

¶ A newspaper report states that Trustees of the Museum of Fine Arts and other groups interested in preserving the architectural heritage of Boston held a meeting with various city officials connected with the highway and redevelopment programs.

¶ The implication may have been left that the cultural groups felt that the planning for the redevelopment program was not taking into proper consideration the preservation of historical assets developed in the City of Boston over a period of three centuries.

¶ It is a policy of the Boston Redevelopment Authority to preserve historical monuments and to protect the cultural heritage of Boston.

¶ The Redevelopment Authority wishes to point out that in the West End development, careful steps were taken to preserve both the Harrison Gray Otis House and the old West End Meeting House.

A Matter of Policy

¶ In the Government Center area, special provisions were made to preserve the oldest buildings with historical significance in the city and the street pattern where the Boston Stone and other historical structures are situated. It is expected that in the further development of the Government Center area, provisions

HOUSING AUTHORITY REVIEWS TENANT STATUS AND MAKES RENT ADJUSTMENTS AS OF JUNE 1

The Boston Housing Authority, on April 28, announced that the annual review of tenants' incomes on all developments had been completed and that rents would be adjusted as of June 1, 1960. In this connection the Authority issued the following:

¶ Notices of the adjustments will be placed in the mail April 28, so that they will be received by the tenants on Friday, April 29, 1960.

¶ Adjustments of rents have been made every year since 1940 in the federally-aided developments and in the state-aided developments since 1955.

¶ All developments in the city in both programs are affected.

¶ There are fifteen (15) federally-aided developments, containing some 10,156 apartments affected, as well as the 3,681 apartments in the ten (10) state-aided developments.

¶ The developments and the number of apartments affected are located as follows:

Federally-Aided Program

Grand Total.....	13,837

¶ All developments involved contain 13,837 families, with an estimated population of 54,000.

¶ The incomes of all members of the families are used in determining the rents to be paid. The incomes of minors, however, are excluded in determining the eligibility of a family to remain in residence.

¶ Heat, hot water, gas, and electricity are supplied for the amount of rent paid in all of the developments except that at Gallivan Boulevard. This development consists of only duplex and single houses with individual heating plants, so that the tenants pay for all of their own utilities, and a different rent schedule is used to reflect the charges paid by the tenants.

¶ Since there has been no change in rental schedules, any changes in rent are due to an upward or downward revision in income of the family so affected.

¶ The city-wide change in rents for tenants on the federally-aided developments averages an upward revision of $2.54 a month, and on the state-aided developments averages an upward revision of $3.28 a month.

¶ The new rents on the federally-aided developments average $53.61 a month.

¶ The new rents on the state-aided developments average $66.79 a month.

¶ Of the total number of tenant families re-examined on a city-wide basis, 39.4 per cent or 4,561 families had their rent adjusted upwards because of income increases. Downward rent adjustments because of decreased incomes were given 9.9 per cent or 1,146 families. For another 5,876 families, or 50.7 per cent, there was no change in the rental.

¶ A total of 60.6 per cent, or 7,022, of the families either had their rent adjusted downward or had no change in rent.

¶ The average annual family income on the federally-aided developments is now $2,907.77, and $3,824.24 annually in the state-aided developments.

¶ The review indicated that 365 families would be notified of their ineligibility because of excess income. Of this group 149 families reside in state-aided developments, and 216 families make their homes in federally-aided developments.

¶ Although all ineligible tenants will be notified of their ineligibility, which will be followed later by the required legal notice to vacate the Authority emphasized that there will be no mass evictions. All ineligible tenants will be requested by the several housing managers to move from the developments as promptly as possible. In the event that such ineligible tenants do not vacate within a reasonable time, the Authority will be obliged to institute legal proceedings.

¶ In the notices being sent to the tenants they are all reminded that the housing managers at the several developments will explain to them any matters concerning the review of their status.

¶ All of the figures used in this release are based on a tabulation of 11,583 families.

Renewal Program of the city. As far as can be ascertained, no other major city in the country has conducted such an extensive demolition program.

The Health Commissioner, under authority granted to him by chapter 446 of the Acts of 1941 relating to the City of Boston, has been vested with broad powers in ordering a dwelling demolished.
Such an order may be issued for the following reasons: age, infection with contagious diseases, defects in drainage, plumb-ing, or ventilation, or because of the existence of a nuisance on the premises which is likely to cause sickness among its occupants, or because it makes other buildings in said vicinity unfit for human habitation, dangerous, or injurious to health.

Since the inception of the Demolition
Program in November, 1956, the Boston
Health Department has caused 366 dwellings to be demolished at a cost of $341,326.

The results of this program have been most gratifying. With the removal of these buildings, the over-all costs of fire protection in the area where they were largely concentrated have been lowered, moral and delinquency problems have been lessened, people who owned property in the immediate vicinity have been able to obtain fire insurance on their property when they had been previously denied such insurance and other property owners have been given an incentive to rehabilitate their own property.

Unfortunately, the number of dwellings reaching the demolition status is increasing every day. It is hoped that the condition will be corrected through a more vigorous neighborhood rehabilitation and conservation program.

ONLY 10 PER CENT OF ITS PEOPLE ESCAPE SIMULATED BOMBING RAID ON BOSTON

Boston was one of 14 large cities of the United States selected for an intensive Conelrad test alert on May 3 at 2 P.M. The public was not required to participate.

According to Boston Civil Defense Director John C. Pickett, Boston theoretically was left a smouldering expanse of radioactive ruins and 90 per cent of its population killed when the city was "hit" by nuclear bombs. Boston was assumed "wiped out" by jet bombers with only 10 per cent of its population successfully evacuated.

Spokesmen for the North American Air Defense Command said the detailed results of tests made by planes trying to ride Conelrad on a bombing run to Boston will be announced in Washington at a future date. The tests will determine the future fate of Conelrad as a defense measure.

A special "command station" was set up in the West End where Mayor Collins and Civil Defense Director Pickett received reports of devastation from other parts of the city.

The Mayor then left for a "Shangri-La" for a broadcast over Conelrad (640 and 1240 kc.) in a test to determine if enemy planes overhead could "beam in" on the broadcast spot.

On the morning of May 3, a convey of trucks, buses, and heavy equipment left the Museum of Fine Arts, linked up with another convey on Route 128, and reached the dispersal area at Shoppers' World, Framingham, in 35 minutes.

A special van with important banking records left the First National Bank of Boston setting up a simulated state banking center in Concord.

Added to the Boston alert was a touch of realism when a section of the West End Redevelopment Project ruins was used to test rescue operations. Civil Defense workers and firemen went into the smouldering ruins to bring out a trapped family. Fire Chief John A. Martin touched off oily rags in the rubble to give the scene clouds of smoke, as Mayor Collins watched.

TRAFFIC RULINGS

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following rulings:

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing of Cranston street and Termine avenue, West Roxbury, vehicles were to be allowed in said Cranston street and Termine avenue conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence April 25, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rules and regulations to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following streets when and where official signs are in place:

Cranston Street, West Roxbury.

From Sheridan street to Sheridan street.

Termine Avenue, West Roxbury.

From Sheridan street to Cranston street.

Whereas, If during the emergency created by traffic congestion in Johnny court, Boston Proper, parking of vehicles were to be allowed in said Johnny court, conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, public travel would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held prior to April 26, 1960; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the end of such emergency or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, parking of vehicles is prohibited in the following street:

Johnny Court, Boston Proper.

South side, from Harrison avenue to Maple place, 24 hours.

Whereas, If during the period of emergency repairs to the Summer Street Bridge over Reserved Channel, South

Boston, vehicles were to be allowed in Summer street conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, public safety would be endangered and such repairs would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such repairs; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only during the period heretofore described:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following street:

Summer Street, South Boston.

From D street to East First street.

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing of Sycamore street, West Roxbury, vehicles were to be allowed in said Sycamore street conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following street when and where official signs are in place:

Sycamore Street, West Roxbury.

From Poplar street to Cummins Highway.

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing of the streets listed below, vehicles were to be allowed in said streets conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence May 2, 1960; and now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rules and regulations to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following streets when and where official signs are in place:

Bradlee Street, Hyde Park.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 28.

General Order No. 21.

I. RECALL SYSTEM FOR USE IN CASE OF EMERGENCY.

General Order, No. 8, of 1957. Recall System Established for Use in Case of Emergency, is hereby rescinded.

The following system is hereby established. Provisions of this order will be known as Appendix XV, Rules and Regulations of the Boston Fire Department.

A copy shall be given to each member of the department to be included in his copy of rules and regulations. A copy shall also be kept at the patrol desk in each fire station. Company commanders shall include this Recall System in company drills under the direction of the district fire chief.

1. The following system for recalling members off duty is hereby established. Upon orders of the Fire Commissioner or chief of department, Special Signal 10-21 will be struck two rounds on all tappers throughout the city. This will be a notification that an emergency exists, and members will remain on, or return to duty as specified by group numbers which follow the signal.

Members assigned to High Pressure stations, on sick or injured leave, special assignments, and vacation are excluded from the recall. Members assigned to Engines 31 and 47 shall report to Division 1 Headquarters for further assignment. If the deputy fire chief is absent from quarters, recall members shall notify the emergency personnel center by telephone.

2. Members shall report to their own company quarters.

3. In each district fire chief's office, a record of all members assigned in the district, their addresses, telephone numbers, and group numbers shall be kept on file, accessible at all times. This record shall be kept up to date by the district fire chief. Company commanders shall keep a duplicate file of his company. All members of the department shall comply with Rule 385 (b) of the Department Rules and Regulation and promptly report any change of address or telephone number. It will be the duty of the district fire chief to assign a man to call by telephone all men recalled to duty. The private telephone located in the district fire chief's office shall be used. Department telephones shall not be used for this purpose unless absolutely necessary. If the district fire chief is engaged at a fire or other emergency, the covering district fire chief or officer of the company located or covering at the headquarters station shall be responsible for the notifying of the recalled members assigned in the district.

4. Deputy fire chiefs and district fire chiefs shall be notified by the deputy fire chief or district fire chief on duty in their assigned division or district, and, in the event of their absence from quarters, the Fire Alarm office shall make such notifications.

5. Upon the striking of Special Signal 10-21, the assistant fire chief in charge of fire fighting and training, or his representative, and such members of his staff that are required, shall establish an emergency personnel center at Headquarters. The first assignment of this office will be to coordinate the personnel activities of the two divisions. The district fire chiefs will report periodically to the deputy fire chiefs of their respective division (about every thirty minutes) the company manpower strengths as members return to duty. The deputy fire chief, in turn, shall report to the Personnel Center the total strengths of all companies in his division. With this information available to the Personnel Center, members of the department may be reassigned via the deputy fire chiefs of the divisions concerned to equalize the strength of the department, or to meet any particular condition. Division boundary lines shall be disregarded on personnel problems during the recall period.

6. The assistant fire chiefs shall consult with and keep the chief of department informed of all important incidents, and the steps being taken to remedy the conditions. The assistant fire chief in charge of fire prevention shall report to the chief of department for assignment. The assistant fire chief in charge of fire fighting and training will be in direct charge of the field operations. All disbursing of special apparatus and equipment shall be under the control of the assistant fire chief in charge of fire fighting and training. He shall establish, if necessary, a priority list for the dispatching and use of all special apparatus and equipment. The Fire Alarm office shall notify the assistant fire chief in charge of fire fighting and training of all unusual incidents, i.e., floods, cellars flooded, etc., that may be reported during the recall. The assistant fire chief in charge of fire fighting and training will, in turn, inform the Fire Alarm office what special equipment will be dispatched to the scene.

7. The superintendent of the Maintenance Division, or his representative, with the approval of the chief of department, shall call by telephone all necessary personnel that may be required to place the division on an efficient emergency basis. He shall keep on file, accessible at all times, a record of all members, addresses, and telephone numbers, who may be called back to duty.

8. The superintendent of the Fire Alarm Division, or his representative, with the approval of the chief of department, shall call by telephone all necessary personnel that may be required to place the Fire Alarm Division on efficient emergency basis. He shall keep on file, accessible at all times, a record of all members, their addresses, and telephone numbers, who may be called back to duty.

9. Upon striking the recall signal, the Fire Alarm office shall request the radio stations, press and television stations to make announcements, at intervals, that the recall signal is in effect and to announce the group numbers of those recalled.

10. Deputy fire chiefs, reporting on the recall, shall arrange to place a reserve car in service. The recalled deputy fire chief of Division 1 shall be located in the quarters of Engine Company 22. The recalled deputy fire chief of Division 2 shall be located in the quarters of Ladder Company 4. The response assignment of both recalled deputy fire chiefs shall be controlled by the Fire Alarm office. The Maintenance Division shall furnish a car for this purpose. In the event that the deputy fire chief on duty is engaged at a fire or other emergency, the recalled deputy fire chief shall assume his duties at the assigned division headquarters. The recalled deputy and district fire chiefs shall notify the Fire Alarm office when ready for service.

11. All ladder companies shall carry a minimum of 300 feet of 2½-inch hose and 300 feet of 1½-inch hose with the necessary allied equipment, nozzles, hydrant wrenches, etc. Ladder companies without sufficient hose shall procure the necessary hose from the nearest engine company after the emergency signal is struck.

12. When Special Signal 10-26 is struck, the two-unit engine company shall divide into single units and notify the Fire Alarm office when ready to operate. Single units having a spare pump stored in quarters will place it in service as a separate unit. When a multiple alarm is struck during such a period, covering and response to the fire shall be made by both units of the two-unit engine company. Single units shall respond with the regular assigned apparatus only, unless otherwise ordered. The response of the second unit of each company will be governed by the Fire Alarm office on still alarms and first alarms during this period.

13. District fire chiefs reporting on the recall shall arrange with the Maintenance Division to place a reserve car in service and shall locate, as assigned, in the following districts, and the response assignment shall be controlled by the Fire Alarm office:

District 1, Ladder Company 2's quarters.

District 2, Engine Company 32's quarters.

District 3, Engine Company 8's quarters.

District 4, Engine Company 33's quarters.

District 5, Engine Company 12's quarters.

District 6, Engine Company 43's quarters.

District 7, Engine Company 24's quarters.

District 8, Engine Company 18's quarters.

District 9, Engine Company 42's quarters.

District 10, Engine Company 48's quarters.

District 11, Engine Company 41's quarters.

In the event that the district fire chief on duty is engaged at a fire or other emergency, the recalled district fire chief shall assume his duties at the assigned district headquarters.

14. The deputy fire chiefs and district fire chiefs on duty at the time that the recall is struck shall remain in command of their respective divisions and districts during the period of the emergency until relieved from duty by the chief or acting chief of department. Permanent officers shall take precedence over officers acting in the grade. See Rule 169 of the Department Rules and Regulations.

15. All members of the department are required to memorize the special signals. Company officers, deputy fire chiefs, district fire chiefs shall question members at various times to make certain this is being done. A list of the special signals shall be posted at the patrol desk.

16. It is expected that when members are off duty, they will be on the alert for any unusual conditions that might require their services, before being called, and that they will respond with the spirit that has been traditional in the Boston Fire Department. In connection with the recall system, the following special signals have been established.

Special Signals on All Tappers.
(May be followed by Radio broadcast from Fire Alarm office.)

10-21, members will remain on or return to duty in accordance with the group numbers which follow this signal.

10-25, release recall; emergency over.

10-26, divide two-unit engine companies into single units.

10-27, normal operation of engine companies.

II. RULES APPLICABLE TO ANY EMERGENCY CONDITIONS.

In the event of a large fire, or two or more large fires, or emergencies which would tax the capacity of the department, the following plan of organization is made to place the department on an efficient operating basis during this period:

1. When a multiple alarm is struck, the deputy fire chief of the Fire Fighting Division not engaged at this alarm shall respond to any subsequent multiple alarms in the entire city, excluding the original multiple alarm.

2. The Fire Alarm office shall notify the deputy fire chief not engaged at an alarm or other emergency whenever there is a serious fire (single alarm) in any part of the city. He shall use his discretion, from the information received, whether he shall respond to this alarm or not.

3. Upon the arrival of the deputy fire chief at the second fire, and after he has made a survey of conditions, he shall inform the chief of department, via the radio, of the prevailing conditions and what action is being taken to reduce or eliminate the hazard. He shall retain command until relieved by a superior officer or by direction of the chief of department.

4. When a fifth alarm is struck in any part of the city, the reduced assignment Signal 10-41 shall also be struck. The rules governing reduced assignments as outlined in the assignment box cards will be in effect.

5. The district fire chiefs will ascertain that all companies have reported at their assigned destinations. They shall detail members of the department to the mutual aid companies, where necessary. At least one member shall be assigned as a guide.

6. This particular section shall apply directly to the uniform members of the Fire Prevention Division:

"If at 8 A.M., on any workday (Monday through Friday) an exceptionally severe storm condition exists, or an abnormal situation has developed in Boston that affects the Fire Department; such as a state of emergency, military rule exists, etc., all such personnel of the Fire Prevention Division (except the assistant chief in charge) shall report to the Headquarters of the district fire chief nearest their homes for assignment as to duty."

Duties at such locations shall terminate for these members at 5 P.M. unless otherwise ordered by the chief of department.

May 3.

General Order No. 22.

I. RETIREMENT.

The following retirement, in accordance with section 6, chapter 32 of the General Laws, as amended, which became effective at 8 A.M., January 20, 1960, is hereby announced:

Fire Fighter (Master) John M. Griffin, Engine Company 47.

Fire Fighter Griffin was appointed to the department February 3, 1947, and he leaves the department with the best wishes of his associates.

II. SPECIAL SIGNALS.

The following special signals are hereby established in this department. They replace Civil Defense Air Raid Warnings rescinded in General Order No. 20, April 27, 1960.

(10)-45, Civil Defense warning-Yellow (Advance Warning).

(10)-46, Civil Defense warning-Red (Attack Imminent).

(10)-47, Civil Defense All Clear-White. Upon receipt of Special Signals (10)-45 and/or (10)-46, a command post will be established at Fire Headquarters from which the necessary orders will be issued.

III. CHANGE IN DESIGNATION OF FIRE ALARM BOXES.

Due to the change in name of Asylum street to Mullins Way, and Troy street to Traveler street, the designation of fire alarm Boxes 1624, 1627, 1626 and 1629 will be changed to read as follows:

1624, Harrison avenue, opposite Mullins Way.

1627, Washington street and Mullins Way.

1626, Albany and Traveler streets.

1629, Harrison avenue and Traveler street.

Company commanders will make the above changes in designation for these fire alarm boxes on assignment cards.

IV. ESTABLISHMENT AND CHANGE IN NAME OF STREETS.

Notice has been received from the Public Improvement Commission regarding the following streets established and change in name of streets:

Traveler street, City Proper (formerly Troy street), from Albany street to Washington street.

Mullins Way, City Proper (formerly Asylum street), from Washington street to Harrison avenue.

Wilna court, West Roxbury (formerly Appleton court), from Willis street approximately 193 feet southwesterly.

Glenellen road, West Roxbury (formerly Riverview street), from Fairlane road to Stimson street.

Kingsland road, West Roxbury (formerly Harwood street), from Veterans of Foreign Wars Parkway to Lasell street.

MacNeil Way, Dorchester (formerly Swan's court), from Olney street approximately 220 feet southeasterly.

Carmela Lane, Dorchester (formerly Helen F. Burgess Footway), from Burt street to Bailey street.

Patterson street, Dorchester (formerly Murray terrace), from Brookvale street approximately 220 feet southeasterly.

Newhill place, South Boston (formerly Hill place), from East Third street approximately 150 feet southeasterly.

Sierra road, Hyde Park (formerly Westville road), from Neponset Valley Parkway approximately 200 feet north-easterly.

Braeburn road, Hyde Park (formerly Beaver street), from Beaver street approximately 140 feet beyond Chestnut street.

Oakcrest road, Hyde Park (formerly Woodland road), from River street to Ralston road.

Von Hillern street, Dorchester, from Dorchester avenue to Mt. Vernon street, located adjacent to northeasterly line of the General Casimir Pulaski Skyway.

Maffa Way, Charlestown, between Gardner street and Cambridge street (southerly road).

Enterprise street, Dorchester (formerly part of Willow court) from Boston street to approximately 90 feet south-east of Field's court.

V. CONGRATULATIONS.

During the recent visit of the Bloodmobile to Fire Headquarters 199 department members donated blood. We have been cited by the Boston Chapter of the American Red Cross as this was a record number of blood donors for our department. Congratulations to Senior Fire Alarm Operator John P. Lane, 21 Ardent street, Roslindale, and to Fire Fighter John F. Doyle, 1226 Columbia road, South Boston, co-chairman of the Blood Bank Committee, for an excellent job.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

April 29.

General Order No. 705.

Sergt. George A. Bausch and Patrolmen Robert L. Cunningham and Robert L. Chenette of Division 4 are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

At about 4.45 A.M., on Sunday, April 17, 1960, Sergeant Bausch, patrol supervisor, with Patrolmen Cunningham and Chenette while cruising in Columbus avenue near Northampton street, observed two men, one of whom was carrying a large black satchel. When the officers stopped to question these individuals, they started to run. The officers leaped from the cruising car, pursued the two men and were forced to tackle and wrestle them to the sidewalk in front of 599 Columbus avenue.

These subjects, who later proved to be one John Tyrrell, 28 years, single, of 53 Belvidere street, Boston, and Holland Shultz, 24 years, of the same address, refused to answer any questions. Upon searching the bag which was in their possession, 10 cloth moneybags containing a total of $126.45 in U.S. currency and checks, papers and bills in the name of the Independent Linen Service, 716 Columbus avenue, Boston, amounting to $60.81 were found. The bag also contained a large electric drill and an assortment of burglarious tools, including sections of rope and slip nooses and adhesive tape, used to overpower and secure any victims. These subjects were taken into custody charged with suspicion of breaking and entering a building in the nighttime and larceny.

Division 10 was immediately notified of the above facts and on investigation by officers of that division, it was learned that some unknown person or persons had gained entrance to the Independent Linen Service sometime earlier that morning and a black steel "Morris Island" safe, 26 inches x 28 inches had been ripped open and the above-described property stolen, which was identified by Mr. Richard Linn, general manager of the Independent Linen Service.

On April 20, 1960, John Tyrrell and Holland Shultz were arraigned in Roxbury District Court before Judge Thomas Spring and charged with the following offenses: breaking and entering a building in the nighttime; larceny; possession of burglarious tools and violation of Chapter 265, section 21, to wit: Breaking and destroying a safe. After hearing the evidence in this case, these subjects were held for the grand jury in $25,000 bail each.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the keen observation and devotion to duty displayed by the arresting officers in this case who by their alertness apprehended two robbers both of whom have records of breaking and entering and larceny, thereby preventing, for the time being, a continuance of crime in this city.

April 29.

General Order No. 706.

The Boston Retirement Board having approved the same, the following-named police officers are retired from active duty under the provisions of the State-Boston Retirement System, effective at the close of business Saturday, April 30, 1960:

Patrolman John A. Leach, Division 17.
 Patrolman Frank E. McKelligan, Traffic Division.

HOYT ST. CONSTRUCTION

Dorchester

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the laying out and construction of Hoyt street, Dorchester district, from Dorchester avenue approximately 330 feet easterly.

The project is described as follows: The highway named Hoyt street is hereby laid out, from Dorchester avenue approximately 330 feet easterly, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for street purposes is hereby taken in the following-described land, exclusive of trees, shrubs, or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Herbert Rosen and Irving Karp, bounded:

Parking Meter Parts

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Traffic Commission has submitted an estimate of their requirements for parking meter repair parts and also the necessary materials required for the operation of the parking meters. These estimates are for the period from April 15, 1960 through March 31, 1961, inclusive.

Authority is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for prices and award contracts, without public advertisement, to the first and second companies listed below and award orders to the third company at the amounts indicated:

Apahouser Corporation of New England, 1312 Boylston street, Boston, total amount of contract not to exceed $5,500, net; John E. Doran, doing business as Mi-Co Meters Eastern Sales Company, 211 State street, Bridgeport, Connecticut, total amount of contract not to exceed $3,500, net, prices are f.o.b. Covington, Kentucky; M. H. Rhodes, Inc., 30 Bartholomew avenue, Hartford, Connecticut, total amount of award not to exceed $1,500, net.

Apahouser Corporation of New England has submitted much lower prices for some materials as compared to those of the manufacturer. John E. Doran, doing business as Mi-Co Meters Eastern Sales Company, is the exclusive distributor in New England for the Michaels Art Bronze Company, Inc., who is the manufacturer of some of the materials requested. M. H. Rhodes, Inc., is also a manufacturer. In view of these facts, it is my opinion that the best interests of the city will be served by making the above awards.

Respectfully yours,

MICHAEL A. DESIMONE,
Purchasing Agent.

HEALTH DEPARTMENT.

Laundry Service

DEAR SIR:

For your Honor's additional information and approval, it is proposed that the contract authorized for award to the Federal National Linen Service, without advertising, by your Honor on April 20, 1960, be executed in an amount not to exceed $8,935.68 for the contract period April 1, 1960, to March 31, 1961.

The above amount represents the cost for laundry service to be rendered at the unit prices which will be specified on the contract.

Respectfully submitted,

JOHN H. CAULEY, M.D.,
Health Commissioner.

DOWNTOWN INDUSTRY

Establishment of an industrial park in Denver's lower downtown area is being studied to tie in with the $50 million downtown renewal plan which calls for new feeder highways, construction of apartment buildings and an over-all revitalization of the district.

MAYOR HOLDS FAST ON SCHOOL BUDGET CUTS

Mayor Collins, on May 9, submitted to the City Council an order calling for an appropriation of $9,619,027.04 to be applied to that portion of the School Department budget for 1960 which provides revenue for general school purposes.

This sum represents the difference between $32,925,671, which is the total general school purposes appropriation as approved by the School Committee and the Mayor, and the sum of $22,642,671.96, which is the statutory limit for such appropriations by the School Committee alone.

With respect to the statutory budget limit, the School Committee, on May 9, followed the budget cut of the Mayor by a unanimous vote to introduce and support legislation to raise the general school purposes budget ceiling to $34 million.

In his deliberations on the budget, Mayor Collins cut $230,000 from the amount allocated to general school purposes so he could compensate for the refusal of the School Committee to reduce the alterations and repair portion of the budget from $1,505,000 to $1,275,000 as the Mayor had requested.

In support of his action the Mayor issued the following statement, as "an open letter to the citizens of Boston":

¶ It is possible that our public educational system may undergo some undesirable and unnecessary curtailments this year.

¶ These curtailments are undesirable because it is my strong belief that the education of our children must command the highest priority.

¶ These curtailments are unnecessary because they are not part of my economy program for the School Department.

¶ My recommendations call for a cut of $230,000 in the sum which the Boston School Committee wishes to spend for alterations and repairs to school buildings and grounds.

¶ The figures are these: the committee wishes to expend $1,505,000 for such alterations and repairs while I propose that the figure be limited to $1,275,000.

¶ The Board of School Buildings Commissioners, which has the responsibility of inspecting and safeguarding school property, has unanimously gone on record as favoring my recommendation. To a man, the commissioners agree that the reduction which I have proposed is both right and proper.

¶ However, the School Committee has refused to heed our recommendations. They have gone ahead and allocated the higher amount for such construction projects, leaving me no choice but to apply the cut to the general school purposes budget.

¶ The course which the School Committee has chosen is not part of "operation revival".

¶ Our economy program is aimed only at preventing the city from falling into a commission form of government. Such a commission would exercise ruthless cutbacks and curtailments that would make our present austerity budget appear bloated with extravagance.

¶ Our economies are not aimed at abolishing kindergartens, adult education classes, and other such basic ingredients of a sound educational system. Indeed, I have never at any time suggested to the School Committee the consideration of such steps.

¶ For the School Committee now to put unnecessary repairs to school property before the education of our children and adults is completely alien to our plans for a better Boston.

Following is the communication sent by the Mayor to the City Council, on May 9, with respect to the school budget:

GENTLEMEN:

¶ Under the appropriation limit provided by law, the School Committee has appropriated for general school purposes the sum of $22,642,671.96. In addition, the committee has requested that additional appropriations totaling $10,282,999.04 be provided for general school purposes under the provisions of chapter 224 of the Acts of 1936.

¶ After a review of the above request I am of the opinion that additional appropriations totaling $9,619,027.04, or a reduction of $663,972 in the original request of the committee, will suffice for the current year's needs of the School Department.

¶ I submit herewith an order providing for the additional appropriations and respectfully recommend its adoption by your Honorable Body.

Redevelopment Authority Advises Mayor on Castle Square Plans

In response to Mayor Collins' request for information on the proposed Castle Square development in the South End, the following letter was sent, on May 5, to the Mayor by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Francis J. Lally, vice chairman of the Boston Redevelopment Authority:

DEAR MAYOR COLLINS:

¶ Thank you for your letter of May 4, 1960, to Chairman Joseph W. Lund regarding the proposed Castle Square Redevelopment project. Mr. Lund is out of the city on business and is not expected to return until late next week.

¶ There is enclosed herewith a preliminary draft of the redevelopment plan for the area, drawn by Advance Planning Associates. This plan is presently under study by the Authority's staff and probably will be modified in some respects prior to being adopted.

¶ The Cerel-Druker Redevelopment Corporation was designated by the Authority as the redeveloper of the project area for many reasons. The principals of the firm have had many years of experience in the field of real estate development, with outstanding success. They are local men, well known in the field, with vision and initiative. The success which they have achieved in the development of the New York Streets project is indicative of their caliber. In December of 1957, they acquired title to the balance of 600,000 square feet of land in Project U. R. Mass. 2-1. To date, in less than two and one half years, they have negotiated for new construction on three of the six parcels, and have a firm commitment on a fourth. There remain but two parcels of land, containing less than 100,000 square feet, available for disposition. The contract with the redeveloper allowed seven years for construction to be put in place. It now appears that all construction will have been completed within five years. This project is one of the most successful of its type in the entire Title I program.

¶ On November 25, 1959, the Authority authorized a contract for an appraisal of re-use values for the Castle Square area. The appraiser has compiled most of the elements of the report but cannot submit a final estimate of recovery values until the redevelopment plan has been completed. The values to be imputed to the land will be predicated upon the land use, restrictions, and controls to be imposed.

¶ At this time, there is no proposed disposition document for this project. All contracts for the sale of project land are subject to review and the concurrence of the Housing and Home Finance Agency prior to execution.

¶ As part of an over-all program, the Authority is desirous of doing everything possible to have this project underway as soon as possible. Your cooperation in handling this matter expeditiously will be appreciated.

Cordially,

(Rt. Rev. Msgr.) FRANCIS J. LALLY,
Vice Chairman.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO "MARCH OF DIMES" INCREASE THIS YEAR

City employees increased their contributions to the "March of Dimes" by 7 per cent this year over last year.

This year's total of $7,287 represents an increase of $920 over 1959's figure.

Leading the list of contributors was the Police Department with a donation of $2,801. In second place was the Hospital Department whose employees contributed $512.

Third biggest contribution was a check for $500 from the Mayor's Charity Fund.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

May 9.

General Order No. 707.

Detective First Grade Edward J. Walsh and Patrolman Gerald R. Bulman, Special Service Squad of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty, and each is granted three days additional vacation.

About 1 A.M., Friday, April 22, 1960, Detective Walsh and Patrolman Bulman arrested without a warrant on suspicion of violation of the narcotic drugs law, at Washington and Roxbury streets, one Edmund L. Brooks, 36 years, single, of 45-47 East 131st street, New York City. The officers had observed Brooks getting into a taxi at the corner of Washington street and Broadway with a young woman known to them as a drug addict, and followed the taxi until it discharged the passengers.

Edmund L. Brooks, with aliases, was brought to Headquarters, questioned and searched. The search revealed that he had in his possession a key to a locker, the location of which he refused to disclose. The officers then went to the bus terminals, railroad depots, and subway stations and finally located the locker at the Dudley Street MTA Station, Roxbury. A search of the locker revealed a brown paper bag containing the following:

Twenty-four large cellophane bags containing heroin.

One small cellophane bag containing heroin.

Six benzadrine tablets.

Thirty-three empty small cellophane bags.

Seventy empty large cellophane bags.

One knife.

Two spools scotch tape.

The above heroin, when cut and sold to addicts, would be valued at $5,000.

On being confronted with this evidence, Brooks refused to disclose how he obtained the heroin. However, after diligent interrogation by the officers, he stated that he was both an addict and a pusher of narcotic drugs and that on or about April 18, 1960, in New York City, he had obtained information that a Felix Rosa, living at 129 East 117th street, apartment No. 24, had a supply of narcotics in his home. Brooks then broke and entered the home of Felix Rosa and obtained the drugs, left New York City and came to Boston to peddle them.

This information was relayed by teletype to the New York City police and as a result they arrested in that city on April 22, 1960, Felix Rosa, on a charge of burglary based on evidence obtained during investigation, and one Ramon Marengelles, a parolee, for violation of parole, pending investigation. Further questioning of Brooks on April 27, 1960, in Charles Street Jail resulted in the securing of detailed information concerning six narcotics peddlers in New York City and this was forwarded to the police of that city.

Edmund L. Brooks was arraigned in the Roxbury District Court on two charges of violation of the narcotic drug law: unlawful possession with intent to sell a narcotic drug (heroin) and unlawful possession of a narcotic drug (heroin). Before Judge Tracey, Brooks pleaded guilty and was held in $20,000 bail for the grand jury.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the excellent police work of Detective Walsh and Patrolman Bulman in the above case. As a result of careful observation, they succeeded in effecting the arrest of the subject Brooks, a dangerous criminal whose record extends over a period of twenty-five years and who has served time not only in connection with narcotics but on convictions for larceny and sex offenses. In addition, this prisoner during continued questioning by our officers revealed detailed information of great value to the New York City police with respect to the identity of criminals living within their jurisdiction.

May 10.

General Order No. 708.

Lieutenant Francis A. Campbell and Detectives James E. Dwyer and Martin F. Carter, Robbery Squad of the Superintendent's Office, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

On Friday, April 8, 1960, at about 12:05 P.M., a teletype and radio alarm was sounded for a holdup at the Hillside Co-operative Bank at Winthrop street and Boston avenue, West Medford. The alarm was received by all the members of the Robbery Squad and immediate steps were taken to assist the Medford police, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and any other police agencies in the apprehension of the perpetrators of this crime.

It was learned that Joseph Brazil, of 136 Walford Way, Charlestown, and one Francis Lucas, of 319 E street, South Boston, had been apprehended near the scene of the crime with the latter, Lucas, having been shot by a Medford police officer.

These two men, Brazil and Lucas, were under investigation by the Robbery Squad for an armed robbery at the Suffolk Franklin Savings Bank, 66 Charles street, Boston, which occurred on March 7, 1960. Upon their arrest in Medford, an immediate search was made on Friday and Saturday, April 8 and 9, 1960, respectively, for close associates with the following persons being arrested:

1. Francis A. Ferrandini, 33 years, 25 Rockland street, Canton.

2. James F. Mahoney, 32 years, 655 Washington street, Brookline.

3. James P. Gilboy, 32 years, 333 Tremont street, Boston.

4. Christopher Zullo, 25 years, 50 Maverick street, Chelsea.

5. George Fiore, 25 years, 931 Broadway, Revere.

6. Edward M. Sullivan, 19 years, 1 Minton street, Jamaica Plain.

7. John Karem, 27 years, 864 Huntington avenue, Boston.

8. William J. Brady, 23 years, 51 Hancock street, Malden.

9. Frances King, 31 years, 11 School street, Chelsea.

10. Americo Sacremone, 23 years, 30 Carlson street, Everett.

All of the above, with the exception of John Karem, were turned over to the Medford Police Department at midnight on April 8, 1960, with officers of the Robbery Squad working with that department until noon of Saturday, April 9.

The above-named William J. Brady, who is believed to be the most dangerous and cunning of the entire group, was found by Lieutenant Campbell and Detectives Dwyer and Carter, accompanied by Sergeant Creedon of the Chelsea Police Department, hiding in an airshaft in a toilet room in the apartment of Frances King, a divorcee, at 11 School street, Chelsea, who disclaimed all knowledge of his presence in order to aid him in avoiding arrest.

During the month of February, 1960, the department collected $1,294.84, which represents refunds by former beneficiaries of veterans' benefits who were found to have drawn aid under circumstances which warranted its return to the City of Boston.

With the arrest of John Karem, held by the Robbery Squad, the aforementioned officers found that on March 7, 1960, in the afternoon, and shortly after the bank robbery at the Suffolk Franklin Savings Bank located at Charles street, Boston, that William Brady, Americo Sacremone, and one Salvatore Caruano, of East Boston, went to the home of John Karem at 864 Huntington avenue, Boston, and forced their way into a bedroom where they emptied a beautician's bag filled with U. S. currency on a bed. Karem was ejected from the room while they counted the money in four equal portions for Brady, Sacremone, Caruano, with the fourth share going to Joseph Brazil. Karem further stated that Brazil was not with the other three at his house as he left the group at the scene of the robbery at Suffolk Franklin Savings Bank. Karem received $50 from Brady for the use of his house to split the money.

Edward M. Sullivan was present while Brady, Sacremone, and Caruano were in the house. Both Sullivan and Karem were held as material witnesses to testify before the Suffolk grand jury when the case is presented against Brady, Sacremone, Caruano, and Joseph Brazil as principals in this robbery.

It was further learned that on March 14, 1960, William Brady, carrying a gun, with John Lucas, also having a gun in his possession, John Karem and George Fiore made three "dry runs" on the Five Cents Savings Bank at 441 Brookline avenue, Boston, with intent to rob. Karem stated that on the final run, he and George Fiore lost their courage and that was the reason the robbery on this bank was not committed.

On March 21, 1960, Brady and Sacremone returned to Karem's house and accused him of talking too much to his wife about the holdup on March 7 at the Suffolk Franklin Savings Bank. Brady struck Karem on the head with a gun while Sacremone punched him in the mouth, which resulted in Karem being treated at the Peter Bent Brigham Hospital.

On April 11, 1960, John Karem and George Fiore were arraigned in Roxbury Municipal Court charged with conspiring with each other to rob the Five Cents Savings Bank at 441 Brookline avenue, Boston. At the same time, warrants were secured for William Brady and Francis Lucas charging them with the same crime of conspiracy, but owing to the fact they were in custody in Medford, it was not possible to have them arraigned. However, on Wednesday, May 4, 1960, indictments will be sought before the Suffolk grand jury charging the principals with armed robbery of the Suffolk Franklin Savings Bank, and Kareem and Fiore with conspiracy to rob the Five Cents Savings Bank on Brookline avenue.

As the result of the intelligent investigation carried on by Lieutenant Francis A. Campbell and Detectives James E. Dwyer and Martin F. Carter, William Brady has been held for the Middlesex County grand jury for the armed robbery of the Hillside Co-operative Bank of Medford. Americo Sacremon and William Brady are being held for the same grand jury on the Richards Drive-In Theater robbery on Memorial Drive, Cambridge. John Kareem and Edward M. Sullivan have been held as material witnesses in the Suffolk Franklin Savings Bank robbery committed on March 7, 1960.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the outstanding police work performed by Lieutenant Francis A. Campbell and Detectives James E. Dwyer and Martin F. Carter in the arrest of this band of criminals.

Through the perseverance and thorough investigation made by these officers, they not only cleared a bank robbery in this city, but assisted neighboring police departments by naming felons who were wanted in connection with robberies within their jurisdictions.

The exemplary work in this case is another instance of the laudable manner in which the members of the Robbery Squad are performing their duties under the direction of Capt. James V. Crowley.

May 10.

General Order No. 709.

Patrolmen Frederick L. Devin and William F. Brennan of Division 11 are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 4:19 A.M., on Monday, May 2, 1960, Box 1862, located at Dorchester and Savin Hill avenues, Dorchester, was sounded for an alarm of fire by William Bowe, of 1161 Dorchester avenue. A second and third alarm was then sounded from this box for a fire in a duplex three-story wooden dwelling at 1159-1161 Dorchester avenue which spread to another three-story wooden dwelling at 1163 Dorchester avenue. Fire Engine 17 and Ladder 7, Lieut. George Lee in charge, and the 1100 wagon, with Patrolmen Frederick L. Devin and William F. Brennan, arrived at the scene at the same time.

Patrolmen Devin and Brennan with Lieutenant George Lee and Hoseman John Foley of Engine 17 ran to the burning building and had to force the outside door of the building to gain entrance. They broke the door of Suite 1 but were prevented from entering because of the intense heat and thick smoke. They ran to the second floor and led the family of William Bowe, his wife and three children, to safety. They then raced to the third floor where they found Mr. and Mrs. James Gross and their three children whom they brought to the street.

The occupant of the first floor, Mrs. Mary Mosher, 49 years, had gone up the back stairs of the building to arouse the occupants of the second and third floors, but on her return down the stairs she only reached the second floor landing when she perished. Her son, John F. Mosher, 17 years, had succumbed in their first-floor apartment. Their bodies were removed to the Boston City Hospital.

Patrolmen Devin and Brennan then went to the building at 1159 Dorchester avenue and after breaking down the outside door, removed to safety the families living on the first, second, and third floors. With Patrolman William Bohmbach, route officer, they entered the building at 1157 Dorchester avenue and led the occupant of Suite 2, a woman of 73 years, to the street. A search of that building was then made to make certain that there were no persons in the other two apartments which were found to be vacant.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the courage exemplified by these two patrolmen who, without a thought for their own lives, assisted many persons from these burning buildings thereby preventing an additional loss of life in this serious fire.

May 10.

General Order No. 710.

Detectives Edward J. Walsh, Thomas E. Connolly, and Daniel E. Donahue, Special Service Squad of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police service, and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 1:40 a.m., Saturday, April 16, 1960, Charles J. Murray, a cab driver for the Checker Cab Company, was held up and robbed at Main and Auburn streets, Charlestown. He stated that he had picked up a fare at Boylston and Washington streets, Boston, who directed him to drive to Russell street, Charlestown, and on arrival there to proceed to Auburn street. When at Auburn and Main streets, Charlestown, the fare pressed a hard object against the back of the driver's neck and said: "Keep looking straight ahead and you won't get hurt. This is a holdup. Give me all the money in your pocket. You won't lose anything; it's the company's money." The fare then took $16 in U. S. currency from Murray and fled the scene on foot into an alley.

Detectives Walsh, Connolly, and Donahue responded to the holdup alarm and on investigation in the area found in the alley a gray soft felt hat, size 7½, which was brought to Headquarters and held for evidence.

On receiving from the victim a description of the holdup man, the officers recalled that while observing in the Golden Nugget Cafe, Essex and Washington streets, they had seen a man answering that description. They conducted an investigation on the premises, questioning several patrons, and learned that the suspect was in the habit of drinking in this cafe every Saturday night. Continuing their investigation, and giving particular surveillance to this location, the detectives on the night of Saturday, April 23, 1960, saw this man enter the cafe and immediately placed him under arrest on suspicion of armed robbery of the cab driver Murray.

The prisoner, one Theodore Maggelet, 26 years, single, 403 Main street, Charlestown, admitted to ownership of the hat being held for evidence. At Headquarters, the cab driver positively identified him as the holdup man.

On April 25, 1960, Theodore Maggelet was arraigned in the Charlestown District Court before Judge Gilmore, who found probable cause and held him in $10,000 bail for the grand jury.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the efficient police work of Detectives Walsh, Connolly, and Donahue who spent off-duty hours in their investigation of this case, resulting in the apprehension of this criminal.

WELFARE OVERSEERS RE-ELECT OFFICERS

At the annual meeting of the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare held on Monday, May 2, 1960, the following were unanimously re-elected to serve as officers of the Board for the ensuing year:

Chairman, James S. Maloof.

Vice-Chairman, Thomas F. Brady.

Treasurer, James F. Bowers.

Secretary, William F. Lally.

BOSTON HAS TWO NEW FIREBOATS

Boston has added two fire launches to its water front fire-fighting fleet. Their length is 16.5 feet, beam 6.5 feet, with a 22-inch draft, with full complement aboard.

A centrifugal fire pump provides water to a bow-mounted deck gun, discharging 100 gallons per minute at 80 pounds pressure and supplies two 1½-inch lines of 100 gallons per minute each. The launches are used for patrol and observation and to assist the large fireboats in emergencies.

KATE SMITH TO BE PRINCIPAL ATTRACTION AT MAYOR'S CHARITY FIELD DAY

After her telecast over the Columbia network Monday, June 13, Kate Smith will head for Boston to be the principal attraction at the Mayor's Charity Field Day to be held at Fenway Park on June 14, Flag Day. This is the first time the charity function has been scheduled for Flag Day and appropriate ceremonies will be conducted in observance of the day.

In the event of bad weather, the Field Day will be held the following night.

Gerard Hayes, general chairman for the Field Day, announced that three automobiles, one speedboat, and a 10-day trip to Hawaii for two are among the prizes.

Other entertainers include the Four Aces, the June Taylor Dancers, Della Reese, Jackie Miles, and the Show-Toppers from the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

Organized Labor to Help

Trade union leaders representing all major segments of organized labor in Greater Boston have formed a special committee to boost the Field Day scheduled for June 14 at Fenway Park.

Represented on the committee are the water front, railroad, teamsters, building trades, governmental employees, and the Greater Boston Labor Council. John T. Sheridan, Secretary of the Boston Council, State, County, and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, is general chairman.

"We will put up placards on docks, truck terminals, and everywhere that we can in order to get across to our members the true message of the Field Day," says Mr. Sheridan. "Its purpose is to help our fellow men—and organized labor will do all it can to insure its success."

Strasbourg, France, Invited To Be Hub's Cultural Sister City

Mayor Collins has sent a letter to Mayor Pierre Pflimlin, of Strasbourg, France, inviting that French municipality to become Boston's sister city in the People-to-People Program.

In his letter of invitation, Mayor Collins stated as follows:

DEAR MAYOR PFLIMLIN:

Greetings and best wishes from myself and the people of Boston to you and the citizens of your renowned city.

We would like Strasbourg to become our sister city and join with us in a program designed to increase understanding and good will between our two communities.

Already there exist many ties and similarities between our two cities to provide a strong foundation of friendship. One native of Strasbourg, Charles Munch, has become the conductor of our Symphony Orchestra. Another Strasbourg native son, Albert Schweitzer, has many loyal admirers in Boston, myself among them.

Our cities have many features in common.

Both Boston and Strasbourg have long been known as cultural centers in their respective countries; both are port cities, and both have populations with roughly the same religious complexion.

I also note with interest that while Boston has a high proportion of Irish-Americans, Strasbourg is described as having been originally a Gaelic Settlement.

Most important of all are the ties which unite us as citizens of two free nations which have long emphasized the ideals of understanding and brotherhood.

I hope that Strasbourg will accept our invitation to become Boston's sister city so that we can join in a full range of activities designed to foster such understanding and such brotherhood.

Sincerely,

JOHN F. COLLINS,
Mayor of Boston.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

May 10.

*General Order No. 24.I. FIRE CAPTAIN WALTER W. FLEMING.

It is with deep regret that the Fire Commissioner announces the death, on May 3, 1960, of Fire Captain Walter W. Fleming, of Ladder Company 8. Fire Captain Fleming was appointed to the Fire Department on September 14, 1925.

The funeral was held from the F. J. Higgins Funeral Home, 4236 Washington street, Roslindale, at 10.45 A.M., Saturday, May 7, 1960, followed by a Solemn Requiem Mass at the Holy Name Church, Centre street, West Roxbury, at 11.45 A.M.

The chief of department made the customary detail to act as funeral escort, and members of Ladder Company 8 were excused from duty in order to attend the services.

II. CHANGES IN ASSIGNMENTS.

The following changes in personnel assignments which will become effective at 8 A.M., Wednesday, May 11, 1960, are hereby announced:

Fire Fighter-Arson Inspector Richard W. Kennedy, Fire Prevention Division, to fire fighter.

Fire Fighter-Engineer, Motor Squad, Francis A. Kane, Maintenance Division, to fire fighter.

III. TRANSFERS.

The following transfers will become effective at 8 A.M., Wednesday, May 11, 1960:

Fire Fighter Francis A. Kane, from Maintenance Division to Ladder Company 3.

Fire Fighter Richard W. Kennedy, from Fire Prevention Division to High Pressure.

Fire Fighter John F. O'Brien, from Ladder Company 14 to Engine Squad 11.

Fire Fighter Robert C. Merritt, from Ladder Company 8 to Ladder Company 22.

IV. CHANGE IN RULES AND REGULATIONS.

The following change in rules and regulations, Boston Fire Department, will become effective at 8 A.M., Wednesday, May 11, 1960:

Rule 31 shall be changed to read as follows:

"Rule 31. Deputy Fire Chiefs, while on duty, shall be held strictly accountable for maintenance of discipline and efficiency of the fire fighting force of their divisions. The Deputy Fire Chief going off duty shall impart to Deputy Fire Chief coming on duty, in writing, all information concerning any important event occurring during his tour of duty. All records and papers relating to their command shall be accessible at all times for the use of each Deputy Fire Chief of the division."

V. FIRE ALARM BOX DISCONTINUED.

The following fire alarm box has been removed from service and discontinued permanently:

12-7161, Hersey Manufacturing Company, West Second and E streets.

Company commanders will delete the above box from assignment card and from circuit card No. 32.

Mayor Names Three New Members to the Planning Board

Mayor Collins, on May 9, appointed three new members to the unpaid nine-member city Planning Board to replace those whose terms expired May 1. The appointees are:

Carroll P. Sheehan, industrial realtor, 37 Wendell park, Milton. He is associated with the R. M. Bradley Company, and was instrumental in reviving the old Pequot Mill property in Salem. He replaces General Timothy J. Regan, Jr., the board chairman. (At a meeting held in the afternoon by the full membership of the Planning Board, Mr. Sheehan was elected chairman.)

Constantine J. D'Amato, of 101 Grosvenor road, Needham, a Boston engineer. His record includes service with several New York state public agencies. He replaces Edward G. Keane.

W. Chester Brown, of 379 Atlantic avenue, Cohasset, head of a Boston architectural and engineering firm. He designed the nuclear engineering center at the Lowell Technological Institute, and replaces board member H. Daland Chandler.

Mayor Collins six weeks ago named to the board James J. Kelley of Wellesley. He is in the insurance business and filled the unexpired term of the late Joseph A. Mitchell, vice-chairman of the board.

Other members are Frederick A. Davis, Margaret Divver, Carl Dreyfus, Harry J. Keefe, and Robert A. MacLellan.

PARIS PAVILION GIFT

A half-million dollars has been given New York City to build a sidewalk cafe in Central Park. The benefactor, Huntington Hartford, wants the city to have a popular-priced restaurant in a setting like those in the Champs-Elysees in Paris.

Following is the accompanying order:

¶ Ordered, That the respective sums of money specified in the schedule hereinafter set out be, and hereby are, appropriated for school purposes in addition to appropriations previously voted by the School Committee, said sums to be raised by taxation on the polls and estates of the City of Boston, and that all orders heretofore or hereafter passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes, and the interest thereon, apply to the appropriations and taxes herein provided for $9,619,027.04.

TRAFFIC RULINGS*Temporary*

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following ruling:

Whereas, If during the demolition of the building at number 165 Roxbury street, Roxbury, vehicles were to be allowed in Gay street, Roxbury, conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such demolition would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such demolition; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such demolition or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following street:

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Woodworking Machinery

Furnishing, delivering, and installing wood-working machinery, testing equipment, shop equipment, and drafting furniture in the New Technical High School, awarded to Gould Industrial Supply Company, the only bidder on Items, 2, 3, 6, 8, 9, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 20, 22, 23, 24, 26, and 27, in the amount of $8,950.

Furnishing, delivering, and installing wood-working machinery, testing equipment, shop equipment, and drafting furniture in the New Technical High School, awarded to American Electric Furnace, Inc., the only bidder on Item 21, in the amount of $2,622.

Furnishing, delivering, and installing wood-working machinery, testing equipment, shop equipment, and drafting furniture in the New Technical High School, awarded to H. G. Graf Company, the only bidder on Items 7 and 10, in the amount of $2,403.86.

Sealing Masonry Walls

Sealing exterior masonry walls at the Boston Clerical School, awarded to New England Construction Company, Inc., in the amount of $3,100.

The other bids were:

F. DiCenzo & Sons, Inc., $5,600; South Shore Waterproofing Company, $17,444.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT.

Chain Link Fences

Furnishing and erecting chain link fences at McConnell park, Dorchester, awarded to P. J. Dinn & Co., Inc., in the amount of $1,965.06.

The lowest legal bidder was a Rhode Inc., submitted an incomplete bid, which was, in the opinion of the Law Department representative, unresponsive and therefore was rejected. The amount was $1,829.40.

The lowest legal bidder was a Rhode Island corporation, General Fence Company, in the amount of $1,948, with no local office. The insignificant difference between this company's bid and the second legal bidder, a local firm that has done satisfactory work for this department for many years, resulted in award of the contract to this firm. The trivial difference in price was more than offset by having the work done by a local firm whose past performance in similar work was very satisfactory, rather than by an unknown company from other states.

The other bids were:

Boston Chain Link Fence Company, $2,096.40; Ace Fence Company, $2,128.10; New England Chain Link Fence Company, $2,138.80; Anchor Post Products, Inc., $2,308.40.

CONTRACTS AWARDED
WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor approved the award of contracts, without advertising, based on the following communications:

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

Bookmobile Maintenance and Operation

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On April 5, 1960, your Honor approved the written request of the Trustees of the Public Library, dated March 16, 1960, to award to Whipple & Co., Inc., 115 Chauncy street, Boston, Mass., the sole bidder in the public bidding, the contract for the provision of drivers and for the maintenance and garaging of three bookmobiles for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961.

In the letter it was stated that the cost of the service to be rendered for the period of the contract would be approximately $41,000. This cost was based on the operation of the bookmobiles on a five-day-a-week basis and was so specified in the original proposal. In re-examining public services in light of budgetary allowance for 1960 it has become necessary to reduce Bookmobile Service from five to four days with the result that the cost of this service will not exceed $35,000.

In view of the foregoing, and since it is believed that no useful purpose will be served in readvertising publicly for new bids, the trustees wish to amend their original letter of March 16, 1960. They now request permission of your Honor to dispense with public advertising and to reaward the contract to Whipple & Co., Inc., this time at cost not to exceed $35,000, leaving all other provisions identical with those set forth in their original letter of March 16, 1960.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY
OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,
MILTON E. LORD, Director.

Preparation of Reports

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of a service agreement, without public advertising, with the Service Bureau Corporation, 50 Franklin street, Boston, for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961, for the preparation of classified reports from punched record cards furnished by the Library in connection with the expenditures for books and other library material. During the period of the agreement the cost of the service will be approximately $2,300.

It is believed that no useful purpose would be served by obtaining competitive bids. Not only would a disruption of the record-keeping system of the Library's Book Purchasing Department result from the transfer of the work to another concern, but an investigation of the rates charged by other companies rendering similar services indicated that no saving would result from such transfer. The trustees have therefore "Voted, That there be entered into with the Service Bureau Corporation, 50 Franklin street, Boston, a service agreement for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961, for the preparation of classified reports from punched record cards in connection with the expenditures for books and other library material, the total fee thus charged to be subject to terms, agreements, and conditions set forth in said agreement."

Inasmuch as the total cost for this service will exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), there is respectfully requested permission of your Honor to enter into this agreement without publicly advertising for bids.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY
OF THE CITY OF BOSTON,
MILTON E. LORD, Director.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Engineering Study

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

I respectfully request your approval to dispense with advertising and award a contract, without advertising to Kerr Atkinson, engineer, Statler Building, Boston, Mass., to make a study and furnish eight (8) copies of a report on the disposal of surplus steam produced at the incinerator and related matters in accordance with the proposal submitted by the engineer on March 8, 1960, at a cost not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000).

This study and report is necessary in order to determine the value of the surplus steam produced by this department's incinerator and the standby benefits that would accrue to the Edison Company if the steam production capacity of the City Hospital power plant and the incinerator were made available by the city.

In my opinion, Kerr Atkinson, engineer, whose qualifications are outlined in the attached brochure, is competent and has a staff adequate to perform the required services. As these services are of a professional nature there is no advantage to be gained by publicly advertising for the same.

Respectfully submitted,

JAMES W. HALEY,
Commissioner of Public Works.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT.

Collecting Division.

Office Machines

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Permission is respectfully requested to dispense with the usual form of advertising and to award a contract for maintenance of two sorters, one interpreter, two tabulating machines, and four punch machines to Remington Rand, Inc., 857 Commonwealth avenue, Boston, at an annual cost of $3,233.20, from April 1, 1960, to March 31, 1961, inclusive.

There is no competition in the awarding of this contract as Remington Rand, Inc., is the only company with available facilities to properly service their machines.

Respectfully yours,

JAMES E. GILDEA,
Collector-Treasurer.

CLAIMS APPROVED

The Mayor, on recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following votes of the City Council Committee on Claims:

Congress Realty Trust, J. Frank Halloran, Trustee, 295 Congress street, Boston, for damage to property caused by the breaking of a water main at the junction of Dorchester avenue and Congress street, Boston, by payment of $241.61.

FAIR DEAL ON MTA DEFICIT LOST BY 12 VOTES

By a margin of 12 votes in the Massachusetts House of Representatives, on May 17, an all-out effort of "Operation Revival" to peg a reduction of $1.80 in the Boston tax rate fell by the wayside, for 1960 at least.

Mayor John F. Collins personally led the intensive drive to bring about favorable action on the measure. He contacted former colleagues in the Legislature by the score and, with the roll call list in front of him, worked at his office far into the night talking with legislators on the telephone. Many of the members of the House from the Boston wards, also, lent earnest support to the measure doing all they could to line up votes.

Defeated in the House, after all this intense effort, was Senate Bill No. 87 which would apportion the Metropolitan Transit Authority deficit according to the current population of the 14 cities and towns in the M.T.A. system. The deficit is now apportioned according to a formula based on a 1947 traffic count. Standing to benefit by the measure were Boston, which now pays 64.36 per cent of the deficit, and Cambridge, which pays 9 per cent. Boston, under the new formula, would pay 50 per cent of the deficit, and the other 13 communities, with the exception of Cambridge, would have to pay more than their present share. The legislators representing those municipalities were lined up solidly against the measure. The current M.T.A. deficit is $18,421,076.

City Auditor Joseph P. Lally said passage of the bill would have meant a $2.7 million deficit relief for Boston, or $1.80 on the present tax rate of $101.20.

On the day following defeat of the measure, reconsideration was moved, and, on the evening prior to the reconsideration vote, Mayor Collins again got on the telephone with urgent personal appeals to those legislators who might be regarded as "on the fence." Reconsideration was defeated, however, the next day by a margin of seven votes — 105 to 98, by roll call.

Greatly disappointed the Mayor issued the following statement:

¶ I would like to express my appreciation to all those legislators who voted to apportion the M.T.A. deficit on the basis of population. Their action was courageous and constructive.

¶ I deplore the fact that we did not win this vital measure. It would have been of immense benefit to the whole Commonwealth, as concrete evidence of cooperation of all levels of government in remedying unfair treatment afforded the City of Boston.

The Mayor added, however, that legislation prescribing a change in formula for the M.T.A. deficit has never before come so close to passage in the House. "We will just keep trying," he said.

The Boston legislators, in their efforts to line up votes for the measure, were in strong competition with members from the 12 cities and towns which would be required to increase their payments toward the M.T.A. deficit. Party lines meant nothing in this endeavor.

With respect to current operational problems of the M.T.A., Mayor Collins has urged the Board of Trustees to take early action on the appointment of a general manager.

The Mayor said he is going to do some campaigning outside the city to acquaint people with Boston problems as they affect other communities of the Commonwealth. He is arranging meetings with legislators, business and civic leaders to afford him an opportunity to "tell the Boston story" on an informal basis. The first of such meetings is scheduled Sunday, May 22, at the home of a prominent Boston attorney who lives in Beverly. Some 200 people have been invited, including several North Shore legislators.

CONSIDER THREE HUGE APARTMENT BUILDINGS IN MATTAPAN

The Boston Redevelopment Authority, on May 13, issued the following:

¶ Members of the Boston Redevelopment Authority announced that they have under consideration a proposal for a $10 million high-rise apartment house development in Mattapan.

¶ The suggested development would consist of three 14-story apartment buildings, each containing approximately 200 apartments. ¶ The development would be constructed in a 20-acre area which is now assessed for $69,000, of which property assessed for $41,000 is owned by the city.

¶ At the present time the city is realizing about $2,800 a year in taxes from the area.

¶ Under the limited dividend plan which has been proposed for the development, the city would receive 18 per cent of the gross rents. This would amount to between $180,000 and $196,000 per year, according to estimates.

¶ It is estimated that the cost of the acquiring of the 20 acres, demolishing existing buildings, making site improvements and other incidental expenses, would be about $302,000.

¶ That would mean the city would get back its investment in less than two years after the three apartment buildings were erected.

¶ The developers propose to erect the three buildings simultaneously.

¶ Before the plans for the development could be carried forward beyond their present stage it would be necessary that existing zoning restrictions be waived to allow the erection of 14-story apartment buildings in this section of Mattapan.

¶ The Redevelopment Authority has requested that the City Planning Board consider the advisability of such a step.

¶ An engineering survey made by the proposed developers has shown that because of the geological make-up of the area it would not be feasible to develop the area with row houses.

¶ The expense of blasting out rock formation and of filling in a swamp in the area would make the cost of such housing prohibitive, the Redevelopment Authority was told.

¶ Only by erecting apartment buildings to a height of 14 stories would the development in this section be economically practicable, according to the surveys made by the firm which has submitted the proposal to the Redevelopment Authority.

¶ Some rock would have to be blasted to make way for the three apartment houses.

¶ The developers probably would convert the swamp into a lagoon for landscape purposes.

¶ Apartments in the development would be in the middle-income brackets.

¶ Rents would range roughly from $100 to $180 per month, with some rents slightly under $100 per month.

¶ The number of apartments of each size and the approximate rents which would be charged for them would be as follows:

- 42 2-room apartments, $100 per month.
- 42 2½-room apartments, $110 per month.
- 42 3-room apartments, $120 per month.
- 84 3½-room apartments, $135 per month.

252 4-room apartments (1 or 2 bedrooms), $160 per month.

168 5-room apartments (2 or 3 bedrooms), $180 per month.

¶ The exact amount of rents would depend on locations.

¶ The plan actually calls for the construction of 210 apartments in each building, but about 10 apartments in each building would be used for service purposes.

¶ All apartments would be air conditioned. Janitor service would be provided.

¶ The proposed developers concluded after a study that a good rental market exists for apartments where rents would not exceed $40 per month per room. They further found they could remain within that rental limit only by erecting apartment buildings to a height of 14 stories.

¶ The apartment buildings would be of reinforced concrete construction with a red brick facing. Two elevators would be installed in each building.

¶ They would be in the area bounded by Cummins Highway, Itasca street, and Livermore street. The apartment buildings would be about 250 feet back from Cummins Highway and about 200 feet in from Itasca street.

¶ The development would be to the rear of the lot lines of the existing homes on Itasca street and to the rear of the lot lines of a majority of the houses on Cummins Highway.

¶ Under the plan being considered by the Redevelopment Authority only 12 structures would have to be demolished to make way for the development.

¶ The developers hope to start construction by late summer if the necessary arrangements can be completed by then.

¶ Plans call for 100 per cent parking within the area. A garage would be attached to each apartment building for those desiring indoor parking.

BOSTON RANKS SEVENTH AMONG FIFTEEN METROPOLITAN CENTERS CONTAINING ABOUT ONE THIRD OF THE NATION'S POPULATION

(The following is an Associated Press article, by Sam Dawson, published in the Boston newspapers of May 17.)

The growth of the nation's largest metropolitan areas is picking up speed. Today nearly one third of the entire population is within the boundaries of the 15 largest of these centers.

Together they chalked up a gain during the 1950's of around nine million residents. The biggest growth was in the second half of the decade.

And often the growing pains have been severe. The most obvious are traffic jams and commuter problems; mounting community debts as the metropolitan areas strive to supply new schools, new streets, water mains and sewers, new hospitals, courts and jails.

There are such unpleasant sidelines as increasing racial tensions in some areas, the clogging of trade in some downtown sections and the struggles of nearby suburbs to keep from bursting at the seams or from losing their old-time identity as different income groups move in.

The figures for the metropolitan population explosion are reported today by the National Industrial Conference Board—stealing a march on the 1960 census whose conclusions may be some time away.

All Areas Report Gains

The Conference Board leans on the Bureau of the Census for 1950 population figures, and compares them with 1958 estimates by various official state agencies.

All top 15 areas report gains during the period, and the board finds only a few changes in the roster and the numerical ranking of the top 15.

In the first four years of the 1950's the 15 centers added a little more than 4,000,000 persons to their tallies. In the next four years the growth was nearly 4,500,000.

The board doesn't project since 1958, but all visual evidence points to a continuing growth in most areas with the total for the decade probably around nine million.

Boston's Growth Smallest

Here are the eight-year figures—on the say-so of the Conference Board:

The smallest growth in the eight-year period was in the Boston area, which added 75,000 persons and slid from sixth place in 1950 to seventh, changing places with the San Francisco-Oakland metropolitan area.

The greatest increase was in the Los Angeles-Long Beach area which boomed by 2,000,000 new residents. It held its place as third in size in the nation.

The others in the first five also maintained their ranking. First is the New York-Northeastern New Jersey metropolitan area with more than 14,000,000 residents, up since 1950 by 1,300,000.

The second largest, Chicago, increased by 975,000 to reach 6,500,000, a scant 84,000 more than the fast-growing southern California center.

Houston Hits Top 15

Philadelphia held fourth place with a little more than 4,000,000, and Detroit was fifth with 3,750,000.

There was one newcomer in 1958 to the top 15—the Houston metropolitan area. It had been 18th in 1950, but added 388,000 residents in the eight years to replace Cincinnati at 15th.

Pittsburgh and St. Louis held their positions as eighth and ninth, respectively. Washington, D. C., and Cleveland changed rankings, the Capitol going to 10th place and the Ohio city to 11th. Baltimore remained 12th. Buffalo moved up to 13th from 14th, changing places with the Minneapolis-St. Paul area.

But more important than the rankings is the total growth of the urban population with all its increasing problems.

Apartment Buildings . . .

¶ The proposal has been submitted to the Redevelopment Authority by Valmont Homes of New York. The principals in the company making the proposal are engaged in building projects on Long Island, New York. One of the principals is engaged in erecting high-rise apartment buildings in several sections of the United States.

¶ As soon as the first three apartment buildings are erected and their apartments rented, the developers would proceed with the erection of additional apartment buildings in the area which covers a total of 40 acres.

¶ Members of the Boston Redevelopment Authority considering the proposal are Joseph W. Lund, chairman; the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Francis J. Lally, vice-chairman; James G. Colbert, treasurer; Stephen E. McCloskey and Melvin J. Massucco.

¶ The members of the Redevelopment Authority have been endeavoring for almost a year to work out a feasible development plan for this project area which has been undeveloped because of the poor topographical conditions.

City Phone Directory To Be Revised

Director of Administrative Services John P. McMorro, on May 16, sent the following communication to all department heads:

¶ It has been brought to my attention that the City Hall telephone directory is now obsolete. I have instructed Mr. William P. McNeill, of my office, to prepare a new directory immediately.

¶ In order to facilitate the printing of this new directory, I would like you to request a responsible person in your department to prepare a list of all of your personnel located in City Hall and the extension number of the telephone nearest to them. I would also like you to include the numbers of all units of your department that are located outside of City Hall but have direct lines from our switchboard. When this list is compiled it should be forwarded as soon as possible to Mr. McNeill of this office.

¶ I would like to emphasize that the expeditious handling of this matter by your department is very important.

WELFARE DEPARTMENT REPORT FOR APRIL FEATURES DROP IN OLD AGE EXPENDITURES

Following is a summary, financial and statistical, of the Welfare Department for April:

During April, 1960, the departmental expenditures amounted to $3,018,696, a decrease of $27,608 compared to the previous month. The average monthly cost per case was $114.96 of which the direct payment was $75.45 and the vendor payment $39.51. There were 849 applications approved and 936 cases closed, a decrease of 87 cases. The departmental caseload as of the end of the month was 25,682.

Old Age Assistance: This program continued its downward trend. With 156 applications approved and 269 cases closed, a net decrease of 113 cases occurred. Medical costs increased by $57,857. However, grants to the clients decreased by $13,644. The total cost for the month was $1,711,434 distributed among 16,105 cases.

Aid to Dependent Children: Although there was a slight increase in the caseload, expenditures decreased by $17,147 due primarily to lower medical payments. Although there were only 4,813 cases aided during the month, 16,173 persons were involved, which exceeds the 16,105 individuals receiving Old Age Assistance.

Disability Assistance: Medical costs for this category amounted to $200,867 representing 48.4 per cent of the total. The balance, $214,068, was paid in the form of direct grants to 3,337 recipients. There were 208 applications processed during the month. Of these 130 were approved and 78 were rejected. Almost 50 per cent of the rejected applications did not qualify medically for aid in this category.

General Relief: There was a slight rise in the caseload for this type of aid. The turnover showed 447 cases approved and 420 cases closed. During the month there were 1,995 cases aided representing 7.6 per cent of the departmental caseload. The cost amounted to $143,500 or 4.8 per cent of the total departmental expenditures.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

May 11.

General Order No. 711.

Patrolmen Thomas B. Moran and George D. Peters of Division 4 are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

At about 1.30 A.M., April 30, 1960, Patrolmen Moran and Peters assigned to the 4-A sector car while cruising in Warren avenue and when at No. 129 observed what they believed to be a scuffle in an alley. They stopped the car, entered the alley and as they approached they saw one man, later identified as Joseph Pauley, 58 years, of 110 St. Botolph street, Boston, lying on his back with one man holding him and another man beating and kicking him.

The officers investigated at the scene and Joseph Pauley stated to the officers that he was on his way home walking in Dartmouth street when at Warren avenue he was approached by these two men who put their arms around him and told him they would take him home. Pauley ignored these men and continued to walk in Dartmouth street. When they reached the alley that extends onto Warren avenue, they dragged him in and started to beat and kick him and go through his pockets.

Arrested at the scene by Patrolmen Moran and Peters were Carl Smith, 27 years, married, of 153 West Brookline street, Boston, and William Smith, 19 years, single, of the same address, these two men being brothers, as suspicious persons, to wit: unarmed robbery on Joseph Pauley. Carl and William Smith were identified at the station by Pauley as the two who dragged him into the alley, beat him and went through his pockets.

Carl Smith and William Smith were arraigned in Central Court later that morning, April 30, on warrants for assault with intent to commit robbery and assault and battery. On the count of assault to commit robbery, Judge Riley found no probable cause. On the assault and battery charge, Carl Smith and William Smith were each found guilty and were sentenced to two and one-half years in the House of Correction. They both appealed the sentence.

Investigation revealed that Carl Smith, the elder, does not have a previous record. However, William Smith was arrested for assault and battery by means of a dangerous weapon on May 2, 1959, by the Special Service Squad, said charge being reduced in Central Court to assault and battery. On this charge he was found guilty and sentenced to six months in the House of Correction.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the keen observation and devotion to duty displayed by Patrolmen Thomas B. Moran and George D. Peters in this case which resulted in the arrest of two brothers who, apparently, had been working as a team in assaulting and robbing men on their way home from their employment in the early morning hours.

officers in plain clothes were assigned to these locations in an effort to apprehend this criminal who, they were convinced, was well experienced in criminal activities and had learned to escape detection.

Patrolmen John V. Dow and James E. Kelly took on the task of examining all photographs and records of criminals recently discharged from prison and on parole. Finally, after many hours of work beyond their regular tour of duty, they came across the photograph of a man, one Tavis Davis, 29 years, born on November 17, 1931, with a long record for robbery, larceny, burglary, and an assault and battery upon a police officer, who was then on parole from State Prison. This photograph was identified by one of the victims and Patrolmen Dow and Kelly were assured that Davis was the man they wanted for these handbag larcenies. Because of this criminal's method of operation, they realized he would be difficult to apprehend, but they continued in their search for him without success until December 24, 1959, when they read a newspaper item giving the name of Davis as having been arrested by the Newton police for robbery unarmed.

Patrolmen Dow and Kelly, who were on a day of relief, immediately contacted their commanding officer and received permission to go to Newton to question this subject. At Newton Police Headquarters and Middlesex County Jail they interrogated Davis until sufficient evidence was obtained to enable them to secure complaints against him.

On April 8, 1960, on a writ of habeas corpus, Tavis Davis was brought into Roxbury Court from Middlesex County Jail and arraigned before Judge Taylor on six complaints of larceny from the person and one complaint of attempted larceny from the person. After a hearing, probable cause was found and Davis was held for the grand jury.

On May 4, 1960, the grand jury returned true bills on these counts as listed below and Tavis Davis is now awaiting trial in Superior Court.

1. October 29, 1959, 26 Waverly street, attempted purse snatch.

2. November 21, 1959, Langford park, purse snatch.

3. November 23, 1959, Walnut avenue and Walnut park, purse snatch.

4. November 26, 1959, 32 Dennison street, purse snatch.

5. November 28, 1959, 15 Maple street, purse snatch.

6. December 5, 1959, 34 Fountain street, purse snatch.

7. December 8, 1959, Walnut avenue and Westminster street, purse snatch.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the outstanding police work, devotion to duty and the many hours given on their own time by Patrolmen John V. Dow and James E. Kelly in this case which resulted in removal of a dangerous and terrorizing character from being at large thereby relieving the anxiety of the women residing in those sections of Roxbury who had been afraid to leave their homes after dark had set in for fear of being another of this criminal's victims.

May 17.

General Order No. 715.

Patrolmen Bernard F. O'Mara and Warren S. DeLaria, detailed to the Special Service Squad, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 1.30 A.M. on Thursday, April 21, 1960, Patrolmen O'Mara and DeLaria while cruising in the vicinity of Massachusetts avenue and Parmelee street, observed two men, one lying on the ground and the other standing over him. When approached by the officers, the latter started to run but was chased by the officers who finally apprehended him on Willard place, Roxbury. He was taken back to the point where the two men were first observed, but the second man was no longer there and could not be located. The prisoner, denying that he had been involved in any trouble, was taken to Headquarters, where he was identified as Theodore Fonseca, 24 years, of 123 Marcella street, Roxbury, and was booked for being abroad in the nighttime.

Further investigation was made by Patrolmen O'Mara and DeLaria and in Willard place, where Fonseca had been apprehended, they found a brown leather wallet containing the name of Earl G. Fay, 666 Tremont street, Boston. A check of that address was made, but Fay had left there early in January, 1960, leaving no forwarding address.

Subsequently Fonseca was released, but the officers continued their investigation and late on the night of April 21 located the said Earl G. Fay, 48 years, single, at his latest address, 671 Massachusetts avenue. Upon being questioned, Fay stated that at about 1.30 that morning he was stopped on Massachusetts avenue, at the corner of Parmelee street, by a man who asked him for a cigarette. When he stated he did not have any, the man struck him repeatedly with his fist, knocking him to the ground, then ripped the rear left-hand pocket from his gray chino pants and took the brown leather wallet. Upon being shown the wallet found in Willard place, the victim identified it as his.

The officers then made numerous visits to 123 Marcella street, Roxbury, in their search for Fonseca but were unable to find him at home. Learning his place of employment on Commercial street, Boston, they went there on the morning of April 22, 1960, but were told by his employer that Fonseca had not shown up for work. On Saturday, April 23, 1960, they returned to Commercial street, found Fonseca there and arrested him on suspicion of unarmed robbery in the above case.

On Monday, April 25, 1960, Fonseca was arraigned in Boston Municipal Court before Judge Glynn, who held him for the grand jury in $10,000 bail.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the diligence displayed by Patrolmen O'Mara and DeLaria in their investigation of the above case, resulting in identifying the victim and accomplishing the rearrest of the criminal involved.

TRAFFIC RULINGS

Temporary

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following rulings:

Whereas, If during the period of the American Legion Spectacular "Operation Awake" at the Commonwealth Armory, vehicles were to be allowed in Gaffney street, Boston Proper, conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, the functions in connection with such spectacular would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such spectacular is to be held May 20, 21, and 22, 1960; and

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following street:

Gaffney Street, Boston Proper.

From Commonwealth avenue to the Boston & Albany Railroad.

Whereas, If during the construction of a manhole in the Metropolitan District Commission sewer in University road, Boston Proper, two-way traffic were to be allowed in said University road conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence May 11, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, the following street is one way in the direction indicated:

University Road, Boston Proper.

From Commonwealth avenue to Soldiers Field road.

Whereas, If during the reconstruction of Cleveland Circle parking of vehicles were to be allowed in Beacon street, Brighton, conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such reconstruction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Public safety and convenience require that remedial measures be invoked as of May 10, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held prior to May 10, 1960, now therefore . . . I promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such reconstruction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, parking of vehicles is prohibited in the following street:

Beacon Street, Brighton.

REPAIR FUND PLEA

New York's unwillingness to spend enough for repairs is causing its $1.5 billion plant to run down, Public Works Commissioner Frederick H. Zurmuhlen charged. The policy of saving budget funds by inadequate maintenance and repair is penny-wise and pound-foolish, he added.

SOLDIERS FIELD PLACE SEWERAGE PROJECT

Brighton

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved a sewerage project for Soldiers Field place, Brighton.

The project is described as follows:

A parcel of land, owners unknown, being part of the private way known as Soldiers Field place, bounded:

Northerly by Soldiers Field Road Extension, one hundred thirty-four and 58-100 feet; easterly by the easterly line of Soldiers Field place, by three measurements, fifty-nine and 13-100 feet on a curve of forty and 00-100 feet radius, one hundred eight and 46-100 feet, and seventy-eight and 54-100 feet on a curve of fifty-four and 00-100 feet radius; northerly by the northerly line of Soldiers Field place, four hundred eighteen and 60-100 feet; easterly by the easterly line of Soldiers Field place, one hundred eighty-seven and 07-100 feet on a curve of forty-seven and 00-100 feet radius; southerly by the southerly line of Soldiers Field place, by three measurements, fifteen and 00-100 feet, thirty-three and 55-100 feet on a curve of forty and 00-100 feet radius, and three hundred forty-three and 87-100 feet, and westerly by the westerly line of Soldiers Field place, by three measurements, one hundred sixty-three and 36-100 feet on a curve of one hundred four and 00-100 feet radius, ninety-six and 01-100 feet, and sixty-six and 54-100 feet on a curve of forty and 00-100 feet radius, containing forty-two thousand five hundred thirty-seven square feet, more or less.

The sewerage works to be constructed are as follows: 826 linear feet of 12-inch and 10-inch v. c. pipe sewer at an estimated cost of $9,556, and 875 linear feet of 36-inch to 24-inch pipe surface drain and five catch basins at an estimated cost of $15,764. Total estimated cost, $25,320.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this commission estimates that the abutting parcels of land situated on both sides of said Soldiers Field place will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city, from the improvement herein ordered, said parcels in the amounts hereinafter respectively set against them, said parcels and the supposed owners thereof being shown on the aforesaid plan and on file in the office of this department.

ADDITIONS TO CONTRACTS

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

James S. Kelliher, Inc., in connection with work at the David A. Ellis School, has been directed to make changes in the piping of the heating system at an additional cost of $380.71.

James S. Kelliher, Inc., in connection with work at Dorchester High School, has been directed to make additions, including painting, tiling, and installation of grille work, at a total additional cost of $959.64.

WOODEN MAINS

Downtown Chicago recently dug up wooden water pipes estimated to be about 120 years old and found them in excellent condition.

City employees indicated that the pipes, made from white pine logs 11 inches in diameter, with a 4-inch duct through the center, still could be used for their original purpose.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR ASPHALT
SURFACING AND CONCRETE BLOCK REPLACEMENTS
AT FRANKLIN PARK, WEST ROXBURY, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, hereinafter referred to as the Commissioner, invites sealed proposals for asphalt surfacing and concrete block replacements at Franklin Park, West Roxbury, Mass.

Proposals will be received until 2 o'clock P.M., (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Tuesday, May 31, 1960, at the office of the Commissioner, first floor, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud.

Proposals shall be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained at the Engineer's office, Parks and Recreation Department, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass. Each copy of the proposal shall be properly filled out, signed and enclosed in a sealed envelope, plainly marked with the name of the bidder and the description of the work bid upon. One copy shall be filed at the office of the Commissioner, designated above, and the other copy shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of the proposals.

A bid deposit in the form of a certified check on a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $1,000, shall be submitted with the copy of the proposal filed with the Commissioner. The bid deposit shall be in a separate envelope, plainly marked. Bid bonds will not be accepted.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty days after the actual date of the opening thereof. The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed under the contract shall not be less than the rate of wages in the schedule determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth, a copy of which schedule is annexed to the form of contract referred to herein. Copies of said schedule may be obtained, without cost, upon application therefor at the Engineer's office of the Parks and Recreation Department.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Commissioner and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general contractor.

The Commissioner reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any and all bids if it be in the public interest so to do.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR ADDITIONS AND ALTERATIONS TO HEATING AND VENTILATING SYSTEMS IN VARIOUS SCHOOLS,
BOSTON, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for additions and alterations to heating and ventilating systems in various schools, Boston, Mass.

General bids will be received up until 12 o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Wednesday, June 1, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, fourth floor, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, inclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $750. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs, and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, sections 26-27D, inclusive, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any or all general bids, if it be in the public interest so to do, in accordance with section 44D of chapter 149 of the General Laws, as amended.

FIN. COM. URGES FURTHER BIDS ON BRIGHTON LAND SALE

May 20, 1960.

To the Honorable the City Council.

¶ On May 9, 1960, the Finance Commission received from your Honorable Body a communication which called attention to the Mayor's transmittal to the Council of an order to sell a parcel of land located at Commonwealth avenue and Chestnut Hill avenue in Boston, consisting of approximately 64,000 square feet, for the sum of $164,000, in accordance with the terms set forth in an agreement annexed to the order. This order was accompanied by a proposed amendment to section 18 of chapter 41 of the Revised Ordinances of 1947, which would remove the present height restriction on Commonwealth avenue.

(EDITOR'S NOTE:—Mayor Collins stated, on May 23, that the land in question has been available for sale for better than ten years and that, on two occasions, orders calling for its sale were presented to the City Council and subsequently withdrawn because negotiations fell through. The Mayor noted that he submitted this latest order, routinely, on the suggestion of the Parks and Recreation Commission. He said if any interested parties came along with a more desirable proposal, from the point of view of the city, he will be most happy to pass such an offer on to the City Council. The Mayor's communication to the City Council and the text of the proposed ordinance effecting the sale of the land in question appear in the "City Record" issue of May 14, 1960, on pages 91, 92, 93 and 94 of the proceedings of the City Council.)

¶ The Finance Commission wishes to submit the following observations which may assist you in your deliberations on this matter.

¶ There exists a signed agreement (dated April 5, 1960), between the City of Boston (through the Parks and Recreation Commission) and a developer (Theodore Shoolman & Edward Swartz). This agreement is subject, however, to certain conditions which must be complied with by the Mayor and City Council before conveyance can be made. This matter is now before the City Council.

Selection of Developer

¶ The Finance Commission is in sympathy with the objective of realizing the highest and best use of land which has become surplus and is no longer needed for municipal purposes.

¶ At the same time, the Commission is convinced of the importance of bringing the fact of availability of such land or property to the notice of as many competent developers as possible, to the end that the City may obtain the best price consistent with the best use of the land for the particular area in which it is located, and the highest tax yield to the City.

¶ This was the Finance Commission's reasoning which underlay the legislative petition filed by the Finance Commission on July 23, 1959, to provide wide advertising of the availability of surplus school property. This petition was enacted into law on August 24, 1959, and became chapter 509 of the Acts of 1959.

¶ This new law has already yielded highly satisfactory results. Recently, public advertising of the availability of surplus school property located at Gibson street and Dorchester avenue, in compliance with chapter 509 of the Acts of 1959, resulted in the receipt of twenty proposals from interested purchasers. These interested parties are then required to spell out the specific proposed use, development, cost, etc., of the site.

¶ The same principle has an application in this case of the sale of the land located at the junction of Chestnut Hill avenue and Commonwealth avenue. The availability of the property for conversion to private development should receive wide notice for the purpose of producing as many competent proposals as possible.

¶ It is not suggested that the property be disposed of at public auction to the highest bidder. As stated in the Finance Commission's report of July 17, 1959, in arguing for wide advertising of the availability of surplus school property, . . . "It does not follow that the highest bid represents the most acceptable use for the City. But it is true that the widest range of offers and the best price is not possible unless the property is advertised as widely as possible."

¶ The fact is that it has been found frequently during this period of urban redevelopment in various cities that it is preferable very often to negotiate with a selected competent developer. But it is also true that there may be more than one developer who is both competent to produce a development which represents the highest and best use of the land and is willing to pay a satisfactory price.

¶ Accordingly, the Finance Commission urges that exploration of the possibility of interesting more developers be made by advertising the availability of this property. It is standard practice in the case of federally-aided redevelopment projects to use various media of advertising to secure the widest notice of availability of property for redevelopment. Brochures and press releases are prepared, real estate brokers are contacted to that end.

Time Lag in Agreement

¶ If early conversion of the property under discussion to a tax-producing status is the primary objective, or one of the primary objectives, in this matter, the agreement drawn up between the City and the selected developer does not appear to be geared to guarantee such a result.

¶ If the provisions of the agreement were taken advantage of fully by the developer, a period as long as six years might elapse before a building became a reality on this site. In fact, this time may be further extended, in certain circumstances, if a mortgagee should exercise his rights under the default provisions of section 8 of this agreement.

¶ The possibility of such a lengthy waiting period before development is completed may be deduced from a scrutiny of various provisions of the agreement.

¶ Under Section 4—Time of Conveyance—

"The department agrees to convey by quitclaim deed and the developer agrees to accept conveyance of the subject land within thirty (30) days after the dispatch of written notice to the department by the developer of developer's desire to receive conveyance such notice be sent at any time after (1) this sale is authorized by the City Council of the City of Boston and (2) limitations imposed on the height to which structure may be erected on the subject land are imposed by Section 18, Chapter 41, Revised Ordinances of 1947, as amended, have been removed. Provided, however, in no event shall such notice be sent later than twelve (12) months after such authorization and the removal of such limitations."

¶ Implementing this provision could represent the lapse of at least a year.

¶ Section 7—Time for Completion of Improvements—

"The developer shall substantially complete improvements, having a replacement cost of not less than $1,500,000, on the subject land in conformity with the restrictions and controls set out in Section 6 of this agreement within five (5) years from the time developer becomes owner of the fee in the subject land"

¶ This provision would represent the lapse of a period of five years. In other words, up to this point a total of at least six years could elapse before substantial completion of the building in question.

¶ Moreover, section 7 is subject to the provisions of section 10 which provides for extension of time for other causes enumerated in section 10.

¶ The default provisions of section 8 provide rights to a mortgagee to complete the contract without specifying the time allowed and therefore could conceivably increase project time substantially.

¶ It would appear that a specific and shorter time limit ought to be prescribed.

Lifting Restrictions

¶ The proposed developer has succeeded in obtaining court approval of a zoning change from R-65 to R-155 in the area in which the subject land lies. This means that the height restriction becomes 155 feet instead of 65 feet.

¶ Nevertheless, it still becomes necessary to revise the present ordinance (section 18 of chapter 41 of the Revised Ordinances of 1947, as amended) in order to remove the present 70 feet restrictions on the extreme height of buildings on park frontages. Accordingly, an ordinance is proposed, and annexed to the order under discussion, which would provide that the present restriction of the height of buildings to 70 feet shall not apply to buildings which abut and have an entrance into and are within 100 feet from Commonwealth avenue.

¶ It appears that the provisions of this proposed ordinance go beyond the needs and requirements of the development of the lot in question. A reading of the proposed ordinance seems to indicate that it has an application to any park frontage on Commonwealth avenue. Furthermore, Commonwealth avenue, for this purpose, is defined in section 18 of chapter 41 of the Revised Ordinances of 1947, as amended, as "Commonwealth avenue, from Arlington street to a line drawn parallel to and 130 feet west of Charlesgate West and from a line parallel to and 135 feet south of the southerly line of Mt. Hood road, as extended across Commonwealth avenue, to the Newton line." If this interpretation is correct, the restrictions on park frontages contained in the proposed revision of said section 18 of chapter 41, as amended, are automatically removed from park frontage on Commonwealth avenue. This obviously would tend to defeat the purpose of section 18 of chapter 41 which sought to control both the use of land enjoying park frontages and the height of buildings thereon.

Respectfully submitted,

PLAN CITY AIR SPACE BAN ON AIRPLANES

Limiting of air traffic over Chicago to small craft and airplanes with vertical takeoff and landing characteristics is a possibility, the Chicago City Club's transportation committee pointed out.

City Hospital Staff Presents Program for Medical Society

Boston City Hospital played a major role in programs presented before the recent 179th meeting of the Massachusetts Medical Society at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Several of its staff members and department heads were active in panel discussions which drew big audiences and their papers and discussions were widely covered not only by the local press but by various national medical journals as well.

One of the biggest contributions to the success of the annual meeting was through the medium of color television in programs made possible by the cooperation of the Smith Kline and French Laboratories, Philadelphia; the arrangements committee of the Massachusetts Medical Society, headed by Dr. James F. Kennedy, and the Trustees of City Hospital, headed by President William H. Ellis, Jr.

TV Show

The live TV show was carried from a studio set up in the Ward F-G-H building at the hospital. This is one of the hospital's original structures, opened by the city in 1864. Over a closed TV circuit the two-day program was carried to a huge screen in the Georgian Room of the Statler Hilton where it was watched by a large audience of Massachusetts Medical Society members.

Dr. John F. Conlin, superintendent of City Hospital, opened the two-day TV program. He congratulated the Smith Kline and French Laboratories for the excellence of the production and directed attention to the fact that Boston was one of the major cities in North and South America and European countries chosen for the highly regarded TV program.

Two hour-long programs were presented on May 18. The first was devoted to the X ray, the patient and the physician. It was moderated by Dr. Max Ritvo, director of the Radiology Department at

TRAFFIC RULINGS

Temporary

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following rulings:

Whereas, If during the resetting of rails in South Huntington avenue, Roxbury, parking of vehicles were to be allowed in said South Huntington avenue conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and

Whereas, Such construction is to commence May 23, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, parking of vehicles is prohibited in the following street when and where official signs are in place:

South Huntington Avenue, Roxbury.

Both sides, from Heath street to Bynner street, 24 hours.

Whereas, If during the moving of office equipment and appliances to the Graybar Electric Building at No. 345 Harrison avenue, Boston Proper, parking of vehicles were to be allowed in William E. Mullins Way, Boston Proper, conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such moving would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such moving is to be done between the hours of 7 A.M., Friday, May 20, 1960, and 7 A.M., Monday, May 23, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such moving; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only during the period heretofore described:

For the period aforesaid, parking of vehicles is prohibited in the following street when and where official signs are in place:

William E. Mullins Way, Boston Proper.

Southwest side, from Washington street to Harrison avenue, 24 hours.

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing of Meyer court and Meyer street, West Roxbury, vehicles were to be allowed in said streets conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence May 19, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rules and regulations to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following streets when and where official signs are in place:

Meyer Court, West Roxbury.

From Meyer street to a point one hundred and thirty-five (135) feet southwesterly.

Meyer Street, West Roxbury.

From a point two hundred and ninety (290) feet southeast of Catherine street to Organ Park street.

Whereas, If during repairs to the Berkeley Street entrance tunnel to Storrow Memorial Drive, vehicles were to continue to be routed through Beacon street in a one-way direction from Arlington street to Berkeley street, and parking of vehicles were to be allowed in Beacon street, conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, both such repairs and also public travel would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such repairs are to commence May 26, 1960, at 10 A.M.; and

Whereas, a meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such repairs; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rules and regulations to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such repairs or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, the following rules are effective when and where official signs are in place:

The one-way rule in the following street is reversed and it is now one way in the direction indicated:

Beacon Street, Boston Proper.

From Berkeley street to Arlington street.

Parking of vehicles is prohibited in the following street:

Beacon Street, Boston Proper.

Both sides, from Arlington street to Berkeley street, 24 hours.

NEIGHBORHOOD PARKS FOR SOUTH BEND

South Bend, Indiana, is embarking on a plan to provide neighborhood, as well as community and metropolitan recreational areas.

The neighborhood areas should be within a radius of a half mile of each home, a city planning commission report points out.

Areas should be for active and passive recreation, landscaped attractively, well turfed, equipped with wading pools and apparatus, shelter house, fields and courts for games.

VETERANS' SERVICES DEPARTMENT.

Expenditures for veterans' benefits for March, 1960, show an increase of $57,985.25 in comparison with expenditures for the corresponding period of 1959.

The 1,742 cases aided during the month of March, 1960, represented a total of 4,169 individuals benefited through the facilities of the Veterans' Services Department.

There were 83 cases closed during the month of March, 1960, because of obtaining employment, having been awarded unemployment compensation, receiving social security and becoming ineligible to receive financial assistance for miscellaneous other reasons.

Mayor Approves
Contract For New South End School

Mayor Collins, on May 19, approved the award of a contract to James S. Kelliher, Inc., in the amount of $922,354, for the erection of a new elementary school in the Dwight District of the South End. The structure will be located on Worcester street next to the site of the old Dwight School which will be torn down to provide a play area.

The bidding was as follows:

James S. Kelliher, Inc., $923,059; Park Construction Company, Inc., $925,700; M. Solimando, Inc., $927,200; Sciaba & Company, Inc., $954,300; M. S. Kelliher Company, $976,000; Joseph Rugo, Inc., $986,318.

In connection with the award, the Mayor approved the following stipulation of Charles A. Callanan, Superintendent of Construction, School Buildings Department:

"Please be apprised that under the applicable statute . . . the above stated contract price is simultaneously, with the execution of the contract, adjusted to reflect the difference between the actual subcontract sum and the amount stated in the general contractor's bid for that subtrade for which all subbids were required by law to be rejected as incomplete.

"The subtrade involved is "Acoustical Tile" for which an addendum estimate of $17,000 was carried and for which an actual subcontract sum, submitted by Acoustical Contractors, Inc., was $16,295.

"The net result of this adjustment is to decrease the contract price by $705, so that the total adjusted contract price is $922,354.

CIVIL SERVICE EXAMS.

VIII. COMMENDATION.

Fire Fighter Edward P. Conley, 15 Metcalf street, Jamaica Plain, of Engine Company 53, is hereby commended for discovering a fire, sounding an alarm from Box 2551, and making a search of the building at 3526 Washington street, Jamaica Plain, and also working at the fire on May 20, 1960, while off duty.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

May 19.

General Order No. 716.

Patrolman Robert T. Glynn of Division 15 is hereby commended for meritorious police duty and is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 1.15 A.M., on Thursday, March 3, 1960, Patrolman Glynn while patrolling his assigned routes and when on Monument street, at the intersection of Bunker Hill street, heard several shots fired in rapid succession. On approaching the area of the Charlestown Housing Project from which the shots appeared to have come, he observed a man running down Walford Way and shouted for him to stop. This man looked over his right shoulder at the officer and kept on running, pursued by Patrolman Glynn. The subject ran into the hallway at 120 Walford Way where he was chased up three flights of stairs to a door leading to the roof which he tried to crash, but was unable to do so.

At this point, Patrolman Glynn overtook him and placing his service revolver against the back of the man's head said: "Don't move or I will shoot you." The prisoner answered, "All right!" He was then ordered to put his hands against the door. On searching him, Patrolman Glynn took from his right-hand trench coat pocket a .38 caliber Smith & Wesson revolver and after marching him down one flight of stairs, Patrolman Glynn drew another Smith & Wesson revolver from the prisoner's left-hand coat pocket.

The patrolman marched him to the street, along Walford Way to Monument street and upon searching him again, found another weapon, a high standard automatic pistol which the prisoner was concealing in his belt. He was then ordered to remove his coat and sweater and in his shirt pockets, Patrolman Glynn found about 100 rounds of ammunition for the three firearms which he had been carrying. The prisoner was taken along Monument street to the quarters of Engine 36, Boston Fire Department, where firefighters notified the station, and within a few minutes, he was removed by Patrolman Glynn, assisted by other officers, to Division 15 for questioning. He was identified as Joseph R. Brazil, 28 years, married, of 129 Walford Way, Charlestown. He would not reveal the reason for firing the shots, but on further investigation several spent bullets were found lodged in various buildings in the area.

On the morning of March 4, 1960, Brazil was arraigned in the Charlestown District Court on a number of violations of the Firearms Law and due to his lengthy criminal record, Judge James J. Mellen ordered him to be held in bail of $25,000 and continued the case to March 14, 1960, at which time it was again continued to March 30, 1960, when he was held for the grand jury. Brazil was then indicted and on April 26, 1960, at a jury-waived trial before Judge Wilfred J. Paquet, he was found guilty of carrying a firearm without a license so to do and he was sentenced to the Massachusetts Correctional Institution at Walpole for a period of two and one-half to three years, where he is now confined.

This same subject, Joseph R. Brazil, at the present time is under indictment in Middlesex County in connection with the robbery of the Hillside Bank in Medford, Mass., committed on April 8, 1960, during the period he was at large on bail.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the courage, keen observation, and devotion to duty displayed by Patrolman Robert E. Glynn in this case who, unmindful of his own personal safety, effected the arrest singlehanded of a dangerous criminal who if permitted to be at large could have caused serious injury or even death to some innocent person.

May 20.

General Order No. 718.

The following reassignment is hereby ordered to take effect on Saturday, May 21, 1960, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Patrolman Irving J. Oser, from Division 15 to Division 13.

CORMAN ROAD, PUBLIC WAY

Motivation

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the laying out and construction of Corman road, Dorchester district, as a public highway, between Cummins Highway and Hollowell street.

The project is described as follows:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Murray and Roberta Cohen, bounded:

Southeasterly by the northwesterly line of Hollowell street, thirteen and 33-100 feet; northeasterly by the southwesterly line of Corman road as it existed prior to this order, thirteen and 33-100 feet, and southwesterly by the southwesterly line of Corman road as laid out under this order, twenty and 74-100 feet on a curve of thirteen and 00-100 feet radius, containing thirty-eight square feet, more or less.

Trees, shrubs, or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforescribed land shall be removed therefrom within thirty (30) days following the city's recording of this order.

Said Corman road as hereby laid out is bounded:

Southwesterly by the northeasterly line of Cummins Highway, seventy and 00-100 feet; southeasterly by the southeasterly line of Corman road as hereby laid out, by four measurements, twenty-three and 56-100 feet on a curve of fifteen and 00-100 feet radius, seventy-three and 93-100 feet, fifty and 27-100 feet on a curve of one hundred thirty and 00-100 feet radius, and three hundred ninety-five and 04-100 feet; southwesterly by the southwesterly line of Corman road as hereby laid out, by three measurements, nineteen and 48-100 feet on a curve of thirteen and 00-100 feet radius, one hundred fifty-two and 99-100 feet, and twenty and 74-100 feet on a curve of thirteen and 00-100 feet radius; southeasterly by the northwesterly line of Hallowell street, fifty-three and 34-100 feet; northeasterly by the northeasterly line of Corman road as hereby laid out, by two measurements, one hundred seventy-eight and 67-100 feet and fifty-nine and 94-100 feet on a curve of forty and 00-100 feet radius, and northwesterly by the northwesterly line of Corman road as hereby laid out, by four measurements, four hundred seven and 13-100 feet, sixty-five and 73-100 feet on a curve of one hundred seventy and 00-100 feet radius, seventy-three and 93-100 feet, and twenty-three and 56-100 feet on a curve of fifteen and 00-100 feet radius.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this commission estimates that the abutting parcels of land situated on both sides of said Corman road will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city from the improvement herein ordered, each of said parcels in the amount hereinafter respectively set against it, said parcels and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan hereinbefore referred to and on file in the office of said department.

AMENDMENTS TO ORIGINAL AWARD OF DAMAGES

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the following:

That the amount of $150 is awarded to Thomas E. and Margaret A. Watts for all damages sustained under the order of the Public Improvement Commission and Mayor of August 6, 1958, for the laying out and construction of Jamestown terrace, Dorchester.

That the amount of $191.25 is awarded to Paul and Faye Gellar for all damages sustained under the order of the Public Improvement Commission and Mayor of August 6, 1958, for the laying out and construction of Dania street, Dorchester.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS

The Mayor has approved extension of the time limit on completion of the following contracts:

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

Contract with J. E. Morin, for roofing and sheet metal work at the W. L. Garrison School, extended from April 30, 1960, to June 30, 1960, due to inclement weather.

Contract with Massachusetts Motion Picture Service, Inc., for furnishing and installing stage curtains and window drapes at various schools, extended from March 31, 1960, to May 3, 1960, due to delay in receiving delivery of material from Ohio, caused by storm.

Contract with Hurley Brothers Construction Company for carpentry work at South Boston High School, extended from May 6 to July 1, 1960, because of delay in receiving material from manufacturer.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Contract with M. B. Foster Electric Company for providing for a.c. power supply at the Boston City Hospital, extended to July 13, 1960.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Contract with Mystic Construction Company, Inc., for sewerage works in Public Alley No. 933, Roxbury, and minor sewerage works in various streets in West Roxbury, Hyde Park, Dorchester, and East Boston, extended from May 1, 1960, to June 30, 1960, because of inclement weather.

Contract with Pacella Brothers Corporation, for construction of twin 30-inch inverted siphon across Prudential site, extended from March 13, 1960, to June 30, 1960, due to difficulty in controlling ground water.

Contract with Latin Construction Company, Inc., for sewerage works in Glenellen road, West Roxbury, extended from March 30, 1960, to May 15, 1960, due to late signing of contract and winter weather conditions.

Contract with Metcalf & Eddy, Inc., for services of engineers on construction of Dalton Street Bridge and Approaches, extended from June 30, 1960, to December 31, 1960, because progress of engineering work was unavoidably delayed pending final decisions and approval of matters relating to clearances over the Boston & Albany Railroad tracks.

Contract with William A. Fisher Company, Inc., for services of engineers for study of solid fill replacement of Summer Street Bridge over Fort Point Channel, extended from May 1 to August 31, 1960, because information relative to survey and boring data was not made available on dates originally anticipated; and results of review of basic drawings and soils report have not yet been given to contractor, making it impossible for the contractor to meet requirements of Article 13 of this contract by original date specified.

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT.

Contract with John McCourt Company for an open-air off-street parking facility, under the Fitzgerald Expressway, Causeway street to Traverse street, extended to May 15, 1960, due to inclement weather.

NEW YORK BRIDGE

New York City's new $325,000,000 Narrows Bridge, connecting the borough of Brooklyn and Staten Island, will have a minimum height of 228 feet at midspan, providing clearance for all commercial and naval shipping. Each of two decks will have six traffic lanes, with only the upper deck in use when the bridge first is placed in operation.

OHIO PLAYGROUND BOOM

A plan calling for one or more neighborhood playgrounds in each square mile of Washington township of Franklin county (Columbus) has been revealed by the township's park commission.

Also proposed are a number of larger "playfields."

William Yeck, commission chairman, said the report is now being circulated among officials and civic representatives of adjoining areas.

TIME OFF FOR FAST COLLECTORS

Winston-Salem, N. C., has instituted an incentive refuse collection plan, with each worker guaranteed a 44-hour week's pay, provided he works five days a week.

No pay is given for overtime work required to complete collections, but employees leave their jobs when the work is finished.

Collections are heavier the first part of the week than the latter, it was found. Winston-Salem has two refuse pickups every eight days. The men are averaging 36 hours a week work, with 44-hour pay. The city estimates that it will save more than $30,000 annually in reduced labor cost and lack of overtime pay. Personnel News reports.

CHECK NIGHT PARKERS

City of Milwaukee planned a crackdown on night street parkers. The city issues permits for four dollars a month, allowing a motorist, unable to find a garage or not near a municipally owned parking lot, to leave his car on the street. Night parking fees on city lots are five dollars a month, twenty-five cents a night on metered lots.

BUILDING PERMITS

The Building Department has issued the following permits for the week ending May 21.

CLAIMS APPROVED

The Mayor, on recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following votes of the Committee on Claims of the Boston City Council:

Robert J. Barron, 21 Cookson terrace, Matapan, an employee of the Fire Department, to be reimbursed as the result of an accident on March 4, 1960, on Fuller street, Dorchester, which caused damage to the automobile of Thomas J. Santry, by payment of $92.05.

Joseph X. Dorsey, 33 Horan Way, Jamaica Plain, to be reimbursed on account of his acts as an employee of the Public Works Department, Sanitary Division, on March 5, 1960, when, while driving a city-owned vehicle, he struck the car of Joseph M. Delaney on Avalon road, West Roxbury, causing damages thereto, by payment of $84.

Queen E. Ellison, 415 Columbus avenue, Boston, for personal injuries sustained by falling as the result of a defect in the sidewalk in front of 1878 Washington street, by payment of $400.

Edward H. Maloney, 26 Tolman street, Dorchester, to be reimbursed as a result of an accident, by payment of $55.

John J. Reddington, 24 Maynard street, Roslindale, for personal injuries and damage to car caused by a hole in the street, by payment of $485.

Mrs. Irene Aylward, 110 West Canton street, Boston, for injuries sustained as a result of falling on a defective section of sidewalk at 45 West Canton street, Boston, by payment of $400.

WATER RETURN

In Minneapolis, water engineer Adolph Meter urged that water being taken from deep reservoirs for the operation of air conditioners be returned to the city's lakes to restore their levels, and replenish the reservoirs through lake leakage.

TRAFFIC RULINGS*Temporary*

The Traffic Commission has voted as follows:

That the Traffic Rules and Regulations of the City of Boston are amended as follows, effective June 7, 1960:

Article VI, Section 17 (Isolated "Stop" Streets), is amended by inserting in its proper place in the alphabetical arrangement under the caption "Boston Proper" the following:

Essex Street.

At Kingston street.

Article VI, Section 17 (Isolated "Stop" Streets), is amended by inserting in its proper place in the alphabetical arrangement under the caption "Hyde Park" the following:

Hyde Park Avenue.

At River street.

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following ruling:

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing in Drury road, Hyde Park, vehicles were to be allowed in said Drury road conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence May 20, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following street when and where official signs are in place:

Drury Road, Hyde Park.

From Sunnyside avenue to the dead end.

DETROIT ENFORCES ANTI-SMOKE LAW

Detroit's anti-smoke ordinance may be enforced against ships in the Detroit River, the United States Supreme Court ruled. The decision upholds a Michigan State Supreme Court ruling that the ordinance is a reasonable exercise of police power.

To equip a ship with an underfeed stoker to cut smoke will cost $70,000, and an oil-burning unit, $100,000, shipping officials complained. Eighty ships have been cited under the Detroit ordinance since court action was begun by a cement firm following ticketing of ships in 1956.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR REPAIRS TO INCINERATOR AT THE BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL.

The City of Boston, acting by the Board of Trustees of the Hospital Department, and of the Boston City Hospital, hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed proposals for repairs to incinerator at the Boston City Hospital in accordance with the specifications.

General bids will be received until two o'clock P.M. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Wednesday, June 15, 1960, at the office of the Superintendent of the Boston City Hospital, 818 Harrison avenue, Boston, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $300. The other copy of the bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of the bids.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty days after the actual date of the opening of bids (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded).

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, sections 26-27D, inclusive, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Specifications and contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority, designated above, on and after Tuesday, May 31, 1960, upon payment of the sum of $5, not refundable.

A bond of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful bidder. The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest so to do, in accordance with section 44D of chapter 149 of the General Laws, as amended.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Proposals for Sewerage and Water Works in Soldiers Field Place, Public Works Area 2, District 4, Brighton.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, Room 511 (Contract Office), City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for sewerage and water works in Soldiers Field place, Public Works Area 2, District 4, Brighton. A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Commissioner and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful contractor. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 511 (Contract Office), City Hall Annex. The proposal should be signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Sewerage and Water Works in Soldiers Field Place, Public Works Area 2, District 4, Brighton," and left at Room 511 (Contract Office), fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 2 P.M. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time) of WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1960, with a certified check for FIFTEEN HUNDRED (1,500) DOLLARS, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then be publicly opened and read in the Hearing Room, 401 City Hall Annex.

Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. All proposals must be from bidders of record on file at Room 511, City Hall Annex. There will be a charge of two dollars ($2), NOT REFUNDABLE, for each set of contract documents taken out. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed under the contract shall not be less than the rate of wages in the schedule determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth, a copy of which schedule is annexed to the form of contract referred to herein. Copies of said schedule may be obtained, without cost, upon application therefor at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works. Before commencing performance of this contract, the Contractor shall provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under chapter 152 of the General Laws (the Workmen's Compensation Law so called) to all persons to be employed under this contract and shall continue such insurance in full force and effect during the term of this contract.

ATTENTION IS CALLED TO CHAPTER 316 OF THE ACTS OF 1959, WHICH MUST BE STRICTLY COMPLIED WITH. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained at the Engineer's office of the Parks and Recreation Department, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass. Each copy of the general bid shall be properly filled out, signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $2,000. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty days after the actual date of the opening of general bids.

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, section 26, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Plans and specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A deposit in the form of a certified check in the sum of $10, payable to the City of Boston, shall be required in order to procure a complete set of plans and specifications. This deposit shall be refunded providing that all plans and specifications are returned in satisfactory condition within thirty days after opening of general bids.

All subbids for a subtrade designated in Item 2 of the general bids form shall be filed with the Awarding Authority at the above office address before 12 o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Tuesday, June 7, 1960, at which hour and place they will be publicly opened and read. Every such subbid must be submitted in a sealed envelope with the following plainly marked on the outside: title of work; subtrade for which subbid is submitted; subbidder's name; subbidder's business address.

All such subbids must be submitted on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority, and any such subbid not filed on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority shall be rejected.

A bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the amount specified in the following for the subtrade listed below, shall be submitted by each subbidder with his subbid as filed with the Awarding Authority:

Painting$1,000

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful contractor.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest so to do. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any subbid on any subtrade if it determines that such subbid does not represent the subbid of a person competent to perform the work as specified or that only one such subbid was received and that the price is not reasonable for acceptance without competition, in accordance with section 44D, chapter 149, of the General Laws, as amended.

BOSTON'S PER CAPITA DEBT ONLY $4 ABOVE STATE AVERAGE

The $143 per capita debt of the City of Boston for each man, woman, and child is only $4 above the average for all the cities and towns of Massachusetts, notes Joseph P. Lally in a financial statement issued for the year 1959. In this respect, Boston ranks 11th highest among the 39 cities and 123d highest among all the 351 cities and towns of the state.

The ratio of net debt to valuations in Boston is 6.87 per cent and is the 8th highest of the 39 cities and 134th highest of all the 351 cities and towns. The average of all the cities and towns is 6.48 per cent.

With respect to the city's debt picture the City Auditor states, in part, as follows:

¶ During 1959, the gross funded debt was reduced by $12,090,000, and the net funded debt was reduced by $8,175,187. Debt was issued in the amount of $5,900,000, and the redemption of debt amounted to $17,990,000. All of the debt issued was general obligation debt. The redemption of general obligation debt was $12,160,000, and the redemption of sinking fund debt was $5,830,000.

¶ Of the total gross direct debt of the city, in the amount of $160,529,500, general obligation debt amounts to $107,451,000, and the total outstanding sinking fund debt is $53,078,500.

¶ Following is a tabulation of the 12 highest cities in per capita debt:

City	Per Capita Debt
Newton	$234
Holyoke	229
Peabody	206
Woburn	191
Springfield	173
Brockton	162
Waltham	161
Taunton	159
Attleboro	155

City	Per Capita Debt
Quincy	$152
BOSTON	143
Worcester	133

¶ Following is a tabulation of the 12 highest debt ratios to valuations of the 39 cities:

City	Ratio of Net Debt to Valuations Per Cent
Taunton	12.49
Holyoke	11.64
Peabody	10.75
Woburn	8.93
Brockton	8.50
Springfield	7.29
Attleboro	7.09
BOSTON	6.87
Worcester	6.85
Newton	6.74
Quincy	6.62
Chicopee	6.53

With respect to the city's cash operations during 1959, the City Auditor stated:

¶ The accounts and records for the year 1959 indicate that the operating surplus of the year was $4,162,643. This result was effected by three factors: actual receipts exceeded tax levy estimates by $1,131,000; unexpended appropriation balances amounted to $1,475,153, and the application of funding loan proceeds to provide for abatements in excess of the overlays of 1956 and prior years was in the amount of $1,556,490.

¶ The accumulated operating deficit, which was $7,041,981 on December 31, 1958, was thereby reduced to $2,879,338 as of December 31, 1959.

¶ The revenue cash balance at the end of 1959 was $18,843,760, an increase of $6,523,663 over the balance at the end of 1958, which was $12,320,097.

UNEASY PEACE IS BESET BY WAR CLOUDS, NOTES MAYOR COLLINS IN MEMORIAL DAY ADDRESS

Following are the remarks of his Honor, Mayor John F. Collins, at Memorial Day Exercises at Mount Hope Cemetery, May 30, 1960:

¶ We gather to observe Memorial Day, 1960, under darkening clouds.

¶ Recent events on the international scene have made the balance of power teeter more precariously than it has in many years. The uneasy peace which has marked the 15-year period since World War II seems just a bit more uneasy on this Memorial Day.

¶ The sounds in the air bear some resemblance to the overture that precedes a re-enactment of mankind's tragic drama of war.

¶ And as we assemble to pay homage to the dead of previous wars, the threat of a future disaster casts its shadow.

¶ And we also know that if any of these bloody dramas that brought us here today ever repeats itself, it will do so on a scale far surpassing anything yet in recorded history.

¶ There may very well be no one to stand by the graves of those who fall in World War III, for the fallen veterans of World War III would be our wives, our children, our parents, and ourselves.

¶ There can be no Memorial Day for any war beyond the last one.

¶ This grim fact should add meaning to our ceremonies today. It should deepen their significance and heighten their importance.

¶ For while it is always a terrible thing to give up one's life—it is a much more terrible thing to give up one's life in vain.

¶ Those to whom we pay homage today gave up their lives.

¶ And we here gathered must make sure that their previous gift was not given in vain.

¶ We have an obligation to these men to do everything in our power to see to it that their loved ones and descendants are not destroyed in any future holocaust.

¶ Thus, Memorial Day should also be rededication day.

¶ It should be a day not only of looking back with sorrow but also a day of looking ahead with determination.

¶ For it is a day when we try to show our war dead our fullest appreciation for their great sacrifice.

¶ And the best way we can show that appreciation is to work with ardor—with purpose—with hope—for peace.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

May 27.

General Order No. 719.

The Rules and Regulations of the Police Department are hereby amended as follows, effective 7.45 o'clock A.M., May 27, 1960:

4. A district inspector within his own district shall be responsible for the enforcement of all laws, ordinances and regulations which the police have the authority or duty to enforce.

5. Each district inspector shall daily review the reports of the several division commanders subject to his command, submitted pursuant to these regulations, and all other reports bearing upon the efficiency, conduct and discipline of the police assigned or attached to such divisions. Before such reports are transmitted to the office of the superintendent, he shall endorse thereon or attach thereto his own comments and recommendations concerning the subject matter or contents thereof. He shall submit to the superintendent for the attention of the commissioner such other written reports as he may consider necessary concerning the occurrence of crime or other events or conditions with which the police of the respective divisions have any duty or responsibility. He shall make whatever recommendations he considers necessary for the reassignment of personnel or other measures to promote the efficiency, morale and discipline of the police and the administration of the respective divisions.

6. Each district inspector shall be provided a suitable office at police headquarters and such other facilities as the commissioner may designate.

7. Subject to the approval of the commissioner, each district inspector may select from the police personnel subject to his command such officers as he may require to assist him in the discharge of his responsibility and assign such duties to them and require such reports as he may determine.

8. Each district inspector shall designate the hours of duty of officers of rank especially assigned to duty under his command as assistant inspectors and shall himself as often as practicable and at irregular intervals visit the various divisions comprising the district to observe the efficiency and discipline of the police personnel assigned thereto.

9. District inspectors and police personnel especially assigned to their offices shall for administrative purposes be attached to the office of the superintendent.

10. Unless the commissioner directs otherwise, in the event of the absence of a district inspector the senior captain assigned to duty in the district shall perform temporarily all the duties of such district inspector.

11. Nothing in this rule shall be construed to change or limit the responsibility of division commanders as otherwise provided.

RULE 15—DRILLMASTER.

On Page 21, insert as Paragraph 8 that paragraph now appearing as Paragraph 1 of Rule 16:

8. The police school shall be in charge of the drillmaster, and it will be his duty to carefully instruct such members of the force as are designated by the commissioner or superintendent on the subjects of criminal laws, city ordinances, rules and regulations of the department, deportment, discipline, evidence and its proper presentation in court cases, criminal investigation, observation, first aid to the injured, courtesy, and such other subjects as may be prescribed by the commissioner or the superintendent.

Commencing at Page 21, strike out Rule 16 and insert in place thereof the following new rule:

RULE 16—POLICE DISTRICTS.

1. Each police district shall be under the command of a district inspector as provided in Rule 9a.

2. The first district shall comprise divisions 1, 2, 3, 4, 7 and 15 as presently constituted.

3. The second district shall comprise divisions 6, 9, 10, 14 and 16 as presently constituted.

4. The third district shall comprise divisions 11, 13, 17, 18 and 19 as presently constituted.

This order will supersede General Order No. 541, dated August 25, 1959, which is rescinded.

May 27.

General Order No. 720.

The following promotions and reassignments are hereby ordered to take effect Friday, May 27, 1960, at 7:45 o'clock A.M.:

Capt. John J. Slatery, Jr., Division 7, to deputy superintendent, assigned to the Superintendent's Office, and designated as district inspector, first district.

Capt. Joseph J. Cummings, Crime Prevention Bureau, to deputy superintendent, assigned to the Superintendent's Office, and designated as district inspector, second district.

Capt. William J. Hogan, Central Complaint and Records Bureau, to deputy superintendent, assigned to the Superintendent's Office, and designated as district inspector, third district.

May 27.

General Order No. 721.

The following reassignment is hereby ordered to take effect Friday, May 27, 1960, at 7:45 o'clock A.M.:

Capt. Paul R. Dailey, from Bureau of Criminal Investigation to Division 7.

May 27.

General Order No. 722.

Sergt. John J. Moulds, Division 13, honorably discharged veteran, having arrived at the age of sixty-four years, having been in the employ of the city of Boston for thirty-one years, and having requested retirement under provisions of section 58, chapter 32, General Laws (Ter. Edit.), as amended, it is hereby Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, Sergeant John J. Moulds will be retired from active duty in the Police Department, effective Tuesday, May 31, 1960, at 5.45 o'clock P.M.

May 27.

General Order No. 723.

Patrolman Thomas M. Lambert, Division 16, is hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and is granted three days' additional vacation.

At about 4.15 P.M. on Thursday, May 19, 1960, one Elizabeth Devine, 75 years, of Newbury street, Back Bay, while in the vestibule of St. Cecilia's Church, Belvidere street, was assaulted by a man who grabbed her around the throat, threw her to the floor, then stole her handbag, and ran from the church. A priest who was hearing confessions at the time heard the screams of this woman and leaving the confessional, he pursued her assailant to the vicinity of Boylston and St. Cecilia streets, where the man disappeared.

Patrolman Thomas M. Lambert, performing traffic duty on Boylston street, was informed by the priest of what had taken place. The officer recalled observing a man answering the description given him entering the premises of a nearby cafe a few moments earlier. Patrolman Lambert searched these premises and found, hiding in a toilet in the basement, one Ernest H. Patterson, 35 years, 79 Burrell street, Roxbury, whom he arrested on suspicion of the above assault and robbery. From under a parked automobile on St. Cecilia street the officer later recovered the handbag of the victim, who identified Patterson as her assailant.

In Central Municipal Court on May 20, 1960, Patterson entered a plea of guilty on a charge of unarmed robbery of Elizabeth Devine. In addition, he pleaded guilty to unarmed robbery on March 22, 1960, of Louise Kilbride, 71 years, while in the hallway of her residence on Bolyston street. Chief Justice Adlow ordered the prisoner held in $20,000 for the grand jury.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize this work of Patrolman Lambert, who was commended by Monsignor Phalen, pastor of St. Cecilia's Church, in a personal visit to Station 16 for that purpose. The patrolman's keen observation and speed in his discovery and arrest of the subject Patterson has re-

Health Education Program

Even in public health circles, the discipline of professional health education is generally considered as a relatively new area which developed during the last two decades. Much earlier, however, the Boston Health Department recognized the need for specialization in this field and a trained, qualified health educator was appointed in 1932. One addition was made to the staff in 1941 and three more trained educators were added in 1943.

Over the years, the Boston Bureau of Health Education has been one of the largest and most active professional health education groups to be found in a local official agency. Programs have varied widely and reflect the requirements at the time. The early efforts were largely in small group instruction, exhibits, and in leaflet and poster distribution. When the staff was enlarged in the early 1940's, emphasis was placed on community organization and the formation of health councils. In 1943, the Health Education Bureau assisted the elementary parochial schools in introducing a formal course of study in health instruction. Since that time, the Health Education Bureau and these schools, which now number 58 with an enrollment of approximately 35,000, have twice revised the curriculum, have placed health instruction on an equal level with other major subjects and have a splendid, coordinated program in health, science, and safety.

With the increasing program emphasis on areas which require action by the individual, health education must assume an even greater responsibility in helping to motivate the general public to seek and accept the benefits of preventive medicine. This is not an easy or short-term project. It is, however, one for which health educators are trained and for which the techniques of professional health education are specific. Health education no longer is a newcomer to public health but is a facet able and willing to make its contribution to the total team effort.

Director, Health Education.

TRAFFIC RULING

Temporary

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following:

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing in Matchett street and Perthshire road, Brighton, vehicles were to be allowed in said streets conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence May 25, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I hereby promulgate the following rules and regulations to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following streets when and where official signs are in place:

Matchett Street, Brighton.

From Washington street to Perthshire road.

Perthshire Road, Brighton.

From Dunboy street to Matchett street.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

May 31.

General Order No. 29.

I. CHANGE IN ASSIGNMENT.

The following assignment will become effective at 8 A.M., Wednesday, June 1, 1960:

Fire Fighter Louis C. Liberatore, Maintenance Division, to fire fighter-engineer, Motor Squad.

(Home address, 247 Princeton street, East Boston.)

II. TRANSFERS.

The following transfers will become effective at 8 A.M., June 1, 1960:

Fire Fighter-Engineer, Motor Squad, Louis C. Liberatore, from Engine Squad 11 to Maintenance Division.

Fire Fighter Francis T. McManus, from Ladder 2 to Engine 40.

Fire Fighter Alexander A. Campbell, Jr., from Engine 41 to Engine 52.

Fire Fighter Paul C. Sullivan, from Engine 52 to Engine 41.

Fire Fighter Joseph C. Fitzgerald, from Ladder 26 to Ladder 31.

III. CHANGE IN DESIGNATION OF FIRE ALARM BOX.

The designation of Fire Alarm Box 2273 will be changed to read:

2273, Amory street, opposite No. 51.

Company commanders will make the above change on assignment cards for Box 2273.

IV. AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY CAMPAIGN.

Pledge cards and report envelopes in connection with the 1960 Cancer Society Campaign for Funds are being issued to the department today. The assistance of all employees is invited in aid of this worthy cause. The money obtained will be used to support research work, much of it to be performed in hospitals and clinics in Massachusetts, in order to furnish the medical profession with information necessary to combat this dread disease.

Members of the department who desire to contribute will fill out the pledge cards. Company commanders will accept donations from such members, and the stub of the pledge card is to be given to each contributor after receipt of his donation. Pledge cards and money are to be placed in the Solicitor's Report Envelope, the front of the envelope is to be filled out as directed, and the envelopes are to be forwarded to Mrs. Mary E. Hourihan in the Headquarters Division on or before June 20, 1960. Delivery of money can be made on any weekday, excluding Saturday, between the hours of 9 A.M. and 4 P.M.

N. Y. TRANSIT REVENUE CLIMBS

The New York Transit Authority reported that in the first seven months of the 1959-60 fiscal year, it carried 9,964,707 more subway and bus passengers and took in $1,118,462 more revenue than a year ago. New equipment and growing traffic congestion were viewed as forces for change.

(Editor's Note).—A total of 45 separate items were bid upon in the award of the above contracts and orders. Due to excessive space requirements in listing each item and its bidders the "City Record" refrains from publishing these details. Complete details on the bidding may be examined by anyone at the office of the "City Record," Room 35, City Hall, or at the Purchasing Bureau, Room 54, City Hall.

Furnishing Drugs

Furnishing drugs to the various city departments from May 1, 1960, to March 31, 1961, awarded as follows:

Subsequent to the public opening of bids the manufacturer of Item 15, namely, Wyeth Laboratories, Division of American Home Products Corporation, submitted a letter quoting a lower price than that submitted at the public opening. The lower price will result in a saving for the city of approximately $750 on this item. Item 8 is unavailable at the present time, therefore no award will be made. Item 18 will be awarded at a later date.

Authority was given to reject all bids received on Item 15 and award it, without further public advertisement, to Wyeth Laboratories, Division of American Home Products Corporation, at the price submitted in their letter. Authority was given to award all other items, except items 8 and 18, to the bidders as indicated on the accompanying tabulation.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Commissioner and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful contractor. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 511 (Contract Office), City Hall Annex. The proposal should be signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Sewerage Works in Public Works Department Area 2, Districts 6 and 8, West Roxbury and Hyde Park. Salman Street, West Roxbury (Crosstown Avenue to Stimson Street), and Minor Sewerage Works in Beech Street, Lodgehill Road, Danny Road, All in Hyde Park, and Macullar Road, West Roxbury," and left at Room 511 (Contract Office), fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 2 P.M. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), of WEDNESDAY, JUNE 15, 1960, with a certified check for EIGHT HUNDRED (800) DOLLARS, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then be publicly opened and read in the Hearing Room, 401 City Hall Annex.

Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. All proposals must be from bidders of record on file at Room 511, City Hall Annex. There will be a charge of two dollars ($2), NOT REFUNDABLE, for each set of contract documents taken out. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed under the contract shall not be less than the rate of wages in the schedule determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth, a copy of which schedule is annexed to the form of contract referred to herein. Copies of said schedule may be obtained, without cost, upon application therefor at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works. Before commencing performance of this contract, the Contractor shall provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under chapter 152 of the General Laws (the Workmen's Compensation Law so called) to all persons to be employed under this contract and shall continue such insurance in full force and effect during the term of this contract.

ATTENTION IS CALLED TO CHAPTER 316 OF THE ACTS OF 1959, WHICH MUST BE STRICTLY COMPLIED WITH. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR SEALING EXTERIOR MASONRY WALLS, TO MINIMIZE THEIR ABSORPTION AND INCREASE THEIR REPELLENCY OF WATER, AT THE BOSTON LATIN SCHOOL, AVENUE LOUIS PASTEUR, BOSTON, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for sealing exterior masonry walls, to minimize their absorption and increase their repelency of water, at the Boston Latin School, Avenue Louis Pasteur, Boston, Mass.

General bids will be received until 12 o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Wednesday, June 15, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, fourth floor, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, inclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $150. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs, and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, sections 26-27D, inclusive, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any or all general bids, if it be in the public interest so to do, in accordance with section 44D of chapter 149 of the General Laws, as amended.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

VOL. 52

SATURDAY, JUNE 11, 1960

No. 24

MAYOR CITES ROLE OF NEW CITIZEN RELATIONS UNIT

Mayor John F. Collins speaking recently before the annual meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association stated, in part, as follows:

There is a new agency functioning in City Hall. It is an arm of the Mayor's office created to service the citizens of Boston—to bring government closer to the people, and the people closer to government. It is officially called the Division of Citizen Relations. Elmer C. Foster is its director.

In general, this agency handles all matters involving people's relationship to city government. Specifically, it has three main assignments: To create and service citizens' councils in every major neighborhood in Boston, to reorganize and expand the services of the Complaints Division, to reorganize and expand the city's recreation program and to coordinate it with all other public and private recreation programs.

In terms of time, the most pressing problem was to reorganize the recreation program in order to provide a better and expanded summer program this year and that has been the prime focus of the department's activities.

Eight Recreation Districts

I am happy to announce that the recreation services have been completely reorganized along the lines recommended by the R. I. G. Division of the United Community Services and the Boston Municipal Research Bureau. The city has been divided into eight districts with a deputy director in charge of and responsible for each district.

An in-service training program has been instituted as a refresher course for those who have lost touch, and as a guide and inspiration for the others. At that institute, and amazingly enough, for the first time, specific obligations and duties will be spelled out.

These will include the following:

Each deputy will be responsible for the tailoring of programs in every play area under his jurisdiction to fit the special needs of the community in which the play area exists. That is to be accomplished in coordination and cooperation with local community organizations and agencies interested in and involved with recreation. Every deputy director will be responsible to see that all play areas under his jurisdiction will be manned full time. Every deputy director will be responsible for the performance of all personnel assigned to him.

Logical as those organizational structures may seem, logical as those clear-cut assignments may seem—they have previously not existed.

Eight Maintenance Districts

A parallel structure of maintenance is being created. Maintenance foremen and personnel are being assigned on the basis of the eight recreation districts, and logical as that may seem, that has never existed before.

Primary responsibility for planning recreation facilities will reside in the Deputy Director for Recreation, with the maintenance foreman to take guidance and direction from him. Previously, since both maintenance foreman and director are of equal rank, disputes as to decision, responsibilities, and authority structures frequently resulted in poorly maintained facilities. Now, responsibility has been pinpointed and along with it has gone the necessary authority.

Control of Supplies

Also falling under the Deputy Director of Recreation will be the control of play supplies—bats, balls, gloves, tennis racquets, etc. Though there is unavoidably some pilferage, and much breakage and using up of supplies, none of that could possibly account for the total write off every year of all supplies. Starting this year all equipment will be marked. Close inventory control will be instituted at central headquarters. All equipment will be signed out by the deputy directors. They in turn will sign the equipment out to the play area supervisors. Used up equipment will be returned and replaced.

Under these conditions it is most probable that more play use will be made of less supplies. It is even probable that a much greater proportion of this year's supplies will be available for next year's use than has usually been the case.

Biweekly Meetings

Deputy directors will have regular weekly meetings to exchange information and experiences—to discuss and evaluate programs and performances.

FIN. COM. SAYS PROCEDURES ON CONTRACTS WITHOUT ADVERTISING SHOULD BE TIGHTER

May 31, 1960.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

The Finance Commission feels that a directive relating to certain basic administrative laws and rules should be issued by your office at this time to the various departments of the city.

In this report the Commission cites instances which indicate a disregard for certain established rules of proper administrative procedure on the part of certain department officials.

The Finance Commission acknowledges that you are not responsible for these situations. The Commission believes, however, that an emphatic directive issued by your office could help prevent the continuation of the practices criticized.

This directive would emphasize that:

1. The purposes of mayoral approval require that such approval be sought before substantial changes in a contract are undertaken.

2. That no substantial "extras" be allowed if they can be put in a biddable contract.

CASE NO. 1

Conversion of Electric Current from D.C. to A.C. at City Hospital

A copy of a letter sent to your Honor by the Hospital Department, dated April 22, 1960, which is attached hereto,* was received at the office of the Finance Commission on May 17, 1960. This letter seeks mayoral approval to dispense with public advertising and to amend, to the extent of $33,304, a contract between the Hospital Trustees and the M. B. Foster Electric Company. The Finance Commission received a copy of this request as a matter of established procedure whereby such requests to award without advertising are transmitted to the Finance Commission for whatever comment the latter may wish to make on the merits of the request.

As in similar cases of requests to the Mayor to award without advertising, it was assumed that the start of the proposed work was contingent on the approval of the Mayor. It now develops, however, that the extra work in question was well underway when the request was made, and is, in fact, now virtually completed.

Specifically the amendment to the contract was to provide for the elimination of three existing Boston Edison supply lines by connection to new 13,800-volt network using the substations already provided in the main contract between the Hospital Trustees and the M. B. Foster Electric Company. All this is clear from the letter of request, a copy of which is appended hereto.

Background of this Matter

Acting on the recommendation of a report by Jackson & Moreland, Inc., made in 1956, it was decided to tie in the electric current of the Boston City Hospital with Edison and convert from d.c. to a.c. current. It was also decided that a logical split of the work would be a division into two phases: the first phase to get the supply ready; the second phase to complete the conversion to a.c. and the installation.

After public advertising, on August 14, 1958, a contract in the amount of $539,795 was entered into between the "City of Boston, acting by its Trustees of the Hospital Department, and of the Boston City Hospital, and the M. B. Foster Electric Company," to provide for a.c. power supply (the first phase of the project) for the Boston City Hospital.

The time of completion of this contract was eventually extended—"because of the additional time which will be necessary to carry out contemplated extra work."

The "extra work" referred to was the work represented by a sum of $33,374 and referred to in the letter of request to your Honor under discussion here.

MAYOR ISSUES STATEMENT ON SCHOOL BUDGET CUTS

Mayor Collins, on June 2, stated as follows:

¶ I wish to make it clear that recent proposals for reductions in the School Department budget have never been included, at any time, in the program submitted by me to the School Committee. I have always been, as I am now, opposed to what I consider to be undesirable and unnecessary curtailment or elimination of School Department sponsored activities. During the past five months, I have repeatedly pointed out to the School Committee and to school officials that elimination or unnecessary curtailment of evening school activities, summer school sessions, and evening center programs were never at any time under consideration by me. Even now the School Committee has an opportunity to prevent such action from taking place.

¶ I have today forwarded a letter to the Chairman and Members of the School Committee and to the Superintendent of Schools indicating my willingness to revise the orders and requests submitted by me to the City Council, should the School Committee now indicate willingness to take cognizance of the fact that an additional $230,000 may, by their action, be made available for general school purposes. This could be made possible through the simple procedure of reducing the School Department Alterations and Repairs budget by a sum corresponding to that deemed unnecessary by the members of the Board of School Building Commissioners, namely, $230,000.

¶ If the School Committee takes this action, I shall be pleased to submit a supplementary appropriation to my original message to the Council in which I shall request the City Council to allow the School Committee to expend an additional $230,000 for general school purposes.

¶ In offering this solution for the last time to the members of the School Committee I am hopeful that they will not pursue any longer a course of action which will result only in forcing wholly unnecessary hardship upon many of our school children, teachers, and evening class patrons.

¶ As I indicated to the Chairman of the School Committee and to the Superintendent of Schools at a meeting held in this office recently I am also prepared to increase the allowance for evening schools and evening centers, to insure their continued operation on an efficient basis, if the additional $230,000 should prove to be insufficient.

¶ Time has almost run out. The decision rests with the School Committee.

Fin. Com. . . .

The work of phase one (providing for a.c. power supply) is virtually completed; the work contemplated for phase two (the actual conversion to a.c. at the points of operation) has not yet been advertised for bid.

Questions Raised

Several questions arise in the mind of the observer at this point:

1. Since the "extra work" represented by the $33,304 appears to fit into phase two, why was not the work incorporated as part of an advertised contract for this phase? But, if this was not practicable, under the circumstances, why was not a separate, biddable contract advertised for this extra work?

2. One Hospital official claims that the "extra work" represented an emergency. Yet the following facts do not support the concept of an emergency. In August, 1959, Jackson & Moreland, Inc., was requested to survey the situation which eventually became the extra work. On November 23, 1959, this firm recommended the $33,304 extra work to the Hospital Trustees. On November 27, 1959, the Trustees approved the extra work as part of the contract. The work was not started until the middle of March, 1960.

3. Is it not pointless for the Hospital Department to request your Honor's authorization to dispense with public advertising and amend the contract in question, as requested in the letter of April 22, 1960, which is now before you, when the work was well underway at the time this request was made? Obviously this request becomes a covering order and not an actual request for approval before starting the work.

4. On what basis did the Hospital Trustees deem this work to be a proper amendment? In the case of Morse v. Boston, 253 Mass. 247, the Court, after citing the controlling statutes requiring advertising for bids for municipal contracts said:

"The manifest purpose of these statutes is to put a limitation upon the wide power which otherwise officers of the city would possess to make binding contracts with reference to city work. All contracts made by or in behalf of Boston must conform to the requirements of the statutes. The design of the Legislature in enacting these provisions was to establish genuine and open competition after due public advertisement in the letting of contracts for city work, to prevent favoritism in awarding such contracts and to secure honest methods of letting contracts in the public interests. The main aim was to protect the public. Full publicity is provided as a means to that end. While there is vested in the mayor power to dispense with such advertisement, that can only be done after publication of a detailed statement of the real reasons therefor"

"Applying these principles . . . , these results follow. The terms and purpose of the governing statutes constitute in themselves a restriction of the power to amend and alter a contract once made in accordance therewith. It cannot be changed in vital and essential particulars without observance of all the formalities prescribed by the statutes. The due execution of the contract after advertisement and compliance with all statutory requirements in the light of the words and purpose of the governing statutes is in general a limitation upon amending the contract in substantial and capital respects without conformity anew to the statutory requirements. The city officers have authority doubtless to add to or to change the contract within reasonable limits in order to remedy incidental defects and to improve the work in minor details. This is implied from the power to alter recognized by St. 1890, c. 418, S. 6. Shea v. Milford, 145 Mass. 528, 531. The reference to alteration of a contract in that section is not a grant of power but is in itself a limitation as to the form in which alone it can be accomplished. That provision falls far short of authorizing an essential change of such magnitude as to be incompatible with the general scheme of the statute. An alteration which results in a substantially new contract as to a main element is not permissible under the statute."

The Finance Commission feels that under these circumstances, the "extra work" under discussion should not be regarded as a proper "amendment" to the contract entered into on August 14, 1958.

5. Since the extra work under discussion raises some question as to whether it falls under the provision of the contract of August 14, 1958, would it not have simplified matters and removed all doubt by advertising for bids for the work represented by this $33,304 amount?

The Hospital's top official claims that the extra work was required to meet an emergency. This is difficult to understand for several reasons:

1. Several months were allowed to elapse between the time the work was deemed necessary and the time the work was started.

2. The process of advertising for bids requires only two to three weeks.

It is acknowledged that the Hospital Department makes a valid point in contending that the extra work under discussion would be valuable in getting some benefit from the Edison "demand" charge which is in force. But advertising a contract for this work would not interfere with this purpose.

While it is acknowledged that the necessary authorization of changes in the contract were secured from the Trustees as the work progressed, the Finance Commission does deplore two aspects of the situation:

1. The approval of the Mayor was not sought or obtained until the work was either substantially or completely done.

2. Authorization was given to proceed with the work instead of advertising for bids.

The point is sometimes made that speed and expedition of a program may be handicapped by referring substantial changes in a contract to the Mayor's Office for approval or setting up extra work in a special contract for bid. Regardless of any alleged loss in the execution of the work, the Finance Commission feels that the statutory controls over contracts, which these steps represent, should be safeguarded.

CASE NO. 2

Conversion of Electric Current from D.C. to A.C. at Long Island

This is another case of requesting the approval of the Mayor for "extra work" after the work was done. This occurred last year when d.c. current was converted to a.c. at the Long Island Hospital.

In this case, extra work amounted to $60,755.80, which was 27 per cent of the contract price.

Although the possibility of extra work, estimated to be approximately $30,000, to replace conduit and wire, the condition of which was unknown, and this item actually turned out to be $28,872, the bidders were not told to include such a contingent amount in their bid price.

Virtually all of this work was done before a request was made to the Mayor for this approval, which was granted on June 10, 1959. In fact, a great deal of this work was done in 1958.

Directives

As indicated at the beginning of this report, the Finance Commission recommends that directives be issued implementing the points made in this report.

The Finance Commission also feels that it is timely to reissue certain directives published in recent years which relate to departmental procedures.

One directive which falls in this category is that dated February 21, 1956, and runs as follows:

"In order that the purchase of supplies, materials and equipment and the incurring of obligations for contractual services will be on a thoroughly businesslike basis for the best interests of the City, the following procedure . . . must be followed in connection with the award of purchase and service orders where it is estimated . . . the total cost will range between $500.00 and $2,000.00 . . .

1. Invitation bids must be requested in all such cases from at least three reputable contractors experienced in the type of work involved, or suppliers who are regular dealers in the commodities required. A copy of the invitation showing the names of the three contractors to whom invitations were sent shall be forwarded to the City Auditor.

2. Coincidentally with the sending of the above-referenced invitation to the three bidders, a general invitation to bid must be posted on the bulletin board located in the first floor lobby of the City Hall.

3. In general, the same procedure will be followed for invitation bids as is followed for publicly advertised proposals, that is, specifications must be prepared and a definite time, date and place for opening the bids must be included in the invitation.

4. The time for opening the bids should be established so that not less than three business days shall intervene after posting the notice referred to in Rule 2.

5. The above requirements may be waived by the Director of Administrative Services only when it is impossible to obtain competitive bids or where the exigencies of a situation will not permit of the delay incident to following the procedure outlined above.

6. Approval for waiving the procedure will be granted only after a written request of the department head which includes a detailed statement of the adequate reasons therefor.

7. All departments must use the standard invitation, bid and award form which has been designed for this purpose."

The Finance Commission also believes that it would be worth while to republish other directives which have been promulgated in recent years bearing on the subject of procedures.

Respectfully submitted,

ANTHONY J. YOUNG, Chairman,
ROGER J. ABIZAID, M.D.,
MAXWELL B. GROSSMAN,
JOSEPH GRAGLIA,
The Finance Commission.

THOMAS J. MURPHY,
Executive Secretary.

LETTER TO MAYOR FROM HOSPITAL TRUSTEES

CITY OF BOSTON,
HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT,
THE BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL,

April 22, 1960.

HON. JOHN F. COLLINS,
Mayor of Boston.

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

After public advertising on August 14, 1958, a contract in the sum of $539,795 previously amended to $538,384.76, was entered into between the Board of Trustees of the Hospital Department and of the Boston City Hospital, and M. B. Foster Electric Company, 368 Congress street, Boston, Mass., providing for a.c. power supply, Boston City Hospital.

Your authorization is now requested to dispense with public advertising, and to amend the aforementioned contract in the sum of $33,304 to cover the cost of the following changes and additions in and to the contract work:

Elimination of the three (3) existing Boston Edison supply lines to the Boston City Hospital and the providing of all the labor and materials as required to connect all services within the Hospital to the 13,800-volt network utilizing for this purpose the unit substations already provided for by this contract.

This change in, and addition to the work is necessary in order to improve reliability of existing alternating current building services, reduce existing overload conditions, and also in order to effect an annual savings in power cost.

The proposed amendment of the present contract in the sum of $33,304 will result in a new total contract price of $571,688.76.

Public advertising for this extra work would in my opinion be highly impracticable if indeed not impossible, and could hardly serve the best interests of the City. For these reasons I have requested authorization to forego public advertising.

Respectfully yours,

BOARD OF TRUSTEES, HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT, AND OF THE BOSTON CITY HOSPITAL, By WILLIAM H. ELLIS,
President.

Mayor Recalls Order On Brighton Land Sale

The Mayor, on June 6, sent the following communication to the City Council:

¶ GENTLEMEN:

¶ On May 2, 1960, I submitted for consideration of your Honorable Body an order authorizing the Parks and Recreation Commission to sell approximately 64,000 square feet of land at Commonwealth avenue and Chestnut Hill avenue for the sum of $164,000 in accordance with the terms set forth in an agreement annexed to the order.

¶ At the time of submission, this was the only offer made to develop this parcel of land despite the fact that the land had been available for disposition by the City of Boston for some years. Since the submission of the order to your Honorable Body, I have been advised that at least one other proposal for redeveloping this parcel of land by constructing an apartment building on the site will be submitted.

¶ I therefore withdraw the order of May 2, 1960, relative to the sale of this parcel of land in order to give further opportunity to others who may be interested in developing this site, and I hope to submit at a later date the original proposal or a better proposal if one is in fact received.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS, Mayor.

VETERANS' SERVICES DEPARTMENT.

Expenditures for veterans' benefits for April, 1960, show a decrease of $21,041.06 in comparison with expenditures for the corresponding period of 1959.

The 1,711 cases aided during the month of April, 1960, represented a total of 3,925 individuals benefited through the facilities of the Veterans' Services Department.

There were 176 cases closed during the month of April, 1960, because of obtaining employment, having been awarded unemployment compensation, receiving social security and becoming ineligible to receive financial assistance for miscellaneous other reasons.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

June 1.

General Order No. 725.

Patrolmen Leo F. McKittrick and Anthony J. Kupstis, Jr., of Division 3, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 9:47 P.M., Thursday, May 5, 1960, the 3-R radio patrol car with Patrolmen O'Malley and Hayes was dispatched by the Central Complaint Room to 9 Willow street, city, on report of a robbery. Upon arrival, Leonard Wheildon, 45 years, single, of 9 Willow street, stated that upon arriving at his home and upon alighting from his automobile, he was assaulted and robbed by two men whom he described as about 23 years, 5 feet 10 inches, both wearing khaki uniforms. Leonard Wheildon stated his wallet containing $12 in U. S. currency and personal papers was taken.

These officers immediately notified Headquarters of the description of the culprits, which was broadcast to all cruising vehicles of this department and teletype Item 803 was issued.

Leonard Wheildon was conveyed to the Massachusetts General Hospital in the 3-R car and upon examination by Dr. Glenn Lanagan, he was found to be suffering from a laceration of the forehead and lip, multiple contusions of the head and contusion of the right wrist for which he was treated and released.

Patrolmen McKittrick and Kupstis in 300 wagon, upon hearing the description of the men wanted, made a search of the area, and in Bowdoin square they arrested without a warrant as suspicious persons, unarmed robbery, one Arthur A. Kosley, 19 years, single, and one Frederick J. Mills, 19 years, married, both enlisted men in the United States Marine Corps Reserve, and both attached to the U.S.S. "Wasp," Boston Naval Shipyard.

A thorough investigation was conducted by officers of Division 3 and on May 6, 1960, both prisoners were arraigned in Central Municipal Court for unarmed robbery, to wit: that the defendants did assault and beat with their hands one Leonard Wheildon and did rob on May 5, 1960, in Willow street, Boston, the said Wheildon of one black leather wallet valued at $5, containing $12 in U.S. currency, total value, $17, the property of said Wheildon. Both defendants appeared before Judge Joseph Riley and were held in bail of $5,000, their cases continued to May 16, 1960. On that date, upon a hearing of probable cause, both men were held in the same bail for the grand jury.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and devotion to duty displayed by Patrolmen Leo F. McKittrick and Anthony J. Kupstis, Jr., in effecting this arrest shortly after the robbery had been committed thereby preventing a continuance of crime by these culprits.

June 2.

General Order No. 726.

Patrolmen William I. Joyce and Edward T. McManus, Division 16, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty, and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

While on duty and cruising in the area of Huntington avenue and Garrison street at about 10.05 P.M., on May 24, 1960, Patrolmen Joyce and McManus observed two youths who were acting in a suspicious manner. When the officers approached to question them, the boys fled down Huntington avenue and into Irvington street, where one of them was apprehended and brought to Station 16.

This subject, one Troy Williams, 16 years of age, 157 Howland street, Roxbury, stated that he and the other youth, identified as James Roberts, 15 years, 262 Blue Hill avenue, Roxbury, had come to that area to snatch handbags. He further stated that he and Roberts, together with a George Williams, 15 years, 556 Massachusetts avenue, and Sheldon Johnson, 13 years, of 27 Worcester street, Boston, had previously snatched handbags at various locations on Division 16.

After ending their tour of duty, Patrolmen Joyce and McManus continued their investigation in this case and took into custody all of the above-named boys. All were identified by their victims as being concerned in four cases of handbag snatching occurring on streets in the Back Bay during March and May of this year.

On May 26, 1960, in Boston Juvenile Court, all of these boys with the exception of Troy Williams were adjudged delinquents and turned over to the Youth Service Board. The case of Troy Williams was continued for disposition until June 16, 1960, pending investigation of his home life and family.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the keen observation of Patrolmen Joyce and McManus in their detection of the first two youths and their perseverance in continued investigation which resulted in checking the career in crime on which four young boys were embarked.

June 3.

General Order No. 727.

The following-named officer having requested retirement under the provisions of the Statutes of 1892, chapter 353 as amended, for the reason that he is incapacitated, it is hereby

Ordered, His Honor the Mayor having approved the same, that he be retired from active service in the Police Department, effective Wednesday, June 8, 1960, at 7.45 o'clock A.M.:

Patrolman Joseph Giovannucci, Traffic Division, 40 years of service.

June 3.

General Order No. 728.

Detectives Joseph G. Cunningham, James W. Moar, Francis D. Powers, and John V. Nee of the Special Service Squad, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 2:45 A.M., Friday, May 13, 1960. Detectives Nee and Powers of the Special Service Squad 1-Car responded to a holdup call at Cookie's Gas Station, 182 Summer street, city, where Frank Coppola, 53 years, married, of 15 Newport street, Dorchester, stated that about 2:40 A.M., five minutes earlier, two men described as: No. 1, 28 years, 5 feet, 7 inches, 160 pounds, black bushy hair, wearing a light tan, army-style jacket; No. 2, 28 years, 5 feet 10 inches, thin build, light brown hair, wearing a green raincoat; entered the gas station and No. 2 man held his hand in his pocket as though armed and pressed a hard object against his side and said: "Don't open your mouth, Pop, or you have had it." No. 1 man then took about $75 from the cash register, and then both fled on foot; No. 1 man going up Atlantic avenue, towards Congress street; and No. 2 man through Hathaway place, toward Congress street.

Frank Coppola later accompanied the above officers to the Identification Section, but was unable to identify any pictures. Coppola stated that the No. 2 man looked vaguely familiar and was of the opinion he might have seen him before, but couldn't place him.

Detectives Nee, Powers, Cunningham, and Moar visited various drinking establishments with Coppola when on duty and during off-duty hours, but were unable to locate the suspects. Armed with the descriptions, the above officers questioned recent parolees and various persons in the downtown area, to no avail. Upon further investigation, the above officers noted that the description of the No. 2 man was similar to a man involved in four armed robberies in 1958 and was known at that time as the "Stop Light Bandit" and received five years indefinite term at Concord. He was presently on parole.

These detectives then went to 93 St. Botolph street and 175 St. Botolph street, known addresses of this suspect, but they were unable to locate him. On further investigation, they learned that he might be living in the Fitchburg area. On Wednesday, May 18, 1960, the above-named detectives, on their off-duty hours, with permission of Sergeant Rachalski, Special Service Squad, went to Fitchburg, Mass., in department car No. 112 and located the suspect at 38 Pritchard street, Fitchburg. He was questioned about the holdup and was evasive about his whereabouts at the time of this crime, but admitted he might have been in the Boston area.

The suspect, William S. Rhodes, 29 years, single, of 38 Pritchard street, Fitchburg, was then brought to Boston Police Headquarters where a lineup was held and he was positively identified as the No. 2 man in the holdup by the victim, Frank Coppola. He was booked as a suspected person, armed robber, and was fingerprinted, photographed and remanded to the City Prison. On May 20, 1960, the suspect was again placed in a lineup and he was again positively identified by Coppola.

On May 20, 1960, the detectives appeared in the Boston Municipal Court, Judge Elijah Adlow presiding, Commonwealth vs. William S. Rhodes, charged with armed robbery of Frank Coppola at Cookie's Gas Station, 182 Summer street, Boston, on May 13, 1960. The case was continued until May 26, 1960, at the defendant's request, and Judge Adlow set bail at $10,000. The same detectives also appeared in the Complaint Session, Boston Municipal Court, Judge J. John Fox presiding, and a John Doe warrant, No. 2095, for armed robbery was granted for the second participant in this crime.

On May 26, 1960, the officers again appeared in the Boston Municipal Court, Judge Joseph Riley presiding, and the defendant requested another continuance to obtain counsel and the case was continued until June 2, 1960, same bail. On that date, a further continuance was granted to June 3, 1960.

The defendant, William S. Rhodes, was brought before Judge Daniel J. Gillen in Central Municipal Court on June 3, 1960, who ordered Rhodes held for the grand jury with bail set at $10,000.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the outstanding police work performed by the named detectives in this case, as well as the many off-duty hours spent by them in the solution of this armed robbery, which resulted in bringing to justice a dangerous criminal, a parolee from the Massachusetts Reformatory.

June 6.

General Order No. 729.

Detectives Edward J. Walsh, Thomas E. Connolly, and Daniel E. Donahue, Special Service Squad, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty, and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 6 P.M., on Friday, May 20, 1960. Ezra Gindi, 25 years, owner and manager of the Royal Sales Company, 13 Winter street, Boston, reported to officers of Division 2 that he had been robbed of $500 by a lone gunman, whose description he gave them.

On receiving this information, and with the permission of their commanding officer, Detectives Donahue, Walsh, and Connolly conducted an investigation. After many visits to the Royal Sales Company, where they showed the manager and his stockboy various photographs of known criminals, Mr. Gindi picked the picture of one Henry J. Forcina, 33 years, married, of 53 Belvidere street, Boston. Forcina at the time was wanted on an indictment warrant for default on breaking and entering in the nighttime, and assault, in the burglary of a residence in Revere. He had fled Suffolk Superior Court while on trial on April 11, 1960.

During many hours, both on and off duty, the detectives checked the haunts and associates of Forcina and determined that he was in the Boston area. They then proceeded to maintain constant surveillance, day and night, at the Belvidere Street address.

About 2:30 P.M. on May 27, 1960, while on one of these stakeouts, the detectives observed Forcina's wife leave the apartment, look up and down the street and then re-enter the building. Moments later, Forcina came out of the building and walked in the direction of Belvidere and West Newton streets, where the officers immediately placed him under arrest on suspicion of the armed robbery of Ezra Gindi at the Royal Sales Company a week earlier. At the time, Forcina was carrying a small brief case, a search of which disclosed a small hatchet, a screwdriver, and a small searchlight.

On May 28, 1960, in Boston Municipal Court before Judge Adlow, Forcina was arraigned on a charge of armed robbery of Ezra Gindi. After hearing the evidence, Judge Adlow found probable cause and held Forcina for the grand jury in $10,000 bail, double surety.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the efficient police work of Detectives Walsh, Connolly, and Donahue in their investigation of the above robbery, resulting in an early solving of the case and the apprehension of a hardened criminal.

June 6.

General Order No. 730.

Detectives Joseph G. Cunningham, James W. Moar, John V. Nee, and Francis D. Powers, Special Service Squad, Bureau of Criminal Investigation, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty, and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 10.30 P.M. on Thursday, May 12, 1960, Detectives Moar and Cunningham in the No. 5 car and Detectives Nee and Powers in No. 1 car responded to a call at Tremont and Boylston streets in regard to a stabbing.

On arrival, the above detectives were informed by William Marion, 32 years, single, 168 Seaver street, Roxbury, that while walking on Tremont street (Common side) near Boylston, he was stabbed in the abdomen and robbed of $9 in U. S. currency by an unknown male, whose description he gave the officers. They made a diligent search of the Common and the drinking establishments in the vicinity, but were unsuccessful in locating the suspect.

The officers then visited Marion at Boston City Hospital, where he had been found to be suffering from a stab wound of the abdomen and was being held for further treatment. With the permission of his doctor, the detectives questioned the victim and learned that there was a second man involved and obtained his description. Marion, an amateur artist, drew a sketch of the No. 1 suspect for the officers and, armed with this and a description of the second suspect, they started a search for the two men responsible for this crime.

Working in relays over a two-week period, the detectives visited various taverns and cafes in the downtown area. On Saturday, May 28, 1960, at about 9.30 P.M., they observed a man strongly resembling the sketch drawn by the victim and, answering the description he had given, on Washington street near Essex. This suspect was stopped and questioned, at which time he tried to pull a German forestry dagger from where it was concealed under his shirt.

This man, James H. Brady, 21 years, single, 116 Emerson street, South Boston, was placed under arrest and brought to Headquarters where he was booked on suspicion of armed robbery of William Marion. After questioning, he admitted robbing and stabbing the victim and stated that the man with him was one Donald Chapdelaine, 18 years, a U. S. sailor attached to an amphibian base at Norfolk, Virginia, who at the time of the crime was staying with his grandmother in Jamaica Plain. William Marion was contacted and brought to Headquarters, where he positively identified James H. Brady as the man who held him up and robbed and stabbed him on the night of May 12, 1960.

On Tuesday, May 31, 1960, Brady was arraigned in Central Court on a charge of armed robbery before Judge Riley and the case was continued to June 8, 1960, with bail set at $20,000.

A warrant was obtained charging Donald Chapdelaine with armed robbery and proceedings have begun to bring him to trial in this jurisdiction.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the efficient police work of Detectives Cunningham, Moar, Nee, and Powers in their intelligent investigation and off-duty hours spent in apprehending this criminal.

June 7.

General Order No. 731.

Patrolmen William J. Roe, Jr., and Garrett J. Flanagan of the Narcotic and Vice Unit of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

On Thursday, May 19, 1960, Patrolmen William J. Roe, Jr., and Garrett J. Flanagan, assigned to the Narcotic and Vice Unit of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, while making a continuing investigation relative to narcotic traffic in this city, obtained information that certain persons who may be involved in the narcotic traffic and other crimes, both here and out of state, could be located at 207 West Canton street, Boston, Room 1. The officers went to that location and found three men who, when questioned, stated they had just arrived from Newark, New Jersey, to spend a "vacation" here.

A thorough investigation of the room was made and in a closet they found two (2) fully loaded firearms: one, a 9 mm. German Luger automatic pistol with seven (7) cartridges in the clip, and the other, a .38 caliber Colt police positive revolver with six (6) cartridges in the chamber and extra ammunition. Upon further investigation, the officers located evidence of marijuana smoking in this room and seized marijuana cigarettes, stubs and paper. The three men were taken into custody as suspicion persons, to wit: Suspicion of violation of the Narcotic Drug Law. Examination of both firearms showed them to be in excellent condition and ready for instant use.

With the knowledge that a New Jersey car was involved, the area in the vicinity of West Canton street was kept under surveillance. Shortly thereafter, a New Jersey car, Registration AAK-266, was observed driving into West Canton street with two men as occupants. They were taken into custody and all five men, the firearms, extra ammunition, and marijuana were taken to Police Headquarters.

Upon interrogation, it was disclosed that the five men had arrived in Boston in the above car on May 14, 1960, at about 4.30 P.M., and stayed in a Columbus Avenue hotel in a room hired by one man. That same evening, they moved to a rooming house at 207 West Canton street and occupied two rooms. Three of these subjects registered under false names for the purpose of concealing their true identities.

These prisoners were identified as follows:

Roland H. Ghee, 30 years, 60 Berwyn street, Orange, New Jersey; Randall P. Young, 28 years, 80 Shanley avenue, Newark, New Jersey; Leroy A. Gilmore, 38 years, 212 Fairmount avenue, Newark, New Jersey; Jerome Smith, 26 years, 35 Stirling street, Newark, New Jersey; Everett Cook, 28 years, 381 Lewitan avenue, Newark, New Jersey.

Upon being questioned, Everett Cook stated the guns were his property and he had purchased them from a longshoreman in Port Norfolk. He further stated that he had caused them to be transported fully loaded, in Gilmore's car, New Jersey Registration No. AAK-266, and that the guns had been carried into and out of the room in Columbus avenue and into the room at 207 West Canton street, Boston, where they were seized by Patrolmen Flanagan and Roe.

The five defendants were arraigned before Judge Elijah Adlow in Central Municipal Court on May 20, 1960, at which time he ordered them held on bail set at $10,000 double surety, and likened this situation to an "invasion" of Boston by this group. On that date, Roland H. Ghee was charged with violation of the True Name Law, was found guilty and Judge Adlow imposed a fine of $50.

On May 28, 1960, the remaining four prisoners appeared before Judge Adlow on the charges stated below and received the following sentences:

Randall P. Young:

1. Carrying a .38 revolver without a license, 1 year, House of Correction; sentence suspended, placed on probation for 5 years.

2. Carrying a 9 mm. automatic without a license, 1 year, House of Correction; sentence suspended, placed on probation for 5 years.

3. Being present where marijuana was unlawfully kept, no probable cause.

Leroy A. Gilmore:

1. Violation of True Name Law, fined $10.

2. Carrying a .38 revolver without a license, 1 year, House of Correction; sentence suspended, placed on probation for 5 years.

3. Carrying a 9 mm. automatic without a license, 1 year, House of Correction; sentence suspended, placed on probation for 5 years.

Everett Cook:

1. Being present where marijuana was unlawfully kept, no probable cause.

2. Unlawful possession of a narcotic drug, to wit: marijuana, placed on file.

3. Carrying a .38 revolver without a license, 1 year, House of Correction; sentence suspended, placed on probation for 5 years.

4. Carrying a 9 mm. automatic without a license, 1 year, House of Correction; sentence suspended, placed on probation for 5 years.

Jerome Smith:

1. Violation of True Name Law, fined $10.

2. Being present where marijuana was unlawfully kept, no probable cause.

In placing these subjects on probation, Judge Adlow ordered that these defendants stay out of the City of Boston during the term of their probation.

The car, New Jersey Registration No. AAK-266, used by these criminals, was impounded and thoroughly searched before being delivered to the owner.

On May 28, 1960, after the above criminals were disposed of in Central Court, a telephone call was received from Trenton, New Jersey, Police Department, that they had tentative identification of these criminals from photographs forwarded by this department as persons involved in an armed robbery in that city. In a second telephone call from Trenton Police Department on June 1, 1960, they requested that the firearms in this case be forwarded to them to assist in their investigation of armed robberies in that city.

Patrolman Flanagan appeared before Judge Adlow on June 2, 1960, regarding this request, who held the decision in abeyance pending a request in writing. On June 6, Judge Adlow ordered the weapons be turned over to the Trenton Police Department as evidence and for disposition.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the outstanding police work performed by Patrolmen Roe and Flanagan in the prompt apprehension and prosecution of five dangerous criminals who had come into Boston from another state and who were capable of committing serious crimes with a possible fatal shooting while they were under the influence of marijuana.

Mayor's Address . . .

Regular biweekly meetings will be held by the top echelons of the Park Department in company with the Director for Citizens' Relations, to ensure maximum coordination of engineering and maintenance with the Recreation Division.

In all, the net result will be a far superior program this year and henceforth, and at reduced cost to the city.

Community Cooperation

In addition, in accordance with the policy of close cooperation with community groups, new tot-lot areas have been developed on small city-owned lots of land in the middle of highly congested residential areas. A joint city-neighborhood effort is now underway to do this on the site of the old Cora Etheridge School on Dorchester avenue in North Dorchester. It will be on a minimal, temporary basis, to be sure, but at least it will be available for use by hundreds of children in a highly congested area where today there is no adequate play space, and where infants have been forced to play on highly trafficked streets.

Plan Model Playground

It is even possible that money, which cannot be touched for any other purpose, may exist to enable us to build the first modern, Philadelphia-type playground on the site of the old Girls' High School which is currently being torn down in the South End. What a terrible human need exists in that area! How exciting it would be, if we can take our first long step forward in recreation in that hard hit area—but I can give no positive assurances on this at present. Time factors and the legal aspects are not yet cleared up.

Clean-Up Drive

An additional current activity of our operation revival is an all out clean-up drive. Here again, maximum use is being made of all city agencies and facilities. And the Citizens' Relations Division has been extremely successful in securing the cooperation of citizens' groups throughout the city. This is true both in the planning stages and in the action stages.

The drive is being waged differently this year. Rather than attacking the whole city at once, with the kind of high-gear publicity and low-gear results that have obtained in the past, we are attacking the problem section by section on a concentrated basis. When we leave a section the streets are clean, the gutters are clean, public and private alleys are clean, most city-owned public and private lots are clean, and most backyards are clean—in some sections citizen groups even scour the curbstones, steps, and building walls.

Description of Procedure

A typical operation goes as follows: after consultation with neighborhood groups the area to be cleaned up is designated. The neighborhood group circularizes the area announcing the clean-up drive, together with the dates involved and calling for volunteers. The day before the drive a police car with loud speaker announces the schedule for parking on alternate sides of the street for the next two days. During those days signs are posted and all cars of violators are towed away. The streets are then thoroughly swept by mechanical sweepers. That completes phase one.

In phase two, organized citizens' groups, high school students, Boy Scouts, community mothers and fathers turn out for a massive attack on backyards, alleys, and empty lots. The Public Works Department supplies the trucks and the Park Department supplies heavy brooms and rakes. An interesting sidelight is that of the hundreds of pieces of equipment used, not one has been missing to date.

When phase two is completed, the area is clean.

Because of lack of equipment, because of the thoroughness of the job being done, we may not be able to cover all sections of the city on the first go-round. Areas not covered then will be covered in the second or third go-rounds.

Again this is a manifestation of maximum use of what we have—using more efficiency, harder work, and closer coordination to make up for equipment and money deficiencies.

Most especially do I want to express public appreciation for the response of the citizens in helping us to help them. Though I have sent individual letters of thanks, I believe that public accolades are in order.

Complaints Division

Regarding the Complaints Division, Director of Administrative Services John P. McMorrow has only just returned from a field trip to Philadelphia, which, as you well may know, has a superb complaint-handling procedure. One of Mr. McMorrow's reasons for going was to study these methods. After analysis and study, the Philadelphia methods will be adopted for use by Boston. It is my firm intent that every citizen with a problem or a complaint will be swiftly, courteously, and efficiently serviced at City Hall.

Perhaps the most important function assigned to the Citizens' Service Agency is the inducement to greater understanding of government and greater participation in government on the part of the citizens of Boston through the creation of citizens' councils throughout the city.

Great care must be taken to ensure that the councils are meaningful, truly representative, and soundly functioning on a permanent basis.

It is most important that the councils not be partisan. It is essential that they truly represent the interests of their communities rather than the interests of any partisan group, or any particular administration.

It is my hope to earn the respect and support of those community groups by demonstrating through our programs, policies and actions, our determination to help them and to assist them in helping themselves.

BOSTON'S VIOLENT CRIMES FALL OFF IN FACE OF NATIONAL UPWARD TREND

Boston had fewer murders during the first quarter of 1960 than in the same period last year, though nationwide figures showed a sharp increase, the FBI reported on June 1.

Four murders and 19 rapes were reported here in the three-month period, compared to 10 murders and 28 rapes in the same period of 1959.

Nationally, serious crimes were up 7 per cent over 1959, with murders increased by 11 per cent and rape by 5 per cent.

Compared with the figures for Boston, New York reported 84 murders and 221 rapes in the three months.

Boston showed an increase in robberies from 137 to 172 and in aggravated assaults from 112 to 160.

But burglaries dropped from 894 to 881, larcenies of over $50 from 571 to 496, and auto thefts from 915 to 851.

TRAFFIC RULINGS

Temporary

The Traffic Commission has voted as follows:

Surgical Supplies

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On March 31, 1960, your Honor approved a letter to make awards to several companies for furnishing laboratory and surgical supplies to the various city departments. No award for Item 54 was requested in this letter.

There were five identical acceptable bidders on Item 54, and authority is now requested to award Item 54 in equal quantities to two of the five acceptable bidders. Approximate total amounts of contracts will be as follows:

Thomas W. Reed Company, $7,500, less two per cent discount, time of payment; Surgeons & Physicians Supply Company of America, $7,500, less two per cent discount, time of payment.

Contracts will be in effect until March 31, 1961, inclusive.

Respectfully yours,

MICHAEL A. DESIMONE,
Purchasing Agent.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor approved the award of contracts, without advertising, based on the following communications:

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT.

Purchasing Division.

Sale of Linotype Machines

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Printing Section of the Purchasing Division has three (3) Mergenthaler Linotype machines, Model 14, Serial Numbers 27573, 27574, 27572. These machines have been declared surplus inasmuch as they are of no further use in the Printing plant.

Invitations to purchase these machines were solicited among several companies, eight of which responded. Permission is now requested to dispense with advertising and to sell the above-described machines, with the consent of the City Council, to Saul Perlman, doing business as Printers Equipment Exchange, 35 Pronty Lane, Worcester, Mass. This company was the highest bidder at a price of $1,025 each machine or a total of $3,075 for the three machines.

Respectfully yours,

MICHAEL A. DESIMONE,
Purchasing Agent.

REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT.

Linen Service

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Under an oral agreement with this division, the Federal National Linen Service Company, Inc., have been furnishing hand towels to all offices in City Hall and City Hall Annex. The agreement calls for delivery of approximately 1,125 towels a week.

The towel service already rendered by the above company has proven satisfactory, and in my opinion nothing could be gained by publicly advertising for bids for this type of work.

In view of the above, I respectfully request permission to issue orders to the Federal National Linen Service Company, Inc., in an amount not to exceed $2,924.40.

Respectfully yours,

ALBERT F. DONNELLY,
Assistant Commissioner.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR PAINTING AND REPAIRS AT PARIS STREET GYMNASIUM, EAST BOSTON, MASS.

The Commissioner of Parks and Recreation of the City of Boston, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for painting and repairs at Paris Street gymnasium, East Boston, Mass. General bids will be received until 2 o'clock P.M. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Tuesday, June 28, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read aloud.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained at the Engineer's office of the Parks and Recreation Department, 33 Beacon street, Boston, Mass. Each copy of the general bid shall be properly filled out, signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $2,000. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded) from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, section 26, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Plans and specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A deposit in the form of a certified check in the sum of $10, payable to the City of Boston, shall be required in order to procure a complete set of plans and specifications. This deposit shall be refunded providing that all plans and specifications are returned in satisfactory condition within thirty days after opening of general bids (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded).

All subbids for a subtrade designated in Item 2 of the general bids form shall be filed with the Awarding Authority at the above office address before 12 o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Tuesday, June 21, 1960, at which hour and place they will be publicly opened and read. Every such subbid must be submitted in a sealed envelope with the following plainly marked on the outside: title of work; subtrade for which subbid is submitted; subbidder's name; subbidder's business address.

All such subbids must be submitted on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority, and any such subbid not filed on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority shall be rejected.

A bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the amount specified in the following for the subtrade listed below, shall be submitted by each subbidder with his subbid as filed with the Awarding Authority:

Painting	$1,000
Miscellaneous Steel and Iron	300

No subbid may be withdrawn after the time limit for the filing of subbids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), from the day fixed for the opening of the general bids. In addition, no subbid filed by (a) the three lowest responsible and eligible subbidders for each subtrade, and (b) the subbidders named in the general bids of the three lowest responsible and eligible general bidders, may be withdrawn after the opening of the general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), following execution of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful contractor.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest so to do. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any subbid on any subtrade if it determines that such subbid does not represent the subbid of a person competent to perform the work as specified or that only one such subbid was received and that the price is not reasonable for acceptance without competition, in accordance with section 44D, chapter 149, of the General Laws, as amended.

MARTIN F. WALSH,
Commissioner of Parks and Recreation.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, Room 511 (Contract Office), City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for highway construction in Bryant road; Fairlane road (part); Glenellen road (part); Salman street (part); Stimson street (part), Public Works District 6, West Roxbury. A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Commissioner and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful contractor. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 511 (Contract Office), City Hall Annex. The proposal should be signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Highway Construction in Bryant Road; Fairlane Road (Part); Glenellen Road (Part); Salman Street (Part); Stimson Street (Part), Public Works District 6, West Roxbury," and left at Room 511 (Contract Office), fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 2 P.M. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time) of THURSDAY, JUNE 23, 1960, with a certified check for SIX THOUSAND (6,000) DOLLARS, payable to and to become the property of the City if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then be publicly opened and read in the Hearing Room, 401 City Hall Annex.

Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. All proposals must be from bidders of record on file at Room 511, City Hall Annex. There will be a charge of two dollars ($2) NOT REFUNDABLE, for each set of contract documents taken out. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed under the contract, shall not be less than the rate of wages in the schedule determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth, a copy of which schedule is annexed to the form of contract referred to herein. Copies of said schedule may be obtained, without cost, upon application therefor at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works. Before commencing performance of this contract, the Contractor shall provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under chapter 152 of the General Laws (the Workmen's Compensation Law, so called) to all persons to be employed under this contract and shall continue such insurance in full force and effect during the term of this contract.

ATTENTION IS CALLED TO CHAPTER 316 OF THE ACTS OF 1959, WHICH MUST BE STRICTLY COMPLIED WITH. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

Public Works District 6, West Roxbury.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, Room 511 (Contract Office), City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for water works in Kingsland road (part), Macullar road (part), and Salman street (part), Public Works District 6, West Roxbury. A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Commissioner and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful contractor. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 511 (Contract Office), City Hall Annex. The proposal should be signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Water Works in Kingsland Road (Part), Macullar Road (Part), and Salman Street (Part), Public Works District 6, West Roxbury," and left at Room 511 (Contract Office), fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 2 P.M. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time) of WEDNESDAY, JUNE 22, 1960, with a certified check for FOUR HUNDRED (400) DOLLARS, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then be publicly opened and read in the Hearing Room, 401 City Hall Annex.

Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. All proposals must be from bidders of record on file at Room 511, City Hall Annex. There will be a charge of two dollars ($2), NOT REFUNDABLE, for each set of contract documents taken out. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed under the contract shall not be less than the rate of wages in the schedule determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth, a copy of which schedule is annexed to the form of contract referred to herein. Copies of said schedule may be obtained, without cost, upon application therefor at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works. Before commencing performance of this contract, the Contractor shall provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under chapter 152 of the General Laws (the Workmen's Compensation Law so called) to all persons to be employed under this contract and shall continue such insurance in full force and effect during the term of this contract.

ATTENTION IS CALLED TO CHAPTER 316 OF THE ACTS OF 1959, WHICH MUST BE STRICTLY COMPLIED WITH. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

JAMES W. HALEY,
(June 11.) Commissioner of Public Works.

ESTIMATE 40,000 DROP IN OFFICIAL POPULATION TOTAL

Boston's population, to be shown soon in the 1960 federal census, is now unofficially estimated at 685,000 persons. This total is about 40,000 under the current official population figure of 724,702 as set by the decennial state census of 1955. In the 1950 United States Census Boston's population was 801,444.

Not since 1912, the year Hyde Park was annexed to Boston, has the city pegged its population total below the 700,000 mark.

In spite of the anticipated 40,000 drop since 1955, census officials anticipate substantial population increases in Ward 18 (Mattapan-Hyde Park); Ward 19 (Roslindale-Jamaica Plain), and Ward 20 (West Roxbury), where large areas have been turned into home building sites during the past five years, all contributing to the trend-to-the-suburbs pattern evidenced throughout the nation in the current population count.

Boston planning experts see the 1960 census as representing the end of the city's population decline, which began at the close of World War II. Large-scale apartment house construction, already beginning to take shape in the central core of the city, is bound to arrest the trend and create an upward swing, the experts say.

While Boston itself reaches the lowest mark in half a century, the Greater Boston area (within a 30-mile radius of the State House) will count an estimated 280,000 more people than it did ten years ago. This total is tentatively pegged at 3.4 million. Every town within the 30-mile radius, except Brookline, has increased its population over the past decade. Half of the 24 cities in the same area have registered decided drops in population, these being the municipalities which are not fortunate in having wide open spaces for real estate development.

Cities just north of Boston which felt a population drain are Somerville, Cambridge, Chelsea, Everett, Malden, and Medford. Industrial cities of Quincy and Brockton, to the south, registered increases, as they had room for expansion.

The claim that Boston is losing population because of its $100 tax rate is refuted by Building Department records which show that every available house lot is being eagerly sought in the outlying wards for home construction, and that the amount of construction in several of those wards over the past five years has been formidable. Builders are lamenting that house lots are becoming more and more scarce within the city limits. Actually many suburban towns have tax rates almost as high as Boston's, and, in a few cases, even higher. Many experts predict that the tax rates in suburban communities will equal or surpass Boston's in the years ahead.

Boston's 40,000 population drop during the past five years is due to many factors, say city officials. Relocation of families from the West End and the South End to make room for large-scale urban renewal development was one contributing cause. Thousands of homes were torn down to make room for the Southeast Expressway. Removal of industries to Route 128 was another factor causing people to set up their households closer to their jobs.

Spot demolition of substandard properties in the older parts of the city has cut down the countable units of habitation, but the city regards itself well rid of these undesirable structures.

One fact is clear. No one can blame the birth rate in Boston for not keeping pace. The death rate has been normal and steady.

Decline in population has hit all the major cities of the country. New York, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia all have experienced a similar decline as Boston's. Only Detroit, among the larger cities, has shown an increase, according to preliminary figures.

Boston's census total is tentative at this time pending a recheck of some sections of the city by enumerators.

*General Order No. 31.I. RETIREMENT.

The following retirement, in accordance with section 58, chapter 32, General Laws, as amended, which will become effective at 8 A.M., Wednesday, June 15, 1960, is hereby announced:

Fire Fighter (Aide to Commissioner) Michael J. Goggin, Headquarters Division.

Fire Fighter Goggin was appointed to the department on April 13, 1923, and he leaves the department with the best wishes of his associates.

II. CHANGE IN RULES AND REGULATIONS.

Rule 187 (e), Rules and Regulations of the Boston Fire Department, shall be changed to read as follows:

Fires in Sprinklered Buildings.

"Rule 187 (e) The second-arriving engine company at a fire in a sprinklered building, unless otherwise ordered by the officer in command at the fire, shall stretch a 2½-inch line from the nearest available pumper or high pressure hydrant to the siamese connection of the sprinkler system. However, if, in the opinion of the officer in command at the fire, the fire can be attacked more successfully or can be controlled more readily by use of the sprinkler system on the initial attack, he shall order the first arriving engine company to stretch 2½-inch or 3-inch lines into the siamese connection of the system to augment the supply or increase the pressure in the system. If a line is stretched from a single unit pumper into a sprinkler system, a second feeder line shall be stretched to the intake or suction side of the pumper. This rule shall apply to all response of apparatus to a building equipped with sprinklers, whether or not there is any evidence of fire showing on arrival."

III. FIRE ALARM BOX ESTABLISHED.

In the near future the following fire alarm box will be installed:

12-3268, Stop & Shop Supermarket, 757 Gallivan Boulevard.

Company commanders will add the above box to assignment card for Box 3268.

The circuit number for this box will be announced when the box is installed.

IV. COMMENDATIONS.

Fire Lieutenant Winthrop S. Robbins of Engine Company 55 and Fire Fighter Paul J. McGowan of Ladder Company 25 are hereby commended for responding to and working at still alarm at 12.19 P.M. (Box 2888), on May 27, 1960, while off duty.

V. CALL'S ALARM.

Company commanders shall add the following signal number to running cards of Call's Alarms in this department:

Signal 269, Charles Street Garage Company, 144 Charles street. (Sprinkler.) Apparatus to respond: Engine 10, Ladder 24, District 3. Nearest box is 1382.

VI. TRANSFERS.

The following transfers, which will become effective as of 8 A.M., Wednesday, June 15, 1960, are hereby announced:

Congress Spells Out A Code For Everyone In Federal Service

The Congress of the United States has adopted this 10-point code for all government employees, both elected and appointed.

It emphasizes how each of them can apply the principles of conscience to their work and thus contribute to the advantage of everyone.

The code reads as follows: "Any person in government service should:

"1. Put loyalty to the highest moral principles and to country above loyalty to persons, party, or government department.

"2. Uphold the Constitution, laws and legal regulations of the United States and of all government therein and never be a party to their evasion.

"3. Give a full day's labor for a full day's pay, giving to the performance of his duties his earnest effort and best thought.

"4. Seek to find and employ more efficient and economical ways of getting tasks accomplished.

"5. Never discriminate unfairly by the dispensing of special favors or privileges to anyone, whether for remuneration or not; and never accept for himself or his family favors or benefits under circumstances which might be construed by reasonable persons as influencing the performance of his governmental duties.

"6. Make no private promises of any kind binding upon the duties of office, since a government employee has no private work which can be binding upon public duty.

"7. Engage in no business with the government, either directly or indirectly, which is inconsistent with the conscientious performance of his governmental duties.

"8. Never use any information coming to him confidentially in the performance of governmental duties as a means for making private profit.

"9. Expose corruption wherever discovered.

"10. Uphold these principles, ever conscious that public office is a public trust."

TRAFFIC RULINGS

Temporary

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following rulings:

Whereas, If during repairs to the Berkeley Street entrance tunnel to Storrow Memorial Drive, vehicles were to continue to be routed through Beacon street, Boston Proper, in a one-way direction for 24 hours daily, from Berkeley street to Arlington street, in accordance with temporary emergency regulation adopted May 20, 1960, effective May 26, 1960, at 10 A.M., conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, both such repairs and also public travel would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such rerouting is to commence May 26, 1960, at 10 A.M., and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such rerouting; now therefore . . . I promulgate the following rules and regulations to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such repairs or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, the following temporary emergency regulation is rescinded:

The one-way rule in the following street is reversed and it is now one way in the direction indicated:

Beacon Street, Boston Proper.

From Berkeley street to Arlington street.

and the following rules are effective when and where official signs are in place:

The one-way rule in the following street is rescinded and it is now a two-way street:

Beacon Street, Boston Proper.

From Berkeley street to Embankment road.

The following street is one way in the direction indicated:

Berkeley Street, Boston Proper.

From Embankment road to Arlington street, from 12 midnight to 7 A.M.

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing of the streets listed below, vehicles were to be allowed in said streets conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence June 1, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I promulgate the following rules and regulations to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following streets when and where official signs are in place:

Bogandale Road, West Roxbury.

SWAN ST. PUBLIC WAY

West Roxbury

The Mayor and Public Improvement Commission have approved the laying out and construction of Swan street, West Roxbury district, as a public highway, between La Grange street and Pheasant street.

The project is described as follows:

A highway named Swan street is hereby laid out between La Grange street and Pheasant street, and ordered constructed.

For the making of the aforesaid improvement an easement for highway purposes is hereby taken in the following-described lands, exclusive of trees, shrubs, or structures standing upon or affixed thereto:

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to George Maloof, bounded:

Northeasterly by the southwesterly line of La Grange street, six and 27-100 feet; southeasterly by the northwesterly line of Swan street as it existed prior to this order, six and 27-100 feet, and northwesterly by the northwesterly line of Swan street as laid out under this order, ten and 64-100 feet on a curve of eight and 00-100 feet radius, containing eight square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Assaf and Karma A. Ayoub, bounded:

Northeasterly by the southwesterly line of La Grange street, sixteen and 58-100 feet; northwesterly by the southeasterly line of Swan street as it existed prior to this order, sixteen and 58-100 feet, and southeasterly by the southeasterly line of Swan street as laid out under this order, twenty-three and 55-100 feet on a curve of thirteen and 00-100 feet radius, containing sixty-two square feet, more or less.

A parcel of land, supposed to belong to Melvin F. and Dickran Topjian, bounded:

Southwesterly by the northeasterly line of Pheasant street, thirteen and 00-100 feet; southeasterly by the northwesterly line of Swan street as it existed prior to this order, thirteen and 00-100 feet, and northwesterly by the northwesterly line of Swan street as laid out under this order, twenty and 42-100 feet on a curve of thirteen and 00-100 feet radius, containing thirty-six square feet, more or less.

Trees, shrubs, or structures standing upon or affixed to the aforescribed land shall be removed therefrom within thirty (30) days following the city's recording of this order.

Said Swan street as hereby laid out is bounded:

Northeasterly by the southwesterly line of La Grange street, sixty-four and 03-100 feet; southeasterly by the southeasterly line of Swan street as hereby laid out, by two measurements, twenty-three and 55-100 feet on a curve of thirteen and 00-100 feet radius and three hundred ten and 08-100 feet; southwesterly by the northeasterly line of Pheasant street, fifty-three and 00-100 feet, and northwesterly by the northwesterly line of Swan street as hereby laid out, by three measurements, twenty and 42-100 feet on a curve of thirteen and 00-100 feet radius, three hundred seventeen and 23-100 feet, and ten and 64-100 feet on a curve of eight and 00-100 feet radius.

Betterments are to be assessed for the making of the aforesaid improvement.

Ordered, That this commission estimates that the abutting parcels of land situated on both sides of said Swan street will receive benefit or advantage, beyond the general advantage to all real estate in said city from the improvement herein ordered; each of said parcels in the amount hereinafter respectively set against it; said parcels and the supposed owners thereof being shown on a plan hereinbefore referred to and on file in the office of said department.

PHIL. GRABS TAX TITLE PROPERTY

Philadelphia is laying groundwork for acquisition of 800 tax-delinquent properties. The Department of Collections is drawing up a list of the properties, some having been idle and unproductive for longer than 70 years. Unpaid taxes total $246,068.

The land will be acquired at sheriff's sales under an ordinance passed last year which authorizes the city to bid the amount owed in taxes on each property.

The city hopes to erase the back debt on the land and to convert nuisances into municipal assets. Many of the sites constitute blights in their neighborhoods.

CONTRACTS AWARDED

The Mayor approved the award of the following contracts to the lowest eligible bidders:

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Sanatorium Division.

Window Cleaning

Window cleaning at the Sanatorium Division of the Boston City Hospital awarded to the lowest bidder, Careful Cleaning Company, in the amount of $3,825.

The other bids were:
Boston Window and Floor Cleaning Company, Inc., $3,975; Bay State Cleaning Company, $4,125; Hub Cleaning Company, $4,500.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Rebuilding Water Meters

Furnishing labor and material necessary to repair or rebuild and test Hersey water meters for the Public Works Department awarded to the Hersey-Spaulding Meter Company, the only bidder, in the amount of $34,725.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE.

Printing

Proposals for furnishing printing of courses of study for Boston public schools were opened on Tuesday, May 17. Bids were received from the following concerns:

City Printing Department, New England Imprint and Offset Company, Inc., Spaulding Moss Company.

Award was made to the lowest responsible bidder, as follows:

Spaulding Moss Company, $1,905.
Award on purchase order was as follows:
New England Imprint and Offset Company, Inc., $760.

Book Binding

Proposals for rebinding books for Boston public schools were opened on Thursday, May 19. Bids were received from the following concerns:

Des Moines Bookbinding Company, Heckman Bindery, Inc.

Award was made to the lowest responsible bidder, as follows:
Des Moines Bookbinding Company, $1,020.

Laboratory Supplies

Proposals for furnishing Laboratory supplies and equipment for Boston public schools were opened on Monday, April 18. Bids were received from the following concerns:

Central Scientific Company, Eastern Division, Connecticut Valley Biological Supply Company, Difco Laboratories, Inc., Fisher Scientific Company, Standard Scientific Supply Corporation, Ward's Natural Science Establishment, Inc., W. M. Welch Manufacturing Company, Will Corporation.

Award was made to the lowest responsible bidder, as follows:

Central Scientific Company, Eastern Division, $5,693.91.

Awards on purchase orders were as follows:
Standard Scientific Supply Corporation, $922.28; W. M. Welch Manufacturing Company, $1,035.87; Will Corporation, $1,459.98; Connecticut Valley Biological Supply Company, $548.90.

Coal

Proposals for furnishing semibituminous coal for Boston public schools were opened on Wednesday, May 13. Bids were received from the following concerns:

Crystal Coal and Oil Company, Inc.; Staples Coal Company, doing business as City Fuel Company; Stetson Solid Fuel, Inc.

Award was made to the lowest responsible bidder, as follows:

Crystal Coal and Oil Company, Inc., $59,100.

TRAFFIC DEPARTMENT. Roadway Painting

DEAR SIR:

This department recently received bids for roadway painting and the following bids were submitted:

Safety Lines Company, 416 Broadway, Cambridge, $41,495; White Lines, Inc., 173 Cedar street, Roxbury, $46,905; Traffic Control and Signal Company, 4 Liscomb street, Worcester, $50,425; John J. Botti Company, Inc., 1060 Adams street, Dorchester, $89,150.

After investigation I have decided that the low bidder, Safety Lines Company, does not conform to the requirements contained in the proposal submitted by them for the following reasons:

The type of equipment that they have demonstrated has never been used before for roadway painting purposes and is not designed for that purpose. There is no known performance data on how this equipment will perform in the traffic striping field as no experimental work of any kind has been conducted. It must be assumed that the developing and testing of any known standard traffic paint application equipment should be done on a broad scale previously, instead of allowing anyone to use this type of equipment in the City of Boston.

Inquiries made to other governmental units that Safety Lines Company listed in their proposal as having done work for reveal that they have not given satisfactory evidence of their ability to perform the work within the time specified for the fulfillment of the contract.

The second low bidder, White Lines, Inc., has successfully performed this work for this department for the past four years and possesses the necessary equipment to complete the work in accordance with the specifications contained in the proposal.

It is my opinion that the best interests of the city will be served if the contract is awarded to White Lines, Inc., a Boston concern, and your permission is hereby respectfully requested to award the contract to White Lines, Inc., in the amount of $46,905.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS J. GRIFFIN,
Commissioner.

AMENDMENTS TO ORIGINAL AWARD OF DAMAGES

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR FURNITURE REPAIR AND REFINISHING AT BOSTON TECHNICAL HIGH SCHOOL, 205 TOWNSEND STREET, ROXBURY, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for furniture repair and refinishing at Boston Technical High School, 205 Townsend street, Roxbury, Mass.

General bids will be received up until 12 o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Wednesday, July 6, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, fourth floor, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, inclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $600. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any or all general bids, if it be in the public interest so to do, in accordance with section 44D of chapter 149 of the General Laws, as amended.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR FURNISHING AND INSTALLING NEW CAST-IRON STEAM BOILERS AT THE GASTON SCHOOL, L AND EAST FIFTH STREETS, SOUTH BOSTON, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for furnishing and installing new cast-iron steam boilers at the Gaston School, L and East Fifth streets, South Boston, Mass.

General bids will be received up until twelve o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Wednesday, July 6, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, fourth floor, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, inclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $1,500. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within thirty days after the actual date of the opening of the general bids (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded).

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, section 26, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

All subbids for a subtrade designated in Item 2 of the general bid form shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the above office address before twelve o'clock noon, (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Tuesday, June 28, 1960, at which hour and place they will be publicly opened and read. Every such subbid must be submitted in a sealed envelope with the following plainly marked on the outside: Title of work, subtrade for which subbid submitted, subbidder's name, subbidder's business address.

Subbids must be submitted on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority, and any subbid not filed on the form of subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority shall be rejected.

A bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the amount as specified in the following for the subtrade as listed below, shall be submitted by each subbidder with his subbid as filed with the Awarding Authority:

Heating	$500
Sheet Metal.....	100
Covering	200

Plans and specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest so to do. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any subbid on any subtrade if it determines that such subbid does not represent the subbid of a person competent to perform the work as specified or that only one such subbid was received and that the price is not reasonable for acceptance without competition, in accordance with section 44D, chapter 149, of the General Laws, as amended.

HIGHWAY RECONSTRUCTION

Proposals for Highway Reconstruction in Carruth Street, Clermont Street, Deering Road, Elmer Road, Hiawatha Road, Newhall Street, Pierce Avenue, Richmond Street (Part), Walnut Street (Part), Public Works District 7, Dorchester.

The Commissioner of Public Works of the City of Boston, Room 511 (Contract Office), City Hall Annex, invites proposals from citizens of the United States and corporations or other legal associations wherein the controlling interest to the extent of at least over one half thereof is owned by a citizen or citizens of the United States, for highway reconstruction in Carruth street, Clermont street, Deering road, Elmer road, Hiawatha road, Newhall street, Pierce avenue, Richmond street (part), Walnut street (part), Public Works District 7, Dorchester. A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Commissioner and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful contractor. Forms of proposals may be obtained at Room 511 (Contract Office), City Hall Annex. The proposal should be signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed, marked "Proposal for Highway Reconstruction in Carruth Street, Clermont Street, Deering Road, Elmer Road, Hiawatha Road, Newhall Street, Pierce Avenue, Richmond Street (Part), Walnut Street (Part), Public Works District 7, Dorchester," and left at Room 511 (Contract Office), fifth floor, City Hall Annex, before 2 P.M. (Eastern Daylight Saving Time) of THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1960, with a certified check for SIX THOUSAND (6,000) DOLLARS, payable to and to become the property of the city if the proposal after acceptance is not carried out. The proposals will then be publicly opened and read in the Hearing Room, 401 City Hall Annex.

Proposals must be made in duplicate, the sealed duplicate, without check, to be deposited by bidder with the City Auditor previous to the time named for opening the bids. All proposals must be from bidders of record on file at Room 511, City Hall Annex. There will be a charge of two dollars ($2) NOT REFUNDABLE, for each set of contract documents taken out. If the price of any item appears to the Commissioner to be abnormally high or low, or the bidder neglects to bid on each and every item, it may lead to the rejection of the proposal containing such price. The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs and laborers in the work to be performed under the contract, shall not be less than the rate of wages in the schedule determined by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth, a copy of which schedule is annexed to the form of contract referred to herein. Copies of said schedule may be obtained, without cost, upon application therefor at the office of the Commissioner of Public Works. Before commencing performance of this contract, the Contractor shall provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under chapter 152 of the General Laws (the Workmen's Compensation Law, so called) to all persons to be employed under this contract and shall continue such insurance in full force and effect during the term of this contract.

ATTENTION IS CALLED TO CHAPTER 316 OF THE ACTS OF 1959, WHICH MUST BE STRICTLY COMPLIED WITH. The undersigned reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to award the contract as he deems best.

JAMES W. HALEY,

(June 18.) Commissioner of Public Works.

PRUDENTIAL DEVELOPMENT ACT AS PROPOSED

AN ACT

CONCERNING THE DEVELOPMENT OR REDEVELOPMENT OF BLIGHTED OPEN AREAS, DECADENT AREAS AND SUB-STANDARD AREAS BY URBAN REDEVELOPMENT CORPORATIONS WITH SPECIAL PROVISIONS FOR PROJECTS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 121A of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 1, as most recently amended by chapter 73 of the acts of 1954, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 1. Unless a different meaning clearly appears from the context, the following terms, wherever used in this chapter, shall have the following meanings:—

“Blighted open area”, a predominantly open area which is detrimental to the safety, health, morals, welfare or sound growth of a community because it is unduly costly to develop it soundly through the ordinary operations of private enterprise by reason of the existence of ledge, rock, unsuitable soil, or other physical conditions, or by reason of the necessity for unduly expensive excavation, fill or grading, or by reason of the need for unduly expensive foundations, retaining walls or unduly expensive measures for waterproofing structures or for draining the area or for the prevention of the flooding thereof or for the protection of adjacent properties and the water table therein or for unduly expensive measures incident to building around or over rights of way through the area, or for otherwise making the area appropriate for sound development, or by reason of obsolete, inappropriate or otherwise faulty platting or subdivision, deterioration of site improvements or facilities, division of the area by rights of way, diversity of ownership of plots, or inadequacy of transportation facilities or other utilities, or by reason of tax and special assessment delinquencies, or because there has been a substantial change in business or economic conditions or practices, or an abandonment or cessation of a previous use or of work on improvements begun but not feasible to complete without the aids provided by this chapter, or by reason of any combination of the foregoing or other conditions; or a predominantly open area which by reason of any condition or combination of conditions which are not being remedied by the ordinary operations of private enterprise is of such a character that in essence it is detrimental to the safety, health, morals, welfare or sound growth of the community in which it is situated.

“Decadent area”, an area which is detrimental to safety, health, morals, welfare or sound growth of a community because of the existence of buildings which are out of repair, physically deteriorated, unfit for human habitation, or obsolete, or in need of major maintenance or repair, or because much of the real estate in recent years has been sold or taken for non-payment of taxes or upon foreclosure of mortgages, or because buildings have been torn down and not replaced and in which under existing conditions it is improbable that the buildings will be replaced, or because of a substantial change in business or economic conditions, or because of inadequate light, air, or open space, or because of excessive land coverage, or because diversity of ownership, irregular lot sizes or obsolete street patterns make it improbable that the area will be redeveloped by the ordinary operations of private enterprise, or by reason of any combination of the foregoing conditions.

“Sub-standard area”, an area wherein dwellings predominate which, by reason of dilapidation, overcrowding, faulty arrangement or design, lack of ventilation, light, or sanitation facilities, or any combination of these factors, are detrimental to safety, health, morals, welfare or sound growth of a community.

“Construct”, “construction”, and “erect” shall include the renovation, rehabilitation or remodeling of buildings or structures.

“Housing board” or “board”, the state housing board established under section sixty-four of chapter six.

"Project", any undertaking consisting of the construction in a blighted open, decadent or sub-standard area of decent, safe and sanitary residential, commercial, industrial, institutional, recreational or governmental buildings and such appurtenant or incidental facilities as shall be in the public interest, and the operation and maintenance of such buildings and facilities after construction. A "project" may include as incidental thereto any one or more of the following:—

(a) acquisition and assembly of the land (and buildings and structures and other improvements thereon, if any) within a blighted open, decadent or sub-standard area; (b) clearance of the land within a blighted open, decadent or sub-standard area; (c) acquisition, assembly and clearance of land, buildings or structures not in themselves blighted, decadent, or sub-standard if their inclusion is necessary for the clearance, redevelopment, reconstruction or rehabilitation of a blighted open, decadent or sub-standard area; and (d) installation, construction, and reconstruction of public and private ways, public utilities and services, and site improvements essential to the preparation of a blighted open, decadent or sub-standard area for beneficial development or redevelopment.

"Zoning ordinance or by-law", any special statute establishing zoning regulations in one or more cities, towns or districts, or any ordinance or by-law adopted under chapter forty A or corresponding provisions of earlier laws.

SECTION 2. Said chapter 121A is hereby further amended by striking out section 2, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 647 of the acts of 1953, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 2. It is hereby declared that blighted open, decadent or sub-standard areas exist in certain cities and towns in this commonwealth, and that each of such areas constitutes a serious and growing menace, injurious and inimical to the safety, health, morals and welfare of the residents of the commonwealth and the sound growth of the communities therein; that the existence of each of such areas contributes substantially to the spread of disease and crime, necessitating excessive and disproportionate expenditure of public funds for the preservation of the public health and safety, for crime prevention, correction, prosecution, punishment, and the treatment of juvenile delinquency and for the maintenance of adequate police, fire and accident protection and other public services and facilities, constitutes an economic and social liability, substantially impairs or arrests the sound growth of cities and towns, and retards the provision of residential, commercial and industrial buildings and other improvements; that each of such areas decreases the value of private investments and threatens the sources of public revenue and the financial stability of communities; that because of the economic and social interdependence of different communities and of different areas within single communities the redevelopment of land not only in sub-standard areas but also in blighted open and decadent areas in accordance with a comprehensive plan to promote the sound growth of the community is necessary in order to achieve permanent and comprehensive elimination of existing slums and sub-standard, decadent and blighted conditions and to prevent the recurrence of such slums or sub-standard, decadent or blighted conditions or their development in other parts of the community or in other communities; and that the redevelopment of blighted open areas promotes the clearance of sub-standard and decadent areas and prevents their creation and occurrence; that the menace of blighted open, decadent or sub-standard areas is beyond remedy and control solely by regulatory process in the exercise of the police power and cannot be dealt with effectively by the ordinary operations of private enterprise without the aids herein provided; that the development of property for the purpose of eliminating blighted open, decadent or sub-standard conditions thereon and preventing recurrence of such conditions in the area, the removal of structures and improvement of sites, and disposition of the property for redevelopment incidental to the foregoing, the exercise of powers by housing or redevelopment authorities and any assistance which may be given by cities and towns or any other public bodies in connection therewith, are public uses and purposes for which the aids herein provided may be given, public money expended, and the power of eminent domain exercised; that a public exigency exists which makes the use, acquisition, planning, clearance, rehabilitation or rebuilding of such blighted open, decadent, or sub-standard areas for residential, commercial, industrial, institutional, recreational or governmental buildings and appurtenant or incidental facilities as herein provided a public use and benefit for which private property may be acquired by eminent domain or regulated by wholesome and reasonable orders, laws and directions; and the necessity in the public interest for the provisions hereinafter enacted is hereby declared as a matter of legislative determination.

It is hereby further declared that in many areas throughout the commonwealth there is a shortage of decent, safe and sanitary buildings for residential, commercial, industrial, institutional, recreational, or governmental purposes; that this condition is most extreme in communities where blighted open, decadent or sub-standard areas exist; that the aforesaid conditions cannot be corrected by the ordinary operations of private enterprise without the aids herein provided; that the provisions of this chapter will stimulate the investment of private capital in blighted open, decadent or sub-standard areas, and in the construction, maintenance and operation in such areas of needed decent, safe and sanitary residential, commercial, industrial, institutional, and recreational buildings; that the construction, maintenance and operation of such buildings on such land in such areas will assist in achieving permanent and comprehensive elimination of existing slums, and sub-standard, decadent and blighted conditions and in preventing the recurrence or redevelopment of such conditions.

SECTION 3. Section 3 of said chapter 121A is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence, as appearing in section 1 of said chapter 647, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:—Three or more persons may associate themselves by written agreement of association in a form furnished or approved by the commissioner of corporations and taxation with intent to form a corporation for the purpose of undertaking and carrying out in the city of Boston a project authorized and approved by the Boston Redevelopment Authority or for the purpose of undertaking and carrying out in any other city or town a project authorized and approved, or to be authorized and approved, by the housing board.

SECTION 4. The first sentence of section 5 of said chapter 121A, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 654 of the acts of 1945, is hereby amended by inserting after the word "three", in line 2, the words:—with intent to form a corporation for the purpose of undertaking and carrying out a project in a city other than Boston or in a town.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 121A is hereby amended by inserting after section 6 the following section:—

Section 6A. As soon as any such corporation determines to carry out a project approved by the housing board, such corporation and the city in which its project has been authorized, acting by its city manager or, if there is no such official, its mayor, or the town in which its project has been authorized, acting by its selectmen, shall contract for the carrying out of such project in accordance with the application, the provisions of this chapter, and the rules, regulations and standards prescribed by the housing board for such project. Such contract may provide that, without mutual consent, any subsequent amendment of any such provisions, rules, regulations and standards shall not affect the project. Nothing in section ten shall prevent such contract from further providing for such corporation to pay to the city or town with respect to one or more years such specific or ascertainable amount in addition to the excise prescribed by section ten as may have been stated in the application.

SECTION 6. Said chapter 121A is hereby further amended by striking out section 8, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 654 of the acts of 1945, and inserting in place thereof the following section:—

Section 8. The construction of all buildings upon a project shall be inspected by competent persons chosen by the housing board to the extent necessary to make certain that such construction is in conformity with the application as approved. Every such corporation shall be deemed to have been organized to serve a public purpose, and shall remain at all times subject to all reasonable rules and regulations applicable to its project. All real estate acquired by any such corporation and all structures erected by it shall be deemed to be acquired or erected for the purpose of promoting the public health, safety and welfare and shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter.

If the housing board shall find that a corporation has violated any of the provisions of this chapter or the requirements thereunder with respect to the construction and financing of a project, or to the payments therefor, or that the rules and regulations applicable to a project have not been complied with, or that a project is not maintained in such a way as to carry out the purpose for which it was designed, or that strip or waste caused by unreasonable use or abuse of the buildings, structures or facilities thereon exist, it shall notify the holders of any mortgages, or mortgage bonds thereon, or the trustee, if any, for the bondholders, and it may institute a proceeding in equity in its own name for the purpose of preventing, or requiring, as the case may be, by injunction or otherwise, any such act or failure or omission to act. The remedies provided in this section shall be in addition to and not in substitution for any other available remedies.

SECTION 7. Section 18 of said chapter 121A is hereby amended by inserting after the word "undertake", in line 6 of said section as appearing in section 1 of chapter 654 of the acts of 1945, the words:—on land owned or to be acquired by it—, and by striking out the word "section", in line 9 of said section as so appearing, and inserting in place thereof the words:—sections six A and.

SECTION 8. Paragraph (e) of section 18 of said chapter 121A is hereby amended by striking out the last sentence, as appearing in section 8 of chapter 647 of the acts of 1953, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:—The term "housing board" as used in said section eight shall be deemed to mean the commissioner of insurance whether the project is in Boston or another city or town.

SECTION 9. Paragraph (f) of said section 18, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 654 of the acts of 1945, is hereby amended by striking out the first sentence and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:—Section nine shall not be applicable to such company; but such company shall not receive or accept for its general purposes as net income from a project any sum in excess of six per cent of the amount invested by it in such project for each year in which it owns or has owned the project, except that, if in any year it has so received a sum less than the aforesaid six per cent, it may so receive in a subsequent year or years additional sums not exceeding in the aggregate such deficiency without interest.

SECTION 10. Paragraph (g) of said section 18, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding at the end the following sentence:—If an insurance company occupies or uses one or more parts of a project for purposes of its business not directly related to the construction, alteration, maintenance, repair, operation or management of such project, the gross income from such business shall not be included in computing its gross income from all sources but in lieu thereof such amount as the insurance company and the housing board shall in each year not later than June thirtieth agree, or in the event of their failure to so agree, the commissioner of insurance shall determine, to be the fair rental value for such year of the floor area so occupied or used shall be included in computing gross income from all sources.

SECTION 11. Said section 18, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after paragraph (g) the following new paragraph:—

(g $\frac{1}{2}$) The term "housing board" as used in the last paragraph of section eleven shall be deemed to mean the commissioner of insurance whether the project is in Boston or another city or town.

SECTION 12. Paragraph (h) of said section 18, as so appearing, is hereby amended by adding at the end the following sentence:—The term "housing board" as used in said section fifteen except the first time it appears in clause (5) shall be deemed to mean the commissioner of insurance whether the project is in Boston or another city or town.

SECTION 13. Said section 18, as so appearing, is hereby amended by inserting after paragraph (i) the following new paragraph:—

(i $\frac{1}{2}$) The period of forty years set forth in sections ten, sixteen and sixteen A shall be computed for a particular project from the date of approval of such project.

SECTION 14. Subject to the provisions of sections eight, eleven and twelve of this act, the Boston Redevelopment authority, hereinafter in this act sometimes called the authority, shall, in addition to its other powers and duties, have the powers and perform the duties from time to time conferred or imposed upon the state housing board by the provisions of sections six A, seven, seven A, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve, fifteen, sixteen, sixteen A, eighteen and eighteen B of chapter one hundred and twenty-one A of the General Laws, as hereby or from time to time hereafter amended, with respect to a project thereunder in the city of Boston; and the words "housing board" or "board" as used in said sections shall be deemed to mean the authority in the case of all such projects; provided, however, that no vote of the authority approving a project or any change therein or making or amending any rule, regulation or standard therefor shall be in force until approved by the mayor of said city. The authority shall make, and from time to time may amend, reasonable rules and regulations for securing its approval of projects in Boston under said chapter one hundred and twenty-one A; and no rule, regulation or standard of the state housing board shall apply to such a project. The authority shall have the powers and perform the duties conferred or imposed by this paragraph notwithstanding that it may have made a contract directly or indirectly affecting the project.

The authority shall further have the powers and perform the duties from time to time conferred or imposed on planning boards of cities in Massachusetts by general laws applicable to Boston, including section seventy of chapter forty-one of the General Laws, and shall also have the powers and perform the duties conferred or imposed by statute or ordinance on the city planning board of the city of Boston immediately prior to the taking effect of this act; and for all purposes, including those of sections twenty-six KK and twenty-six ZZ of chapter one hundred and twenty-one of the General Laws, the authority shall be deemed to be a planning board established under said section seventy. Said city may annually or oftener appropriate money to defray expenses incurred by the authority in exercising powers and performing duties under this paragraph.

The city planning board of said city is hereby abolished; and all property of said city in the custody of said board and all appropriations of said city for the use of said board are hereby transferred to and vested in the authority; and all persons appointed by, or holding by, through or under, said board are hereby transferred to, and made employees of, the authority without reduction in their rank or compensation or impairment of their civil service rights, or their retirement rights, or their vacation, holiday or sick leave rights. Until the city council of said city with the approval of its mayor shall otherwise determine, offices held ex officio by the chairman of said board shall be filled through appointment by the mayor of a person selected at large to serve at his pleasure.

SECTION 15. Persons intending to associate themselves by written agreement of association with intent to form a corporation under chapter one hundred and twenty-one A of the General Laws for the purpose of undertaking and carrying out under said chapter a project in Boston before so associating themselves or an insurance company, savings bank or group of savings banks intending to carry out under said chapter a project in Boston before undertaking such project shall submit to the Boston Redevelopment Authority an application for its approval of such project and for its consent to the formation of such corporation. Such application shall specify the location of the proposed project, shall state the reasons why the project is necessary or desirable and the uses to which the project is to be put, shall contain in general terms a description of the buildings, structures or facilities which it is proposed to furnish, and shall be accompanied by a site plan and drawings of the proposed buildings and other improvements adequate to show the nature and extent of the project.

Whenever the authority is so asked to consent to the formation of such a corporation or the carrying out of a project by an insurance company, savings bank or group of savings banks, it shall, after a public hearing of which reasonable notice shall be given, make such determinations as may be required by the provisions of said chapter one hundred and twenty-one A, and shall determine whether conditions exist which warrant the carrying out of the proposed project, whether in its opinion such project will be practicable, whether such project conflicts with the master plan for the city, whether such project would be in any way detrimental to the best interests of the public or the city or to the public safety and convenience or inconsistent with the most suitable development of the city, and whether the project will constitute a public use and benefit. If the authority finds that the proposed project does not meet the requirements of said chapter one hundred and twenty-one A, or that conditions warranting the carrying out of the project do not exist, or that the project will not be practicable, or conflicts with the master plan for the city, or is detrimental or inconsistent as aforesaid, or will not constitute a public use and benefit, it shall disapprove the project.

If the carrying out of the project will involve the destruction or rehabilitation of buildings occupied in whole or in part as dwellings, the authority shall also determine whether or not there is a feasible method for the temporary relocation of families displaced from the project area and whether or not there are, or are being provided, in the project area or in other areas not generally less desirable in regard to public utilities and public and commercial facilities and at rents or prices within the financial means of the families displaced from the project area, decent, safe and sanitary dwellings equal in number to the number of, and available to, such displaced families and reasonably accessible to their places of employment; and unless it finds that there is such a feasible method and that such dwellings exist or are being provided, it shall not approve the project.

If a project includes land within any location approved by the state department of public works for the extension of the Massachusetts turnpike into the City of Boston, the authority shall not approve the project unless the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority determines that the project will not unreasonably interfere with such extension.

The authority shall prepare, adopt and make open to public inspection a report approving or disapproving the project and setting forth its reasons for approval or disapproval. If the authority disapproves the project, it may suggest changes in the project, or in the plans therefor, which, if adopted, would meet its objections. If the persons intending to associate as aforesaid or an insurance company, savings bank or group of savings banks intending to carry out a project in Boston determine to proceed in accordance with the changes suggested, they shall amend their application accordingly. If the proposed change is not a fundamental one, the authority may approve or disapprove the application as amended without further hearing or report; otherwise the authority shall proceed as if it were a new application.

Whenever the authority approves a project, it shall make and embody in its report reasonable rules and regulations setting minimum standards for the financing, construction, maintenance and management of such project insofar as the same are not specified in the application for the approval thereof.

As soon as conveniently may be after the mayor of Boston approves the authority's approval of a project, the authority shall issue a certificate of the approval of the project and of its consent, if any, to the formation of a corporation to carry it out. An agreement of association to form a corporation for the purposes of carrying out in Boston a project under said chapter one hundred and twenty-one A shall not be presented to the state secretary for filing, nor shall he file it, unless it is accompanied by such a certificate.

In the construction and use of a project, such a corporation, insurance company, savings bank or group of savings banks shall not deviate from any zoning, building, health or fire law, code, ordinance or regulation in effect in Boston; provided, however, that notwithstanding the provisions of any such law, code, ordinance or regulation, the authority with the approval of the mayor of Boston shall have exclusive power, both before and after the approval of a project, to grant from time to time permission for the project to deviate from such law, code, ordinance or regulation if it finds that such permission may be granted without substantially derogating from the intent and purposes of such law, code, ordinance or regulation, and also to grant from time to time permission for the project to deviate from any building, health or fire law, code, ordinance or regulation so in effect if it finds that a particular design or construction or a particular material, apparatus or equipment, or a particular method of construction or installation is specified, but the authority is satisfied by reliable and generally accepted tests, or by experience in other cities, that some other design, construction, material, apparatus, equipment or method will sufficiently satisfy the purpose for which it is to be used and the purposes of such law, code, ordinance, or regulation or that the specification was not designed for a structure of the nature proposed and that such purposes can in some other requested manner be satisfied.

If a project in Boston includes a garage within five hundred feet of one or more buildings occupied in whole or in part as a public or private school having more than fifty pupils or as a public or private hospital having more than twenty-five beds, or as a church, the authority shall further determine whether or not such garage will be substantially detrimental to such school, hospital or church; and if it finds that it will not, an application may be granted and a permit issued for the erection, maintenance and use of such garage anything in chapter three hundred and sixteen of the acts of nineteen hundred and twenty-two to the contrary notwithstanding.

If a project in Boston involves the construction of units which constitute a single building under the Boston Building Code and zoning law, the authority with the approval of the mayor of the city may declare such units separate buildings for the purposes of chapter one hundred and thirty-eight of the General Laws, in which case, notwithstanding any contrary provision of general or special law and without publication of notice or sending of notice to abutting owners or others, any license provided for by said chapter may be approved and issued by the licensing board of the city for any place within such units, and transferred from such place to any other place in such units.

After the approval of a project by the authority, the corporation, insurance company, savings bank or group of savings banks carrying out such project may apply to the authority for leave to change the type and character of the buildings on such project; and the authority may grant such application unless in its opinion the proposed change is a fundamental one, in which case the authority shall proceed as if such application to change were an application for the original approval of the project.

Any person, whether previously a party to the proceeding or not, who is aggrieved by any vote of the authority under this or the preceding section, or any municipal officer or board, may, within thirty days after an attested copy of such vote with, in cases where approval of such vote by the mayor is required, an attested copy of such approval, is filed by the secretary of the authority with the city clerk of the city of Boston, bring a petition in the supreme judicial or superior court sitting in Suffolk County for a writ of certiorari against the authority to correct errors of law therein; and the provisions of section one D of chapter two hundred and thirteen, and of section four of chapter two hundred and forty-nine, of the General Laws, shall, except as herein provided, apply to said petition.

SECTION 16. Anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding, the provisions of law in effect immediately prior to the effective date of this act and not the provisions of this act shall apply to persons intending to form a corporation under chapter one hundred and twenty-one A of the General Laws, the corporation they form, and the project of such corporation if the purchase or lease of real estate acquired for a land assembly and redevelopment project approved by the state housing board prior to the effective date of this act is involved, except that in the case of projects in Boston the Boston Redevelopment Authority, notwithstanding that it may have made a contract directly or indirectly affecting the project, shall have the powers and perform the duties which the city planning board of the city of Boston would have and perform were it not abolished by this act; provided, however, that, if the persons intending to form such a corporation file with the state secretary within eighteen months after the effective date of this act written acceptance of the provisions of this act, such provisions shall apply to them, the corporation they form, and the project of such corporation.

SECTION 17. The provisions of this act are hereby declared to be severable; and if any of its provisions is decided to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect or impair the other provisions of this act, or if the application of any provision of this act to any person or circumstance is decided to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect or impair the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances.

MOTOR POOL ENLARGED; MOVED TO TRAFFIC FROM PUBLIC WORKS DEPT.

Mayor John F. Collins, on June 22, increased the pool of chauffeur-driven automobiles available to city officials from five to twelve and ordered their transfer from the Public Works Department to the Traffic Department.

A strict set of rules will govern the operation of the motor pool to safeguard against abuses and to insure maximum efficiency. Henceforth, only department heads will have the authority to order cars.

The present motor pool of five automobiles was established by the mayor last winter to replace a fleet of some forty-four chauffeur-driven cars which the city had maintained. However, a study of the use of the five automobiles has proven them insufficient to meet the city's legitimate needs.

The Mayor pointed out that most large cities using the motor pool system operate them with about fifteen cars. He also noted that the increased cars and drivers will require no new funds since the men will be obtained from departmental transfers and the vehicles will come from those already in the city's possession.

The decision to transfer the motor pool to the Traffic Department was in line with a policy of centralizing transportation in one agency. The cars will be garaged and maintained at Traffic Department Headquarters, 112 Southamptton street.

Heading up the reorganized motor pool will be Theodore A. Hoppe, presently Director of Traffic Safety Education.

Fire Victims Offered Housing Accommodations

All thirteen Boston families rendered homeless by recent fires in Dorchester and Jamaica Plain were offered apartments in the city's housing projects. Seven families accepted the offer. These total thirty-seven persons, twenty-four of them children. Two families are expected soon to say "yes" to public housing accommodations.

Palm Trees Return To City Hall Plaza

Six palm trees recently joined forty-eight evergreens and two beds of begonias, geraniums, and petunias in giving Boston City Hall a new look.

The landscaping was ordered by Park Commissioner Martin F. Walsh to brighten up the School Street plaza. The lawn had been top dressed and reseeded early in the spring. When the cold weather arrives the palm trees will be taken to the Park Department greenhouses in Franklin Park.

Mayor's Field Day Nets $75,000

The Mayor's Charity Field Day of June 14 brought in total receipts of $75,000, the largest amount in the twenty-five-year history of the event, City Treasurer James E. Gildea reported last week.

PARKING RATES UP

The nickel parking meter is becoming a thing of the past, the American Municipal Association reports. A survey of 48 large cities shows that 38 charge at the rate of 10 cents an hour or more in at least some areas. Four charge 10 cents an hour for all meters, five charge 20 cents an hour for some. Six of the cities use meter earnings to provide off-street parking.

FIN. COM. ASKS LEGISLATURE TO AUTHORIZE ADDED 2 PER CENT PENALTY ON OVERDUE TAXES

TAX BILLS UNDER $500 WOULD BE EXEMPTED

June 16, 1960.

To the Honorable the Senate and House of Representatives.

An explanation is in order for introducing legislation at this late date in the calendar of the Legislature.

The Finance Commission in a report, dated October 2, 1959, pointed out the importance of adding a penalty to the interest rate charged by the City of Boston on unpaid taxes. The addition of a penalty was the historical pattern in Massachusetts from 1920 to 1938.

The Commission planned originally to follow up this report with a petition for legislation to implement the recommendation that the historical penalty of 2 per cent be added to 4 per cent interest on unpaid taxes.

The Commission refrained from filing such legislation because other legislative bills looking to installment paying of property taxes, with penalty provision for delinquency, were under consideration by the Legislature. The Finance Commission felt that some confusion might result if the bill attached hereto were presented.

The bills relating to installment payment of property tax have now been disposed of by the Legislature. Three were put over to Next Annual Session; one was rejected on a point of order.

Accordingly, the Finance Commission deems it timely to direct attention to the matter of a penalty to be added to the interest rate charged by a municipality on unpaid taxes, and to the Commission's conclusions as to the basis for statutory amendment. Municipalities need such legislation to get the maximum amount of property taxes collected as soon as possible.

The Finance Commission is authorized by section 21 of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended, to prepare reports and findings "to enable the Mayor, the City Council, the Governor, or the General Court to receive the reports and findings of said (Finance) Commission as a basis for such laws, ordinances, or administrative orders as may be deemed meet."

Interest and Penalty

It is important to understand the basic interest charge paid by the taxpayer on overdue taxes, and the interest paid by the City to the taxpayer when a part of the tax originally paid by the taxpayer is refunded on the occasion of an abatement of taxes. The underlying theory appears to be the following:

The City pays an interest charge on refunds of taxes paid and subsequently abated because the City has had the use of the taxpayer's money for a limited period, i.e., between the date of original payment of the tax and the date of the abatement. (G.L., chapter 59, section 69.)

By the same token, the City levies a corresponding rate of interest on the taxpayer who has had the use of money due the City for a certain period, i.e., between the date when the tax became due and the date when the tax was paid. (G.L., chapter 59, section 57.)

Accordingly, the historic pattern over the years shows more or less of a parallel between these two rates of interest. In each case, the present rate is 4 per cent.

However, the taxpayer is not asked to pay a penalty, per se, for his lateness in paying his due taxes. This was not always the case.

History of the Penalty

An examination of pertinent past statutes shows the continued presence of the penalty provision relative to interest on unpaid taxes.

Chapter 460 of the Acts of 1920 (which was operative until 1933) on the question of rate of interest on unpaid taxes reads as follows:

" . . . At the rate of six per cent per annum on all taxes and, by way of penalty, at the additional rate of two per cent per annum on the amount of all taxes in excess of two hundred dollars assessed to any taxpayer, in any one city or town, if such taxes remain unpaid after the expiration of three months from the date on which they became payable, . . ." (Italics added.)

Chapter 254 of the Acts of 1933 reads as follows:

" . . . At the rate of six per cent per annum on all taxes and, by way of penalty, at the additional rate of two per cent per annum on the amount of all taxes in excess of three hundred dollars assessed to any taxpayer, in any one city or town, if such taxes remain unpaid after December thirty-first of the year in which they are payable, . . ." (Italics added.)

Chapter 158 of the Acts of 1935 (this was "an act reducing the rates of interest on unpaid local taxes," during the depression) on this point makes the following change:

"Interest shall be paid at the rate of five per cent per annum on all taxes remaining unpaid after November first of the year in which they are payable, computed from October first of such year, and, by way of penalty, at the additional rate of one and one-half per cent per annum on so much of the taxes remaining unpaid after December thirty-first of the year in which they are payable as is in excess of three hundred dollars," (Italics added.)

In 1937 (chapter 203) the law was changed to read as follows:

"Interest shall be paid at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum on all taxes remaining unpaid after November first of the year in which they are payable, computed from October first of such year, and, by way of penalty, at the additional rate of one and one-half per cent per annum on so much of the taxes assessed to any taxpayer in any one city or town and remaining unpaid after December thirty-first of the year in which they are payable as is in excess of three hundred dollars, computed from October first of such year." (Italics added.)

In 1938 (chapter 330) the idea of a penalty was dropped. The law reads simply for that year:

"Interest shall be paid at the rate of four per cent per annum on all taxes remaining unpaid after November first of the year in which they are payable, computed from October first of such year."

The current law (G.L., chapter 59, section 57) is:

"Interest shall be paid at the rate of four per cent per annum on all real estate and personal property taxes remaining unpaid after November first of the year in which they are payable, computed from October first of such year."

Dimensions of Unpaid Taxes

It is time to revive the idea of penalizing delinquent taxpayers by applying the type of penalty which prevailed in the 1920's and 1930's.

This recommendation assumes increasing importance as the size of the amount of uncollected taxes remains very high. To avoid incurring interest charges the taxes must be paid by November first. Although the per cent of tax collections in 1959 was slightly better than in 1958, an amount of $14,607,143 remained uncollected as of December 31, 1959. These observations are clear from the following table:

CITY TAKES STEPS TO COLLECT $8.4 MILLION OWED IN UNPAID HOSPITAL BILLS SINCE 1952

Corporation Counsel Arthur G. Coffey announced, on June 21, that the city will launch immediate steps to collect $8,440,000 owed Boston City Hospital by patients who failed to pay bills from 1952 to 1959.

"Contrary to a popular misconception," he said, "Boston City Hospital is not a free hospital and the city has every intention and right to collect money owed by former patients who can and should pay their debts.

"It is true that the hospital does not charge persons deemed by it to be incapable of paying for their hospitalization, but it is the policy of the hospital to require such payment by those persons who can pay and the hospital fully intends and expects that such persons will pay. However, Mayor Collins has instructed me to continue his practice of government with a heart, and those deemed incapable of paying will not be prosecuted."

The Corporation Counsel said that since 1952 billings at City Hospital totaled $50,040,000. Some $16,415,000 was written off by the hospital as bills incurred by persons who could not pay, $25,185,000 was paid, leaving a balance due of $8,440,000.

The following procedure will be observed in the collection of past due hospital debts:

Persons owing money will receive a notice from City Hospital telling of the amount due and a request to pay immediately. Former patients who ignore the first letter will receive a second notice. If the latter notice also is disregarded the case will be turned over to the Law Department, which will take action within ten days.

The second notice forms from the hospital already are in the mail and those who do not respond to the hospital's all out effort to recover debts due will face court action by mid-July.

The Corporation Counsel concluded: Those persons who may wish to avoid inconvenience, expense, and embarrassment of a lawsuit are encouraged to send their checks, payable to Boston City Hospital, to the City Law Department, 11 Beacon street, care of Mrs. Campbell. For further information regarding the payment of hospital bills, the Law Department may be reached by telephone at LA 3-6200. The time to act is now!

Experience shows that many months are required to reduce substantially the amount remaining uncollected at the end of the year. The amount of dollars, $15,717,-

592.33, of the 1958 levy which remained uncollected as of December 31, 1958, was reduced in the subsequent months as follows:

WELFARE COSTS IN MAY DECREASE SLIGHTLY IN ALL CATEGORIES

Following is a summary of the Welfare Department's report for May, 1960:

¶ Departmental expenditures amounted to $2,993,121 for May, 1960. This was a decrease of $25,575 compared to the previous month. The major portion of the decrease was in medical payments. There were 1,119 applications processed of which 863 were approved and 256 rejected or withdrawn. The number of cases closed totaled 1,063 which resulted in a decrease of 200 cases. As of the end of the month, the caseload was 25,482, the lowest since February, 1949.

¶ Old Age Assistance: In spite of 191 cases being added to this category, the downward trend continued with the closing of 244 cases. Of these, two thirds were closed due to the death of the client. The average monthly cost per case was $103.85, a decrease of almost $2 from the figure for April. Total expenditures for the aged were $1,676,067 with 16,031 persons receiving assistance.

¶ Aid to Dependent Children: For the first time in 7 months, this category showed a decrease in the caseload. The procurement of employment in 50 instances and the return of 37 absent parents to the home were the fundamental factors. Although there were 4,849 families aided, they represented 16,211 individuals (4,290 adults and 11,921 children). Total payments during May were $764,865, an average of $157.73 per case.

¶ Disability Assistance: Due to the inherent nature of this category, almost half of the total expenditures were for medical care. The cost for care in chronic hospitals and nursing homes amounted to $144,362, or 72 per cent of the total expended for vendor payments. Of the 168 applications acted upon, 103 were approved and 65 rejected or withdrawn. It is interesting to note that of the latter group, 28 were found ineligible medically by the State Medical Review Team.

¶ General Relief: A high rate of turnover occurred with 427 cases added and 525 closed, a decrease of 98 or 6 per cent. Return to employment was the primary reason for closings. Total expenditures were $135,241, a drop of $8,259 or almost 6 per cent. There were 2,008 cases which received grants averaging $64.57 for the month.

Interest and Penalties in Other Places

A comparison of the practice in Massachusetts in this matter with the practice in many other states and cities demonstrates that the recommendations of this report are extremely modest. (Data from Municipal Finance Officers Association.)

Recommendation

The specific recommendation of the Finance Commission is that a penalty provision be added to the present statutory basic interest rate of 4 per cent.

In order that the small home owner be exempt from the effect of such a penalty, the proposed amendment should provide that the penalty operate only on due taxes over $500 when not paid by December 31 of the levy year.

In effect, this proposal would revive the statutory penalty of 2 per cent which operated from 1920 to 1938. During that period, until 1933, the penalty was applied on amounts over $200 which were three months overdue. This amount became $300 in 1933 and stayed at that figure until 1938 when the penalty idea was dropped. The Finance Commission proposal raises the $300 to $500 to adjust for increased tax cost.

The Finance Commission offers this proposal as the basis for needed legislative change.

At no time has it been more important to place at the disposal of the collector as many devices as possible in an effort to capture promptly all revenue due the City. The Finance Commission believes that reviving the penalty concept, which has such a lengthy history of precedent, may prove to be an effective means toward achieving this end.

With our national economy enjoying an era of high commercial interest rates, it would be unrealistic to perpetuate a condition which may make it more attractive to withhold payment of taxes because of the absence of a penalty. To correct this condition, the Finance Commission respectfully offers the following legislative petition and earnestly requests its adoption by the Legislature.

Respectfully submitted,

ANTHONY J. YOUNG,

Chairman,

ROGER J. ABIZAID, M.D.,

MAXWELL B. GROSSMAN,

JOSEPH GRAGLIA,

The Finance Commission.

THOMAS J. MURPHY,

Executive Secretary.

Following is a copy of the proposed amendment, to accomplish the purposes indicated in this report:

THE COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS

In the Year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Sixty.

AN ACT PROVIDING FOR PENALTY INTEREST ON CERTAIN UNPAID LOCAL TAXES.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives in General Court assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 57 of chapter 59 of the General Laws, as amended, is hereby further amended by striking out the second sentence, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 522 of the acts of 1947, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:—Interest shall be paid at the rate of four per cent per annum on all real estate and personal property taxes remaining unpaid after November first of the year in which they are payable, computed from October first of such year, and, by way of penalty, in the case of a personal property tax of more than five hundred dollars or a tax of more than five hundred dollars on a parcel of real estate, at the additional rate of two per cent per annum on the amount of such tax in excess of five hundred dollars if such tax remains unpaid after December thirty-first of such year, computed from said October first.

FIRE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

June 21.

General Order No. 32.

I. RETIREMENT.

The following retirement, in accordance with chapter 658, Acts of 1945, as amended, which became effective as of May 26, 1960, is hereby announced:

Custodial Worker (Janitress) Anna Glynn, 376 Washington street, Dorchester, Headquarters Division.

Custodial Worker Glynn was appointed to the Fire Department on October 31, 1951, and she leaves the department with the best wishes of her associates.

II. RESIGNATION.

The following resignation, which became effective as of 8 A.M., Monday, June 20, 1960, is hereby announced:

Fire Fighter Richard J. Higgins, Engine Company 48.

III. TRANSFERS.

The following transfers which will become effective as of 8 A.M., Wednesday, June 22, 1960, are hereby announced:

Fire Lieutenant Robert J. Shaughnessy, from Ladder 8 to Engine 10.

Fire Fighter Henry V. Kane, from Ladder 13 to Ladder 29.

Fire Fighter Ronald J. O'Brien, from Ladder 22 to Fire Prevention.

Fire Fighter Edwin T. Keenan, from Engine 48 to Ladder 18.

Fire Fighter William C. Fennelly, from Ladder 18 to Fire Prevention.

Fire Fighter Frank P. Fall, from Engine 52 to Engine 2.

Fire Fighter Harvey Campbell, from Engine 25 to Ladder 8.

IV. CHANGE IN DESIGNATION OF FIRE ALARM BOX.

The designation of Fire Alarm Box 1821 will be changed to read as follows: 1821, Columbia road, opposite No. 847.

Company commanders will make the above change on assignment cards for Box 1821.

V. CHANGES IN RULES AND REGULATIONS.

Appendix XVIII of the Rules and Regulations of the Boston Fire Department is hereby canceled. Appendix XVIII shall read as follows:

Appendix XVIII — Telephone — Chief Officers' Quarters.

Dial telephones in chief officers' quarters are for the purpose of providing an alternate means of contacting a district when the regular department telephone is out of order and for calling department members when a recall is ordered. (See General Orders, No. 21, dated April 28, 1960.) These telephones can also be used to report department telephones out of order.

The telephones in the chief officers' quarters are unlisted and the number must be kept private in order to avoid the possibility of a person calling the number to report a fire. Department telephones should be used for all ordinary business.

The telephones in chief officers' quarters are not to be used by members of the department for personal calls.

These telephones are classified as "Measured Business Service." The base rate covers ninety messages per month. There is a charge for each additional message unit.

Each telephone will be provided with a lock and the same key will fit the lock on all chiefs' telephones. Each chief will be given a key. In order to prevent unauthorized use of the telephones, no key will be kept in a readily accessible place.

No key is necessary to answer the telephones and provision should be made for answering the telephones when the company is in quarters and the chief is out of quarters.

If, in an emergency, a chief officer uses the telephone for a long distance or toll call, he shall immediately report the facts regarding the call to the Fire Alarm Office.

VI. COMMENDATIONS.

Fire Fighter John C. Barrett of Engine Company 12 is hereby commended for responding to and working at Box 3353 (four alarms) at 1.08 P.M., June 12, 1960, while off duty.

Fire Fighter Arthur W. Zahn of Engine Company 10 is hereby commended for responding to and working at Box 2441 (four alarms) on June 14, 1960, while off duty.

POLICE DOGS PROVE METTLE

The Denver Post assigned nearly a full page to pictures and story of the city's police dog unit. Barry Morrison, a Denver Post writer, allowed himself to be clothed in a padded suit, used in training the dogs, and underwent a simulated attack.

He was instructed to pretend to strike a patrolman. He turned to look for the dog, a quarter block away.

"I was too late," the newspaperman wrote. "I was spinning through the air like an oversized rag doll. The ferocity of attack and the crushing power of the jaws of these dogs is almost unbelievable. I was scared green."

CONTRACT AWARDED

The Mayor approved the award of the following contract to the lowest eligible bidder:

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

Uniforms and Overalls

Rental of uniforms and overalls awarded to Standard Overall Cleaning Company, in the amount of $2,200.

The other bid was National Industrial Uniform Company.

CONTRACT AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

The Mayor approved the award of a contract, without advertising, based on the following communication:

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT.

Protective Service

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Trustees of the Public Library respectfully request that you approve the signing of a service agreement, without public advertising, with the American District Telegraph Company, 60 State street, Boston, for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961, for furnishing inspection service for the combination watchman-recording and fire alarm system in the Central Library building. In 1951 the equipment for the system was installed by the General Alarm Corporation. On September 1, 1955, the assets and service obligations of the General Alarm Corporation were taken over by the American District Telegraph Company. Inasmuch as the servicing of this equipment can be obtained only from the American District Telegraph Company, the Trustees have therefore

"Voted, That there be entered into with the American District Telegraph Company, 60 State street, Boston, a service agreement for the period April 1, 1960, through March 31, 1961, for furnishing of inspection service for the combination watchman-recording and fire alarm system in the Central Library building, the total fee for such service not to exceed one thousand four hundred and ninety-two dollars and five cents ($1,492.05)."

Although a written contract for this service is not necessary inasmuch as the total cost will be under two thousand dollars ($2,000), it is believed desirable in this case to have a written contract because of the nature of the work involved.

Respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY OF THE
CITY OF BOSTON,

By MILTON E. LORD,
Director.

EXTENSION OF CONTRACTS

The Mayor has approved extension of the time limit on completion of the following contracts:

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT.

Wogan Lawn Service of Manchester, Inc., has been granted an extension of time until July 1, 1960, for the completion of its contract for playground improvements at McConnell Park, Dorchester.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Contract with Carriere Construction Company for replacement of bituminous concrete pavement where excavations have been made by the Water Division of the Public Works Department in any location in the city, extended from May 31 to June 15, 1960, because of inclement weather.

Contract with Carriere Construction Company for replacement of artificial stone sidewalks where excavations have been made by the Water Division of the Public Works Department in any location in the city, extended from May 31 to June 15, 1960, because of inclement weather.

CLAIM APPROVED

The Mayor, on recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following vote of the City Council Committee on Claims:

Ernest M. Mawn, 15 Branton street, Dorchester, an employee of the Public Works Department, Highway Division, to be reimbursed as the result of an accident on March 3, 1960, on Bullard and Rosseter streets, Dorchester, which caused damage to the automobile of Stephen F. McKay, Jr., by payment of $200.

TRAFFIC RULINGS

Temporary

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following:

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing in Redlands road, West Roxbury, vehicles were to be allowed in said Redlands road conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence June 10, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following street when and where official signs are in place:

Redlands Road, West Roxbury.

From Centre street to Alameda road.

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing in Thatcher street, Hyde Park, vehicles were to be allowed in said Thatcher street conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence June 14, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following street when and where official signs are in place:

Thatcher Street, Hyde Park.

From Bradlee street to Hyde Park avenue.

Whereas, If during roadway construction in University road, Boston Proper, vehicles were to be allowed in said University road conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and . . .

Whereas, Such construction is to commence June 15, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore . . . I promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following street when and where official signs are in place:

University Road, Boston Proper.

From Commonwealth avenue to Soldiers Field road.

CLAIMS APPROVED

The Mayor, on recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following votes of the Committee on Claims of the City Council:

Leo Pessin, doing business as Pessin's Foodland, 153 Harold street, Roxbury, for damage to property caused by sewer failure on January 24 and January 25, by payment of $485.

Joseph Donofrio, 5 Sterling square, South Boston, an employee of the Public Works Department, Highway Division, to be reimbursed as the result of an accident on March 3, 1960, on Taft street, which caused damage to the automobile of Richard K. Lavangie, by payment of $100.

KANSAS CITY PARKING PROGRESS

Kansas City, with an eye on traffic relief, will start condemnations to secure more space for off-street parking facilities. One ordinance to be introduced provides for construction of two new municipal parking lots, enlargement of another to more than double its size and smaller expansions of two more existing lots.

POLICE CADET PROGRAM

San Diego's police cadets, in addition to city in-service training, attend junior college courses in police science on their own time. They are required to be 21 years of age, and must pass examinations before becoming policemen.

They perform clerical work primarily, becoming acquainted with Police Department activities. In Seattle, police cadets must be 23 years of age. Milwaukee has had a police cadet program for eight years.

N. Y. FIREMEN QUIT THEATERS

Uniformed firemen, a familiar sight in legitimate theaters in New York for the past 40 years, will be withdrawn March 1. The firemen have been on hand for safety measures.

An intensified system of inspecting the 473 theaters of all kinds in the city was announced. The Fire Department will train theater personnel in fire prevention. The obligation to protect theater audiences from fire and panic legally rests on theater owners, not the city, officials said.

RADIO CONTROL

Radio signal control for traffic lights has been instituted in Washington, D. C., along 4 miles of Connecticut avenue. Plans are to extend the system to all major arteries. With signals set for speeds from 28 to 32 miles an hour, tests have shown that the 4 miles of Connecticut avenue can be traveled in eight to ten minutes.

BASEBALL PARKING

City of Cincinnati is providing 2,600 permanent parking spaces for the patrons of Crosley baseball field. Rows of tenement houses and a coal yard were demolished to make room for a part of the parking area. A total of 1,400 temporary spaces were provided by the razing of buildings for the new Mill Creek Expressway.

GOTHAM EXTENDS

A tract of 800 acres of land on the far reaches of the Rockaway peninsula in Queens Borough, New York City, recently was purchased for $17½ million.

A small city project of apartment buildings, schools, parks, art center, churches, marinas, shopping centers, and a possible heliport are planned for the $1.2 billion development.

Sponsors describe the undertaking as the largest real estate development in the nation.

INVITATION FOR GENERAL BIDS FOR REPAIRING PUPILS' AND TEACHERS' FURNITURE AT THE ENGLISH HIGH SCHOOL AND BOSTON LATIN SCHOOL, AVENUE LOUIS PASTEUR, BOSTON, MASS.

The City of Boston, acting by the Superintendent of Construction of the Department of School Buildings, Boston, Mass., hereinafter referred to as the Awarding Authority, invites sealed general bids for repairing pupils' and teachers' furniture at the English High School and Boston Latin School, Avenue Louis Pasteur, Boston, Mass.

General bids will be received up until 12 o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Wednesday, July 6, 1960, at the office of the Awarding Authority, fourth floor, 26 Norman street, Boston, Mass., at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, inclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $200. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

Specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the office of the Awarding Authority.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general bidder.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any or all general bids, if it be in the public interest so to do, in accordance with section 44D of chapter 149 of the General Laws, as amended.

General bids must be submitted in duplicate on forms obtained from the Awarding Authority. Each copy of the general bid shall be completely filled in, signed, enclosed in an envelope, sealed, and plainly marked with the description of the work to be done. One copy of the general bid shall be filed with the Awarding Authority, at the office designated above, accompanied by a bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the sum of $750. The other copy of the general bid shall be filed at the office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Boston, Mass. Both copies shall be filed before the time stated above for the opening of general bids.

No general bid may be withdrawn after the time limit for filing general bids and for five (5) days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded) from the opening of the general bids. In addition, no general bid filed by the three lowest responsible and eligible bidders may be withdrawn prior to execution and delivery of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

No subbid may be withdrawn after the time limit for the filing of subbids and for five days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), from the day fixed for the opening of the general bids. In addition, no subbid filed by (a) the three lowest responsible and eligible subbidders for each subtrade and (b) the subbidders named in the general bids of the three lowest responsible and eligible general bidders, may be withdrawn after the opening of the general bids and for five days (Saturdays, Sundays, and legal holidays excluded), following execution of the general contract, unless no award has been made upon expiration of the prescribed time therefor.

The rate per hour of the wages to be paid to mechanics, teamsters, chauffeurs, and laborers in the work to be performed shall not be less than the rate of wages determined for this work by the Commissioner of Labor and Industries of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 149, section 26, as amended, a schedule of which appears in the specifications.

The successful bidder will be required to provide by insurance for the payment of compensation and the furnishing of other benefits under the Workmen's Compensation Law, General Laws (Ter. Ed.), chapter 152, to all persons to be employed under the contract, and sufficient proof of compliance with the foregoing stipulation will be required before commencing performance of this contract.

All subbids for a subtrade designated in Item 2 of the general bid form shall be filed with the Awarding Authority at the office designated above, before twelve o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Tuesday, July 5, 1960, at which hour and place they will be publicly opened and read. Every such subbid must be submitted in a sealed envelope with the following plainly marked on the outside: title of work, subtrade for which subbid submitted, subbidder's name, subbidder's business address.

All such subbids must be submitted on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority, and any such subbid not filed on the form for subbid furnished by the Awarding Authority shall be rejected.

A bid deposit in the form of cash or a certified check on, or a treasurer's or cashier's check issued by, a responsible bank or trust company, payable to the City of Boston, in the amount as specified in the following for the subtrade as listed below, shall be submitted by each subbidder with his subbid as filed with the Awarding Authority:

Plumbing$150

Plans and specifications and other contract documents may be obtained at the above office of the Awarding Authority, on and after twelve o'clock noon (Eastern Daylight Saving Time), Monday, June 27, 1960, upon payment of a $1 charge for each set of specifications and contract documents. This $1 charge is not refundable.

A performance bond and also a labor and materials or payment bond, each of a surety company qualified to do business under the laws of the Commonwealth and satisfactory to the Awarding Authority and each in the sum of 100 per cent of the contract price, will be required of the successful general contractor.

The Awarding Authority reserves the right to waive any informalities and to reject any or all general bids if it be in the public interest to do so. The Awarding Authority also reserves the right to reject any subbid on any subtrade if it determines that such subbid does not represent the subbid of a person competent to perform the work as specified or that only one such subbid was received and that the price is not reasonable for acceptance without competition, in accordance with section 44D of chapter 149 of the General Laws as amended.

SMALLEST SUPPLEMENTARY BUDGET IN RECENT TIMES

Following are the supplementary budget recommendations for 1960 as submitted, on June 27, by Mayor John F. Collins:

To the City Council.

GENTLEMEN:

I submit herewith supplementary budget recommendations for city departments totaling $280,000. This sum is needed to provide for departmental requirements which have developed since the submission of the 1960 budget recommendations.

All of the allowances in this supplementary budget are absolutely necessary for the efficient and proper operation of the city departments.

The following brief comments are offered in explanation:

Pensions and Annuities—City $200,000

To provide for the unforeseen increase in the number of retirements over the established pattern upon which my original appropriation was predicated.

Reserve Fund $80,000

To set up in the Reserve Fund $80,000 for extraordinary or unforeseen expenditures that may be necessary for the balance of the year.

I respectfully recommend adoption of the appropriation order herewith submitted in connection with the supplementary budget recommendations.

Respectfully,

JOHN F. COLLINS,
Mayor.

TEXT OF THE SUPPLEMENTARY APPROPRIATIONS ORDER

ORDERED, That the respective sums of money specified for the city departments in the schedules hereinafter set out be, and hereby are, appropriated for the purposes hereinafter specified, said sums to be raised by taxation on the polls and estates of the City of Boston, and that all orders heretofore or hereinafter passed by the City Council relating to appropriations, taxes, and interest thereon apply to the appropriations and taxes herein provided for.

STRASBOURG, FRANCE, ACCEPTS INVITATION TO BECOME BOSTON'S SISTER CITY

Mayor John F. Collins announced on June 30 that he had received a letter from Mayor Pierre Pflimlin of Strasbourg, along with a copy of a resolution passed by the Strasbourg City Council and signed by Mayor Pflimlin. The resolution accepts Mayor Collins' proposal that the French border community become Boston's sister city.

The resolution refers to the "historic, economic, and cultural importance of the City of Boston" and expresses the satisfaction of the French councillors in "seeing ties of friendship established between the two cities." It is printed on special paper tagged with a wax seal.

The Mayor will shortly appoint a local citizen to form a special sister city committee. This committee will be charged with developing a program of activities designed to acquaint Bostonians with their new sister community.

The sister city project is part of President Eisenhower's people to people program. It is headed by Boston businessman Mark Bortman.

Letter from France

Following is an English translation of a letter received by Mayor John F. Collins of Boston from Mayor Pierre Pflimlin of Strasbourg.

MY DEAR COLLEAGUE:

¶ As I indicated in my letter of April 29, 1960, The Strasbourg City Council was presented on May 2 the proposal of sisterhood between our two cities.

¶ On that occasion, I had the pleasure to explain to my colleagues the meaning and importance of your generous offer and they have decided, on my request, to accept it. The councillors then adopted the resolution which I am sending you in an attached package.

¶ In transmitting to you this resolution, I would like to express my complete satisfaction in seeing the materialization of this sisterhood.

It is another concrete expression of the traditional ties of friendship which, through the length of history, have never ceased to unite our two peoples.

¶ Please accept, my dear colleague, the expression of my very devoted sentiments.

P. PFLIMLIN.

Strasbourg Resolution

The following is a translation of a resolution passed by the City Council of Strasbourg.

¶ Having seen the resolution of the City Council of Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.A., proposing sisterhood with the City of Strasbourg.

¶ Receiving with joy and gratitude this sign of interest and sympathy from the City of Boston to Strasbourg.

¶ Convinced that the drawing together of people is one of the most efficient ways of assuring world peace and that this drawing together can be accomplished in a most happy manner by establishing ties of sisterhood between cities and communities.

¶ Considering the historic, economic, and cultural importance of the City of Boston; deciding to accept the proposition of sisterhood formulated by the City of Boston.

¶ Expressing its satisfaction in seeing ties of friendship established between the two cities and sends to the City Council and people of Boston its most cordial greeting.

P. PFLIMLIN, Mayor.

Avoid Food Poisoning on Those Summer Occasions

June is the month of graduations, outdoor picnics, wedding receptions, barbecues, and cookouts and brings on the annual increase in the number of food poisoning cases. Food for those small family picnics or the large catered wedding receptions must be prepared in advance. Preparation of large amounts of food and transportation to the festive sites requires time and involves delay before actually serving the food. Consequently, the factor of contamination of food plus delay during the long, hot summer days adds up to a potential epidemic of food poisoning. A simple organism such as staphylococcus is the commonest and usually produces the most potent form of food poisoning; and it can be prevented by proper refrigeration. Enteric organism can be introduced by food handlers causing food poisoning which could be eliminated by simple cleanliness, such as hand washing by the people preparing the food. Certain foods, such as fowl, may be the origin of cases of salmonella food poisoning. All in all, care is essential in the preparation of moist food such as salads, creamed pastries, etc. to guarantee wholesome food for that special occasion. Refrigeration at all times, from the preparation to the ingestion is necessary. Exposure, delay and hot temperatures must be avoided at all costs. Food must be stored carefully and served promptly to prevent contamination and spoilage. Certain foods as creamed pastries and salads are perfect culture media for food poisoning organism and should be avoided during the hot summer season. Play safe! Keep prepared foods under constant refrigeration. Avoid delays in the serving of foods on those festive outdoor occasions.

JOHN T. FOLEY, M.D., M.P.H.,
Director, Medical Services.

TRAFFIC RULINGS

Temporary

The Traffic Commission has voted as follows:

That as urgently required by considerations of public safety and convenience, for a trial period of sixty (60) days, the Traffic Rules and Regulations of the City of Boston are amended as follows, effective June 25, 1960:

Article V, Section 1 (One-Way Streets), is amended by inserting in its proper place in the alphabetical arrangement under the caption "South Boston" the following:

East Fourth Street.

From Farragut road to P street.

The Traffic Commissioner has promulgated the following ruling:

Whereas, If during roadway resurfacing in Harlem street, Dorchester, vehicles were to be allowed in said Harlem street conformably to the rules and regulations of the Boston Traffic Commission otherwise operative, such construction would be substantially impeded; and...

Whereas, Such construction is to commence June 22, 1960; and

Whereas, A meeting of the Boston Traffic Commission is not scheduled to be held before the commencement of such construction; now therefore... I hereby promulgate the following rule and regulation to take effect forthwith and to be operative only until the completion of such construction or the expiration of one month from the date hereof, whichever is earlier:

For the period aforesaid, vehicles are excluded from the following street when and where official signs are in place:

Harlem Street, Dorchester.

From Glenway street to Greenwood street.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS

June 23.

General Order No. 739.

Patrolman Thomas F. Santry of Division 7 is hereby commended for meritorious police duty and is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 8.50 A.M., Monday, June 13, 1960, Patrolman Santry, while on a school crossing at Moore and Bennington streets, East Boston, observed one John Cefalo, 28 years, of 36 Eutaw street, East Boston, operating a 1959 Oldsmobile sedan, Mass. Reg. 699-194, in a southerly direction on Bennington street toward Day square. Recalling that John Cefalo had a lengthy criminal record, Patrolman Santry made a note of the registration of the vehicle. He later learned that Cefalo is on parole from Walpole State Prison until 1963.

Upon investigation, Patrolman Santry learned that the plates, Mass. Reg. 699-194, had been stolen on Division 9 from a motor vehicle owned by Albert Hickey, 628 Dudley street, Roxbury.

With the assistance of other officers of Division 7, Patrolman Santry made a diligent search for the Oldsmobile and they found it parked in front of 39 Chelsea street, East Boston. Patrolman Santry and officers cruised the area searching for John Cefalo, while another officer kept the car under surveillance. Cefalo was located at Paris and Emmons streets, East Boston, and he was placed under arrest, without a warrant, as a suspicious person, to wit: larceny of a motor vehicle. On his person Cefalo had a set of keys that fitted the Oldsmobile and in searching same, they located a certificate of registration that had been altered. The number assigned to the Oldsmobile, Mass. Reg. 339-350, had been erased and the number, Mass. Reg. 699-194, had been substituted. The Oldsmobile with its original plates, Mass. Reg. 339-350, had been stolen in East Boston and reported by the owner, Thomas J. Fitzgerald, 53 Rockaway avenue, Marblehead, on March 31, 1960.

John Cefalo was brought before Judge Augustus Loschi in East Boston District Court on June 14, 1960, for the following violations of the laws:

1. Larceny of a motor vehicle, an Oldsmobile sedan, Mass. Reg. 339-350.
2. Forgery of a certificate of registration by altering registration numbers.
3. Larceny of one set of plates, Mass. Reg. 339-350.
4. Larceny of one set of plates, Mass. Reg. 699-194.
5. Violation of auto laws; operating a motor vehicle after his right to operate had been revoked.
6. Violation of auto laws; attaching a set of plates to a motor vehicle, which plates, Mass. Reg. 699-194, had been assigned to another vehicle.

Judge Loschi declined jurisdiction and ordered the defendant held for the grand jury in $4,000 bail.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the alertness and keen observation of Patrolman Thomas F. Santry in this case which brought about the arrest of a parolee from Walpole State Prison who, if not taken into custody at this time, would have continued with his criminal activities.

June 23.

General Order No. 740.

Detective John R. Donovan and Patrolman Robert T. Glynn detailed and assigned to Division 15, respectively, are hereby commended for meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

About 2.30 A.M., March 31, 1960, Patrolman Glynn, while patrolling his assigned sector, observed in the rear seat of a Ford station wagon, Mass. Reg. U61-945, which was parked in front of 40 Harvard street, Charlestown, a large brown canvas bag with a locked zippered top, marked "Hillcrest Dairy, Worcester, Mass.," said bag having been slashed open.

Patrolman Glynn called the officer in charge at the station relative to his suspicions concerning the car and the canvas bag and he was instructed to bring the bag to the station for safekeeping. At this time a check of the registration number revealed the owner to be one Joseph E. Lux, Hotel Argonne, 5 Bulfinch street, Boston, but investigation at that location revealed that no person of that name resided there. The Worcester Police Department was then contacted and it was learned that the "Hillcrest Dairy," 496 Park avenue, Worcester, Mass., had been entered during the night of March 20, 1960, with the safe having been ripped open and about $10,000 in checks and U.S. currency stolen.

Armed with this information, licensed lodging houses and all dwellings on Harvard street were checked for the owner or occupants of the Ford station wagon. During this time, Detective Donovan had the Ford station wagon under surveillance which was rewarded later that morning, at about 11.55 o'clock, when he observed two men walking down Harvard street, one of whom was carrying a large cardboard box. As they approached the Ford station wagon, the man carrying the box placed it on the sidewalk near the rear of the vehicle with the other man going to the further side of the automobile. As they started to raise the upper tail gate of the Ford station wagon, Detective Donovan approached them with gun in hand and placed them under arrest. He ordered them to raise their hands and face the building and then searched them for concealed weapons. Detective Donovan requested a passing citizen to notify the station for assistance, which was done, and officers of Division 15 responded within minutes and the prisoners were brought to the station.

Investigation revealed these men to be one Joseph Keyes, alias Lux, 52 years, single, Hotel Argonne, 5 Bulfinch street, Boston, and one Louis Silvia, 40 years, married, of 98 West Newton street, Boston.

Both subjects were booked as suspicious persons of breaking and entering in the nighttime the Hillcrest Dairy, Worcester, Mass., and larceny. The cardboard box which Silvia had been carrying was opened and in it was found $125 in silver, 42 brown fibre cloth bags marked "Hillcrest Dairy," all having been slashed open, checks and pay vouchers of the said dairy. A search was made of the apartment at 34 Harvard street, Charlestown, where it was learned the prisoner, Keyes, resided, and the following was found: 2 sets of burglari-ous tools, two white canvas bags containing U.S. currency (silver and checks) amounting to $5,136.13.

In Superior Court in Worcester, Mass., on May 2, 1960, Joseph Keyes and Louis Silvia were indicted for breaking and entering in the nighttime the Hillcrest Dairy, Worcester, Mass., and larceny of $10,000, and violation of chapter 265, section 21, forcing and tampering with a safe, said offense having taken place on March 20, 1960.

On June 16, 1960, in Superior Court in Worcester before Judge Frank Tomasello, Joseph Keyes pleaded guilty to both counts and was sentenced to twelve to fifteen years in the Massachusetts Correctional Institution. The second subject, Louis Silvia, was also found guilty by Judge Tomasello and he was sentenced to ten to twelve years in the Massachusetts Correctional Institution.

The Police Commissioner is pleased to recognize the keen observation and alertness Patrolman Robert T. Glynn demonstrated in this case and the courage displayed by Detective John R. Donovan, unmindful of his own personal safety, in effecting the arrest single-handed of these two dangerous criminals, which resulted in clearing a robbery committed in another city thereby reflecting credit on every member of this department.

June 23.

General Order No. 741.

Sergt. Robert H. Bradley and Sergt. Michael J. Keightley, Division 4, are hereby commended for the performance of meritorious police duty and each is granted three days' additional vacation.

On Saturday, June 18, 1960, at about 2.30 A.M., two patrolmen removed to Boston City Hospital from the sidewalk in front of No. 5 Hudson street an elderly man who they thought had collapsed at that location. The man was later identified as one Chin Dung Yew, 82 years old, married, of Pond Lane, Randolph, Mass., and No. 5 Hudson street. At the hospital he was found to be suffering from a cerebral vascular accident, was placed on the Danger List at 3.05 A.M., and died about three hours later. At about 11.35 that morning, Station 4 was notified by Dr. Richard Ford, Medical Examiner for the Southern District, that the true cause of death of Chin Dung Yew was a skull fracture, possibly the result of a blow to the head.

When notified of this fact, Sergt. Robert Bradley, off duty and at his home, immediately returned to the station and with Sergt. Michael Keightley proceeded to the Chinatown section of Boston. Here, working as a team, the officers questioned a number of Chinese residing and employed in the area. As a result of information received, the sergeants, now working on their own time, went to Medford, Belmont, Somerville, and Watertown, where they questioned numerous youths relative to their possible knowledge of the above incident.

In those communities they arrested without warrants on suspicion of the murder of Chin Dung Yew four young men, one in Belmont, one in Medford, and two in Somerville. They were brought to Station 4 for questioning and as a result of statements obtained from them, three were subsequently released after signing the necessary waivers. The fourth, one John Francis Bellino, 23 years, single, of 64 Chandler street, Somerville, admitted having assaulted Chin Dung Yew and absolved his companions from any complicity in the crime. Later the same day, Bellino was identified by a witness as being Yew's assailant.

On Monday, June 20, 1960, in Boston Municipal Court, complaints were sought against John F. Bellino for the murder of Chin Dung Yew. Judge Roberts denied this complaint but granted one against Bellino for manslaughter in connection with this crime. The prisoner was later arraigned before Judge Morrissey, who continued his case to July 6, 1960, holding him in $5,000 bail, double surety.

The commissioner is pleased to recognize the devotion to duty of Sergeants Bradley and Keightley in their continuing and thorough investigation in this case, as the result of which the criminal was arrested within twenty-four hours of the commission of the crime, to which he confessed.

CONTINUANCE OF EMPLOYMENT

The Mayor has approved the following:

SUFFOLK COUNTY.

DISTRICT COURT OF CHELSEA.

June 21, 1960.

DEAR MAYOR COLLINS:

I have just received notice from the Boston Retirement Board that the retirement from active service of Clarence W. Norris was approved to be effective at the close of business on June 30, 1960.

On June 9, 1960, I wrote to you requesting that Mr. Norris be allowed to continue his services until June 30, 1961, but to date I have received no notification of your action on this request.

I again ask that you grant this continuance under provisions of chapter 639, section 9h, Acts of 1950, because Mr. Norris' services will be urgently needed during the coming year. The other court officer has had a very serious heart attack. I do not feel, therefore, that I should have to "break in" a new appointee at this time.

Mr. Norris' present salary is $5,715.90. His retired pay $1,818. The difference between the two is $3,897.90.

Hoping that this request will meet with your approval, I remain.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN W. MACLEOD,
Justice.
